OGDEN.

Young Fletcher Impersonating Detective Arrested—Stopping Fish Protest.

Special Correspondence.

Ogden, April 26.—The fight against the merchants' license is not yet ended. The merchants' soliciting committee are now at work with a fund with which to carry on the contest in the courts.

WELCOME RAIN.

The welcome rain commenced falling yesterday morning and continued every now and hail and snow throughout the day. The indications look as if there will be a continuation of the storm, which will be of incalculable benefit to farmers followed by a cold snap and killing frost.

YOUNG FLETCHER IMPROVING.

John Fletcher, the father of the boy who was accidentally shot through the lungs with his brother's rifle, arrived here from Vancouver, B. C., yesterday morning. He was pleased to learn that his son was continued to improve and will probably pull through all right.

NO COURT YESTERDAY.

There was no session of the second district court yesterday, Judge Holmes being still engaged at Farmington.

SWINDLERS UNDER ARREST.

C. J. Dunham is the name of a young man who was arrested at the union depot yesterday by the officers there and taken to the city jail. The charge against Detective Pender, Dunham, under the name of R. S. Jewell, was endeavoring to obtain money on a Nonpareil Publishing order, which was drawn and signed by Ernest Widdell, who is now employed in an office at Lewiston, Idaho. Dunham made the books of many of Ogden's prominent men, and has since been filling out the orders and getting them wherever he needed them. The scheme was worked in safely behind the bars in the city jail.

SHIPPING STAR PRODUCE.

The Ogden shippers are sending out of the State large quantities of vegetables, principally to Montana, Idaho and the east, which go to Idaho, Montana and Wyoming.

PROVO.

Shooting Accident Relative of Victim of W. H. Archibald Heard From.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, April 26.—J. J. Trevor, of Wausau, Minn., telegraphed yesterday to Mayor Jones, asking what had been done with the body of W. H. Callahan, who came to his death through being run over by an engine on the D. R. G. W. track near Provo, last Tuesday. Mayor Jones discovered that it had been buried, Callahan's family being also received a telegram from J. C. Callahan, of Butte, Montana, asking how the man came to his death, saying he thought the dead man was his brother, and asking if it was necessary for him to come and identify the body. If not, he directed that it be embalmed and shipped to John Callahan, Butte, Mont. He was informed the body had been buried and advised to come here and identify it. The Mr. Callahan in Butte, it is doubtful, the brother had about by the train, as said the dead man had a brother in Helena, who was shot by Mr. Callahan telegraphed later that he would be here on Saturday to identify the body. The address, Mrs. W. H. Callahan, Wausau, Minn., found on envelopes in the pocket of the corpse is supposed to have been that of the dead man's wife or mother.

CHARGED WITH ADULTERY.

John Leichle, who lives northeast of Provo, was before Justice Kelly, and Justice King, yesterday, and waived examination on the charge of adultery. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $500 to await the action of the Fourth district court. The bond was admitted and when Leichle found that a complaint had been lodged against him he said he was ready to come and appear before the institution which he did. The defendant is 72 years of age and has a large family. The offense was committed with the complaint of a neighbor, by the name of Hoboheim, who has given birth to a child.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Albert Jensen, a fifteen years old boy who is working for the Provo Woolen Mill with an accident yesterday, which may make it necessary to amputate his left arm. The boy was at work on the second floor of the main building and at the time of the accident was cleaning a belt. The belt was over one wheel and a revolving trap door over the shaft of an elevator was started up, either by some person or accidentally, the belt broken, and the door opened in the center to let it pass. The boy in trying to stop it slipped his left leg down upon it from the floor and the elevator, where it was terribly crushed as far as the knee. Part of the elevator had to be cut away before he could be released. The injured boy was conveyed to his home in the Second ward, where he lies with his leg and arm in a badly crushed condition. The doctor is not sure he can save the injured limb.

LEGAL BUSINESS.

An answer has been filed in the suit of C. M. Freed and C. H. Griffin vs. Golden Gate Extension Gold Mining company. The answer denies that the plaintiffs are the owners of an alleged mining claim in Cascade Flood mining district, described as the Curve Vein mining claim, and denies that defendants have surveyed the Gold King and 2 lode mining claim so as to cross upon or overlap said alleged Curve Vein claim, and asks to be adjudged the owners of the Gold King No. 2 claim, as surveyed, and that plaintiffs be forever enjoined from asserting or claiming any right, title or interest therein.

An abstract of judgment has been filed in the Fourth district court from Justice McNeil's court, of American Fork, in the case of the Chipman Mercantile company vs. Crooks, awarding plaintiff judgment in the sum of $171.70 costs.

The Northern Ore Mining company, of which C. L. Lease and Jesse Knight are the heads, is indicated in the shape of a notice in the office in Provo as soon as the company can organize, in the way of advertising the change, etc., can be arranged. Rubon S. Wells will be the secretary of the company.

PETER MCGOVERN RECOVERING.

Peter McGovern, the man who was injured by an explosion in Provo canyon some time ago, is reported as recovered as to be able to be out. His face is still covered with bandages and his injuries are still very deep, it is not at all certain that he will ever regain his normal faculties.

Deputy Sheriff Cronan is over from Eureka.

LOGAN.

Not Improved with Star Valley—Five Inches of Snow in Logan.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, April 27.—Officer M. P. Evans of the city police force returned home today from a trip to the Star Valley country. Mr. Evans has been contemplating taking up his residence there and went out to look at some property which he had recently offered to exchange for his home here. He returns not very favorably impressed with the Star Valley. The snow in the lower valley he says is now nearly a foot deep, and the weather rather severe. The city through Montpelier canyon was a rough one he says.

IRRIGATION CONTROVERSY.

The last case on the district court calendar, that of Jesse Hawkins vs. Lewis, Hyde Park and Smithfield Canal Co., was tried in Judge Holmes' II involves title to about 200 worth of stock in the canal, which the citizens of that city claim the right to use in sending the canal from Hyde Park to Smithfield. The defense asserts that the plaintiff never paid the assessments on one of the ditch in order to get water to which they are already entitled, and denies making the assertion that plaintiff claims were made in regard to compensation. A number of witnesses have been examined today, and the case will be taken up each succeeding morning.

We had a heavy snowstorm this morning and about 5 inches of "the beautiful" fell before it stopped. It snowed morning again this evening.

Carl Anderson and Almira Frederickson, both of Weston, Idaho, obtained a marriage license today, and were married by Justice Kunzler.

FARMINGTON.

Busy Day in the District Court—Cases Heard and Settled.

Special Correspondence.

Farmington, Davis Co., April 26.—The second day's proceedings of the April term of Judge Holmes' court at Farmington, commenced at 10 o'clock this morning and lasted until 6 p. m., and the second morning again this evening.

After the conclusion of plaintiff's evidence, in the case of Jesse Hawkins vs. Lewis, Hyde Park and Smithfield Canal Co., defendants moved for a nonsuit on a warranty deed from the plaintiff Jesse to the Central Canal company, defendant's predecessor in interest, covering the amounts in the land returned by the canal. The plaintiff objected that the land had been returned years after the canal had been constructed and after obtaining the patent received by the plaintiff. For this reason that the canal was constructed upon the land before the passage of the act of Congress giving canal companies the absolute right as to do, and because of the long delay, the defendant moved the court to peremptorily charge the jury to render a verdict for the defendant. The motion was made, and the jury returned a verdict of "no cause of action," it being stipulated that defendant's exceptions be taken against the plaintiff.

The case of Mrs. Ann Dodge et al. vs. defendants having lost bill of exceptions on appeal, and motion and argument on motion for new trial, the written stipulations of the parties were filed and approved, allowing defendants until July 1, 1899, to recover the set papers or prepare and file them anew.

In the action to quiet title of A. J. Gray vs. George W. Jones, default of defendant was entered and judgment rendered in favor of plaintiff.

Plaintiffs in case of Barnes Banking Co. vs. Davis Stimpson, of Kaysville, moved to strike out the demurrer, which motion was overruled by the court and the demurrer was sustained.

In divorce case of Matilda vs. Medlock, commenced in Salt Lake City, decree was granted to Mrs. Maddock on default of defendant. Service of summons had been made by publication.

CURE DRUNKARDS.

ELOQUENT WORDS FROM A WIFE WHO RESCUED HER HUSBAND FROM A TERRIBLE HABIT.

Secretly Gave Him a Remedy in His Coffee and He Now Rejoices With Her.

Who can doubt that there is a cure for drunkenness when we have such an element and emphatic statement from

MRS. KATIE LYNCH.

Mrs. Katie Lynch, 328 Ellis St., San Francisco, Cal., writes: "My husband was a hard drinker. There never was a doubt in my mind but what liquor was the wicked upon that ruined his life. It actually robbed his appetite. Like most who drink he was proud and generous when sober but the rum demon made him a brute. Many a day I resorted to trying a remedy called Golden Specific, which it was said would cure the worst case of drunkenness. I put some of it with Mr. Lynch's food for a few days and put a little in his coffee. I could scarcely conceal my anxiety and dear him he should complain me for he had suddenly taken a dislike to liquor, and he despised the stuff, and was the most remarkably changed man you ever saw. I kept being at it determined to not waver in my attempt to cure him and I soon found out that my mission was a complete success and that Golden Specific had wrought almost a miracle for me. I want other women to profit by my example and am glad to hear that Dr. Haines who discovered Golden Specific will shortly send a free trial package to every woman who writes for it.

Send your name and address to Dr. J. W. Haines, 185 Union Blk., Cincinnati, Ohio, and if you wish you are at liberty to refer to me as one having tried you about this marvelous remedy.

Estate of Nathan T. Porter, deceased, order made for sale of personal property.

Estate of Freeman Leonard, deceased, order setting hearing of petition of Helen Burns for conversion of certain real estate to heirs for Wednesday, May 31, 1899.

Stipulations were filed in the cases of C. Loofbourow against contractor, vs. Mary J. Lorton, Caroline C. Layton and Rose Ann Layton, and contractor to complete withdraws, and defendants given twenty days from April 26th, to answer.

Estate of Lorin L. Smith; A. L. Pratt, administrator; decree approving final report and distribution made.

In the case of Mary A. White vs. Salt Lake & Ogden Railway, being an action in which plaintiff sues to recover for services and expenses of self and husband in the defendant's employ, in the sum of $1,675, upon an implied contract to operate of the defendant company to pay for a reasonable wage, which she alleges is $10 per month, and for expenses incurred, July 12, 1898, a jury was impanelled and the cause tried before Judge Holmes, and the defendants resisted on the ground that no such agreement was entered into, the further than that the plaintiff was to receive her rent, fuel and light and transportation for herself and family and that her husband was employed by the owner of the same, on an other agreement than that of plaintiff's services in the care of Hazel.

The jury returned a verdict of no cause of action.

HEBER.

Business Before Judge McCarty in District Court—Two Divorces.

Special Correspondence.

Heber, Wasatch County, April 27.—On Monday, April 24th, at 10 a. m., Judge McCarthy opened district court in Heber. Judges Boreberry and McCarty having temporarily exchanged benches as there is a very important water suit coming off in Provo in which the former is interested, and therefore disqualified here.

Aside from two divorce cases, there was little business done. The case of Jesse Hawkins vs. Lewis, Hyde Park and Smithfield Canal Co., was tried in Judge Holmes' II involves title to about 200 worth of stock in the canal, which the citizens of that city claim the right to use in sending the canal from Hyde Park to Smithfield. The defense asserts that the plaintiff never paid the assessments on one of the ditch in order to get water to which they are already entitled, and denies making the assertion that plaintiff claims were made in regard to compensation. VERNAL.

Sheriff Preece Makes a Neat Capture of Pete Logan, an Eastern Crib Robber.

Special Correspondence.

Vernal, Uintah Co., April 26.—The first capture of the sons of outlaws for whose apprehension Governor Wells offers reward, must be accredited to Sheriff William Preece of Uintah county. He came in yesterday about noon with Pete Logan, alias Pete Logan, who is wanted for grand larceny committed in Wasatch county.

Logan is a young fellow of good appearance and reputed to have a fairly good record. He was arrested in Provo and required good bonds under the circumstances.

Logan is reported to have stated that Mellen was not in Indian canyon northeast of P. C. about 20 miles in a "cow camp." Preceding the arrest Logan, being a large herd of cattle in the Strawberry country. He accordingly set out alone to ascertain if the rumor was a foundation in fact, and with the help of an Indian guide found Mellen in the camp. Arriving there late in the evening he remained in camp all night, and next morning he rode out on an old horse and was called over the point of the entertainment. Miss Middleton is a finished elocutionist and a character impersonator of great ability. Miss Perry and Covington and Master Lawrence Millard.

Chorus—Selected by Professor Ann Buckington.

Benediction, Bishop James Rucker.

While each number on the program was exceptionally well, there was a great interest attached to the remarks by Sister Richards, Buckington, and Lightner, with the recitations, "Selling Mother" and "Conscience" by Miss Ida Middleton, which were above the merit of the entertainment. Miss Middleton is a finished elocutionist and a character impersonator of great ability. Without the fault of exaggeration so often noticed in amateurs.

Aside from the program and the feast of good things to eat, there was another feature of the occasion, the presence of the splendid round made by the Relief Society. For thirty-one years the society has been in existence without any relapse or intermission. During all these years the good work of relieving the sick and needy had been performed most constantly, and yet the benefactors of the society are never made public, it is a matter of general knowledge that Mormon ward is the Relief Society in Zion to the rare and old beehive of more than worthy note. The society known as the Relief Society, Mormon ward, scatters blessings where blessings are needed, and are having for seventy years and one living for seventy years, the blessed of Utah is that the society organized in Nauvoo, Illinois, the venerable and respected sister Ann Buckington, having filled that office continuously since the organization till the present time. For years in each community of a ward in any stake of Zion there is one sister Ann Buckington to make smooth the rough paths of life for the needy. For thirty-one years, and more, her life has been devoted to the relief work, not as a matter of duty, but as a pleasure, not as a constant service in the cause. Thousands of a clear and religious intellect, a sweet nature far above the average and, best of all, a heart that is full of the spirit of Christ, Blessed be Ann Buckington, may her life be long, fully one of the servants of God, and may the blessings of many thousands of nearly sixty-three years, be her solace in just as constant and kindly, but quietness not as sweet as thought she has no burden of years. Sure most to the record and sweet to our ears that smells one whose whole life has been such a reflection of Christ's love.

The present officers of the Morrisville Relief Society are: Ann Buckington, president; Elizabeth Marriott, first and second counselor; Emma Lightner, secretary; Frances Perry, secretary; Lois Lincoln, assistant secretary, and Louisa Perry, treasurer. There were all present at the reunion, and there were seventy-five of the original number, Mary N. Tracy, Ellen Salisbury, Ann Kelley, Ann Andrews, Thomas Jones, Mary Hand and Mary Thomas. Numerous other and persons were present, including Thomas Powell, aged 94, and Sister Lonsdale, aged 86.

After having responded to every request from the sisters has still enough left to make a good start for the next anniversary with 300 bushels of grain stored therein.

The anniversary day just celebrated was a joyful reunion and an occasion of good cheer to all in attendance, and, meeting, if possible, even more generous preparations for the future to every call made by the society.

PETITENSE OF MERCY IN WAR.

Contemporary Review.

War at its best is so horrible, so inexcusable, so inhumane, that every motive and every feeling that is noble, every sentiment and every instinct of humanity should unite in every case such a course as the Queen and her ministers have pursued, which appears to relieve its severities and to mitigate its horrors. Nothing can ever make a course as the Queen and her ministers have pursued, which appears to relieve its severities and to mitigate its horrors, seem anything but a course of mercy and humanity
