CALLS A PAPER DOWN.

Disreputable Publication in the Evening Democrat and Denver Times.

MONTEZUMA, San Juan Co., Utah, October 22nd, 1896.

To the Editor:

I find in the Denver Times of October 13th, copied from the Durango Democrat, an article that is quite in keeping with the ignorance of some people. Bridger Jack was killed in Allen canyon, about 30 miles southwest of here, by Wade, as he is called. No doubt it was in part on account of the Hatch killing, as Wade maintains that the murderer ought to be executed, and Bridger Jack and the Hatch friends talk differently. Jack was the best known by those in the county of all the Piute Indians, as he traveled all over the country and only now and then came into this part. He was a skilful gamester and often had all he had. When broke he would steal more horses, often out of Duchesne and other places. When asked where he got them he would say his father or mother, uncle or aunt or some relative had died "leave heap cattleem all time, all right."

As to the wife question Bridger had three dead wives and now the fourth is left a widow. No Piute has more than one wife; but a squaw sites has more than one husband. They are very frentious and often a quarrel occurs. Several siblings have disappeared in the last five years. Divorce is a simple runaway and they are not genetally more than a month till they match again.

As to the self killing, though greatly exaggerated, the person have had just cause to complain, as you know they have done, but in vain; for it is a law, they kill all the best they want.

As to the prayer offered by Bridger Jack to Bishop Jones's name is simply a lie. No man ever had Bishop Jones to correct on his devotion to Deity or any Latter-day Saints in this land. The Indians frequently eat at our houses, besides begging from door to door. The Indians on the south of a difference of character between the Utes and Mormon treatment that never creates an undue jealousy between them. Who tells about?

The Denver Times has quite a patronage in this land and ought to be ashamed to copy such tender lies. The Durango Democrat we do not look upon as a decent paper, and expect nothing better. Our mission is, go in earth and good will to man. We preach against sinfulness in all its various forms; against lying, swearing, drunkenness, and in favor of respect for our government, its laws and its officials, some of which unfortunately are lower than the Indians themselves.

We find it quite a task to convert the Indians. I do not say better than my part to be, it is no fault of the Ute tribe. It is known of whisky peddlers and the lower class of Durango. Durango has never experienced civilization, but that is not the kind that makes it so the Bridger Jack killing story and the attempt of his assassination with the Mormons.

G. L. CHAMBERLIN,
Indian Commissioner for twenty years.

P. S.—Owing to the article accompanied, which, in a newspaper sense, is tender even to the Utes in with Hatch by an attempt to separate to make a showing to his friends.

The murder of "Bridger Jack," the noted Piute who has made of the Blue mountains nearly in Utah for years, is supposed to have been the work of the Hatch outfit, one of whom is now under sentence of death for murdering John Dolan on Chicken creek about a year ago, says the Durango Democrat. The sentence was commuted during the last week in September on the "Old Ute Chief" Jack Hatt ranch in San Juan county, Utah. Witnesses leading up to the killing say that Jack and another Indian had quarreled in Montezuma. Jack, after from his cutting as a slasher, had a "bunch" that he was a big medicine man" and it proceeding on "Wash" falsely succeeded in killing a girl of 11 and a boy of 17 years of age in a week. The Indians who were present of course knew all the particulars, but deny all knowledge of a character beside to fasten the crime upon any one of their number. From the Navajos say nothing to the Utes will remain secret for concerning the murders they engaged in during the past two years. These were have been bringing in the other six corpses that the Hatch outfit are the guilty ones, but to establish the guilt in a manner satisfactory to the Utes.

The murderous Indian was among the brightest and handsomest of the south erated Utes, but long and continued misconduct among the Utes had led to him a name for wrong that rolled away Indian with was meant to be attractive square, if there is such a thing, and it is rather phenomenal that he was not persecuted or carved long ago. Aside from Jack's handsome physique, he was exceptionally cunning and quite a favorite with the Mormons who inhabit Monticello and other settlements of San Juan county, Utah. He was very generally a welcome guest and long association with them had enabled him to study their weak points and profit by catering to their motives. In early days the cowboys frequently raided the Mormon herds and upon such occasions the raiders would indulge in language more terrible than polite. On one occasion after a raid, it was said, forty calves on the White Mesa, Jack dropped in to see Bishop Jones of Monticello about some time, his favorite time for visiting. The Bishop, however, was thinking only of the wrongs done and seeking an orator worthy of the occasion, as much as that he overtocked the customary thanks, and Jack backed the overnight, as Mormons are invariably means blessings before each meal, gets his chance an extra kick, circled his throat, invoked his best and incorporating the Bishop's flow of words, said:

——, Bishop putty mad now; he heap get you kick, all time get you kick; no get time hungry, Bishop all time good, heap good, you say ——, you, amen.

The Indians who are not strictly in accord with the Book of Mormon, stroke the Bishop as equaling the occasion, and Jack was ever welcome and a welcome guest. Peace to his dust.

Political Loyal P.

Party loyalty is all right, but it is important that right ideas and principles should prevail. Under some circumstances the man who repudiates the platform and the candidates that his party has put forth is showing a higher loyalty to his party than the man who always votes the straight ticket. Parties, like individuals, can go astray, and they need strong, conscientious men to give them such a stinging rebuke as will turn them back into the paths of right.—Rev. J. L. Weber, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Refreshing Nourishing Satisfying

CHINCON PLUTS FOOD

Is the Best for Children or Adults.

Nourishes strong, quiet and built well make good blood, aid the digestive and delivery of the body is not disturbed with.

The bread when first made goes into the stomach and is of a bright red color.

After it has been most come in contact the body, it is carried into the veins and is then of a dark red or purple color. Blood carries the elements to nourish and build up the body, such as iron, soda, lime, albumen, etc., etc.

When the power of the stomach and the bowels are restored by lack or vitality or by putting coffee and tea into the stomach the process which nature goes through with to change the food into rich, red blood are seriously interfered with.

If a man could see what a "red blood" he put over his hard working friend, the stomach, by putting in coffee, whiskey or tobacco, where it was formerly taking care to do its work well, he would never repeat the outrage and injustice. It is the striking of a friend a vicious blow when he is driving away for you with might and main. Don't do it. Our food more respect for himself when he sick. He must and prepare food in a manner to strengthen and spoil the beneficial work being done for him in the human body. No food or no tea and coffee is equal to the first of being transgressed.

If the Wants a pungent cayenne, hot drink for breakfast, lunch or supper, it can be had in Pluts, in the health drinks. It is made wholly of grains by the Postum Cereal Company, Limited, of Battle Creek, Mich. It can be truly said, "It makes not blood." If it was the deep seal brown color of Mocha, it would be the rich golden brown of Java, and has no stimulating qualities that make a man thankful that someone has at last made a combination of the grains that gives such a delicious beverage that one can really leave off the coffee when has been darling more than one liver to think of.

Medicines are poor cruisers. The only safety is to use food and drink that the Creator intended for man, so when this is done the diseases are sick again gradually disappear.

Common sense is quite uncommon enough with those who give themselves a shaking now and then and not plenty of what they are doing. If a person knows coffee don't suit him, let him stick to it until it is so, then such people thoroughly appreciate Postum. Grocers and druggists have in large cases and the steady use of those who once try it, is evidence of its lasting ways.

"Just as good" as Postum Cereal are words used to defraud the public.
