FOR ORGANIZED FORESTRY.

Form of Constitution and By Laws Submitted for Discussion.

Examine These Closely, Ponder Upon Approve and Amend, and Then Unite in a Regular Forestry Association!

Editor Deseret News:

I take the liberty of presenting to the readers of the News a form of constitution for the Utah Forestry Association. The constitution was drawn up by a gentleman deeply interested in the movement, and it is hoped that it will receive the critical attention of all who are interested in the formation of a forestry association. Any suggestions or changes which may be sent to the News office will be brought before the first meeting, which, it is hoped, will be held in the latter part of the present month or early in March.

C. A. WHITNEY.

Constitution and By-Laws of the Utah Forestry Association.

1—The name of this organization shall be the Utah Forestry Association.

2—Its object shall be the promotion of all forestry interests of Utah. This may include the careful study of existing forest laws, the effect of timber on water supply, the best means of reforesting old lands, the best means of husbanding new lands, the best trees for profit, shelter and ornamentation, the relation of forest-bearing mines and mines—to the land grower, and such other subjects as may relate directly to the practical development of Utah through its timber lands, and to secure such national and state legislation as may be deemed necessary to its purpose.

3—The signing of these articles of organization and payment of an annual regularly assessed sum to be determined upon for membership. Honorary members may be elected in the manner prescribed, for the election of officers of the association.

4—Its officers shall consist of a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, elected biennially, to hold office until their successors are elected and qualified.

5—The president of any local state organization of five or more members may be a vice president of this association.

6—The affairs of the association shall be conducted by a board of managers, consisting of the above-mentioned officers—exclusive of the vice-presidents—and four other members, elected at the same time and governed by the same rules. The board shall have the power to fill any vacancy occurring in its membership between the regular biennial meetings of the association.

7—The board of managers may appoint from its number an executive committee of three with such powers as the board shall direct.

8—Each of the officers shall perform the duties usually devolving upon such officers in similar organizations.

9—It shall be the duty of a vice-president, on notice of any member of the organization, to preside at the meetings of the association during the absence of the president.

10—If the president is absent from any board meeting the members may chose a president pro tem. The same rule shall apply to the secretary.

11—A resolution signed by a majority of the board shall be as valid as though passed at one of its meetings.

12—This constitution may be amended by a two-thirds majority of the members present at any regular meeting of the association.

13—A fee of $1 per year may be assessed against each member, or the association by a two-thirds vote of the board of managers, but such assessment shall be solely to meet expense of stationery for official correspondence, and to aid in publishing such bulletins of information as the association may issue from time to time.

Morgan Stake Conference.

The quarterly conference of Morgan Stake convened Sunday and Monday the 11th and 12th of the month, commencing Sunday morning at 10:30, Elder Fry presiding.

After the usual exercises, Elder Samuel Francis reported the condition of the Stake. The report showed the Stake to be in a much better condition than when last reported, and that the Priesthood as well as the Saints had been more energetic during the past three months. There is more unity and less difficulty existing in the Stake than usual.

The following Elders who had been called as missionaries to preach the Gospel to the world, bore testimony, stated their feelings in regard to the work: Joseph H. Forist, John Taylor, Lyman O. Forist, Alonzo Francis and William F. Ogden. The Elders all expressed themselves as being anxious to be successful workers of such an important calling. They felt to rejoice in the call and would try to be help of the Lord to be faithful workers in the ministry.

The remaining time of the conference was occupied by the Stake presidency, Elders Clark and Kimball, in instructive conversations, and others of the local Priesthood.

The counsel given was very timely and instructive. The young received good counsel, in which they were advised to be more pliable in their course of life, to avoid late hours in pleasure and amusement and to labor and study more to prepare themselves for future usefulness.

The following Elders for various callings were sustained by the conference: James W. Stewart and Robert Hogg Jr. as High Counselors; Frank L. Littlewood second counselor to Bishop Coles, of Milton and Samuel Francis, William H. Coles, Chas. A. Wright, Alonzo Francis, Wm. G. Hoggs, G. H. Hoggs, Joseph H. Forist, Peter Hayes and Lyman A. Coles to travel and labor in the interest of the Y. M. M. I. A. of the Stake.

All the meetings of the conference were well attended and a good spirit and feeling prevailed.

Conference adjourned for three months.

ALONZO FRANCIS, Clerk.

Hood's Cures

Sciatic Rheumatism

Quick Relief and Perfect Cure.

Mr. C. E. Patrick
Boston, Ga.

"I was in very bad shape with sciatic rheumatism, and could scarcely move. I took a great many remedies which failed to help me. A friend persuaded me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I began to use. The third bottle made me better in every respect. I continued to use it for three or four months and proved to perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very valuable medicine. I recommend it to all suffering as I was, and will answer all inquiries as to my case."

Hood's Pills are easy to take, yet powerful and efficient, on the first and second doses. 25c.
