THE LABOR QUESTION

Gladstone's Refusal to Receive the Workingmen's Delegates Fell to be a Mistake.

THE CONSERVATIVES TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT.

An Effort to Divert the Attention from Irish Home Rule to the Labor Difficulty.

By Telegraph to the News.

LONDON NEWS.

Gladstone's Match.—The Tories Be Done in Civil War.

LONDON, May 6.—Gladstone's refusal to receive the delegates from the Workingmen's conference, who intended to present the eight-hour question to him off the rank and file of the Liberal party to have been a tactical mistake. Taking advantage of the mistake the London Conservative members have decided to influence the government to take the opposite course. At a meeting in the Liberal quarters they hesitated about taking action in opposition to Gladstone, and therefore referred the matter to a committee with instructions to report Tuesday. The Conservatives stole a march by inducing Salisbury and Balfour to receive a deputation of trade union representatives. They, however, will not be duped into supporting Conservatives more zealous in the cause of labor than the Liberals, and the other delivery of Balfour committed themselves to the eight-hour movement.

It is not doubted that the result of the conference will place the labor question at the head of progress in both political parties, to the embarrassment of the Liberal cause, which is pledged to home rule. Joseph Chamberlain, Gladstone's organ, the Spectator, will say tomorrow, that the enemies of home rule, despairing of success by open attacks, seek to divert the attention of the Liberal masses from and convert certain victory into a rout. Such expectation, coming from the Liberal press, are suggestive of the strong alarm prevailing least the party be wrecked on the labor difficulty before Salisbury's trend is heard from.

The Times approves Gladstone's refusal to receive the delegation and denounces the efforts of the labor leaders to extort pledges at this stage of the movement as an outrageous attempt to overbear the judgment of Parliament. Criticism does not affect the satisfaction of the Conservatives over the policy of the leaders who are not obviously harassing the Liberals, and situating toward the government a strong body of workingmen.

The Standard's leader declares that the action of Gladstone has chilled the hearts of the workingmen, which were once warm toward him to the core.

At a conference of the Liberal election agents, Schnadhorst calculated that the general election will give the Liberals a majority of 72 in the next house, and said that the labor complications would exert only a minority influence.

Mr William Vernon Harcourt at the conference stated that the election will certain to be held at the commencement of July following the Usher convention in Belfast and the Irish Liberal convention in Dublin. Mr William asserted that the Orange lodges were publicly enlisting money for the purchase of arms to carry out their threats to rebel rather than submit to an Irish Parliament.

CIVIL WAR AND HOME RULE.

Whether the Tories really believe that an armed conflict would follow the establishment of an Irish Parliament, they assume sincerity and endeavor the belief that civil war will be the outcome of home rule, Salisbury's private secretary has written authorities everywhere to the end that "the friends of peace and law and order may impress upon the electors the probability that home rule would produce the greatest of all curses—a religious war." After this, it is no wonder to hear of men drilling in Ireland, and that rifles and munitions of war are being stored in England.

Tilling's freedom bill and the report that the Inman line will build two ships in America is causing considerable discussion in English shipping circles. The first reflects the jealousy of the Tilling bill, according to Hogish opinion, will be in advance the value of English transpacific steamships, many of which will be replaced by wooden steamers now engaged in the American coasting trade. A subsequent result will be that some ships will transfer from the English to the American flag. In regard to the Inman line, Clyde builders hold that the building of vessels in America will add one hundred to the expenditure, extra expenditure in the wages of officers, engineers, seamen and firemen.

COUNTESS CLANCARTY, nee Belle Billon, the famous music hall singer, has adopted a novel method of getting into society, by joining the school circles of lady Knightsbridge. Her fame and lustrous beauty in the Gaiety Hall and was beaten.

Nordenfelt's Dreaming's case has yet been lodged with the judicial committee of the Privy Council. If a petition is forwarded from Australia, it will be promptly refused a hearing.

Captain Verney, formerly member of Parliament, who was imprisoned for allegedly to procure a young girl for immoral purposes, and who upon conviction was expelled from the House of Commons, has been released from Holloway jail, his term having expired. He has gone to his estate in Wales, where he will live in the strictest seclusion and privacy.

The expedition to leave England June 1st to explore the unknown portion of the Dark Continent will be fitted and entirely equipped by William Astor Chanler, a young American known to all interested in African exploration for his daring trips through Masoubal some three years ago. Chanler is a son of the late John Winthrop Chanler and a grandson of the famous Sam Ward.

HOME RULE.

Hon Lord Salisbury Views Its His Speech on the Subject.

LONDON, May 6.—Speaking today at a meeting of the "Primrose" League, Lord Salisbury said: In jest "Home rule would place the bottle in land on our flank, and subject to its little damage and disgusting abominations, the people of Ireland who have ever fought for our cause."

Salisbury claimed that his promise six years ago, that Ireland would be granted if given general consideration in regard to her material wants, and a firm, impartial and continuous administration of law, had been fulfilled. The spirit of disorder gradually moved before the spirit of the law. Force had so restored Ireland that legislation no longer exists. Still there are men in Ireland who have attempted to undo this work. Parnell, said the speaker, was a much more formidable opponent than any man he left behind. Salisbury said he did not know of any situation more necessary than the recent declarations of the Unionists, that Ireland is being put under the law of the land like ordinary counties. The premier added that should he had not succeeded the Catholic church, he had always been and was always confident that those who holding high spiritual authority and leading a great spiritual organization, used their weapons for purely secular objects, wherein no spiritual concern exists. The Churches, said Salisbury, had been taunted on their passive attitude. He did not intend to be an unqualified doctrine of passive endurance. "I believe," said the premier, "that the title of both kings and parliaments to existence from their subjects depends upon those kings and parliaments observing the fundamental laws and understanding whereby they rule. Parliament has no right to govern the people with laws, but not the right to sell them into slavery. (Enthusiastic cheering.) I do not believe in the authority and unrestricted power of parliaments, any more than in such power in kings. Parliaments may take a course which it is doubtful only within legal limits, and is yet contrary at variance with the understandings of the constitution whereby they rule."

The Yellowstone Park Association.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The Sun and Express print an interview with Daniel Harbour concerning the alleged loss of stock in the big game Yellowstone Park Association. Harbour, in substance, says that the attempt of Allison to make it appear that the stock was taken for him in his name is a malicious effort to drag him into a matter with which he has no connection. He added that Allison has formed a plan to make a concerted effort to have a monopoly of everything in the park and run things as they please.

Rising of the Kaw River.

KANSAS CITY, May 6.—Owing to the recent heavy rains the Kaw river now is an alarming extent, but is now falling. Considerable damage was done in Argentine and Armourdale. The Missouri river has risen four feet in 24 hours. The damage has trouble, but should the rains continue the low lying portions of the city will be inundated.

Italian Cream Vermicelli.

Boil two pounds of sugar with one pound of glucose to the finger then pour out on the marble and when lukewarm and cool add a half pound of vanilla bonbons, then turn in a cream then warm one and a quarter pounds good butter in a pan and melt, then add the sugar and the vanilla bonbons, then work all till it can be worked on paper laid on the marble with iron rolls, and roll out the paper sample thinner or thicker as the cut of the vermicelli may require. If it is desirable to have them a little yellow, cook only to 230 or 240 degrees instead of "Grasmere," or they are not good. Sold in New York and Philadelphia at eighty cents per pound.—Supply World.

A Scholar of Cards.

A novel idea that an up town school teacher has is a method of teaching the multiplication table by means of playing cards. Instead of every week to study the same ones English branches. In her interview nothing but lessons in multiplication.

Mr. Atkinson, one of the public schools, and I have found provokes to give them the sentences which they need to keep up with their grades. Instead of being treated differently somewhere than in my school times. I teach the same courts, but by a process they do not understand, and I must be the teacher. Now I may be any fake to them.—Her Point of View in New York Times.

Origin of Hemps.

The hemp is one of the latest innovations among women and girls. It had its origin in a prison in Sing Sing, where, in the school, New York, one of the ways in the habit of getting away, as it was difficult to recognize them after changing their dress. A Wall Street firm employed the prisoners, but this was considered too exacting. The hemp was then adopted, and it was found that it could be made to imitate the Panama straw, the popular hat, and in the course of a few years after its adoption as a trick in the fashionable horse show of the Metropolitan Club.—Philadelphia Commercial Gazette.

Women in the Harvard Observatory.

For twenty years the Harvard observatory has employed a corps of women on its staff of computers, but since the endowment of the Draper annuitant (named by Miss Henry Draper, of New York, in honor of her husband), a corps of women has been engaged on work more in the nature of original research.

The classification of the photographs, plates, as well as all measurements and the preparation of the great catalogue, are in the hands of Mrs. Nora Fleming and her eight women associates.

Care in Choosing Playmates.

Should not we mothers be careful in choosing playmates for our little boys? Smaller children are apt to make their betters, while older ones perhaps teach them things we do not care to have them know. It is best I think to keep little friends under our own supervision, and to watch them unseen for a little while, and we can judge whether or not we shall let our little darlings go to our old stock.—Our Babyhood.

Never scrap cuts and dirt from one room to another, but burn upside to the lower part of the house, always take it up in such cases.

ANARCHISTS AGAIN.

Prisoners Confess to the Theft of Powder to be Used for Criminal Purposes.

A SECRET TELEGRAPH CODE DISCOVERED.

How Gudret Revenges Himself on a Sentry of the French Minister of Justice.

By Telegraph to the News.

ANARCHISTS.

Explosions and Wholesale Plots in Various Places.

LYONS, May 6.—A powerful bomb was found this evening in the doorway of the residence of Baron Raffin Dugens, the scene of one of last January's explosions. The fuse attached to the bomb failed to burn. At the police examination of the prisoner Quinchon yesterday, Rouchon confessed that he, Moineau and Wolf had stolen a quantity of the Vertot powder and used it in connection with cartridges to blow up St. Martin's church and Count Minotte's residence.

A SECRET TELEGRAPH CODE.

PARIS, May 6.—The police of Ellesne today discovered a secret telegraph code found by a suspected anarchist, Gudret, who had intended to blow up the office, and the minister of Justice refused a residence of the line. Today Gudret appeared at the ministry, and on being refused admittance, he secretly secreted the sentry at the door. Herself he intended to kill the minister of Justice.

EXTENSIVE EXPLOSION.

BORDEAUX, May 6.—A mysterious explosion occurred in the Kitchen Hotel today. The cause is not known. In the Hotel it is supposed that there was a cartridge in the coals. The noise was explosive and was heard for miles. The cooking range was destroyed and the contents of the kitchen smashed to pieces. The cook and waiter were badly burned.

Misappropriations Funds.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Charles H. Pinckhorn, Jr., former president of the Harlem Bank, was arrested this afternoon on an indictment charging him with misappropriating $27,000 of the funds of the bank. The discovery of the alleged misfeasance was made during the examination of the Harlem with the Hamilton Bank was put into execution. David T. Porter, Pinckhorn's successor as president of the bank, said that Pinckhorn had borrowed of the bank by himself as securities which were found to be worthless. The set of an excellentman seems to have benefited by the transactions, and if he were in this county he should have his indicted soon. "The condition of the bank of Harlem, after the loses are allowed for," he asserted, "shows sound strength, having on hand $470,000 against the deposits of $420,000." Pinckhorn's connection with the Hamilton bank was already the product of the situation. Pinckhorn, in his capacity of president, gave the president of the Hamilton bank, Mr. Weed, a mortgage on the respective value of $2500 and $2500 on A. B. Weed, a treasurer that now in prison for swindling, in consideration of the erection of the Hotel Dunlap. He also gave a check on the Harlem bank for $14,537 to Weed for notes, and accounts stated others in the same way. Pinckhorn is now in jail. His bail was fixed at $7500. After his arrest Pinckham said that he was too much persuaded to make a statement. He said, however, that it appeared strange to him that after two years the bank should take such action, when they knew the circumstances all along. He admitted a deficit in his bank account, which fact the board of directors, he said, was acquainted with all along.

CHINESE RETALIATION.

It Will Probably be Directed Against the Missionaries.

NEW YORK, May 6.—A Washington correspondent telegraphs his paper today: "I am assured from the highest authority that there is no foundation that the Peking government will sever its commercial or diplomatic relations with the United States, but it is not impossible that the American missionaries in China may have some of their privileges abridged, and have certain petty annoyances practiced upon them."

Important Witnesses Arrested.

CRAWFORD, Neb., May 6.—William Walker and Ben Jones were arrested last night by Marshal Morrison on a telegram from Wyoming. The two men are important witnesses of the alleged killing of the two men Champion and Ray in Wyoming, and escaped from the Buffalo jail a day or so ago. Sheriff Parmer arrived in Crawford today and demanded the prisoners, who asked for protection from the authorities. A train was sent from Chadron with officers and posses, and also taken there half an hour ahead of the regular train, on which were several rustlers and cattlemen. Considerable excitement is here, and much feeling is shown in favor of the prisoners and against the cattlemen.

Jay Gould Ill.

DENVER, May 6.—A special to the Republican from Santa Fe says: Private dispatches announce that Jay Gould is quite ill and confined to his bed in a private car at Albuquerque.

The Mississippi Impetuously Rising.

KEOKUK, Ia., May 6.—The Mississippi has risen rapidly today for the past two days. The lowlands are submerged, the stops round, and farmers are taking their stock and families to the high ground for safety. The rise is seen along the Des Moines and Fox rivers have broken and large tracts are under water. The main levee, however, is yet safe. Alexandria, Mo., is surrounded by water, and people are traveling about in boats. Should the fine rainfall last longer the disastrous flood of years ago will be repeated.

The Santa Fe Tragedy.

FORT MADISON, Ia., May 6.—The bodies of the unknown women and child taken from the wreck of the Santa Fe train near Medville, Mo., yesterday, are now known to be those of Mrs. C. Bussell and child of San Bernardino, Cal. They, with the other dead laid out in the morgue here, were on their way to California. Many of them are badly disfigured. The remainder of the subject and slightly hurt passengers left this morning for their destinations.

Blown to Atoms.

TELLURIDE, Colo., May 6.—David Dingle and James Lucas, employed in the Sheridan tunnel, were blown to atoms this morning, in attempting to pick out an unexploded shell of giant powder.

The Mississippi Higher Than Ever.

GREENVILLE, Miss., May 6.—The Mississippi river is higher than ever before, and yet the levee stands still rising. The levee, however, are in good condition.

Earthquake in Italy.

ROME, May 6.—An earthquake shock was felt today in the province of Potenza, between Lagonegro and Castrano. No damage was done.

Revolutionary Navy Dead.

LONDON, May 6.—The Chronicle's Paris correspondent says that Very, who was injured in the British attack on his restoration on the Huascand Magenta, April 24th, is dead.

Louis Pasteur Dead.

BERLIN, May 6.—The Tageblatt publishes a report from Aix-la-Chapelle that Louis Pasteur is dead.

Crown Prince Frederick William Promoted.

BERLIN, May 6.—The Crown Prince Frederick William, the German Emperor's eldest son, is 10 years old today, and, in accordance with long established custom, became the "youngest lieutenant" in the army, being assigned to the first regiment of the guards. The ceremony of installing the Crown Prince was witnessed by all the members of the royal family from all parts of the country. After the Prince had taken his place in the regiment, the Emperor headed the troops in the march past the Empress. A grand banquet in honor of the occasion was given in the castle this afternoon, at which the Emperor toasted his son and heir.

"Vacuum Day."

PARIS, May 5.—This was "vacuum day" at the Champ de Mars salon. Large crowds were in the galleries, but very few purchases were made. The hanging committee, both as regards the quality of his pictures and the way they were displayed. It is not only a verdict that the salon has many pictures in the Petition art world, but that it has "come to stay."

Use of Sawdust's Ways.

"One of the most popular things in Japanese government cities," says a New York paper, "is the other indifference of a government to the wishes of the people. Yet some cases result cause the lowest apprehension. The man a woman must be married upon his mother chose to look for a wife, and the man must be married to the girl his parents have selected for him. Both people in most cases are not acquainted with each other, and in the end it is not uncommon. Furthermore the parents of the most distinguished and wealthy families are in the habit of making marriages for their sons and daughters in the most arbitrary manner. The girl may be married to a man against her will, and the boy may be married to a girl he does not know." Yet, in spite of all this, the Japanese are a happy people.

Insulation of Steam Pipes.

Mr. Hoyt, of the Hoyt Metal Company, in a recent address before the Society of Chemical Industry, said that the use of felt for insulating steam pipes is now almost universally condemned, and it is being replaced by other materials. Felt is a good non-conductor of heat when it is dry, but it absorbs moisture readily, and when it is wet it is a good conductor of heat. Felt also is a good harbor for vermin, and it is liable to take fire. Felt is also a good harbor for vermin, and it is liable to take fire.
