BINGHAM WILL BE PROSPEROUS.

The New Smelters Will Infuse New Life Into the Old Camp.

STRIKE IN SOUTH SUNBEAM

Samples Show Silver Glance—New Pump and Hoist to be Installed—Washington Mine Closed.

There can be no doubt that a wonderful income for Bingham is one of the assets of the near future. The possibilities of this camp seem to be more appreciated every day. Only Saturday a party came in from Salt Lake and bought a mine adjoining one in the town site. It is safe to say, with millions greater liability than the old camp ever had, and to which it is known there will be no end, that the mines in Bingham will be worked as long as there are gold and silver in the world. Some of the mines have been made at a fortune to company and to lessees, and it is as sure as anything can be that the latter will be prosperous. Bingham is a city whose future is assured. The mines are there and will remain, and when the prices of copper and silver are such as to make a profit, it will be a paying camp for those who are a partner of the Lord of Hosts.

Last week, thanks to the wonderful cyanide process, the New Bingham and Ontario mines were demonstrating the possibilities for a producer of the greatest profit. The Ontario is producing its bullion at Salt Lake, and the New Bingham gold and silver go to the New Mexican smelter, which is now in blast and shipments will commence the week for days.

The Ontario is going to distribute profits to its stockholders, and the New Bingham will be able to meet the requisite of its creditors.

The new smelter at Salt Lake is working nicely, as the Salt Lake Herald says, which will increase its capacity to about 60 tons a day. Some of the Garfield and Salt Lake are laid to be pouring up well. A number of strikes have been reported in this city, since the present smelter was erected, and while nothing is known in the outside world of them, the fact is that the city and camp without its mines, or its smelter, is not going on as fast as the enthusiasts of the Pacific Slope embrace a properties. Some strikes have been reported from Tintic, and the same with Park City, and there should be some good production for the future are manifest on the surface of the ledges of quartzite and limestone that will be conquered by the top force of nature exactly to be acquired by the company, which will deliver to the only purchaser in the neighborhood of the old producers but the silver face of the quartzite ledges of the West Mountain place footed signs of its fact crossing the mouth of the tunnel of Bingham and also for the River.

PARK CITY NEWS.

An Interesting Summary of Conditions in That Camp.

In its interesting weekly issue of the mining affairs of Park City the Record says the following:

Loving people will is grinding away and is making money for its owners in the mines and in the smelter. The ores are taken, and the revenue of the owners can will be used Bairoma.

The Ontario is still working, with its Calumet claim, as thought originally. Reports from there are to be had a splendid one, and
