Discovery of the Skeleton of a Sheepherder in Colorado.

A FEMALE CHAMP IN MAN'S ATTIRE.

Discharged Convicts—Fatal Buggy Accident—Shipments of Fruit in England.

Anna Gunderson, wife of Joseph Gunderson, of Cripple Creek, Colo., committed suicide on Monday. She left a will, bequeathing several thousand dollars to relatives in Germany. She was a miner and is supposed to have $50,000 into away.

Lizzie Reynolds, a female tramp, dressed in masculine apparel, arrived here Saturday night. She came over in a Cheyenne in a box car and continued her journey west on the same train upon learning that policemen were plentiful in this city.

Mrs. J. Balk and her granddaughter were badly injured on County road near Carson, Nevada. The horse became ungovernable, upset the buggy and threw the occupants to the ground. Mrs. Balk received internal injuries which it is thought may prove fatal.

Parties living in Denver have purchased 7 acres in ex-Humphrey town, just above Cripple Creek, and will, says the Denver News, transform it into a miners concentrator. The site extends to both sides of Clear Creek and is counted one of the best in the district.

The sheriff of Hell county captured a black blanket Pulled at Battle on a warrant charging him with disposing of mortgaged property. The prisoner was placed in the corpse in three chairs for the night, and when the sheriff went to take his man in the morning he found he had flown, having given the guards the slip shifting his necktie.

Mark Ainslie was thrown from a buggy five miles from Neal, and severely injured, says the Aspen City World. When found the following day he was partially paralyzed. Hon. George Ainslie, his brother, who is here attending court, will receive word to telegram if there is a change for the worse. The doctor who is attending Mark hopes for his recovery.

The second special train of fruit for London left Sacramento on Sunday night. It consisted of ten cars, each loaded with twelve tons of California pears, peaches, pears, plums, nectarines and grapes. The train will connect with the steamship Berlin at New York, which has refrigerators. The third special will be forwarded from Sacramento on the 20th, and will connect with the fast-sailing steamship New York.

The supreme court of California has denied a new trial to C. E. A. Boyer, the embezzling treasurer of the Veterans' Home fund. Boyer's counsel presented a series of technicalities, which the court considered ingenious, but the points were unavailing. The object of the technicalities was to demonstrate that the money alleged to have been misapplied did not belong to the Veterans' Home, but to the United States, and that the state court had no jurisdiction.

Two more of the Cheyenne who were to jail here were discharged by Judge Riner yesterday says the Cheyenne sun. This leaves only three of the incendiarists here. Judge Riner told them when he sentenced their message that they must at once leave the city if they could not get employment. The men promised, and both left the city last evening on the east. The men have taken kindly to their imprisonment, and leave the city in a better and healthier condition than when they entered it.

Johnny Welch, an employe on the ranch of H. C. Foreman, at Colorado, went into the ranch house on Tuesday and made the startling statement that he had found a skeleton out on the hills three-quarters of a mile north of H. house ranch. Mr. Foreman proceeded to question the boy regarding the finding of the remains and finally seized his team and rode back to the spot with him. They went to a place three-quarters of a mile from the house and there, on the side of a mesa and partially buried in the sand, found the skeleton of what had once been a human being. I quite among some of the neighboring ranchmen elicited the fact that about eight or ten years ago a herder with a flock of sheep was caught in a heavy snow storm and many of the sheep died. The herder was never heard of again, and it is believed that he perished in the storm. Mr. Foreman notified the coroner, who took charge of the remains and arranged to see that they are decently buried.
