THE VOTING PLACES.

Commissioners Hunting Up Quarters in the City Today.

CITY CREEK IS ALL FISHED OUT.

Game Warden Sharp Says Such is the Case—A Coal Suit Started—Notes of the Corridors.

Today the county commissioners are engaged in an attempt to secure places in the city in which to locate the voting booths for election day. There are over fifty voting precincts in the city alone and for each one a separate room must be secured. Considerable difficulty is being experienced in getting suitable places, a list of which could not be obtained up to press time.

Not only is difficulty encountered in securing suitable quarters, but the prices asked for rent for that one day are in some cases outrageous. An estimate made in accordance with propositions already received result in the showing that it would cost the county about $1,800 for rent on election day.

Of course, the commissioners are doing the best they can do under the circumstances and will doubtless bring the rent item of expense to a much lower figure than the mentioned above.

City Creek Fished Out.

State Fish and Game Warden John Sharp looks said look a short time ago to asked permission of the city council to turn fish from City Creek into which to stock other and larger streams. The permission was readily granted, says the warden, and about ten days ago he and the superintendent of the waterworks, the chairman of the city's committee on waterworks and one of the patrolmen of the creek went up to the headwaters for the purpose of taking out trout after the same modified, but after fishing for about two and a half hours Mr. Sharp caught two and only twenty were seen altogether.

Mr. Sharp said he expected to find some of the entire brook trout put in by Mr. Musser, but there were neither rainbows nor brook nor mountain trout. The patrolman said that the recent freshet killed many fish, but the warden said he found more fish below where the freshet started than above. Mr. Sharp gives it as his opinion that the creek is fished out, notwithstanding the presence of a day and night patrolman along the creek.

From the Northern States.

Elder Edward W. Lund of Bear Lake Dell called on the NEWS today and reported his return from the Northern States mission field. He left home September 18, 1895, and labored while absent in the state of Missouri. He enjoyed his labors very much until last July when he was taken down with malarial fever, which necessitated his early return home. He reports favorable conditions for the preaching of the Gospel in that portion of the country, and believes the seed which is now being sown will bring forth a harvest in due time.

JUST ONE WEEK MORE

Then Comes the Mightiest Political Battle of the Century.

BUT WHO WILL THE VICTORS BE?

Telegraphic Reports from All Over the Country Will Be Received at the Lyceum.

Just one week from today will occur what many distinguished citizens throughout the Union are pleased to term the mightiest political contest in the history of this or any other country. But what will the ending be? Who will be the victors and who the vanquished?

These are the questions the people are asking each other. They are the questions the political wiseacres of all parties are answering—principally answering to their own views and wishes. The battle must be fought, the returns received and a general shaking up before the facts can be definitely known. For them the public must watch and wait.

The Democratic State committee has made arrangements to receive reports in all parts of Utah and the United States at the Lyceum theater (16 West second mountain) on election night. Telegraphic instruments will be placed upon the stage and skilled operators will manipulate them. An immense bulletin board will be placed where all can see it as soon as every person who enters. The seats of the parquette will be reserved, and with the balcony seats will be placed on sale at the box office and State headquarters tomorrow.

On Friday night of this week Judge King, candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket, will hold forth at the Salt Lake Tabernacle, and on Saturday night there is to be at the 24 opera house a great rally will introduce a distinguished array of oratorical talent at the same place.

POLICE ORDINANCE VETOED.

Mayor Glendinning Thinks the Captaincy Should Not be Abolished.

Mayor Glendinning today vetoed the ordinance abolishing the office of captain of police. His reasons briefly stated are:

The department as now organized consists of a chief, captain, two duty sergeants, three desk sergeants, two detectives, one mounted man, twenty-one patrolmen and ten patrol drivers. Under the proposed ordinance the captain would be left out. To the Mayor it appears that there should during the absence or sickness of the chief, be some subordinate officer whose rank would entitle him to act as chief. It would be highly invidious distinction upon the duty sergeants to assume why one of them.

Latter-day Saints College Notes.

The attendance at the College is rapidly increasing, and considering the limited number of grades adopted, is far above the average of any previous year. Many students have been rejected on account of lack of preparation to enter a pupil the work of the sixth grade, and have found their way into some institution.

Great interest is being taken in all classes. All our peers of the high school course are represented in these classes, together with a goodly number of special high grade students.

The class in Germany under Prof. McClellan meets on Monday and Wednesday at 3:10 p. m. The exceptional opportunity here offered of learning a good course in musical composition at a cost of merely the college entrance fee is being accepted by many who are not regular students of the institution.

President Dyer's evening Bible class is attracting considerable attention, the membership already being far in excess of last year's attendance. The opportunity of joining the class will be open during this week and next. It meets on Monday and Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at 243 west First North street.

The evening school has a large membership of earnest, enthusiastic workers. This school, together with all other departments of the institution, is open to visitors, who will be made welcome at any time.

The two buildings now occupied by the college provide ample accommodations. They are in easy reach of any point in the city, and the opportunity of joining the class will be open during this week and next. It meets on Monday and Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at 243 west First North street.

MINOR MENTION.

Hon. W. H. Wilcox and John Powers are expected home from the East on Thursday next.

With the advent of cooler weather some time due are in into city a very daily but quite large in number.

The examining board of the Bar association meets in the county court of Salt Lake City, Utah, on Saturday, Nov. 7, 1896, at 10 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of examining candidates for admission to the bar.

The fire and police boys again set in to enjoy a game. The first proceeding was a foot race between two of the city's fleet footed men, a son of Jno. A. Smith, and the man who is noted in many a race. The former succeeded in winning the race by a few feet.

PLACER CLAIMS IN DANGER.

CERTAIN HYDRAUL DITCHES HAVE BEEN ADJUDGED TO OTHER PARTIES HAVE BEEN DOING.

A. H. Richards, the mining attorney, left this city last night for San Francisco, with affidavits to the effect that a ditch has been constructed on the Yuba river in Alpine county, California, by the Sierra Nevada Water company, which will take water from the Yuba river and divert it into the Stanislaus river, thus depriving the placer claims of the water necessary for their operation. It will cost by the company a very large sum of money to carry out the project, and it will be a very serious matter for the placer miners.

Mr. Richards, the mining attorney, said yesterday, while in this city, that the Sierra Nevada Water company, which is a subsidiary company of the Central Pacific Railroad company, has been doing work on the Yuba river for the purpose of diverting the water into the Stanislaus river, thus depriving the placer claims of the water necessary for their operation. It will cost by the company a very large sum of money to carry out the project, and it will be a very serious matter for the placer miners.

Mr. Richards said that the company
