MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS

BINGHAM CENTRAL OFFICIALS SUED

Frank M. Benedict Object to Issue Of Chares to General Manager Jackling.

REFERS TO AN AGREEMENT

In the Complaint Filed—Directors Order Issue of 6,121 Shares Valued at $10,000.

Frank M. Benedict filed suit in the district court today against D. C. Jackling, F. A. Schirmer, C. W. Whitley, Samuel Newhouse, W. M. Bradley, E. R. Critchlow and the Bingham Central Mining company to enjoin defendants from issuing 6,125 shares of the treasury stock to said D. C. Jackling for his services in selling stock for the company.

It is alleged that Jackling entered into an agreement with the company at the time it was organized to the effect that he should not receive any compensation for his services as an officer of said company, but notwithstanding that agreement the directors, who are named as defendants, held a meeting and voted him the stock mentioned above for his services. It is alleged that the stock about to be issued to Jackling is worth more than $10,000, and should be used by the company in the development of the property.

It is asked that the action of the directors in authorizing the issuance of the stock be declared null and void and that the defendants be restrained from issuing the stock.

ON MINING EXCHANGE.

Forenoon Sales Exceeded $24,000—The Closing Quotations.

The forenoon sales of the Salt Lake Stock & Mining exchange amounted to the transfer of 61,627 shares for $24,325.80. One of the features was furnished by Scottish Chief, which sold up to 10 cents a share. A few weeks ago there was no market whatever for this stock, but recent development is said to have been so encouraging that it has led to considerable inquiry for the stock. Tintic stocks, as usual, figured conspicuously in the trading. Colorado, Little Chief and Lower Mammoth came out, while Nevada Hills, of the Nevada list, did business up to $3.07½.

ELY A GREAT CAMP.

Local Mining Man Says it May Outrank Bingham.

Capt. Duncan MacVichie, managing director of the Bingham Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, who returned from Ely a few days ago, formed a good impression of that copper camp and has no hesitancy in saying that it will undoubtedly become one of the great copper producing districts of the world.

This was the Captain's first visit to Ely, and while he had been led to believe the district possessed much merit he expressed himself today as being very much surprised when he found out to a certainty what an enormous area is covered by the mineralized zone of the camp.

"I went over this zone pretty carefully," said the captain, "and I am ready to confirm the statements which I have heard to the effect that this zone is 12 miles long and varying from two to four miles in width. It is going to be another Mesabi range proposition and steam shovels will play an important part in future mining operations. I believe Ely will become in time a much larger producer of copper than Bingham, which is saying a good deal, for we all know what a great camp Bingham is."

Advices received from Ely indicate that Capt. MacVichie looked over the camp in the interest of F. Augustus Heinze and associates, and that he had secured an option on an attractive property there, located not far from the domains of the Nevada Consolidated.

FOUND PLACER GOLD.

Auriferous Deposit Well Distributed Over Sunnyside Group.

Special Correspondence.

Round Mountain, Nev., Sept. 26.—A placer strike of considerable importance has been made on the Sunnyside property at Round Mountain. The auriferous surface deposit appears to be distributed over a large area, and extends over into the acreage of the Round Mountain Empire company, and the Round Mountain Sphinx company is well established. The fortunate lessee who made the discovery on the Sunnyside is now in negotiation with the management of the Sphinx and Empire people for a lease on their ground.

O'BRIEN ON NEVADA.

Goldfield Editor Talks About This Year's Production of Gold.

J. F. O'Brien, founder of the Goldfield News, has been in New York and other eastern cities and has been found by several metropolitan newspapers which contain interviews in which the former Goldfield editor loses no opportunity to talk about the greatness of Nevada as a mining state and of Goldfield in particular.

"The merchants of Goldfield carry full lines of supplies of all kinds. Most of the buildings are frame, but there are also many good stone structures. The most prominent mine in the district at present it the Mohawk, located between Red Top and the Jumbo, a little north of the Florence. It is worked by lessees, eight of whom have high grade ore, averaging about $100 per ton across 100 feet of vein matter. Only the richer grade is sorted out of the streaks recently discovered.

A few months ago the men were working in 35 feet of shipping ore. Experts estimate a production of $5,000,000 this year. The workings are down about 250 feet. There are 18 steam hoists on the Mohawk, which with those on the Jumbo Combination and Florence, gives the hill the appearance of a great field of oil derricks. In the Portland mine, one and a half miles south of the Mohawk, and three-fourths of a mile south of the former limits of the productive mining area, there is a vein 30 feet wide carrying $30 ore.

The vein was encountered at a depth of 25 feet from the surface. Most of the producing mines about Goldfield contained pretty good ore at the surface, but the Mohawk people found little value in their surface stuff. The lessees labored for two years before they struck the rich bodies they are now working. The Hayes & Monnette leasers, after expending over $25,000 without results, were about ready to abandon the job when the discovery that is now the talk of the district was made.

"I think the gold production of the Goldfield district alone for this year will be about $10,000,000. Freight and passenger rates are still exorbitant, but we will soon have competing railways, when they will decline to a decent level. Bullfrog and neighboring camps will advance much more rapidly when the road from Las Vegas is completed."

COAL SITUATION IS VERY CRITICAL

Managers of Smelting and Mining Companies Confronted By Serious Problem.

CON. MERCUR MILL TO CLOSE

Unless Relief Comes Today—A Shortage of Ore Cars Handicaps Operators of Mines.

The coal situation as it affects some of the largest mills and smelters of the state is serious today and unless the transportation companies move promptly there is a possibility of some shut downs being reported.

The Consolidated Mercur Gold Mines company, operating at Mercur, has the sign of distress out and President John Dern put in the best part of the forenoon in pleading with railroad officials to divert at least a car load of fuel to the Salt Lake & Mercur railroad before tomorrow morning, for a failure to do so will mean that the big mill operated by that company will have to go out of commission. General Manager George H. Dern telephoned in from camp early this morning that the supply is getting distressingly short; that there would not be a pound left in the bins after another 24 hours run—unless a fresh supply comes in in the meantime. The managers of the several smelting plants, with the possible exception of the Utah Consolidated, have been uneasy for several days and yesterday all that prevented the Murray plant from closing was the fact that several cars of fuel were diverted from the Garfield plant at Murray. The United States company is also short.

Not only is the matter of a coal shortage causing trouble to the smelting men, but they are also experiencing some difficulty in securing enough cars to maintain normal ore tonnage from the mines. The output of Bingham yesterday as well as today has been considerably under what it should have been.

"I am afraid," said a well known smelting man today, "that we are going to have trouble all through October for the reason that the railroads are short of both cars and motive power equipment and it is going to keep them mighty busy to take care of the heavy traffic this fall. The harvesting of the beet crop has taken a tremendous lot of cars away from other channels with the result that the mines—both metalliferous and coal, will have to suffer.

"I can't see anything to avert a scarcity of coal this winter here in Salt Lake. All there is to it the railroads have not kept pace with the general prosperity of the country and it seem strange that they should allow a repetition of the experiences of the past two winters."

MR. EILERS AT ELY.

American Smelting Man Looking Over New Smelter Site.

Karl Eilers, a member of the executive committee of the American Smelting & Refining company, and who has had supervision of the construction of the Garfield smelter, left yesterday for Ely, Nevada, accompanied by General Manager Requa of the Nevada Consolidated Mining company.

The officials are looking over the mill and smelter site of the last named corporation down on Duck creek, 12 miles from the town of Ely, today and will participate in the celebration at Ely tomorrow, Mr. Requa being on the program to drive the last spike to be followed by an address on the subject of "Why and How the Nevada Northern was Built."

Mr. Requa is expected to return to the city on Monday with Mr. Eilers, and on Tuesday both will proceed to New York.

Thomas Cox, superintendent of the Nevada Consolidated, passed through the city several days ago and will be at the general offices of the American Smelting & Refining company when Messrs. Eilers and Requa arrive. Before Mr. Cox returns, contracts will, no doubt, be let for the equipment of the big smelter and mill to be built at the Duck Creek site and at which the ores of the mines controlled by the A. S. & R., in the White Pine county camp will receive treatment.

SECOND REVERBERATORY.

The second reverberatory has been placed in commission at the new Garfield smelter of the American Smelting & Refining company. It was fired up last Monday.

FEARS OF A FLURRY IN STOCK MARKET

Rates for Call Money Advanced And Some Precautionary Liquidation Resulted.

PRICES WENT UP AT OPENING.

Did Not Hold Long, Rise Being Enough to Induce Profit-Taking.

New York, Sept. 28.—Prices of stocks shot upwards buoyantly on animated dealings at the opening under the influence of the announcement of the placing of $26,000,000 of government deposits in the national banks of various cities throughout the country. There were wide openings in Reading and the Harriman Pacifics and large initial transactions in other speculative favorites. Great Northern preferred advanced 4¾, Reading, Canadian Pacific and Anaconda about 2, St. Paul 1½ and Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, National Railroad of Mexico preferred, Amalgamated Copper, American Locomotive, Colorado Fuel, National Lead and American Cotton Oil 1 to 1¼. The whole list was up an average of a large fraction.

The market did not hold its opening advance long, the over-night rise being sufficiently attractive to encourage realizing. This resulted in Union Pacific losing more than its gains and other stocks where the rise was not so pronounced there was also a relapse to yesterday's closing figures. Great Northern preferred reacted 2¼. The general effect on the list was slight when Reading was marked up again to 148. General selling was renewed again at 11 o'clock following the announcement of call loans at 6 per cent. United States Rubber fell 1¼ and Distillers' Securities 1¼. Chicago Terminal fell 2.

The rise in the call money rate aroused fears of a flurry and some precautionary liquidation resulted. The declines from last night's level for Anaconda reached 4½, St. Paul 2¾, Union Pacific 1¾, Northern Pacific 1¾, Illinois Central rose 1¼.

Bonds were irregular.

A few stocks continued to drop but the general selling ceased at 12 o'clock. St. Paul led a rally with a recovery of over a point, but the other active stocks did not do so well. Chicago & Alton broke 3 points and Smelting 2.

The unwillingness of the market to go up substantially when pressure was relaxed prompted another vigorous selling movement late, St. Paul yielded 3¼, Louisville & Nashville 1½, Reading 1⅝ and Atchison, Missouri Pacific, Steel preferred and Colorado Fuel 1 to 1¼. Some recovery occurred before 2 o'clock. St. Paul 1 rallied 1⅝.
