TARIFF DIFFICULTY.

The Income Tax Provision a Great Stumbling Block.

REPUBLICAN TALK AT DINNER.

Steamers on Their Trial Trips.—Mysterious Disappearance.—A Human Monster, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Democratic members of the ways and means committee are experiencing much difficulty in their endeavors to complete the new tariff bill and have it ready for submission to their Republican colleagues at the meeting of the full committee Monday next. The details of the internal revenue schedule and the income tax provisions are yet incomplete and somewhat indefinite. Indeed, a strong influence has been brought to bear within the last forty-eight hours to induce the committee to abandon the income tax provision, but the position of McMillin, Bryan, Whiting and others has been so resolute in favor of this policy that it appears impossible for the committee to abandon the income tax now without hopelessly dividing the Democratic party.

It seems, probable, however, that the income tax provision will not be of the sweeping character that was at first contemplated. The present plans are to impose a tax on legacies, on the incomes of large corporations, on the incomes from real estate and other property in the country owned or controlled by aliens, as well as to require the stamping of certain documents and a special license for certain classes of business.

The sub-committee on internal revenue is still at work and will probably conclude its labors some time tomorrow night.

No changes of importance are contemplated in the internal revenue tax on tobacco or beer, though it is probable there will be a slight increase of the whisky tax.

HOME MARKET CLUB.

Republican Leaders Have a Great Time at Dinner.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 24.—Twelve hundred Republicans sat down in the low[er] hall of the Home Market club in the big Mechanical hall this evening. The galleries were crowded with several thousand more, while the air was alive with enthusiasm.

After dinner President Bent introduced Senator George F. Hoar as the first speaker. After Hoar came Governor-elect Greenhalge.

Governor McKinley of Ohio followed, and was received with clamorous applause. He said: "This year in Massachusetts, as in Ohio, it was politics and business, and business and politics, and unitedly they triumphed. Is anybody any longer in doubt about the real trouble in the country today? The President of the United States, in his August message, announced a great fact. He said: 'It may be true that the embarrassment from which the business of the country is suffering arises as much from evils apprehended as from those actually existing.'

"This is true. Remove the apprehension of the tariff legislation, remove the scare of the promised free trade bill; remove the fear which has settled upon ever business interest, and confidence will return. What would be more welcome to the business interests of the country than assurance that this Congress would adjourn without meddling with our industrial legislation?

"I sound a note of warning here tonight. The effect of the proposed tariff legislation, whether intended or not, is an unerring blow at labor, which will be instantly felt in the home of every operative in the United States."

Congressman Thomas Reed spoke next. He said: "Even if we should not be successful in defeating any effort of the Democratic party to carry out the program of their party platform, we should not forget our duty to push forward."

The other speakers were Congressman Cousins of Iowa and Hon. Wm. Chance of New York.

FROM SHIPBOARD.

Three Men Reported Killed on the Nictheroy, Etc.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—A rumor is current to the effect that a man escaped from the new Brazilian cruiser Nictheroy, which sailed from here a day or two ago, and reports that three men on board were killed. Flint & Co., agents of Brazil in the purchase of ships and ammunition, admit having heard the story, but they know nothing of its truth or falsity.

Two fifty-five pound guns arrived on the Germanic, and it was decided that if they got aboard tonight the America, the Brazilian ship, formerly the Britannia, will sail at daybreak. Consul General Mendonca and Flint discredit the story of an explosion on the Nictheroy. The America is expected to overtake her and they will proceed to Brazil together. The Destroyer is nearly ready for sea, and tomorrow will take on ammunition and follow the other boats.

Populists Splitting Up.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 24.—A secret meeting of the Kansas Populists was held tonight in this city. It is learned from an authentic source that action, which will probably result in a split in the party in Kansas, was decided upon. It is said that among those present today was Jerry Simpson and sixty others, all high in Populist circles. From authentic sources it is stated that the meeting denounced in most unqualified terms, the Kansas administration of the Populists as rotten, entirely incompetent and silly. They then renounced all the principles so put forth by the Populists up to date, and declared for a new party, and that from now on they would put forth every effort to obtain the free and unlimited coinage of silver, leaving the other planks of the former party to be taken care of as might be.

COLUMBIA AND OLYMPIA.

The First Successful, the Other Will Try Again.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24.—The official speed of the United States cruiser Columbia was given to the secretary of the navy today by Rear Admiral Belknap, president of the trial board. They found that the ship fulfilled the contract requirements in every respect. The official speed was 22.8 knots, giving the builders a premium of $350,000.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Nov. 24.—The new cruiser Olympia started on her official trial trip over the course in Santa Barbara channel today, and abandoned the attempt because of an accident to the machinery. The cruiser went over the course from east to west at an average speed of 22.62 knots per hour, and started back at a still greater speed, when suddenly a small bolt in the machinery gave way. The break does not disconcert the contractors, who expressed satisfaction with the great speed displayed by the cruiser.

Engineer Essart gives the average speed of the cruiser for forty-three knots at 22.02. This as revised and corrected.

Child Said to Seek a Coffin.

MASON CITY, Ia., Nov. 24.—Carrying out the instructions of Attorney Horn and Coroner Horse, the remains of Hannah Witnall, buried here Oct. 20th, were exhumed. The young lady died at Seattle, Wash., on October 16th, under suspicious circumstances. She lived with her uncle, George Pollock, who verbally agreed to give her his large estate upon his death. Mr. and Mrs. Pollock and Hannah arrived in Seattle October 14th and on the same night Hannah was taken seriously ill at the European hotel. She went into convulsions and died. A post mortem examination was held and an eight months child taken from her. The latter was put into a coffin and buried with the mother.

Today when the remains were exhumed there was no child in the coffin. The coroner's verdict was rendered in accordance with the above facts. This state can have no further jurisdiction in the case, but the county attorney will doubtless ask the Seattle authorities to make a further investigation.

A Glassblower's Awful Deed.

GLASSBORO, N. J., Nov. 24.—Samuel Jones, a glassblower, became angry at a boy assistant and, filling a blowpipe with molten glass, wound streams of the hot composition around the lad's hands and wrists. The boy screamed for mercy, but Jones showed none. Finally the victim fell fainting. Jones continued pouring out the molten glass until the blowpipe was exhausted.

The cooling glass tightly bound the boy's hands and wrists together. When the glass was broken the flesh fell away from it. It is feared the boy will die. Jones is under arrest. He has been noted for his ugly temper. The other blowers, who know (from handling glass the terrible burn caused), threaten to lynch Jones.

STRIKE REPORTS.

No Compromise Effected.—Dynamite Bombs Found.

BUFFALO, Nov. 24.—Ten trains of merchandise were sent eastward this afternoon. It is expected the men on the Nickel Plate line will be asked to go out, for handling the Lehigh freight.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 24.—The fight between the Lehigh Valley railroad and employes is now on to a finish, as a result of the failure of the coal operators to bring about a compromise. The officials say the old employes cannot be received as an entirety but they may obtain work on the same condition as outsiders.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Five large cartridges, supposed to be filled with dynamite, were found beside the Lehigh track a little above the railroad shops today.

The officers are at work trying to ascertain who are responsible for the dynamite's presence. Trains are still running irregularly, with no passenger trains.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Tonight engine No. 604 of the Lehigh blew up, Engineer Cooley, Conductor Bender, and fireman, name unknown, were seriously injured. The two whose names are given are not expected to live. They are non-union men, lately hired. The accident of was thirty-eight miles this side of Sayre.

The Contending Knights.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—General Master Workman Powderly backed water in the session of the general assembly of the Knights of Labor this morning, and endeavored to placate the strong opposition forces by presenting a new list of delegates, from among whom four should be chosen for the general executive board.

The entire time of the session was taken up in discussing the names, and warm speeches were made for and against each candidate. Most of the men are favorable to Powderly, but several of them suit the Hayes faction.

The balloting for the new general executive board commenced early this afternoon. V. B. McGuire, of New York, was the only nominee who got enough votes to elect him. At the hour of adjournment the delegates seemed determined to keep on the fight against Powderly.

BIG THEATER FIRE.

One Man Lost His Life But No Others Injured.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24.—About 8 o'clock this evening, as the orchestra was playing the opening overture at the Henrietta Theater for the opening of the play of the Felix Morris company, the manager announced a fire in the rear and requested the audience to quietly retire. All passed out in order. The fire originated in the auditorium of an uncompleted portion of the structure and communicated to the theater proper. Within two hours the whole quarter of the block was burned, entailing a loss estimated at from $600,000 to $700,000. The theater buildings were a total loss, estimated at $300,000. They were owned by H. T. Chittenden, who did not carry more than $50,000 insurance. The Hotel Chittenden company lose $100,000 in furniture alone. Dickson & Talbot of Indianapolis were the lessees of the Henrietta. They were also lessees of the Park Theater in the same block which was also consumed. The loss of Dickson & Talbott at both theaters is between $40,000 and $50,000. The loss of the Felix Morris company is $2000 in wardrobe. Columbus loses her best theater, her best hotel and a number of flourishing business enterprises.

There were one hundred guests in the hotel and they were in wild confusion, but a majority of them succeeded in saving much of their goods. Adjutant General Howe and other members of the governor's staff saved all of McKinley's effects, he having apartments at the hotel.

Harvey Thompson, the janitor, lost his life in the Henrietta. This was the only fatality. He was trying to lay a hose to fight the fire inside the building, when he was cut off by the flames.

Did Not Cut Rates.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—The Canadian Pacific proved today conclusively that it was not guilty of the charge of cutting rates to the Pacific coast. It was reported that they had made a $27 rate. A man named Howard had agreed to carry a party there for that figure, but the Union Pacific declined overtures from him. This is all there is to the rumor. The Canadian Pacific announced a rate of $23 from St. Paul to San Francisco, which makes the Chicago rate $31.50, a cut of $2.50.

Long and Short Hauls.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Second Comptroller Mansur, of the treasury department, today heard another argument by Maxwell Evarts, of New York, in the matter of the accounts of the Southern Pacific Railroad company with the government, as affected by the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce law. The decision is looked for with considerable interest, as it will have a bearing on rates similarly charged by other transcontinental lines on freight shipped by the government, and concerning which no question has heretofore been raised.

MULEY ARAAF AND SPAIN.

Lively Scene in the Chamber of Deputies in Rome.

Minister of War's Report.—Swiss Representative Goes to Vienna.—Will Subdue the Arabs.

MADRID, Nov. 24.—The Queen regent presided at the cabinet council, and to consider dispatches from General Marcais in regard to the negotiations with Muley Araaf, brother of the Sultan. Muley Araaf assured General Marcais of the Sultan's friendship for Spain and promised to do his utmost to avoid a rupture between Spain and Morocco. He recognized the right of Spain to build forts on its own Territory. He requested, however, that time be given the sultan to arrive at Fez and disperse the tribes who have made common cause with the Riffs, asked meantime that the Kabyls be allowed to trade freely with Melilla.

General Marcais declined to accede to Muley Araafs request, declaring that it was impossible to suspend work on the forts or the advance of the troops for a single moment. Neither would he permit the rebels trade advantages while they remained unpunished.

DECLARES HE IS HONEST.

Had Quite an Exciting Time, and Closed in Confusion.

ROME, Nov. 24.—The chamber of deputies was thronged today. Cavalotti caused a lively scene when the minutes of yesterday's meeting were read. He complained that the sitting was closed when the extreme left was about to submit a motion.

The president commenced an explanation, amid great excitement, the extreme left meanwhile denouncing the ministers.

Minister of Finance Grimaldi warmly defended himself against the attacks of the extreme left, declaring that he was an honest man, equally solicitous of the public morals as his opponents.

Premier Giolotti, before making a ministerial declaration, declared that he wished to state, in his own name and the names of his colleagues, that they wished to resume their seats in the chamber of deputies in order to have full liberty of speech.

The remarks of the premier caused much excitement in the chamber, especially the extreme left. When the noise had somewhat subsided Giolotti proceeded to announce the resignation of the cabinet, adding that the king had reserved his decision, and that the ministers would meantime remain in office.

After the dispatch of current business a motion to adjourn was made. The extreme left strongly denounced Giolotti, who warmly retorted. The sitting finally closed, amid an uproar.

The minister of war submitted a report on the military position of Italy in July, 1891, as compared with the position on the present day. The report shows that the minimum peace effective has not changed, but the maximum is greater and the war effective is nearly a million men, compared with 791,107 at the time mentioned. Mobilization has been reduced to six days, and the army possesses 1,855,000 Wetterly repeating rifles. The garrison artillery is increased by 250 powerful guns. The object of the report is to show the efficiency of the army, which was questioned in the newspapers.

While Signor Giolitti was announcing to the chamber that until a new ministry was appointed he and his colleagues would conduct the business of the government, a voice called out, "Rissasa!"

At this all the ministers sprang to their feet in the wildest excitement and demanded almost in one voice, "Who said that?" It was discovered that the man who uttered the exclamation was a stranger. The ushers were thereupon ordered to clear the galleries. After this incident debate appeared impossible. The disorder finally led to the whole body of the opposition filing out of the chamber, followed by deafening yells and shouts. The president then declared the chamber closed.

The Arabs.

MELILLA, Nov. 24.—The Sultan's brother assured General Marcais, that he will answer for the complete submission of the Arabs.

Change of Base.

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—The Swiss minister to Washington, Dr. A. Dessaparde, is transferred to Vienna.

More War Ships.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—In the commons today, Mr. Gladstone, replying to Lieutenant General Sir George Chesney, remarked that when the navy estimates were explained it would be found that further ships were to be built at an early date, and provisions to avoid delays and rapidly complete the work already started would be made.

Mrs. Elizabeth Curry, wife of Professor George C. Curry of the University of California, residing at Claremont, committed suicide this morning by shooting herself.

CARPETS

Make a clean sweep of all your Carpets and Curtains, [illegible]. No matter what the loss may be. We have a Carpet Room as large as all the carpet houses in Salt Lake combined, [illegible] square feet—imagine its magnitude. A visit of investigation will be a good thing to make. A walk through our Massive Carpet Room, only a glance at the plain low figures tagged on every piece, stacked in huge pyramids throughout the entire room. On the whole this Carpet occasion is one of Vital Interest. Some eight months ago, thinking that the Fall season of '93 would be one of the most active house-furnishing seasons in local history, we made immense purchases and preparations. Car loads of Carpets and Curtains poured in upon us. The result is our Carpet Basement from floor to ceiling is filled with enormous piles of Carpets of every description. They must all go—this gigantic Carpet Room takes up too much space. The room is too valuable for something else. They will be closed out at less than wholesale auction prices. Read our Bulletin on the outside. Our display of Carpets and Curtains in 13 windows, alone as large as any stock in the city. It will be a rare occuring event, only once in a lifetime, and then here. A tremendous loss to us, but a Paradise to housekeepers. This isn't any of your bankrupt auction or fire sales, but a bona fide sale of new Carpets, necessitated by the slow demand. CLOSING SALE COMMENCES MONDAY MORNING.

Special N. B. To all parties not being in a position to purchase Carpets now, any style can be reserved by a small payment for 30 days. Any purchase made during this sale is equal to a deposit in a savings bank. READ EVERY ITEM. Closing Sale Commences Monday Morning.—See Sunday Tribune and Herald for prices.
