CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 29.—Sargent, five minutes before the expiration of the morning hour, moved to take up the House bill to remove the legal disabilities of women to practice in courts of the United States, but several senators opposed the motion on account of the want of time to consider the bill, as the legislative appropriation bill would come up at the expiration of the morning hour. The motion was defeated by a tie vote, yeas 26, nays 26. Sargent said the vote was encouraging and he would submit the motion again at an early day.

At the expiration of the morning hour consideration of the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill proceeded.

Windom, chairman of the committee on appropriations, in charge of the bill, said the total estimates for the legislative, judicial and executive departments of government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1877, were $16,382,613. The total amount appropriated for the current fiscal year was $15,537,581. To that had been added by the various deficiency bills, $980,097, making the total $17,575,638 for the year 1878. The total amount appropriated by the bill now before the Senate was $15,564,942. If there were any objections to the bill it was probably on account of the appropriations being too small rather than too large.

The committee amendments were agreed to by the Senate without debate.

Davis (Ills.) submitted a amendment to increase the compensation of chief justice and associate justice of the Territories from $2,500 to $3,000 each per annum, and supported the amendment in a brief speech. Rejected.

The clause fixing the compensation of territorial legislators at four dollars per day and mileage, was amended by striking out that portion of the House bill in regard to districting the territories and the apportionment of members in the legislature.

The action of the House on adjournment being announced. Hamlin wanted immediate action, which Windom opposed, as it would interfere with business.

Pending discussion on the legislative bill, Windom, from the conference committee on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill submitted a report, which was agreed to and the bill passed. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 29.—The Senate resolution for a final adjournment, as amended to take place on the 17th of June, was then adopted.

The resolution now goes to the Senate which may either pass it immediately or hold it until it deems proper to act.

Singleton made a conference report on the consular appropriation bill, saying the House lessened the appropriations by $101,000 from last year. The Senate had increased it $84,000, but yielded $44,000, and the bill now appropriates $61,000 less than in 1877. Agreed to.

Atkins, from the appropriation committee, reported an appropriation of $20,000 to pay the expenses of the Potter committee. On point of order, it was referred to the committee of the whole.

The House then went into committee of the whole, and Atkins moved to set aside the bill now before the committee, but the republicans demanded that all be read. This was done until the pension bill was reached, when objection was made to setting this aside, and Atkins, to prevent the retarding of business, moved that the committee rise.

Rice, who reported the bill, opposed this, but by a vote of 90 to 54 the committee rose, leaving the appropriation bill for the Potter committee at the foot of the calendar.

Reagan made an ineffectual attempt to get up his inter-state commerce bill, and Burchard succeeded, by a vote of 99 to 75, in getting up the bill to amend the internal revenue laws before the committee of the whole. After three pages were considered, the bill went over without action.

The House then took recess.

EASTERN.

Wool Market.

BOSTON, 29.—The wool demand is fair, but prices still rule low and unsatisfactory, and responsible buyers find it easy to obtain concessions, as there is at present no prospect of a favorable change. Manufacturers appear more anxious to stop the machinery and curtail the production than to stock up to any extent with wool. The new wool arriving meets with slow sale. The stock of old wool on hand is also quite large. Sales of Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces at 35 @ 38, including No. 1, X, XX and above, and dull at these prices. New York, New Hampshire and Michigan fleeces at 32 @ 35, and combing and delaine fleeces at 38 @ 41. New Kentucky combing held at 33½, but there is very little demand for it. California wool is selling at 20 @ 28 for Spring, and 18 @ 20 for Fall. Super and X pulled is selling at 28 @ 40, with an occasional lot of very choice super at an advance on the latter rate.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Eastern News Notes.

LONDON, 29.—The peace feeling is not quite so buoyant as on yesterday. Uneasiness is caused by the apparent change in the attitude of Austria. Austria is making demonstrations unfavorable to Russia. However there is no doubt but that the congress will meet.

The congress will immediately, upon meeting in Berlin, determine the basis of the treaty of peace and the regulations concerning its execution. It will organize several local commissions to define the boundaries, etc. The commissioners are being appointed and instructed by a conference of ambassadors resident at Constantinople. It is suggested the session of the congress will be short.

A Vienna correspondent explains that Russia will only accept the formula of the invitation bidding her to permit a free discussion of all questions upon the condition that she may first come to an understanding with England as to the modifications to be proposed at the congress. The correspondent concludes that the removal of the difficulties in the way of the congress is anticipated here as hopefully as before.

It is announced that Razziwill Palace, in Berlin, is being prepared for the sitting of the congress.

The Times continues to dwell on the necessity of a British protectorate for Turkey in Asia. The Pall Mall Gazette now takes the same ground, arguing that such protectorate was absolutely necessary in the interest of future peace. The Gazette has hitherto rejected every suggestion of infringement on Turkish independence.

In the House of Commons, last night, radicals again raised the discussion on the Indian troops. The Marquis of Hartington, in a speech, repudiated them, and left the House when a division was called. A large number of liberals accompanied him. The majority for government on a division was 174. The supplementary estimate defraying the cost of the expedition was passed.

It is said that Russia and England have accepted invitations to the congress to be held at Berlin.
