WAR IMMINENT.

Renewal of Hostilities in Eastern Asia.

FORMOSA IN REBELLION.

Japanese and French Warships Cleared for Action.

RUSSIAN INTERVENTION FEARED.

Startling Rumors Cabled to a London Paper by its Correspondent in Shanghai.

LONDON, May 29.—A special dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from its correspondent at Shanghai says a renewal of hostilities is imminent. The country of Formosa is said to have rebelled against the government of Japan. Japanese ships are reported ready for action. The French ships at Tamsui, Formosa, are also said to have been prepared for action. In spite of Russian intervention, the terms of the peace treaty are current at Shanghai and orders have been ordered to Tientsin with provisions in view of the probability of Russian hostility.

THE DERBY.

Lord Rosebery's Second Time Wins the Prize.

EPSOM DOWNS, May 29.—Sir Visto won the Derby. There were fifteen entries. Sir Visto is owned by Lord Rosebery.

Sir Visto, ridden by Sloan, was second, while Mr. Cannon's Galtee, ridden by Cannon, was second, and J. Dunlap's Maple's Kirk Gate, ridden by Bradford, was third.

Wheat Excited and Irregular.

CHICAGO, May 29.—July wheat, which closed at 64¾ yesterday, opened this morning unchanged at 65¼, today being the very high mark of the year, however. It quickly took a slump and sold down to 64¾, but quickly rallied to 65¼ profiles, and at 9:45 touched 65¾, falling to 65¼ when the first fifteen minutes to trading.

It was almost entirely a weather market. Reports from Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Indiana and Illinois, pointed to intensified form the studies of morning damage from the hot, dry winds. Even California came in for its share in the shape of a report that the wheat of San Joaquin valley had been damaged 30 per cent by heat. Private cables indicated lower to higher.

After the rally to 65¼ mentioned above, the fact that the weather bureau publication contained not quite enough in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Missouri by twelve, caused a heavy selling movement and the price fell, not stopping until it was touched, with somewhat that it would go lower, though the predictions of heat in Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana caused a check the slump, which was beginning to look dangerous. It is thought by some that Armour was concerned in the run down here.

Talk in Railroad Circles.

OMAHA, May 29.—It is the talk in railroad circles that the alliance of the Northern Pacific with the Great Northern is likely to bring about changes in the traffic contract with the Burlington and it may be necessary for the Burlington and Missouri River to protect its western interests by making the Northern Pacific transfer line of Billings. The Burlington realizes the importance of the line between Billings and Puget Sound, and it is reported that surveys are going in the field, running a line from Billings. Whether the surveyors point is Seattle is hard to determine.

Twenty-seven Years on Exile.

VILLE DE FRANCE, May 29.—General Louis de Maquet arrived in this town today. He was sentenced twenty years ago under banishment from France for taking part in the French insurrection. When Maquet, Rochefort and General Mellinet and others were shot at Cayenne in 1867, Maquet narrowly escaped a like fate by saving himself by bribing the chief of the penal colony of Los Angeles, in this city, thus being allowed to secure himself in a secret place, as he thought. He captured by the Spanish, but he was shot and the prisoner had released, but was then imprisoned instead. He is now 65 years of age, and is the grandson of Pierre Vial, who has long served in the Chamber of the Deputies of Grand Maquet.

Clags at Half-Mast.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 29.—The American Minister, United States consul-general, American ship and private residences of Americans in this capital have flags at half-mast and other national bunting over the death of President Cleveland at Washington. President Diaz, Foreign Minister Mariscal and other high officials express their sorrow at the taking off of one whose deeds have come to hold in high esteem.

SITTINGS ASSEMBLE.

Remarks of ex-Confederate Soldier in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Chicago is beginning to swarm with ex-Confederates and guests who are come to attend the initiation ceremonies of the Confederate monument tomorrow in Oakwood cemetery. Yesterday every train from the south brought one or more crowds of distinction, and more will come today and tomorrow.

For today the program of entertainment for the visitors was now a matter of a drive to Lincoln park for the afternoon and at a 'clock a card reception at the Palmer House for the purpose of affording the members of the sittings' committee an opportunity to become acquainted with the distinguished guests, representing both the North and South, who have come to take part in the memorial day exercises. At a clock tonight the banquet at the Chicago committee is to be given at Kinsley's.

The guests for tonight are to be Lieutenant General John B. Gordon, Lieutenant General James Longstreet, Major General John M. Palmer, Major General M. C. Butler, Major General John C. Breckinridge, Major General Fitzhugh Lee, Judge R. T. Terrell, Colonel Wade Hampton, Rev. Hinton W. Thomas, Lieutenant Stephen D. Lee, Major General Alfred Dearborn, Lieutenant General A. P. Stewart, Colonel Leslie Miles, Colonel John W. Daniel and Major General H. K. Douglas. Colonel L. Fitzsimmons will be toastmaster.

An invitation has been extended to George S. Boutwell to have the Cincinnati party send on to the exercises tomorrow. Mr. Boutwell has telegraphed to the arrangement committee that he will be present on the lake front early in morning, and it will be rising, as the guests leave the Palmer House to the meeting on their way to Oakwood cemetery. The meeting of the bell will be the signal for Dorsey B. Ross, Colonel Lucius Fairchild, Captain Boutwell, to be a salute in honor of the day and of the guests.

A request has been issued to all ex-Confederate soldiers to meet at the Randolph street station of the Illinois Central railroad promptly at a o'clock tomorrow, where a special train is to be ready to take they will be in waiting. Excursion tickets take the city will be too limited to nearly all of the railroads and passenger agents are now busy with special arrangements to take care of the crowd.

FOR WANT OF SUSTENANCE.

Three Hundred Souls Idle on the Brooklyn Docks.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 29.—Three hundred souls are now lying idle on the docks at Buffalo as the result of the low water in the canals of New York. The shipments of grain from the West are fully up to the average at this season, the usual rush being anticipated. Only last Saturday 70 out of this city alone had only three load boats, notwithstanding the very low water. Grain to the bushels, 14 for wheat and 7½ for corn. The accumulation given to the canal men of the enormous decline in business is that the railroads have agents in every corner of the country and by other facilities are able to keep cutting down the rates until it can be low enough to make it profitable for the canal to take it.

It is further said that 1,000 boats are now being put into use on wheat or five hundred barges were completed a few days ago. Altogether the old Erie canal, which originally perhaps made the Empire state what she is, is passing through a far from bright stage of its history.

The Parade Give In.

ST. LOUIS, May 29.—The Republic this morning announces that the marriage of Mr. T. H. Wickes Jr., and Miss Nana Nelson, of Kansas City, which had been postponed on account of the parade opposition, will be consummated at an early day. Mr. Wickes is son of T. H. Wickes, president of the Illinois Central Railway Company. Miss Nelson is one of the most beautiful of the city's many beautiful women.

The Ohio Convention.

SANDUSKY, OHIO, May 29.—Although it was midnight when the Republicans state convention in the state hall nominated Gen. Asa A. Bushnell, of Springfield, for governor, yet the delegates were up early, waiting for their favorites and for other nominations. They cheered Chairman Foraker heartily as he moved to hall. The cowbell was conspicuous as a sample. Lieutenant Charles Foster, chairman of the committee on resolutions, presented the platform, which was adopted without a dissenting voice. Judge Bushnell then made a speech, especially in the resolutions on McKinley and Foraker.

Gen. A. W. Jones, of Youngstown, was nominated for lieutenant governor by acclamation. Gen. Jones was, like Gen. Bushnell, a captain in the civil war. Both were on Governor Foraker's staff and are great friends of the ex-governor.

The Foraker men carried the whole state ticket by about the same majority as at last fall. The Foraker men also carried the state central committee. The most notable defeat today was that of Lieutenant Governor Kurtz for auditor. He has been chairman of the state executive committee for three years and is Governor McKinley's manager. This was the only defeat of a Foraker man. Kurtz was defeated by Dr. Guilbert, one of the most aggressive Foraker men in the state. Senator Sherman, Secretary Foster and other prominent Ohio men were present on the stage and saw the slaughter of the "mere clerks" by the Foraker men.

It is conceded that McKinley will be appointed the Ohio delegates to the next national convention. It is whispered the delegation will be more emphatic than the Ohio Republicans are being nearly ready, for we are stock as the Mormons had intended, but was then postponed instead. He is now 65 years of age, and is the grandson of Pierre Vial, who has long served in the Chamber of the Deputies of Grand Maquet.

IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

Solemn Ceremonies and Tributes of Respect to the Memory

OF THE LATE SECRETARY OF STATE

The Funeral Procession, Arrangements in the East Room and Floral Offerings.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Before a o'clock this morning the first tributes to the late Secretary Gresham began to arrive at the house in the Arlington, in which the remains of the secretary of state lay. Most of the floral pieces, however, were sent to the White House where the service was to be held.

Mrs. Gresham, broken in spirit, exhausted by long watching and overcome with grief, was in such a nervous state that her daughter and son prevailed upon her not to undertake the trying ordeal of attending the services at the White House. At 10 o'clock, however, the doors were at noon and the afternoon family left which with the dead.

For almost thirty minutes they remained taking a last leave. Meanwhile, without, preparations were being made for the military funeral.

At 2 o'clock, the hour for the form where the remains lay were opened and the family retired to the real apartments. Mrs. Gresham, in spite of her weakness, was carried down to the parlor and assisted into a chair by her daughter, Mrs. Andrews, who is one of Mrs. Gresham's Eighth Fairfax county, Virginia, and Mrs. Gresham's home, the President was a close friend. The President was a close friend. He loved Mr. Gresham and seemed the break was more sensitive than any other of the Cabinet officers. Two weeks ago, when Mr. Gresham was at his residence, the President was a few minutes with him. The President was accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland and Colonel Lamont. Mrs. Gresham was carried into the parlor on account of the weakness of the distinguished visitors arriving. At 2:30 President Cleveland arrived at the White House carriage, accompanied by Colonel Lamont, Colonel Fairchild, Colonel Wilson, Colonel Lamont, Colonel Fairchild, Colonel Wilson, Colonel Lamont, Colonel Fairchild, Colonel Wilson,
