Joseph H. Wilson of Leavenworth, Kansas, is in the city for a few days.

W. E. Williams, a commercial man from Sparta, Wisconsin, is registered at the Templeton.

The signature of F. G. Woolmacy of Cincinnati, Ohio, is on the Templeton register.

Accidentally Hurt.

The many friends of Mrs. E. Howard of Big Cottonwood will regret to learn that she met with a serious mishap near that place, last Wednesday. In company with five others, she was driving along the public road, when the kingbolt broke, detaching a part of the running gear and letting the front portion of the vehicle fall suddenly to the ground. Mrs. Howard and three others hastily formed, starting the road with her face, which was very severely jarred and bruised. She also received a severe nervous shock by the fall. We are pleased to state that she is recovering.

Visiting the Mines.

The excursion to the Tintic mining region, organized by Mr. G. W. Williams, was a success so far as the management was concerned. The train left the U. P. depot, at 9.10 a. m., with about 250 persons aboard. It was understood that a visit would be made to the Lucky Boy mine, but for some reason or other the programme was omitted. The run from Lehi to Eureka occupied nearly four and a half hours. The time at Eureka was spent in visiting the various mines, mostly instructive, Superintendent Smith of the latter spent the whole afternoon benefiting a crowd of visitors to the Dalmatian mine. The return to Lehi was a hasten through the various departments of the surface works, showing how electric light and compressed air are generated and applied for practical purposes. Many who desired to see the underground workings could not be accommodated, as the last train had appeared upon the scene. That gentleman instructed Mr. Smith to extend every courtesy possible to the visitors, and his lessons, Mr. Sullivan, is not so guilty, in the evening was spent in showing the party the underground workings.

Home From Europe.

Elder C. E. Lyman, of Paroan, Tooele county, who left for a mission to Great Britain on October 8th, 1889, arrived in the city on Saturday.

Elder Lyman went first to the Birmingham conference, where he labored principally until August of this year, when he was transferred to the Sheffield conference, where he remained until removed to return home. He embarked on the 5th ult. on the steamship "Arcadia." There were several hundred Jewish refugees on board, who were wholly unprepared for the rigors of an ocean voyage. Most of them were crowded and all of them poor and remained a sad spectacle. One of their number died from exhaustion. A Scandinavian mother also died during the voyage, in having been in ill health since arrival in Europe.

Elder Lyman enjoyed good health and returns in excellent spirits. He was met by his home in Southern Utah on the 20th inst.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

The Howard-Everett Adultery Case on Trial Today.

In the case of the United States against John B. Howard and Elizabeth Everett, indicted for adultery, a jury was empanelled in Judge Zane's court this morning and the trial commenced. On the part of the State, Mr. Stephens prosecuted; Mr. Hamilton appeared for the defense.

Mr. Everett was the first witness. He testified that he had lived in Utah about three years; had lived alone in Salt Lake in April, 1891, having his wife Elizabeth in Ogden until September following. He stated that John B. Howard visited Mrs. Everett at Ogden several times during the period of her stay there, and that he himself saw Howard leave the house on one occasion. He stated further that on Mrs. Everett's first visit to Salt Lake she and their daughter came to live at their home.

Lewis Walker, who had a number of years of Foreclosure are made aware that some of the compromised to every crown during a bit of premature zeal, the proper ticketing of which is absolutely the sweeper's confusion.

BEFORE THE COMMISSIONER.

John Long Pays $50 for Running an Opium Joint.

John Long's opium den in Commercial street was raided on Saturday night by Deputy Marshals Cannon, Simpson, Caldwell and Newell. Two young men who gave their names as Jackson and Ford, also the proprietor and another Mongolian named Lee, were discovered and taken before Commissioner Merrill. Long was charged with keeping an unlawful place and the others for resorting to the premises to smoke opium. The entire party was liberated upon payment of $25 each to insure their appearance this morning.

At ten o'clock today the pale faced young man who had given the name of Jackson came up, and pleading guilty was fined $5 and costs, amounting to $15. This being the amount of his deposit, he was set at liberty.

His companion Ford did not appear, and $25 was declared forfeited.

Long was on hand to plead guilty. His fine was fixed at $50 and costs, he in default of the entire $55 amount was committed to the Marshal. Lee's case will be taken somewhat later.

They Want Fair Play.

The case against the four notorious French prostitutes, which has been postponed from time to time, in the police court, during the present month, was resumed up before Justice Gee, this afternoon.

The defendants are charged with keeping houses of ill fame. Judge Parsons has been retained as counsel for them. The case promises to be an interesting one, in the probable allegation that they have been discriminated against by the police department on account of their nationality. English and American women, they say, have been allowed to conduct their business without molestation, and allege that all they want is "fair play."

A Bad Case.

J. W. Wolff, the Pleasant Green school teacher, who was arrested by Captain Parvey, a few days ago, on a charge of committing a criminal assault on the person of a lady student, was on trial this afternoon before Justice Gee. The defendant was represented by Attorneys A. Criddle and A. Anderson. City Attorney Bleecker conducted the prosecution. All persons except the witnesses and those directly interested were excluded from the court room. The evidence was of such a character as to be entirely unfit for publication.

Amusements.

"The Dazzler" opens at the Salt Lake Theatre tonight for a season of three performances. It is interpreted by Kate Claxton, leading Caprice and Grant's brilliant array of comedians, a cast of as clever people as can be found in the profession. The engagement of Miss Claxton for this company is one of the most important theatrical events of the season. "The Dazzler" made one of the most pleasant impressions of the new season in Chicago last season, and seats the sleepy of metropolitan approval in the successful engagements at several of the principal New York theatres.

Prominent among the clever artists engaged to surround Miss Claxton may be mentioned the inimitable eccentric comedian Joseph Ott and the talented singer and dancer, Lena Marville. "The Dazzler" ought to let the capacity of the house.

"The Hustler" will be presented at the Salt Lake Theatre Thursday, Oct. 22, and the remainder of the week.

The airy, fairy Blanchine is described as a sylph-like creature, with dark eyes, features of a richly classic mould and hair as black as the wing of a raven. She is an accomplished Spanish dancer.

BUSINESS MEETING

By the Board of Directors of the D. S. and S. Society.

The Board of Directors of the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society held a meeting on Saturday night, President Lawrence presiding. The members present were Messrs. McDaniel, Haight, Eccles, Wells, Williams, Peters, Mason and Simons.

A number of unsolicited exhibition premium protests against the decisions of the judges, but after careful inquiry and consideration the judges were sustained in all their decisions.

The Ogden band was in a commodious office in which it called attention to the "unfair" decision of the judges in the contest with the First Brigade band. Believing in Moses McDaniel, Howe and Mason with instructions to report Saturday night, and adjourned.

On motion of Mr. Williams, $20 was appropriated to pay the society's share of the "Pioneer Day" to be given by the Park City mining district, for the largest and best mineral exhibit. The "Days" "Pioneer Spring," "Gardens," "La Plata" and "Uinta" mines were given special prizes.

Mr. A. J. Cleming was given a gold medal for the best mineral exhibit, and the Salt Lake Fuel Brick company a gold medal for the best pressed brick.

The awards of the premiums were ordered and continued. The action of the Utah Stock Breeders' Association, in connecting Mr. Mason to his manner of conducting the horse department, unanimously concurred by the board was a resolution introduced and passed complimentary Mr. Mason for his able, considerate and efficient services in that department.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved. A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Carey, the superintendent of the tennis department.

An appropriation of $200 was made to defray expenses of Secretary Wells' services.

The meeting then adjourned until Saturday evening next.

BOUND.

A premium of $10 was awarded to Sarah Gillette of this city, for the best essay by a girl under 15 years. It was entitled "Across South America, Under the Equator."

A prize of $15 was awarded to Miss Josephine Kelting of Provo, for the best essay on the "Best Method of Teaching Language and Composition in Elementary Schools."

"Are the Unitarians Infidels?"

Elder Powell Speaks.

The church in the Tabernacle had the above question answered yesterday. The preacher started out by eulogizing prominent infidels in history. Then he dealt that Unitarians were infidels. At that point I looked sharp for the connection between a denial of infidelity and a eulogy of infidels. The speaker next declared himself by his whole heart a Christian and he gloried in the cross of Christ. Then he denied the resurrection of Christ, and it added nothing to belief in immortality. He declared that the resurrection of Jesus was "a question of literature," and we did not know anything positively in regard to the New Testament. Doubt led to honest infidelity and a broader basis and a better proof than the resurrection of Jesus. Then, after quoting Emerson that he was an out-and-out, upanddown Christian, he broke about and declared that the fundamental fact of Christianity was of no account. It seems to me that preacher ought to try again. He closed by a somewhat unchristian reference to the future of the Theatre manager, by saying he had been warned and lighted and an appeal to him to leave the choir and come to meeting. LUTERNER.

The Chancery Case.

This afternoon, before Judge Loofbourow, master in Chancery, in the Church case, President George Q. Cannon was placed on the stand. After examination-in-chief, by Mr. F. S. Richards, he was submitted to cross-examination by the other side. The investigation was in progress when the News went to press.

Literary Notes.

Three cash prizes of $100, $100, and $50, respectively, have been offered by Public Opinion, the eclectic weekly of Washington and New York, for the best three essays of not more than 1000 words on the questions: "What, if any, changes in existing laws are necessary to secure an equitable distribution of the burden of taxation for the support of National, State and Municipal government?" These prize essay contests on current questions, as conducted by Public Opinion, have attracted general attention. The present contest promises to be fine.

Mrs. Gladstone has contracted to write a series of articles for The Ladies' Home Journal, of Philadelphia, especially intended for American women. The series will be called "Hints From a Statesman's Life," and in it the great English statesman's wife will tell the methods which she adopted in bringing her children up. Mrs. Gladstone is one of the most practical women in England, and her children have all become positive of eminence. Her articles for the Journal will have a peculiar interest to every mother in the land.
