AN ABBE BEHEADED.

Religious Ceremonies Preliminary to the Execution.

FERVENTLY KISSED THE CRUCIFIX

The Crimes of Which the Priest Was Convicted and His Last Moments on Earth.

LAVAL, France, Aug. 30.—The execution of Abbe Brunaud, formerly chief of the church at Entrammes, convicted of the murder of Abbe Finot, passed off more quietly than the authorities anticipated. Fully 8,000 people were present.

Abbe Brunaud was awake when the public prosecutor, examining magistrate and other officials entered his cell this morning in order to inform him that his last hour had arrived. Unaided the condemned man donned the black trousers and then put on his shirt, stockings and shoes. When dressed the abbe was led to the chapel of the prison where the representatives of the press were already seated. In passing the holy water font, the abbe dipped his fingers, knelt and crossed himself fervently. He was then led to the altar where he prayed a few moments and afterwards with the prison chaplain retired to a corner where the latter heard the prisoner's last confession, after which mass was celebrated, Abbe Brunaud following the prayers with great devotion. After breakfast the prisoner again communed with the prison chaplain and asked that the clergy might pardon him for breaking his vows of chastity. He then informed the attendants that he was ready, and showed great coolness until he arrived at the foot of the scaffold, when his fortitude seemed to desert him.

Upon the guillotine platform Abbe Brunaud kissed the crucifix held up before him by the chaplain, murmured a short prayer with his eyes turned toward the sky, and then at a signal from Diabler, he was overturned upon the bascule, thrust rapidly forward, and about 5:03 a. m. the knife fell and the priest's head dropped into the basket.

The death of the priest was the signal for loud cries of "bravo" from the crowds.

Abbe Brunaud was found guilty of the murder of Abbe Finot, curé at Entrammes, by stunning him and throwing him into a well, pitching blocks of wood upon him as he struggled for life and finally pelting him with a long pole until dead. He was also shown to have committed robberies, spent much money in fast living and was indicted for the murder of a widow named Bauriais, a florist, found stabbed to death, and her place of business ransacked. Some of the stolen money was traced to the possession of Abbe Brunaud.

Business Booming.

Special Dispatch to the News.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 30.—Superintendent Malloy of the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific, says that business is heavier on his division now than at any time during the present year. Before the strike nine freight crews were running on the Fifth district between Cheyenne and Laramie. They were reduced to five during the strike, but now eleven crews were at work. The outlook is very encouraging to the officials.

Glass Makers' Cut.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 30.—The Window Glass Manufacturers' association, which met in Cleveland yesterday, rejected the workers' proposition conceding a reduction of 20 per cent. The manufacturers insist upon a 40 per cent cut.

A Great Strike Imminent.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—It is expected that one of the greatest strikes this city has ever witnessed will be inaugurated September 10. The building trades conference opened some time ago in the board of walking delegates to take some steps looking toward the abolition of the system adopted by a great many contractors of employing materials produced by cheap convict labor. The board investigated the complaint, and last March gave notice to architects and building contractors that if the practice of employing the materials in question was continued after September 1st of this year strikes would be authorized on every building affected.

DECISION REVERSED.

The Illinois Building Association Declared Solvent.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Attorney General Maloney, contrary to the opinion of Auditor Gore, has declared the Illinois Building and Loan association of Bloomington solvent; that it has a right to levy assessment upon stock for the expense fund and all its transactions in this respective lawful. Occasion for such a decision arose from the discovery of a proviso in the bylaws by Auditor Gore, while examining the books of the association, that they might levy on the stock an assessment of 25 cents every quarter for the creation of an expense fund. He further found by the operation of this bylaw that the association raised $62,777.12, which was used for expense money. Auditor Gore held that the association had no authority to raise such a fund and that its assessments must be in such a condition as to immediately return the money to the stockholders. As the assets are not in such a condition the auditor held the association insolvent and requested the attorney general to bring suit for dissolution of its charter. Maloney, after an exhaustive research of the law relative to the subject, has written the auditor a letter stating that he has carefully read the report of the auditor and accompanying papers, and that he is convinced from careful examination that it is his plain duty to abstain from commencing proceedings against said association.

A Failure.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Joseph Marie Menassa, general partner of the Jose M. Mendez Co., dealers in general merchandise and importers and exporters, assigned today without preference. The liabilities are $40,000; the nominal assets, probably larger.

The Pythians Must Keep Off the Grass.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Some of the visiting Knights of Pythias from lands have found themselves victims of the same law the Texas violated. Nothing like a parade is allowed to enter the Capitol grounds except on inauguration day or by special permission, and the bands which have gaily approached with drums beating and wind instruments blowing have been turned back.

Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—John B. Garibaldi was today appointed postmaster at Mercer, Cal. Two Illinois Presidential nominees who failed of confirmation were today reappointed postmasters: George H. Veach, Ogden; John Tyrrel, Pomeroy, Wash.

AS TO NATURALIZATION.

A Novel Point Decided by Judge Daly, New York.

A Hungarian Subject Refuses to Renounce Allegiance to the Emperor of Austria.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Chief Judge Daly has decided a novel point. Marcus Braun, an applicant for naturalization papers, asked that certain objectionable words be stricken from the papers. Braun is a Hungarian. On July 19 last his declaration of intention to become an American citizen was rejected by the naturalization bureau because Braun refused to renounce allegiance to the Emperor of Austria. He said he was not a subject of the Austrian emperor, but was a subject of the king of Hungary. Braun was an officer in the Hungarian army, and when told that he was considered an Austrian, he was will with rage. He employed Lawyer Abraham Levy to institute proceedings to compel the naturalization bureau to issue his papers. Levy made a motion before Judge Daly asking that the "Emperor of Austria" be stricken from the papers. He claimed that the autonomy of Austria is distinct and separate from that of Hungary and that the king of Hungary was free to act over his domain.

Judge Daly said he saw no reason for granting the motion, but he would insert in the papers the words "and particularly forswear allegiance to the king of Hungary, whose subject I am."

"I do not think the or any other court in the United States should be called upon to pass upon the sovereignties of foreign powers," said Judge Daly in denying the motion.

Braun would not sign the paper after the change suggested by Judge Daly, and left the courtroom, declaring he would lay the matter before the Austrian parliament.

TO WHAT MEAN ISMS, ETC.

Mrs. Astor's Gardener Turns Her Villa into a Boarding House.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 30.—Mrs. William Astor, who lives at her beautiful country place, Beechwood, in Bellevue avenue, for several months every summer, was astonished a few days ago to learn that her trusted gardener, John Hammond, had been using the place in her absence all last winter as a boarding house. She discharged him on the spot.

The trust reposed in Hammond made it particularly easy for him to carry his plan into execution. He and his wife lived in the lodge in the summer, but when Mrs. Astor left for town in the autumn they transferred themselves and their belongings to the house itself, where Mrs. Hammond entered upon the duties of housekeeper. Hammond conceived the idea of leasing Beechwood a temporary boarding house. He thought Mrs. Astor would not like to have the boarders sleep in her best rooms, so he chose all those in the rear of the house and fitted them with cots. After everything had been arranged John locked about him for his boarders. There were some laborers, gardeners and other workmen, who were employed in interior alterations in some of the big houses along Bellevue avenue. To these he went and told in glowing colors the life he could offer them at a country villa and he said that it would not be very dear. Hammond had no difficulty in filling his fifteen cots.

A Naval Officer's Suicide.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 30.—Lewis Dozier Jr., late of the navy, committed suicide here yesterday by falling on his sword, inflicting injuries from which he died.

To Kill Mgr. Satolli.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Edward Shea, the supposed leader who proposes to kill Mgr. Satolli, the papal delegate, was arraigned in Harlem police court today. Shea appears to be suffering from an alcoholic mania. A policeman was arrested him in Kingsbridge road last night where he was shouting, "Kill him, kill him," making lunges at an imaginary object. He said he formerly kept a saloon at Mendville, Pa.; he sold out, and having called on Satolli to kill Satolli, a day or ten and been organized to kill all priests; he had been selected to strike the first blow. He was sent to Bellevue hospital, where he will undergo examination as to his sanity.

A Lawyer's Insanity.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 30.—Thomas Martin, a well known lawyer of this city, has been committed to an asylum, having become insane from overwork and excessive use of tobacco. He languishes in a Congressman Breckinridge and that he lost his voice in the campaign, but that he will win his election. Sunday night he became so violent that he was taken to a cell in the Ohio river and says there is no doubt delirium is one. His brother is State Senator Martin, and he is but 34 years of age.

The Distillers Will Fight.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 30.—Inquiry has confirmed the reports that the Distilling company would contest the increase in tax of the spirits in bond on the ground of illegality. It is learned that this has long been President Greenhut's idea, and that he has been in favor of making the fight on this basis. Good legal authority has been secured for the argument that when the spirits were put in bond at 90 cents per gallon there was an implied contract that the tax would not be increased on those goods while they were in bond. A fight will be made on this line.

Nominated for Congress.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 30.—D. P. Thompson, the present county treasurer of Stephenson county, was nominated by the Democrats of this district last night for Congress. The district is overwhelmingly Republican.

The Vigilant Didn't Sail.

Will Go Back to Rome.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—A dispatch from Rome says the report that Mgr. Satolli will return to Rome at the end of the year is confirmed. The vatican will publish the result of his mission, which will show, as already frequently stated, that the pope is entirely satisfied with the work of Mgr. Satolli and his holiness considers the church questions of the United States almost settled.

Bombarded by the Dutch.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 30.—A dispatch from Batavia says Matarim, the capital of the island of Lombok, where the Dutch troops recently met with serious reverses at the hands of the Balinese is in possession of the rebels and being bombarded by the Dutch fleet.

Forcing Down the Prices.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 30.—It is claimed by the cattle men of southwest Texas that the low tariff bill will result in serious injury to the cattle interests of this section. The duty is reduced from $10 per head to twenty per cent ad valorem, and it is expected that at least 150,000 cattle will be brought into Texas from Mexico within the next sixty days, and after being fattened, marketed in this country, thus forcing down the prices.

GOV. WAITE'S CASE.

The Hearing Commenced Before Commissioner Hinsdale.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 30.—The hearing in the case against Governor Waite, President Milnes of the fire and police board, Chief of Police Armstrong and Police Matron Kate Dwyer, charged with conspiracy to detain a letter intended for ex-Police Matron Linson, was begun before U. S. Commissioner Hinsdale today. Testimony was introduced showing a conspiracy to blacklist Mrs. Linson's character in order to pave the way for her removal as a witness. A letter to her from Jesse Parr, of Pueblo, in answer to an advertisement for a position as a housekeeper, was used for this purpose.

Fires Still Raging.

NEGAUNEE, Aug. 30.—Heavy fires are still raging in the Trout Creek district. The Diamond Match company has lost fully 30,000,000 feet of lumber. The Nestor estate about 25,000,000 feet. The loss of homesteaders is very great.

THE KENTUCKY CAMPAIGN.

Murder as a Result of the Breckinridge Contest.

LEXINGTON, Aug. 30.—A duel to the death with knives occurred in Clark county, near Boonesboro, yesterday, over the central feature of the Ashland Congressional contest.

John King, a Breckinridge man living in Fayette county, met on the highway an old friend, George Cook, who lives in Clark county. Cook said that any woman who went to hear Breckinridge's speech was no better than a courtesan. King dismounted from his horse, saying that his wife and daughters had been Breckinridge. Cook insisted it was a shame. He also dismounted. Both drew knives and blood flowed freely until Cook dropped dead. King has escaped.

More Testimony.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Contrary to expectations, rebuttal testimony was heard today by the strike commission. S. C. Wade, an employe of the legal department of the Rock Island road, said that much of the blockading of railroad tracks was the work of experienced railroad men.

W. H. Mooney, a Northern Pacific switchman of Minneapolis, said Dean and Howard had not advised the men to strike. They had told the men to use their own judgment. He was discharged for alleged activity in the strike. The witness told of the fight at Blue Island June 30, when 400 men stood by and saw their chief, Logan, beaten by the crowd.

Mauritian Sugar.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—A Washington special to the Chicago Daily Newsays, there is a well founded assertion that President Cleveland said recently he would terminate the reciprocity treaty with Hawaii. His object is to make sugar from Hawaii dutiable. The new tariff bill expressly continues the Hawaiian treaty which, it is asserted, gives the sugar trust a great advantage. Under its terms the treaty may be terminated after twelve months' notice.

FIREWATER DID IT.

Indians Obtain Liquor and Stab Each Other with Knives.

SIX MEN DEAD, OTHERS WOUNDED

The Survivors Thirsting for More Blood Threaten to Annihilate White Settlers.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Aug. 30.—The steamer, City of Topeka, arrived from Queen's Bay with the news of the fierce battle among the Cultus Indians, which resulted in six men being murdered and a large number wounded. The Indians were armed, and being armed with knives and small arms, did great damage to themselves.

A few days previous to the fight, two Canadian sloops from British Columbia arrived at Cultus Bay with a quantity of liquor. Large quantities were exchanged for salmon, for furs, etc. Then began a scene of savage orgy.

The Indians are savage and hostile and when affected by liquor are wild demons. Dances were started and the Indians succeeded in drink, liquor and dance. Towards one morning a dispute arose, whereupon the leader of one faction was stabbed to death. The Indians then divided into two parties and a battle commenced. The two whisky smugglers, uncovered, slipped away from the scene. No white people knew the incidents of the battle, settlers living a few miles distant heard firing and yelling and surmising the origin of the trouble, dared not venture into the neighborhood until late in the afternoon next day. Then they beheld a sickening sight. Dead and wounded Indians were lying all around the village. Some were frightfully mutilated and others suffering agonies for want of treatment. A round band of survivors, stated with success and thirsty for more blood, had gone down the beach threatening to return and embark a crew of savages and annihilate the white settlers in the vicinity. The whites became alarmed and sent to Juneau for assistance.

Just before the Topeka sailed for the sound, Deputy Collector of Customs Fisher and a posse had arrested the chief, Wrestler and started for Cultus to arrest the smugglers, seize the liquor and the sloops and quiet the Indians.

Atchison speculation began to improve. Sugar advanced 1 per cent, and down 1, advanced ½. Pacific Mail lost 1 per cent. Atchison gained ½. Union Pacific ¼.

Sugar was raided and receded 1½ to 105, recovered ¼. After 1:45 the market was erratic, selling up ¼, receding 1, advancing 1½, and breaking 2 per cent at the close. Preferred rose ¼. Lead, preferred, advanced 1½.

Wants to Be Released.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The story comes from Evansville, Ind., that the United States is likely to have a new minister to China. Colonel Charles Denby, the present representative, will be glad to come home and enjoy well earned rest, if he can be succeeded by his son, Charles Denby Jr., now secretary of the legation at the Chinese capital.

Gardner, New York; supreme inner guard, James Moulton, New Brunswick; supreme outer guard, John W. Thompson, Washington; president of the board of control, John A. Hickey, Chicago.

NEARLY SUFFOCATED.

Narrow Escape of Fifteen Policemen from Death.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Fifteen policemen connected with the Englewood station had a narrow escape from suffocation by illuminating gas last night. They were asleep on the second floor of the station at 64th street and Leaveworth avenue, when the chandelier suspended from the center of the ceiling became detached from the supply pipe and allowed the gas to flow into the room. At 11:30 o'clock Officer John Barter happened to enter the room and noticed that the atmosphere was filled with gas. He saw the danger and called for assistance. With several officers he raised the windows of the room, opened the doors and then set about rousing the sleeping officers. This was done with some difficulty, as most of them were on the point of being overcome by the gas. Had Officer Barter been a few minutes later it would have gone hard with them. All the officers, however, were revived without great difficulty. The gas pipe had broken off near the ceiling and it is supposed the fixture fell to the floor, though no one saw it fall.

PASTE VS. DIAMOND.

It is Alleged that Charley Steele Was the Man Who Got the Rock Dust.

It is now put forward that Charles Steele, one of the shooting crowd, knows about as much of the diamond stud exchange business, mentioned in these columns yesterday, as anyone concerned in the swindle. Detective Steele claims to have discovered the jeweler at whose place the work of substitution was done, but that for obvious reasons the name must be withheld for the present. The jeweler, it is said, has stated that Steele came into his workshop on Tuesday and laying down a diamond stud—valued at, perhaps, $100—requested that a "paste" be substituted for the precious gem with all possible speed. The job was soon accomplished and Steele left with the stud, "glass" and diamond. It is also said he paid the jeweler $5 extra for his trouble. Beyond this there seems to have been no new developments thus far.

MILITIA DAY AT SALTAIR.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

A Valuable Residence in East Waterloo Burned to the Ground This Afternoon.

There was a destructive fire on York street, in East Waterloo, this afternoon, which reduced a twenty frame residence to a heap of blackened and smouldering ruins.

The structure was built by Mr. W. E. Hubbard at a cost of $2,500 and was the property of Mr. E. W. Duncan, having recently passed into his possession. It was occupied by a family whose name could not be ascertained before press time. It appears that the fire originated from an over-heated flue. The flames spread with alarming rapidity and in a remarkably brief period the house was almost completely enveloped. Many neighbors with willing hands worked hard to save the building but on seeing that it was doomed turned their efforts to saving the furniture and other household goods, most of which was rescued from the flames. The larger pieces of furniture were removed by chopping out a large opening in the front of the house. The building was a complete loss. As it was beyond the city limits the fire department was not called out. Some man, whose identity could not be learned, had one of his arms seriously injured, in a manner not explained, during the fire, and was brought up town in a buggy and taken to a doctor's office for treatment.

A JAPANESE COUNT.

A Distinguished Citizen From the Land of the Mikado, in Salt Lake.

The belated Rio Grande Western train from the east this afternoon brought to this city a distinguished Japanese citizen in the person of Count Mishima.

The royal traveler is a cousin of the Emperor of Japan, and is now on his way from Europe where he has been finishing his education, to his native country. The present warlike hostilities which exist between Japan and China and his own patriotic sentiments are the cause of his return at this time. He is hastening on to the coast and will spend but a few hours in this city. The distinguished gentleman is a guest at the Knutsford.

It is understood that the Japanese count is a confidential advisor of the royal cousin, the emperor Mutsu Hito, who has ruled Japan since 1867. Under the constitutional regime, the power of the mikado is somewhat more limited than that of the emperor of Germany, but there is a good prospect that by being vigorous and self-assertive he can enlarge his prerogative in an opportunity like that afforded by the war with China. The mikado is gathering around him trusted friends in order that he may control events in his empire rather than be controlled by the Diluoto class, which manipulates political affairs at present. On his arrival home, the count probably will have his abilities called into full play on behalf of the mikado's plans in home as well as foreign affairs.

THE FRANK DYER ESTATE.

The Mother of the Deceased Petitions the Probate Court as to a Compromise.

In the probate court today a petition was filed by Mrs. Winifred Grissom, mother of the late Frank H. Dyer, setting forth that by the last will of the deceased the sum of $50 per month was bequeathed to her as a provision for her support during the remainder of her life, and such further amount as in the judgment of the executors would be sufficient to comfortably sustain her. She says she has been paid the $50 per month up to the hearing; that being the litigation pending between the executors and the widow of the deceased has been adjusted and settled, and all of the legacies and charges her own, which is the only continuing legacy. Petitioner, who is 68 years of age, believes that it would be to the interest of the estate if her claim could be compromised and paid off in toto. She figures it out as being worth a sum largely in excess of $5,000—reckoned by the standard tables of mortality—and is willing to accept $3,000 in full discharge of all obligations on the part of the executors.

An order of court is therefore prayed for authorizing the executors to make such settlement.

No order as to the date of hearing has yet been made by Judge Blatchford.

No Court Today.

Neither Chief Justice Merritt nor Associate Justice Hatch held court today, things overall attorneys were anxious to be in attendance at their homes. These will have to go over till Saturday.

Nothing Today.

There were no cases down for hearing in the probate court this morning.

A WONDERFUL INVENTION.

It Delights and Almost Mystifies Bank Book-keepers.

A Registering Accountant of the Arithmometer Order That Makes Mistakes Impossible.

A NEWS representative saw manipulated at Zion's Savings Bank, today, a most wonderful machine, the first of the kind ever seen so far west as this city. Many prominent gentlemen of local business circles also witnessed it while in operation, and as they saw it yield to the touch of an expert and novices alike and then heard the results they were filled with astonishment and delight, and went away muttering the word "wonderful," "wonderful," over and over.

The machine in question is known as Burrough's Registering Accountant and is manufactured by the American Arithmometer company of St. Louis, Mo. Mr. August G. Lindesmuth, who is exhibiting it in this city, claims that it is what it appears to be—complete in its working, infallible in its results, durable in its construction and easy in operation. It is 11x15 in. and 9 in. high, enclosed in a glass dust proof case through which can be seen its numerable cogs, wheels, levers, springs, axes, etc. The top consists of an inclined key board of the typewriter order and contains eighty-one keys arranged in nine rows of nine keys each. There are no sliders on the key board but all other figures are represented in columns of units, tens, hundreds, thousands, etc. The cipher is expressed or made to appear automatically and any sum can be calculated from one cent to $9,999,999.99. The most marvelous feature of the decidedly unique and wonderful affair is that after forming a column of figures the only act necessary to give the total is to pull back a small lever and touch a button and the aggregate in dollars and cents is given with unerring accuracy. Human agency is required to make mistakes, but this contrivance—the product of the brain of a genius does not and cannot.

The "adding" part of the mechanism is controlled by a single button. To add, carry tens, plainly printed, forward to another page of column. The machine is exceedingly simple as to operation but complex as to interior arrangement. In a very few hours the operator can attain a speed of 1,500 to 1,800 "amounts" per hour. Experience considerably over the 2,000 limit. It costs $375, and it is claimed will do the work of two to three of the best accountants to be found in any bank.

That Dance Hall Nuisance.

J. E. Malloy, the principal proprietor of the out-door dancing academy, concerning which so much has been said the last few days, was this afternoon fined $10 and costs, amounting to $20.60. The police justice held that the proprietors were maintaining a nuisance of a very bad character.

New Steele Appears Again.

Charles Steele, one of the shooting match crowd, has been arrested on a complaint signed by Police Captain Donovan, charged with having in his possession two "counterfeit" dollars, with intent to defraud persons unknown. It seems that the coins in question are genuine silver and to every way the same as good dollars, but that the one had two heads upon it and the other two tails. Coins made in this way are used for tossing purposes. Commissioner Pratt fixed the defendant's bond at $1,500, failing to give which Steele has gone to the penitentiary pending the preliminary hearing, the date of which has not yet been set.

Scene at a Restaurant.

John Shafer, one of the proprietors of the California restaurant, against whom a warrant was yesterday sworn out by Wm. Steack charging assault and battery, had a hearing in Commissioner McNulty's court this afternoon. Steack was also charged by him later in the day.

Steack was formerly in Shafer's employ and he alleges that while in the cooking kitchen Shafer beat him and put him out. It was out of this the trouble sprung.

Steack was discharged; Shafer plead guilty and sentence was deferred for the present.

On the Sixth Page.

The law and motion calendar of the Third district for the September term will be found on the sixth page of this issue.

UTAH'S DELEGATES.

What They Will Urge at the Irrigation Congress.

BENEFITS TO ACCRUE TO UTAH.

"Irrigation and Bimetallism the Inseparable Interests of Western America."

Great interest in the Irrigation Congress is being worked up all over the Territory. About twenty representative men have agreed to go from Utah and the Work of the Commission is well advanced. The meeting at Ogden yesterday was an enthusiastic one, well attended by experienced men and delegates from the leading cities of the Territory, including Hon. George Q. Cannon, Col. Stevenson and C. W. Allifich from Salt Lake; L. W. Shurtliff and E. A. Dix from Ogden; Thos. Hearne from Park City; Mayor Holbrook, Prof. Parker, Mayor Kilinger and others.

The report of the Commission will be full of statistics, giving the conditions, regulations, etc., in Utah; also discussing five issues which will be before the Denver congress.

Concerning national legislation, the Utah Commission will express their opinions freely in a manner which will be in harmony with the expressed wish of the people of the Territory as ascertained by the replies now coming in to the questions included in the address recently mailed to leading men in the different cities and settlements.

Concerning state legislation, the commission will recommend strongly that the good work of establishing state boards of irrigation be extended to the states, but that terms for local legislation be not adopted by the congress, as the different conditions in the states is a matter which can be handled to best advantage by the legislators of the respective states.

The members of the Utah Commission feel encouraged very much by the success of their efforts in creating a short a time such a great interest in the work.

Reports came from Denver that a great attendance is now assured from many distant points. A large delegation has been reported from Georgia. Colorado people are seeing in the wonderful attendance now assured a great chance to advertise the advantages of their state. The secretary of the Denver committee is a great rustler, and the plan is to run the excursions to the best part of the state, to entertain them at Greely; to have them attend the Manitou day festivities at Rocky Ford, and finally to wind up the excursion at Grand Junction on Peach day, which will be made a memorable event. In other words, Colorado is going to turn herself loose, and we know what the wonderful energy means if Colorado nerve and muscle are attached to it.

The slogan is also being raised: "Irrigation and Bimetallism the inseparable interests of western America." This gives a magnificent opportunity to push the claims of silver to people from the adjoining states. It can be justly urged that having been considered for irrigation purposes it is not a selfish silver meeting but just a good work can be performed.

Now that this turn has been taken there is a double duty upon Utah. We ought to have a hundred delegates to talk Utah's resources and silver.

Utah is also in the ring now in good shape to get good free advertising, to get the world to understand that in these mountains and valleys we have the best opportunity for men who desire to get ahead, from less favored localities, that our raw materials are in abundance and only need the magic touch of capital; that statehood is going to bring a great development on a solid basis and that when it comes to talking silver, we are also in the land of the living.

The necessity is doubly strong now for a big delegation. Every incorporated city is entitled to a delegate by appointment of the mayor. Every county of commerce is entitled to a delegate.

Every mining town is interested in the success of the Denver congress, and we confidently expect that the interest which has been created in the past few days will be so extended that instead of twenty we will find many more rallying to the call, and the claims of Utah magnificently outlined and pushed forward to the interests of enterprise. A mass meeting will be in attendance at Denver next week. That such will be the result is the earnest wish of the member of the committee.

C. L. W.

Another Flock of Them.
