MONDAY, JULY 1, 1895.

JOSEPH PEAK DIES SUDDENLY.

A Well-Known Man Drops Dead at the Temple Gate This Morning—Sketch of his Life.

Death came very suddenly to Joseph Peak, of the Nationals ward, yesterday (Sunday) afternoon. He had been in attendance at the Tabernacle services and was on his way home when without any previous warning he was stricken down at the gate on the north side of the Temple block.

A few flat spots of dissolution in a ragged outline on his wall and was prevented from falling was perhaps the injury by Andrew T. Hansen who happened to be waiting at the time. Death was so sudden that there was all time enough for fully expired while some time after his death. A crowd quickly gathered around him and he was placed in a carriage and driven to his home on East street where his family were overwhelmed at the sad tidings of his death. The deceased was three-score years of his age and leaves a surviving family to mourn his loss.

Brother Peak was for many years employed on the Temple block and had many friends in this city at which he was an old and respected resident. He was the father of Joseph Peak and Hence Peak Allison, one of Utah's sweet singers. The funeral will occur from the Nineteenth ward meeting house tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock.

National Guard Election.

A number of vacancies having occurred through resignations in the First regiment of Infantry, N. G. U., Colonel Page has issued orders for special elections to fill those in Company A, at Salt Lake City, July 2; Company B, Salt Lake City, July 2; Company I, Provo, July 2; Company D, Tooele city, July 2; Company G, Morgan city, July 2.

Lieutenant Colonel John Donnelle will supervise the election in I company at Provo; Major R. C. Naylor, First battalion, will supervise the election in A and B companies; Major W. E. Stevens, Second battalion, will supervise the election in E company, Tooele city; the senior officers present will supervise the election in G company at Morgan.

FAVOR CONSERVATIVE WORK.

Salt Lake Business Men Advise Slow and Careful Movements Being Made.

A meeting of business men held on Saturday night for the purpose of hearing the report of the citizens' committee appointed to investigate the railroad project being advanced in this city at this time by Messrs. Vroman & Long, was not very well attended neither was there any great amount of enthusiasm manifest though there was considerable talk. The meeting was called to order and presided over by Judge Colburn.

The committee above referred to, through its chairman, J. H. Bacon, submitted the following report which was adopted unanimously:

To the Public:

Your committee appointed to investigate the credentials and standing of Mr. Vroman, respectfully report:

That we had a meeting with Mr. Vroman and examined his credentials, and made such investigation as we could in the limited time as to his acquaintance with railroad employes.

We fully recommend Mr. Vroman to the citizens of Salt Lake City, and think he is a good man for the position he occupies. We also think that any business entrusted to him will receive due and proper careful attention.

We also submit herewith a letter from Mr. C. E. Wandland, of this city, addressed to the chairman, and make it a part of this.

The letter from Mr. Wandland related that the writer had traversed Utah and Wyoming a great deal and was much surprised at the unusual interest exhibited in the enterprise proposed by Mr. Vorman. He thought that the employes of the Union Pacific would subscribe half a million dollars for stock. They had the utmost confidence in Mr. Vroman and in the writer's opinion, no money be given substantial encouragement.

Speeches were made by John W. Dean, Paul Plaist, Mr. Vorman, Fred Hale, A. H. Cannon, J. H. Whaley and others. Mr. Vroman in his remarks alluded to the project. Has Lakeside not been at work, quietly and earnestly for years for the purpose of constructing a railroad to the Pacific coast and now their labors were apparently to be rewarded with success. The projectors had worked at details from the public and had spent more money by far than Mr. Vroman and associates asked for terminal facilities. He was in favor of giving these gentlemen all necessary moral assistance, but was opposed to extending great material aid right at now until there had been an opportunity for the the people to witness of the other operators of which he spoke.

The following resolution introduced by W. H. Dorr was passed after which the meeting adjourned:

Resolved, That it be the sense of this meeting that we are heartily and wholeheartedly in favor of a railroad from this city to the Gulf of Mexico on the Pacific coast, and that we pledge our aid and material support to such an enterprise, though, at present, we are unable to endorse any special plan for the accomplishment of this desirable object.

Lost His Six-Shooter.

Patrolman Lawson of the city police force is mourning the loss of his Colt's revolver. The loss occurred yesterday while the officer was boarding a street car on West Temple near Ninth South street. The weapon dropped from his pistol pocket without his knowledge, and when he arrived at headquarters was much disconsolate.

Colored Man Goes Crazy.

The colored porter of Youngberg's saloon, G. W. Walker, was taken into custody on Saturday evening by Sheriff Hardy, while laboring under the delusion that three-fourths of the members of the Scandinavian colony of this city were trailing him about with the intention of murdering him. He is in the county jail where he will be kept pending an examination as to his sanity on the return from the East of Judge McNulty.

Board of Education.

The board of education will meet this evening instead of on Thursday next in order to dispose of accumulated business.

MAYOR'S VETO APPROVED.

The Tax Levy Again Fixed at Seven Mills, This Time Legally Without Doubt.

Salt Lake City has a new tax levy ordinance for the year 1895; this time it is legally passed without doubt. The levy is the same—seven mills—as the one passed last week without the necessary requirement of specifying what the money to be raised was to be used for.

At a special meeting held by the council on Saturday night, the veto message from the Mayor was received and unanimously sustained and the following new ordinance passed in lieu of the one which came before that body for final action on the Tuesday night previous:

Bill No. 155, for an ordinance levying the tax on the assessed value of the taxable property within the corporate limits of Salt Lake City for the year 1895.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the City Council of Salt Lake City, Territory of Utah, that there is hereby levied on all the real and personal estate or property, situate, being and being within the corporate limits of Salt Lake City, Territory of Utah, made taxable by the general laws of said Territory, and the ordinances of Salt Lake City, seven mills on the dollar, or billions, to wit:

To defray the contingent expenses of said city, five mills on the dollar.

To defray the expenses of constructing and keeping in repair sewers and sinks in said city, one quarter mill on the dollar.

To defray the expenses of opening, improving and keeping in repair the streets and sidewalks of said city, one-half mill on the dollar.

To pay the expense of constructing and keeping in repair sewers and sinks in said city, one-quarter mill on the dollar.

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval.

O'Donnell, maintained quite a stubborn and a little heavy by proposing the amendment that the question as to be in favor or not it would be necessary for Assistant City Attorney Van Horne to appear in order to receive the additional salary recently voted to him by the Council. Jason Rice, city attorney, was for the adoption that it would not. Young wanted to know if Mr. Van Horne, who has been absent from the city for some time past, had resigned. The reply was that he had, but Mr. Young, who is acting chairman, said he had not yet received the notice of the fact, just once and how care that that one only usually has an assistant attorney.
