THRESHER

The Best Thresher and Grain Saver in the World!

KAYSVILLE, Davis Co.,
August 6th, 1881.
John W. Lowell,
Dear Sir.—This will certify that I witnessed for one whole day, on the 4th inst., the operation of the Agitator Thresher of the Case manufacture, sold by John W. Lowell to Bishop Barton and others at Kaysville. As I have built Separators and run them in this country, I ought to be competent to judge of their merits. The Case Agitator threshes fast and is very easy on the horses. It cleans grain well and absolutely WASTES NO GRAIN. I saw it work for hours in wet Barley and wet and weedy Oats, and it did its work well, and threshed nearly 100 bushels an hour. The only trouble I saw with it was, that one man with a patent Tallier, could not measure the grain as fast as the Agitator threshed it, as all who were present will testify. I recommend the Case Agitator as the best thresher I have ever seen.

GEORGE CLAWSON.

KAYSVILLE, Davis Co.,
August 9th, 1881.

John W. Lowell,
Dear Sir.—In reply to your inquiry, we will state that we are running the Agitator Thresher, sold by you to Bishop Barton and others. It is doing most excellent work, very easy to feed, capacity very large, have tried it in very weedy and damp grain, both Wheat and Oats, and never saw a machine with easier draft on the horses, or run so smoothly and do as good work. Many have been to see it run and have expressed the same opinion. No chance for any grain to be carried off with the straw; the Elevator works like a charm—never saw any to equal it. We are satisfied it excels any machine we ever saw, and we feel exceedingly well pleased with it.
Respectfully, best of the peasantry." That's the kind the "Mormon" companies are mainly composed of.

A colony establishing itself in North Carolina advertises that "no beer saloons, churches, ministers or lawyers will be permitted in the settlement." That's a funny association of ideas and professions. But the connection is not so disconnected, after all.

The University of Cambridge, England, has decided by a vote of 398 to 32, to admit women to its honor examinations on equal terms with men. They are to be published in the regular class lists and receive official certificates of the rank and honors attained.

The toy pistol seems to be as dangerous as the bomb. Over fifty cases of serious accident have been reported in the states since the glorious Fourth, and a New York coroner's jury has at length recommended the suppression by authority of the dangerous toy.

During the month of July there were 98 deaths from yellow fever, in Havana, and during the week ending August the 6th, 536 deaths from the same disease, with 200 cases in the city. During June there were 235 deaths from yellow fever at Vera Cruz.

Among the necessary sanitary arrangements of the present time is the cleaning out and renovation of poultry houses. Chickens will be healthier for a clean white-washed coop, the fowl smell arising from a dirty one will be avoided, and the egg profits will more than meet the outlay.

The silk industry of the United States flourishes under a protective tariff. The silk mills in operation number 77; number of hands employed, 13,000; capital invested, $10,000,000, and value of yearly product $12,000,000. The quality of goods shows a great improvement in the past year.

A deaf mute of Raleigh, N. C., has invented a hat fan, which turns on the inside of the hat from the force of the wind striking a neat little contrivance on the top of the hat. It is an ingenious invention, and keeps the head as cool as a cucumber. We recommend it to rabid "Mormon" eaters during the summer season.

On the 12th inst., Boston officers made a descent on twenty unlicensed dealers and seized over two thousand gallons of liquor. If this had been done in Salt Lake City, what a chance those dealers would have had to sue for damages! In Boston it is the dealers' loss and the city's gain.

Maud S. is certainly a phenomenal trotter, if we may believe the reports of her recent achievements. It is said that she will take the track and make her mile in 2.11½, when being exercised, without a word, and apparently just for fun. By-the-by, what has become of St Julien? He seems to have taken a back seat.

It has been generally supposed that Switzerland was a great cattle-raising country, but it appears that the production does not equal the consumption. The custom house returns show that there are every year about 80,000 head more cattle imported than exported. Corned beef, hams and pork of the United States largely contribute to the market.

Lightning struck a calf at Northport, Maine, the other day. The calf was covered with black spots and white spots. Every white spot on the animal was singed, even to the taking off of the skin, while not a hair of the black spots was injured. Either that lightning was very partial to white, or the story is only true in spots.

Cigarette puffers, note this: "The choicest cigarettes are now made of discarded cigar stumps. These gatherings of the 'butt-pickers' have a real Havana flavor quite their own. They are used for 'fillers' for cigarettes, and quite an extensive trade is done in them. Probably they do not make such bad cigarettes after all if one could forget the association." Phew!

What is declared to be the largest flagging stone ever quarried in the United States now lies in the roadway of Fifth Avenue, New York, directly in front of the dwelling-house that is being built for Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt. It looks like a platform or reviewing stand. It measures 25 feet 2 inches by 15 feet, and is to be placed directly before the main entrance to the house.

During the month of July, no fewer than seventeen vessels, of an aggregate tonnage of 26,078 tons, were launched on the Clyde, Scotland. Two vessels—the Guion liner Alaska (8,000 tons) and the Spartan (3,750 tons), for the Union Steamship Company, largely assisted to swell the figures for the month, contributing between them almost one half of the total tonnage.

The scarcity of laborers occasioned by the railroad and building booms in Utah is not confined to this Territory. In several States farm hands especially are at a premium. Illinois appears to be a prominent sufferer for lack of an adequate labor supply. For instance a Joliet coal company is in such straits that it has sent an agent to England to secure five hundred miners with families.

According to a correspondent of the Nation, the Germans are greatly puzzled by the term "stalwart," but an ingenious Strasbourg journalist has hit upon a neat explanation of it. He says that "stal" is a "stele," a position, and "wart" from "warten," "persons waiting for government places." The Strasbourg man seems to have got the correct definition of the word.

The Pope Mfg Co., of Boston, offer a prize valued at about $150 for the best article, of not less than four thousand words, on the bicycle, and a similar amount for the best series of not less than four original and artistic sketches, 4 x 6 inches, and mounted on cardboard 8 x 12. The writing must be on one side of the paper only, and whatever is written or drawn must bear a nom de plume, while the original name goes in a separate envelope.

According to the recent census in Great Britain and Ireland the total population of 35,246,562, is divided into 17,253,947 males and 17,992,615 females, a balance in favor, or rather disfavor, of the females of 738,668. These figures, it should be remembered, include all the men in the army, navy and merchant service, at home and abroad, whose numbers if deducted from the total number of males, would leave a still greater disproportion of females in the United Kingdom.

King Kalakaua has been soundly berated by the intelligent newspapers of America, for traveling abroad trying to peddle off his kingdom to the highest bidder. It now appears that the Sandwich Islands are not for sale; that Kalakaua has never proposed to sell them; that he couldn't sell them if he would; and that the whole story is just about as authentic as the anti-"Mormon" sensations which afford editors such a splendid chance to air their ignorance of Utah affairs.

A very interesting case of circumstantial evidence recently came before a French assize court, where the detectives had woven a beautiful net around a man whom they made out guilty of a burglary by tracing his footprints through the mud a distance of eight or nine miles. Unfortunately, at the trial, though the boots fitted the prints to a charm, there was found to be an extra nail in the heel of one, so that, as the prosecution could not undertake to prove that he had hopped eight miles on one foot, the prisoner was acquitted.

Paris has suffered from the heat this summer as much as any American city. The temperature exceeded in extent and intensity anything of the kind that has been known in that city during the present century. On one or two of the hottest days the thermometer reached 98° in the shade in a place that was not exposed to the rays of the sun during any part of the day. The cool nights that usually alleviate the intensity of warm weather in Paris gave place to a suffocating heat that surpassed in discomfort even that of the day.

It is said that France has now along the coast of Tunis and Algeria about 90,000 troops, and these are to be reinforced by 50,000 more Frenchmen who will take their chance in that precarious struggle for glory. The sands of Africa have absorbed a great deal of French blood, and it now looks as if much more of it will be spilled there. No doubt the French government will hold Algeria and Tunis, and it will, probably, eventually work into Tripoli. Meantime, other troubles may arise. Some of the strong powers of Europe are jealous of France, and may undertake to put a stop to her conquests.

THE OBJECT IN VIEW.

THE San Francisco Call's report of Barrows' lecture, gives some items not included in the Chronicle's account to which we recently referred. The Reverend lecturer urged that: "Public sentiment should compel Congress to adopt measures stringent enough to remove polygamy. A jury law should be passed disfranchising men to serve who believe in polygamy."

This is the kind of Christianity which many other professional gospel-mongers besides Barrows entertain and inculcate. The intolerant spirit of the thumb-screwing monks and heretic-roasters of medieval times, burns fiercely within their bosoms. They would impose penalties for unorthodox belief. They would "compel Congress" to pass laws for the suppression of faith in an unpopular creed. They would overturn the foundations of religious liberty and abrogate the Constitution, in their bigotry and malice. They are not satisfied with laws against overt acts that do not comport with their ideas of right, but would "compel" the enactment of statutes against opinion.

It is strange that any American newspaper could report such atrocious sentiments without a word of condemnation. If they were uttered against any other people but the "Mormons," such suggestions would be met by a storm of indignation and the speaker would be hooted from the lecture stand. Whatever may be the feeling of the public against the "Mormon" system of marriage—so little understood and therefore so widely condemned—the right of free belief is everywhere conceded. Even the Supreme Court of the United States, in its illogical and self-refuting Opinion in the Reynolds case, admitted the right of the "Mormons" to believe in polygamy or anything else, and declared that no law could reach anything short of "overt acts against peace and good order."

We showed up the motive of Barrows and persons of that ilk in fanning the flame of popular prejudice against the Latter-day Saints, namely, fat collections from the simple-minded. But the Call reports the amount which Barrows considers necessary to be raised among the pious for the suppression of "Mormonism."

"The sum of $500,000 would be needed during the coming year to carry on the work of educating the people in the truths of Christianity."

His modesty is equal to his voracity. Only a cool half million for the purpose of working to rob thousands of citizens of their inalienable rights, and the establishment of schools for the deception of the young. Why is it that the American public cannot see that all such fellows as Barrows and his crew are after, is the gathering of dollars under pretence of zeal for what they call Christianity?
