DESERET EVENING NEWS.

FRAGMENTS.

A MARRIAGE license was granted today to William Cushing, aged 21, and Annie Wagenfuhl, aged 20.

AT an early hour this morning a small fire broke out in Smith's drug store, but owing to the prompt action of the night clerk, C. Van Dyke, the flames were extinguished before much damage was done.

THE young ladies of the Fifteenth ward intend giving their annual strawberry festival at the ward assembly rooms on Monday, June 27th, commencing at 8 p. m. An excellent programme has been prepared, consisting of instrumental, etc.

ALL the members of the "Gingerbread in Aprons" chorus are requested to attend a meeting in the Tabernacle tomorrow (Tuesday) at 3 p. m., to meet the report of the committee appointed to prepare a permanent organization. D. M. McAllister, Secretary.

AMONG the many patronesses of the art gatherings are Mrs. William Jennings, Mrs. William S. McCornick, Mrs. A. S. T. B. Leonard, Mrs. Charles Dalton, Mrs. Thomas Marshall, Mrs. C. W. Lyman, Mrs. C. G. Bailey, Mrs. Dr. Sacchi, Mrs. J. R. Thrall, Mrs. M. A. Hughes, Mrs. S. S. Walker.

On Saturday evening a fire occurred at the residence of Pulse Johnson, at Provo. It was reported to an overheated stovepipe. The Johnsons are colored people and as there was no fire attached to the premises the loss is none is a serious one. There is, however, some talk of a subscription being started among their neighbors to help them out.

HYDROTHERAPY of a kind which will be found a source of live art lectures will be mentioned at the Metropolitan Hotel by Caroline Willey Chaffee. Following the order of delivery: "The Study of Beauty," Monday, June 27th; "The Romance of a Statue," Wednesday, June 29th; "Greek Art and Physical Culture," Friday, July 1st; "Feminine Beauty and the Gymnasium," Saturday, July 2nd; "Amelie Dress," Tuesday, July 5th.

On Saturday night, about 10 o'clock, a portion of the side wall of the building in the rear of the Tabernacle and Bee hives, adjoining, near the corner of Temple South and West Temple streets, fell with a loud crash. Fortunately no one was near at the time, otherwise the consequences would in all probability have been fatal. The collapse of the wall was due to the recent demolition of adjoining premises and the excavation now in progress for the foundation of the new Auerbach block.

ANNUAL OVATION TO OLD AGE.

June 29th, 1892.

Through the kindness and generosity of the officers of the Rio Grande Western, the Old Folks Committee are happy to announce that a grand free excursion to Payson is tendered to all aged persons of seventy and upwards on the 29th of June, 1892.

Time of starting and returning will be announced at a later date.

This invitation is extended to persons of the above age, without regard to race, faith, color or circumstance.

Are you seventy years old? If so, whether rich or poor, of religious or irreligious, we shall be proud of your company on the above day, and the committee will use every effort to render the excursion one of pleasure and enjoyment, not only while traveling, but also at the grave at Payson.

The stripped and blind only are entitled to a companion and these should be persons of mature age, so as to preserve the character of our enterprise.

The Old Folks Choir will be in attendance to make melody for our aged sires and matrons in every car.

It is very desirable that all those who honor us with their company should have their distinctive badges, plainly to be seen on the left breast, viz: Those between 70 and 80 a red badge or bow, those between 80 and 90 a blue badge and those over 90 a white rosette.

Train leaves Rio Grande Western depot at 8:15 a. m., returning, will arrive at 7:30 p. m.

Old folks wearing badges are entitled to ride free on the Salt Lake and Rapid Transit railways to and from the depot.

Tickets not transferable.

Do not bring any children with you. It must be distinctly understood that young persons coming with their parents' tickets will not be admitted.

All entitled to go should be at the depot at half past seven a. m.

AVERAL.

All those generous hearted citizens who have always assisted the committee with their donations, will please do likewise this year. From others who are in sympathy with the movement, kindly forward your contributions to C. R. Savage, Art Hall.

KEEPERS AND INMATES.

Justice Kesler's Audience a Motley One—Penalties Inflicted on the Wrongdoers.

Two keepers of houses of prostitution forfeited $50 each in the police court this morning. Sixteen inmates left $25 each for a similar offence. They, too, failed to appear and the clerk, Henry Giens, put the entire amount to the credit of the city.

D. L. Campbell, on order of the court, contributed $15 towards replenishing the almost empty municipal till. This requirement was the result of Campbell disturbing the peace.

Alex. Smith is booked on a charge of assaulting a man named Henry. The latter was fearfully and brutally cut up and as a result will be confined to his room for some time.

Robert Miller was run in by the police last night on a charge of exposing his person, and will be called upon to make a plea this afternoon.

Louis Sulzen is said to have driven a team faster than allowed by law and was taken in tow for the alleged offense.

Two more heedless citizens were mulcted to the amount of $2 each for carrying their guns unfired.

Two drunks were fined $5 each and four others were discharged.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Anderson Makes the Final Orders in the Rasmussen Case.

FRANKLIN AVENUE THEATRE LIQUOR LICENSE.

Short Orders Made this Morning—Judge Zane Will Not Hold Court Until Saturday.

Associate Justice Anderson sat in the Third District Court this morning, and will hold Court again tomorrow and probably the following day. Chief Justice Zane may turn up some small matters in Chambers during the week, but will not take his place on the bench until next Saturday, when he will hear any motions that may be brought before him.

THAT DIVORCE SUIT.

Judge Anderson finally disposed of the Rasmussen divorce suit this morning by making an amended order as to the custody of the youngest child, the allowance to the wife, and the payment of attorney's fee. It will be remembered that when the case was tried on Saturday his Honor directed that the husband, Neals Rasmussen, should be entrusted with the care of the four-year old girl until the liberation of her mother from prison, but having since thought over the matter, the Judge now ordered that the husband's sister should have the custody of the child for the present. He mentioned, however, that if, after the expiration of her sentence, the woman conducted herself well, she could again apply to the court to have the child restored to her. As to the property, his Honor said it would be fair to estimate the value of the house and lot owned by Rasmussen at from $2,500 to $2,600, and he therefore granted the wife an allowance of $300, $200 of which was to be paid on or before July 15th, the balance on her release from the penitentiary, and the balance within a short time. An attorney's fee of $50 was granted. As to certain household goods, including a sewing machine, the Judge confirmed the temporary order previously made conferring them upon the wife.

A THEATRICAL LIQUOR LICENSE.

His Honor sustained the demurrer to complaint in the case of Benjamin F. Stewart vs. Salt Lake City. The action was originally brought to recover $10,000 damages and costs, alleged to have been suffered by the plaintiff owing to the revocation by the defendants of his liquor license at the Franklin Avenue theatre, on September 21st, 1891.

The court held that when the City Council revoked the license, the plaintiff, instead of closing up his place, should have kept on until the defendants closed it of their own accord; then he would have had a ground for bringing an action against them. As it was, he shut up the saloon of his own accord. The complaint did not show that the revocation was enforced, or that the defendants did more than, at most, threaten to enforce the resolution of the Council.

Twenty days were granted in which to file amended complaint.

PASTEUR.

A decree of divorce was granted in the suit of Florence Hermes vs. Frank Herrick, on the ground of desertion. A. B. Sawyer was the plaintiff's attorney. The defendant did not appear.

DEMURRER WITHDRAWN.

Martha Ann Combs vs. S. L. and H. D. railway company and the Utah Central railway company. In this case the demurrer was withdrawn by consent, and leave given until July 20th to answer.

ORDER OF SERVICE.

In the matter of Amelia Weiss vs. Emil Weiss, order of service by publication was granted.

DEMURRER ARGUED.

L. D. Kinney vs. N. H. Tolla. Demurrer to the complaint sustained. Answer and cross complaint signed and submitted.

SAME.

In the suit of Joseph Hall vs. Charles Pearson the demurrer to complaint was argued and submitted.

AN OVERRULED DEMURRER.

Goldsmith Drug Co. vs. John A. Sindlie. Demurrer to complaint argued and overruled. Leave was given till August 1st, to answer.

A MOTION TO DISMISS.

In the case of John J. Taylor vs. Ellen Everill the motion to dismiss appeal, on account of insufficiency of undertaking, was continued, to be heard two weeks from this date.

TO QUIET TITLE.

Robert C. Chambers et. al. vs. O. W. Seavey. This was a suit to quiet title and was in progress when the court adjourned at noon.

OVERRULED.

Judge Zane this morning overruled the motion to dissolve attachment in the case of Alex. Goldberg vs. Joseph Simon. The defendant was allowed, however, to file a new undertaking, and the bond was fixed at $600.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Scarcely a thing has moved in the United States Commissioners' court this morning.

No cases were filed with Clerk McMillan up to noon.

Climbing up long flights of stairs is a little out of excess with these hot June days, and therefore the sooner the elevator in the new court building begins to run the better.

The Territorial Supreme Court will resume on the 11th July.

Despite the search that is still being made, the prisoner who escaped from the penitentiary last week is still at large. Chief Warden Parsons does not, however, despair of his capture.

Mysteriously Disappeared.

Frank Knowles, aged thirteen years, mysteriously left his home at Nephi on the night of June 15th, and has not since been heard of. Anyone giving information as to his whereabouts would greatly oblige Henry T. Knowles, Nephi, Juab Co., Utah.

SUSPENSION OF CAR SERVICE.

The Salt Lake Street Car Company Compelled to Close Down Its System for Twenty-four Hours.

An accident which might have been a very serious one caused the Salt Lake Street Car company to close down its power house and suspend business over its entire system this morning. The suspension is due to the main shaft at the electric plant being thrown out of plumb. This portion of the machinery began to show signs of disarrangement some time ago and the company immediately telegraphed East for a counter shaft, which has already arrived and which they were preparing to put in position within a few days. Fortunately there has been no great damage to the machinery. Had not the defect been observed when it was there is no telling how serious the result would have been both to life and property.

The company now have a big force of expert machinists at work and confidently expect to have the break repaired and the entire system in good working order tomorrow morning. The excellent service that the company has given on most of its lines has been interrupted by the suspension, yesterday, of the Tuscarora pebble.

HOW TO HOLD A PEN.

Between the First and Second Fingers is the Proper Place for It.

Years ago writing teachers invariably insisted that their pupils should hold their pens between the thumb and first finger, with the end of them held close to the first and sliding it to grasping the pen. The third finger and fourth or little finger were to be held together, with the end of the second finger resting on the paper, in a nearly vertical position, and were to serve merely to steady the hand in writing. Motion of the hand was to be given almost entirely by the play of what they called the "writing muscle" on the inside of the forearm.

Within a generation the general public has discovered that this is very poor way to hold a pen. Many people who have to write much, get cramps, and some "pen palsy." Many others, in trying to avoid this, do things so they were taught. An astonishing proportion from the old teaching let a great number of people to say that a child ought to be allowed to hold a pen in any way it pleases, and "pen palsy" would be avoided by not teaching him. This reaction was worse than the first teaching, for hardly any child will hold a pen easily without instruction.

The true way to hold a pen or pencil is a mean between the old and the new, using the thumb to steady the half. Let the upper end of the pen rest on the second joint of the forefinger, and the lower end of the pen on the first joint and be very lightly gripped by the fingers. The lower end of the pen is then free and is to be held by the balance between thumb and forefinger and the side of the second finger. These fingers and thumb need hardly touch one another, unless the pen holder is very small. They should be about equidistant around the pen. The third and fourth fingers are, as before, not to support the hand, but most persons will rest curled fingers on the hand and the little finger will touch the paper only with the end of the little finger.
