LOCAL BRIEFS.

A shower of salt was one of the peculiar accompaniments of the light storm which swept over the northern part of the city last evening.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Salt Lake Medical Society last evening at the city and county building, the occasion being a lecture delivered by Dr. Plummer on Hip Joint Disease.

Last evening Judge Timoney gave his decision in the case of H. L. Dreyer, charged with shooting dice at a $5 in the gas mains. There was a question in the mind of the jury over the ownership of the gas mains. The defendant rendered was not guilty.

A little son of Christian Hanchi, who resides on Fourth West street near Third South, has been quite ill with scarlet fever, but is now well on the way to recovery. No other members of the family have been attacked by the disease. The father is at present on a mission in Scandinavia.

The funeral over the remains of Morris A. Tuckler, the 14-year-old boy who died on the train on Sunday, of appendicitis, while coming to this city for treatment, will take place from the residence of his father, 1 West Second South, at noon today. After repeated attempts to free itself the animal finally succeeded in breaking its tether, whereupon the teamster humanely produced a gun and terminated its sufferings.

Capt. Felix Brannigan, the assistant attorney general of the United States, came in from the West yesterday and is now at the Knutsford hotel. He has been in California where he has engaged in several government suits, and he says at his age he may come to Washington. Capt. Brannigan first came into prominence at the time of the Kuklux trials in Mississippi, he being at that time the attorney general of the State. He is accompanied on this trip by his wife, and after visiting the points of interest in the city they will start for the East.

Some time ago Gov. Wells received a communication from the managers of the Omaha Institute of Worcester, Massachusetts, offering a scholarship to Utah in the institution. The Governor referred the matter to the Ladies' Literary club as to who should be appointed. Yesterday the names of Miss Lucy Crawford of Kaysville and Miss Irene Whittaker of Provo were submitted to the Governor by Mrs. W. D. Dickson, acting for the Ladies' club. The Governor can not yet decide between the two ladies, both of whom are highly recommended.

There will be an extensive gathering at the main building of the University of Utah this evening. The occasion is the celebration of the removal of the University to the new site on the hill. An entertainment is to be given by the faculty and students of the University. The invited guests are the director, the members of the legislature and the board of regents. Speeches will be made by Gov. Wells, members of the Legislature and several of the students. An elaborate lunch will be served in one of the rooms while another room will be fitted up for dancing. Benson's orchestral music for the dances. A brass band will be in attendance. The students of the University are sparing no trouble to make the affair a success.

THE OLDEST YET.

Logan, Utah, Feb. 26, 1899.

Editor Deseret News:

The last one whose claim I have noted to being the oldest born in the Church is Wm. Miller son of Eleanor Miller. He was born in Bradford county, Town of Butty, Pa., June 9, 1822. I was born in the Church June 4, 1832, Lorain co., Ohio, the same place where I was born of Rosr and Pirne Harris.

Editor Deseret News:

Reading in the "News" of the 20th, I find two men claiming to be the oldest living who were born in the Church of "Latter-day" parents. Wm. Lazer Hilton, born Sept. 26, 1822, and Miller, both June 15, 1822.

My father and mother were Thomas and Sarah Hancock Crapdell. They were baptized into the Church in September, 1830. I was born the 25th day of July, 1831, in Chardon, Cuyahoga county, Ohio. JACOB CHANDALL.
