FRAGMENTS.

See George Goddard's special notice of free advice to the afflicted.

Sidewalk paving on Richard street was commenced in good earnest this morning.

Hon. John M. Thurston, general attorney for the Union Pacific, is in this city on private business.

Yesterday's clearings in the Salt Lake Clearing House amounted to $[illegible], as against $[illegible] for the same day last year.

The News extends thanks to Mr. John Barnes, Jr., of No. [illegible] East Sixth South street, for a box of choice [illegible] gooseberries.

The Mormon Store Company will furnish one hundred and seventy-five wagon loads of [illegible] for the new Territorial ward school house.

[illegible] has been confined to his room the last few days on account of drinking too freely of ice water, is convalescing.

A washout on the Great Salt Lake & Hot Springs road, where it crosses the Rio Grande Western, resulted in a badly wrecked engine and a slightly injured passenger yesterday evening.

The stockholders of the Utah Central held a meeting yesterday afternoon and elected a board of directors for the ensuing year. The rumor that the road has been absorbed by the Rio Grande Western is emphatically denied.

Mrs. C. W. Lyman, Mrs. C. W. Lyman, Harry S. Lyman, D. D. Lyman, Miss Allie Hooper, Miss Minnie Silver and Miss Amy Silver left this morning via the Union Pacific for Alaska. They will be gone about two months.

A rate of one dollar for the round trip will be made by the Union Pacific between Ogden and Garfield Beach on Monday next, the occasion being the anniversary of Pioneer day and the laying of the corner stone of the city and county building.

Extensive preparations are being made for the celebration connected with the laying of the corner stone of the joint city and county building on Monday, the 25th inst. The big derricks and other machinery will be completely covered with bunting, flags and other appropriate decorations.

"Hook Hoy" Hodges of the Knutsford has issued fifty invitations to prominent business men of this city asking them to attend a banquet to be given in honor of Mr. L. C. Hopkins this evening. Mr. Hopkins is from the East and proposes to make this city his future place of residence.

The friends of Ralph Collett of the Nineteenth ward, who met with a severe and dangerous accident about two weeks ago by being thrown from a horse, will, great violence, will be pleased to learn that the young gentleman is progressing nicely and is beginning to move about again with the aid of a crutch.

The excursion to Shoshone Falls, Idaho, which has been arranged by the Union Pacific, is attracting a good deal of interest, and will probably be largely attended. The trip can be made with ease in four days, two of which can be spent at the Falls. Mr. Burley says good hotel accommodations can be had for $[illegible] a day.

We were shown today a specimen of pen work of surpassing beauty in the form of a resolution of respect to the late Frank M. Anderson, compositor of the News. It is the production of W. H. Dennis, pen artist of Brooklyn, New York, and is done in Indian ink. It is by far the finest piece of work of the kind that we have ever had the pleasure of seeing and will compare favorably with the choicest specimens of lithographic art and proves Mr. Dennis to be a penman of rare ability.

The Citizens' Natural Gas Company is refunding all subscriptions, and stockholders can recover their money by calling or sending for the same at the Utah National bank, less [illegible] for incidental expenses. Commenting on the above, Secretary Whittemore said, "We have collected about $[illegible], and as it would cost at least $[illegible] to put down a well that would prove at all satisfactory, and because it seemed almost impossible at this time to raise the required amount, it was deemed advisable to make the refund. The company will not disincorporate, however, and it is safe to presume that operations will be resumed—probably this fall."

Probate Court.

Orders made by Judge Bartch today:

Estate and guardianship of George Husler, an insane person, hearing on return of sale of real estate came on regularly. Proof of posting approved. Anna C. Husler sworn and examined. Sale not confirmed because of return not being in proper form.

Estate of Anne Charlton, deceased; return of sale of mining stock came on regularly. Henry Lawrence sworn and examined. Sale confirmed.

Estate and guardianship of Wilfred Love, a minor; petition for letters of guardianship came on regularly. Margaret Cooke sworn and examined. Order made appointing Margaret A. Cooke guardian on filing a bond in the sum of $[illegible] and taking oath.

Estate of L. A. Guillemot, deceased; petition for letters of administration came on regularly. D. A. Findley sworn and examined. Continued to July 27.

Estate of Robert H. Sneddon, deceased; return of sale of real estate came on for continuance. Elizabeth Ellis sworn and examined. Order made confirming sale on filing appraisement.

Estate of H. F. Allen, deceased; continued to July 25th.

All for Good Luck.

If your sweetheart is giving you a ring for good luck, and you are to have the stone, let it be an opal [illegible] [illegible]

A SORRY SPECTACLE!

The "Liberal" Conference Attracted Only 300 Persons This Morning.

A WOULD-BE SPEAKER DOWNED.

Rev. Dr. Iliff was Indignant and Felt Inclined to Take Up His Hat and Say "Good-day, Gentlemen!"

"What a falling off was there!" When the hour arrived for the re-assembling of the "Liberals" in the Exposition building this morning, there were certainly not more than fifty persons present. But the band was set to work and entertained the few in attendance until more had arrived. At 10:30 the number probably reached 300, and at that figure the numerical representation stood till the time of adjournment—shortly after midday. It was a dreary spectacle altogether, and where last night's hosts had gone appeared to be a sort of conundrum which the whipperwits of the tribe were seemingly unable, or did not care to, answer.

Just before 11 Judge Powers (as chairman) ascended the platform—there were three others seated thereon—and in a sorrowful tone of voice said—Conference will come to order.

Whereupon W. C. Edwards launched in the following resolution:

Whereas, This is a conference of the "Liberal" and not the "Mormon" party, and when it was called the national [illegible] was given that it should not adjourn until every man had had full opportunity to express his views; therefore be it

Resolved, That the propositions now under consideration be regarded as the previous question, and that it be not put until every man has been heard who desires to speak, if this conference lasts all summer.

Mr. Nichols seconded.

Judge McKay moved to amend so that the previous question should be called at or before 11 o'clock tonight.

Mr. W. Newton seconded.

Judge McKay said that if this conference was kept holding as it had been, there would not be more than a dozen or so people here eventually. This audience was not, in his judgment, large enough—though respectable enough—to deal with this question, and he thought the meeting ought to be adjourned until this evening.

C. M. Jackson said it was a question of votes, not argument, that was going to prevail.

Mr. Newton remarked that if gentlemen desired to be heard let them attend. He did not want this conference to be prolonged for a week, or ten days in order that some individual might have the felicity of speaking to himself at the end of that time. Let the vote be taken before a full house this evening—he did not care if it was not done before two o'clock tomorrow morning like it was at the Chicago convention, when he had the pleasure of sitting outside and listening. (Laughter.)

Discharged Policeman Green said: "Let us shut out no one from voting," and then he launched out again into a tabid anti-"Mormon" attack, in imitation of his last night's effort.

Judge McKay moved, as an amendment, that the vote upon the committee's resolutions be taken "during this evening's session."

This was seconded and carried.

The secretary then read a letter. It was from N. L. Ellason, who wrote from Moroni, Utah, stating that the "Liberals" of that place wished him to state that they were opposed to the dissolution of the "Liberal" party, and that they would vote as a unit for any such "Liberal" whom the party felt pleased to nominate.

C. E. Mansen, of Mapleton, Utah County, devoted a few moments to a general abuse of the "Mormon" people. His remarks were utterly devoid of sense of argument.

Mr. Coombs, of Brigham City, said the "Liberals" of Box Elder County were of opinion that the time had not come to divide on party lines. They thought it desirable to put a candidate in the field for Congress this fall. He regretted the secession which had taken place from the "Liberal" ranks, but that was their own lookout. They ought not to be Tuscaroras of "Liberal"-Democrats, but Simon pure "Liberals" and stay by them until the entire question is settled. The speaker said he intended to hunt with the "Liberal" party as long as there was one.

Mr. Alexander, of Salt Lake, rose to speak, but gave way to Cols. Ferry (Park City), who moved that the motion made yesterday by Mr. Cohen (Park City) to the effect that a committee of seven be appointed by the chair to prepare an address at the close of the conference setting forth the sentiments of the conference to the people of this Territory, be now taken from the table, the same having been laid thereon last night, on a motion to reconsider.

Col. Ferry's proposition was seconded, and Judge Powers having announced himself a variety of [illegible] in the subjects, it was adopted.

In reply to a question, the chairman said the report of the committee would not be presented until the next regular convention.

Mr. Edwards moved that the same committee appointed yesterday be now reappointed.

But Judge Goodwin, one of the members, it was announced, wished to withdraw, and after several names had been mentioned as a substitute, ex-Policeman Green moved that "only real Americans be placed on guard." This indecent remark was speedily cried down.

A. E. Emery, of Summit county moved as an amendment that the Territorial "Liberal" committee formulate the address and resolutions without reference to any other committee. He, for one, had every confidence in that body's ability, integrity, and good judgment.

Mr. Edwards rose and wished to speak.

Judge Powers—Keep to the question, then. We are now on a side track and we want to get on the main track again.

Mr. Edwards—Let us act like Liberals. Never let us choke off any man from expressing his sentiments.

The Chairman—The gentleman is not talking to the question. No one has endeavored to choke anybody off.

Mr. Edwards hoped Mr. Emery's proposition would be defeated.

The Chairman assured the meeting that the committee had to have to have their already onerous burdens added to. They would prefer to have this duty given to some independent committee.

Mr. McLaughlin favored Mr. Emery's motion and hoped it would prevail.

Mr. Alexander moved, as another amendment, that the name of Judge Bowman be added to the Territorial Central Committee, but it was ruled out of order by the chairman.

Judge Goodwin withdrew and Mr. Emery's proposition ought to carry.

Mr. Emery's substitute was put and carried.

The "four propositions" were then returned to.

Mr. Phil. Corcoran went upon the platform, but Edwards objected to that gentleman having the floor on the ground that he was "not a 'Liberal.'"

The Chairman called up Mr. Corcoran to state his position and he should be heard.

Mr. Corcoran said he had been a loyal and uncompromising "Liberal" from the time he first set foot in Utah up to the closing hours of the last legislature. He had ever stood by "Liberalism," ever ready to speak for it and to apologize for its mistakes and shortcomings. Outside of those who were elected to office by "Liberal" votes, outside of those who desired to be re-elected next fall, he believed he was just as good a "Liberal"—he preferred to say as good an American—as the next man. He felt he had a right to be here and to be heard.

The Chairman—Yes, certainly, if you think you can aid the committee in the proposition under discussion.

Cries of "Hear him!" "Give him a chance!"

The Chairman—Proceed.

Mr. Corcoran—The legality of the members of the last legislature—

The Chairman (bringing down his gavel)—The gentleman will confine himself to the four propositions under discussion. He will discuss them or take his seat. (Cheers.)

Voices—"Give him a chance."

The Chairman—He will have a chance if he keeps to the point.

Mr. Corcoran—I wish to do it in my own language, and you shall hear the introduction I shall give the members of the "Liberal" party and this committee. The speaker scarcely [illegible] upon what he termed "the extermination which arises in the ranks of the workingmen" and he was pulled up in short order by the chairman, who again repeated the alternative.

Mr. Corcoran then retired from the platform amid the jeers of the audience.

Rev. Dr. Iliff moved that Mr. Corcoran be permitted to speak on the lines he had indicated, but the chairman promptly ruled him out of order. "We cannot discuss," he said with a severe frown, "all the evils committed by society and all the wrongs of government."

Dr. Iliff—I supposed we were here for free and open discussion, but if not, I am willing to take up my hat and say "Good-day."

The Chairman—The chair desires a full discussion of the questions, but not a general criticism of affairs.

Dr. Iliff—I think there should be some criticism at times if criticism is necessary.

Mr. Edwards—If he is not a "Liberal" he has no right to be here.

The Chairman—Yes he has, if he has once stood with the party, but he must confine his views to these four propositions.

The subject then dropped.

Mr. David Holmes, of Utah county, was of the opinion that the time had not arrived for the "Liberal" party to divide on party lines. He should vote for a candidate to Congress this fall.

On motion of Mr. Pettingill (Ogden) the conference adjourned till 8 p. m.

Worse Than Assassins.

According to Rogers, the poet, Vernon was the person who invented the story about the lady being pulverized in India by a sunstroke. When he was dining there with a Hindoo, one of his host's wives was suddenly reduced to ashes, upon which the Hindoo rang the bell and said to the attendant who answered it, "Bring fresh glasses and sweep up your mistress."—All the Year Round.

JUSTICE KESLER'S CONDUCT.

He Declares Hobein Guilty of Sunday Liquor Selling and Fines Him

THE INSIGNIFICANT SUM OF $15.

Arthur Williams, a Soul-Demented Petit Larcenist Convicted.—General Police News.

The principal case in Justice Kesler's court this morning was that of Louis Hobein, charged with selling liquor on Sunday. It occupied considerable time and several witnesses were examined. The evidence appeared to be overwhelming against the defendant and when the testimony had all been taken the court sank back upon the patent leather cushioned seat in the judicial chair, which, it is said, Mr. Kesler will soon have to vacate for Justice Gee or some other gentleman who has less time at his command, in which to visit resorts of revelry on Franklin Avenue. Then with a look of wisdom and dignity he announced sententiously: "After listening to the evidence in this case I have arrived at the conclusion that the defendant is guilty and will so hold. Stand up Mr. Hobein and receive your sentence."

Mr. Hobein obeyed and his honor continued in a studied tone: "This is your first offense and I will fine you $15."

At this juncture of the case a singular coincidence occurred that was almost exceedingly funny. It was this: As the court uttered the words "I will fine you $15" he looked fondly at a white satin "Liberal" badge which adorned his heaving bosom, and upon which were inscribed in scarlet letters the words "Liberalism" and "We have kept the faith." The defendant smiled and sat down while his attorney prepared an appeal bond which the court fixed at $250.

Assistant City Prosecuting Attorney Coad interrupted with—I should like to have something to say about the fixing of that bond; it is my right and I maintain that $250 is not enough in a case of this kind. I suggest that the bond be increased to $100.

Defendant's Attorney — But the Court has already settled that point.

Mr. Coad—It makes no difference.

The Court—The bond will be increased to $300.

A LITTLE TILT.

During the examination of one of the witnesses, Mr. Coad propounded a question to which W. C. Hall, the defendant's attorney, objected by saying "I object to pettifogging."

Mr. Coad (to the Court)—I object to any such allusion from the young man. I want him to observe the rules of professional courtesy.

Mr. Hall—Well, I—

Mr. Coad—You keep quiet or I will ask the court to hold you down, and if he does not, I will do it myself.

The young man here subsided.

OTHER CASES.

J. N. Ledger and William Husler, a couple of alleged trespassers were discharged.

Arthur Williams, the soul-demented individual who imagines that he is the possessor of notable [illegible] of notary, plead guilty to stealing a valise and was sent to the city jail for twenty days.

M. I. Drug Dept. [illegible]

They Beat the Record.

The Rio Grande Western train, which left Salt Lake Sunday morning at 9:00 a.m. arrived at Denver at 7:30 a.m. Monday morning, thus making the run between Salt Lake and Denver in 22 hours and 30 minutes, surpassing all previous records of any regular train between these two cities.

The Rio Grande Western people claim they can make this time with ease, comfort and safety, and were it any advantage to get passengers into Denver at an earlier hour, they could arrange their schedule to do so. Their efforts for improving the service between Utah and the Colorado metropolis should be encouraged by all classes of travelers.

The Record Breaker.

Only 23 hours 25 minutes to Denver.
31 hours to Missouri River.
[illegible] hours 30 minutes to Chicago via the UNION PACIFIC.
This is faster time than is made by any competing line.
Ticket office, 201 Main Street.
