Bishop Leonard hopes to have a number of eminent Episcopalian divines spend the last Sunday of the month in Salt Lake, while on their way to San Francisco, to attend the Episcopalian conference in October. He will also arrange to have Bishops Potter of New York and Dudley of Kentucky speak here, probably at the Theater.

Postmaster Thomas and Special Agent Ormsby of the postoffice service returned last night from Murray, Sandy, Union, West Jordan, and part of Draper, where they had been in the interest of rural delivery. The latter gentleman, it is said, contemplates moving to Mantel as soon as satisfactory arrangements are made—the Messenger matter among them—and will engage in the practice of law, in mining and newspaper work with Mr. McLeod associated.

A benefit entertainment was tendered Rev. Mr. Wagner, of the A. M. E. church last night by the members of his congregation prior to his going to Pueblo to attend the annual conference. George E. Parker, who is keeping the residence of Dr. C. B. Proust at 1133 East First South during the family's temporary absence, was awakened from his sleep yesterday morning by an insect crawling over his solar plexus. He thought it was a grasshopper and seized hold of it. The insect returned the compliment and took hold of Parker's fore finger with his fangs and when his grip was loosened blood followed it. Parker went to some neighbors to ascertain what he had been dallying with and was informed that it was a tarantula. With visions of a mound of earth in the cemetery with a slab at the head reading "sacred to the memory of George E. Parker," he rushed to All Hallows college where he was given the relief of his life by being told by one of the scientific professors that the insect was a harmless beetle.

THE L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.
Business College Opens With Increased Attendance.

High School, Normal and Preparatory Departments Begin Next Monday.

The regular fall opening of the Latter-day Saints' Business College took place this week under the most favorable conditions this department has yet known. The business college is open day and night, so as to accommodate young men and women who work during the day, as well as those who are away from the city for a regular course. The increased facilities of the institution have been followed at once by a larger and better classified attendance, the registration books for the fall opening showing a total of 150 up to Friday morning as students of this department enter at any time without loss so far as the purely commercial branches are concerned, the attendance this year promises to be much greater than in any previous year. Compared with this year last year, the attendance has practically doubled; but last year at this time the department was poorly located in the Social Hall, while this year the splendid equipment and comfortable apartments of the new building must account for some of the extraordinary increase so early in the season.

REGULAR FALL OPENING.

The high school, normal and preparatory departments will open on Monday morning next in the Lion House. This historic building has been thoroughly adapted for use as school apartments and the classes in literature, science, theology, and art, will have plenty of room by using all three floors of this building. The most noticeable change this year is the transfer of the whole library from the Social Hall to room 4 of the Lion House. Prof. Chamberlain is making a catalogue of the works on natural science in the library, preparatory to the purchase of the Clark library of natural science. This library will occupy cases and a room by itself in the Lion House pending the completion of Barrett Hall.

S. M. BARRATT BUILDING.

Much regret is felt by the management at the delay in the midst of the work on the Samuel M. Barratt Memorial building. The foundation has been ready for more than five weeks, but it has been impossible to obtain the hard brick of the desired deep red color, to go on with the work as rapidly as had been expected. Deep red brick has been promised for next week and the work will then be resumed and hastened as fast as it is possible to completion. This building will be ready, it is believed, before the winter holidays.

NEW RULES ADOPTED.

Some new regulations have been adopted by the faculty for the benefit of the students during the present year. The most important of these is that examinations in all subjects will be held monthly, and that the most noticeable change this year is the transfer of the whole library from the Social Hall to room 4 of the Lion House. Prof. Chamberlain is making a catalogue of the works on natural science in the library, preparatory to the purchase of the Clark library of natural science. This library will occupy cases and a room by itself in the Lion House pending the completion of Barrett Hall.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford County, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when editor Ward, of the season's Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one after I made the trip successfully, and never felt any ill effects. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy, and this time one dose cured me."

LIFE IN CAMP STILL A PLEASURE

Boys Like It Even After Novelty Grows Off.

SIGNAL CORPS PRIZE DRILL

Medal Won by Sgt. Evans—Battery A Goes Out and Shoots at the Lake—Other Events.

The National Guard boys show that they like camp life even after the novelty has worn off. Camp Lawton is anything but a play ground except for brief intervals. And the way the boys swarm out to meet the evening trains and hold on to the visitors from town up to the last moment would indicate that they had been isolated from society a hundred years and were dying for just one look at a human face. Yet they drill as cheerfully as they eat—almost and there is no question but that Camp Lawton will be a cherished memory with everyone of the boys. The camp this afternoon five to do without the cheery presence of the battery boys, who go to make up not a small part of the life of the camp, as they went to the shores of the lake to indulge in target practice. Capt. Greenwald was in command, and he had an object placed out on the lake several hundred yards. At first the water was a puzzle but the boys finally solved it and before they quit they could shoot a hole through the smallest wafer on the lake.

The signal corps comes pretty near being the crack organization of the camp. It put up a drill last night that could be duplicated by any other organization in the state. It was the prize contest in the manual of arms, for the handsome gold medal. The boys had carbines instead of rifles which gave them more movements. But they went through the maneuvers, especially a sharp and precision that reflected much credit upon them as well as on Capt. Greenwald and his lieutenants. Quartermaster-Sgt. Paul has held the medal for the past month, but it was won from him by the boys of the signal corps. They were put through the manual by Lieut. Smith and the judges were Colonels Park and Nystrom. This morning a detachment under Lieut. Skidmore ascended the hills on the east and indulged in some signalling and in the afternoon they ascended the hills on the north and exchanged messages with a detachment on the ball grounds by aid of the acetylene lamp. You can see it down that Captain Greenwald and his boys are getting about as much out of the encampment as anybody—that includes drill practice and watermelon.

The boys show a marked improvement in all the maneuvers and command the guard mountings, which is without doubt the most spectacular maneuver in the army tactics. There was an extra large crowd at the camp this afternoon and evening to witness the drilling and visit with friends.

Yesterday afternoon a ball game was pulled off between the guard team and a team from Fort Douglas. The camp faction boys won by a score of 11 to 5. The game was exciting and evoked all the lung power there was in camp. Thirlot of Provo and Will Smith did the pitching for the Guard, while Neil Margolis did some spectacular catches. The five line bats were played with the game had to yield to the retreat parade. Smith knocked a home run, and Henneay of the regulars proved to be about as clever a base stealer as ever happened to the base. The boys were defeated because their pitchers were not present so they challenged the victors for a match Sunday afternoon. The following is the lineup:

S. G. U. Regulars.
Margolis ..... c ..... Hyma.
Thirlot ..... p ..... Sadler.
Alford ..... 3rd b ..... Wine.
Smith ..... 2nd b ..... Leary.
Hall ..... 1st b ..... Shumaker.
Gunn ..... 1st f ..... Smith.
Jensen ..... s. f ..... Mason.
Tregua ..... s. s ..... Henney.
Campbell ..... c. f ..... McDonald.
The regulars have no one better than any of the boys are suffering from anything more than colds. Private Cochran of Company G from Provo was brought to the Holy Cross hospital last night suffering from typhoid fever. He was attended by Steward Smolley, who is a most able assistant to Dr. Benedict. Cochran has been ill for over a week, but the fever was not sufficiently pronounced until yesterday to diagnose accurately.

ABOUT THE CAMP.

Capt. Heywood was the officer of the day today and Lieut. Smelzer officer of the guard and he and his staff will review the entire brigade. A grand ball will be given in the evening and a late train will be run for the accommodation of visitors from the city.

Dancing was indulged in last night for a short season, for the first time during the encampment.

Capt. Summers has been given charge of the school for non-commissioned officers, which is held every morning at regimental headquarters.

MAYOR'S GREETING.

City's Executive Invites All the World to Attend.

Mayor Thompson has issued a carnival proclamation to the world, couched in the following language:

To all whom these presents may come, greeting: Know ye, that I, Ezra Thompson, by the power vested in me as mayor of Salt Lake City, Utah, do hereby extend a cordial greeting to the enlightened world to be present at the Elks' Street Fair and Carnival and partake of the hospitality for which the good people of this municipality are justly famed.

To all visitors during that period I extend the freedom of the city and exhort them to drive away dirt care and indulge in the revel of national pleasure.

Symbolic of my intent to give away to happiness and fun for a brief reign, I turn over to the fraternal order of Elks the keys of the city and charge them to return the same unsoiled and untarnished at the end of their season of frolic and good cheer.

I hope that no patriotic citizen will allow any guest to go from the gates of the city without being richly and satisfactorily entertained.

Having an abiding faith in the loyalty and good spirit of all Utahans and citizens of Salt Lake, I earnestly, I now commend all to be ready for the glowing hours that are so soon to come.

EZRA THOMPSON,
Mayor.

THE POLICE COURT.

Scheme to Locate It in City and County Building.

The latest scheme for finding quarters for the police court is to locate that department of justice in the court room now occupied by Judge Hall as the equity and probate division of the district court. This comes as a corollary to the problem of locating all the branches of the district court on the fourth floor of the city and county building, which has been proposed to solve by removing Judge Hall's court to the room upstairs which is only occupied once every two years by the lower branch of the Legislature. The scheme is for the city to make an exchange with the county without any monetary consideration on either side. Still there will be numerous objections to having the police court in the state city and county building, and the contract between the city and county would have to be amended to permit of police court sessions within the joint building.

BINGHAM'S MISTAKE.

Will Not Be an Incorporated City for Some Time.

Bingham Canyon will not be an incorporated city, at least for the nonce. An investigation shows that out of the 107 incorporators, twenty-two are not qualified voters, and the county assessor on looking up the roll of taxpayers found that only eighty-six of the signers of the petition paid taxes on real property within the district, leaving only seventy-one valid signatures. The law calls for 100 or more names of qualified voters. Moreover a correct plat of the area proposed to be incorporated was not submitted. The plat had no proper boundaries and looked as if someone had roughly mapped it out with a tape measure. Bingham will have to try again.

SPARK BURNS UP HAT.

Thrilling Experience of a Young Lady on a Lagoon Train.

While returning from Lagoon last night on the 9 o'clock train Miss Hazel Beale, daughter of Bishop Walter J. Beale, had a very narrow escape from serious if not fatal injury. She was wearing a black paper hat and a spark from the engine fell on it. In an instant the head gear was in flames and the young lady's head appeared to be enveloped in fire. But some friends, who were with her seized the hat in a trice and dashed it out of the car. It all happened so quickly that the young lady did not even think that the conflagration didn't take her hair.

The prompt action of her friends also saved her hair from being singed. While she had to go home without a hat she was thankful that the conflagration didn't take her hair.

LITTLE GEO. BEEBE DEAD.

The little fellow has been suffering for about a week past, but his condition was not deemed serious until yesterday when the doctor pronounced him to be in a critical condition. The parents have the sympathy of the community.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the residence, 126 G street.
