ALL TALK REPEAL.

Silver Democrats Decide to Cease Their Long Fight.

THE SITUATION CHANGES TODAY.

President Cleveland and the Repealers Likely to Carry the Day Triumphant.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 24.—At 12:30 Senator Harris, acting for the silver Democrats, informed the silver Republicans that the Democrats had concluded, after taking all the circumstances into consideration, that instead of trying to drag the fight against repeal and silver it is time to come to a vote. If this decision is not reconsidered—and it does not seem at all probable that it will be—the end of the present fight will soon be reached and the result will be in accordance with the President's wishes, and those of the repeal forces of the country.

The silver Republicans will not undertake to prolong the fight beyond the time necessary to complete their speeches and will after that permit the voting to begin on the amendments to the bill. It is generally believed that this will take place before the end of the week.

The Republican silver senators say their course will depend entirely on the Democratic silver senators. They have said from the beginning whenever the Democrats should refuse to aid them in obstructive measures they would allow the voting to begin.

There was a conference during the session of some of the repeal leaders at the House, but the precise nature of it could not be ascertained.

Later—The report that the silver Democrats in the Senate had decided against a further effort to prolong the fight over the repeal bill is correct beyond question. The policy was decided upon in a conference of silver Democrats who have recently been in Washington, but who felt inclined yesterday to enter upon a campaign of that character in opposition to the bill. Cockrell, Vest, Harris and Walthall were among those present. It is understood that in the discussion of the question at some length and decided manifest as the silver men could hope for very little in the way of a compromise if they should succeed in defeating the bill, it was better to submit without any further heated discussion and allow the question to go to the country. It is believed now that it may be possible to begin voting upon the amendments by Thursday, as it seems probable that the speech making will be concluded by tomorrow evening. There are a great many amendments and it is possible there will be more or less debate under the five-minute rule. It is generally agreed, however, that a vote on the bill itself can be reached by the close of the week.

Dubois of Idaho, who took a leading part yesterday in arguing for the continuation of the fight against unconditional repeal, said this afternoon that a vote would come probably within a week, as there would be no opposition or attempt at filibustering.

"The speeches which have been begun will be finished," said Dubois, "and such other speeches as senators may desire to deliver."

It is understood that Teller has something to say and Stewart and Jones desire to conclude their work.

Allen also desires to make some further remarks. Yesterday the leaders on the Democratic side said they would stand by as if we would continue the fight. Harris and others declared that it was their determination to prevent a vote from being taken, even if methods not yet invented should be used. With this understanding we declared our intention of keeping up the fight. This morning Harris gave the same assurance, but an hour later he came to me and said that he felt it his duty after the assurance he had given, that he should inform me that he would not continue the fight as suggested, but would yield to the pressure of the majority on the Democratic side. He said he spoke for the silver men on that side. I told him if we could no longer depend upon the friends of silver on the Democratic side we could no longer keep up the contest and that a vote might be taken after the debate had closed, but that there would be no more obstruction. The silver men will offer amendments and debate them and will probably vote for all amendments which promise anything for silver. It is impossible to say when the vote will be taken, but I should think within a week."

WALL STREET HEARS THE NEWS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The news of the surrender of the silver men in the senate was received in Wall street about 2 o'clock. It found the market with a strong upward tendency, which became a rush, resulting in decided advances.

Appointments Today.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—One or two diplomatic appointments were decided upon at today's cabinet meeting and a number of routine matters connected with the various departments were considered, but the greatest amount of time and attention was bestowed upon the all-absorbing topic of silver and the situation in the senate.

Cold in the Northwest.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 24.—The cold wave which struck this section last night extended west to the Dakota and Montana boundary, where the mercury registered 14. At Bismarck it was 17, East of here it ran up to freezing point. A snow fall of one inch is reported in Dakota and northern Minnesota. Today the weather is clear and cool.

WHOSE BRAINS?

The Hodgeses Claim a Charred and Shapeless Corpse.

DAVIS CREEK, Mich., Oct. 24.—Dr. Sweetland of Edwardsburg, Mich., has identified one of the ladies from the Grand Trunk wreck as that of his sister Mrs. Evaline Eldrich, and the body was shipped to that place last night.

New J. D. West of Catskill, N. Y., telegraphs that the body is that of his wife. Both have identified the body by the clothing and both are equally positive. The remains will be brought back here. It is thought legal proceedings to get possession of it may be necessary.

Street Car Men Strike.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 24.—A strike on all the street car lines of the city was precipitated without warning this morning as a result of the discharge of two employes. Police were sent to the car barns to preserve order and many old employes intended to work after two hours' lay-off, though lines are still unmanned.

S. L. and S. F. Strikers.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 24.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the St. Louis and San Francisco road today re-elected the old board of directors, except Robert Harris in place of John Stanard, deceased. At a meeting in New York later the officers will be elected.

Employes Demand Pay.

MONROE, Mich., Oct. 24.—At a meeting of the employes of the St. Louis & San Francisco road held last night our wants were present. A resolution was adopted demanding that two months' pay due them be paid not later than Nov. 15. Committees were appointed to present the resolution to the management and arrange for a full representative meeting of all the employes of the system at Monroe next Monday.

Blacks and Whites Fight.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Oct. 24.—News has just been received here from Kowalpot, twenty miles above here, of the fighting on Tuesday night of two negro log thieves by a mob composed of both blacks and whites.

Railroad Employes.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Vice President Robinson of the Santa Fe railroad says he knows of no threatened trouble among the company's employes and that the men will be paid for September on November 5th. The Santa Fe employes in Chicago are now being paid and will not strike.

In a Fit of Jealousy.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—In a fit of jealousy this morning Frank Hilbert fatally shot his fiance, Pauline Holman, and then committed to the Salvation Barracks, in which both were employed.

A Way-Up Marriage.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—James D. Hutchinson and Lottie Kicker, a young couple from Washington, Ohio, were married this afternoon over 250 feet in the air, at the top of the Ferris wheel, on the World's Fair grounds.

Woman Suffrage Unconstitutional.

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 24.—The act of the last legislature permitting women to vote at municipal elections was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court this morning.

The Fair Today.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—The weather was bright and beautiful but a cutting wind from the north made heavy overcoats very comfortable for people out doors. The low temperature did not seem to damage the ardor of the visitors taking advantage of the closing days of the Fair.

More Bankers Arrested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—President Joe F. Bond, of the Madison Square bank, and Director Simon Ottenberg were arrested this morning under charge of mismanagement, in addition to those arrested yesterday.

They were taken to the district attorney's office where later came Andrew L. Soulard, Chester Thompson and Frederick Adamson, the director Kirkbride is sick in bed and Director Chas. E. Salmer, in Passaic, N. J., refused to return without a requisition. The office presented an animated appearance, being filled with bankers, brokers and lawyers, who hurried about and held whisper conversations. Bail bonds were prepared and there seemed to be no scarcity of bondsmen.

Thirteen Lives Lost.

EFFINGHAM, Ills., Oct. 24.—A passenger train on the Indiana, Ills., and Southern railroad was derailed this morning. Thirteen passengers were seriously injured.

The rear coach was derailed and went over an embankment, turning twice over. All of the thirteen passengers in it were more or less seriously hurt. Benjamin Jewell of this county was fatally injured. The injured are being cared for here.

The Silver Purchases.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Not one of the treasury department counter offers to purchase silver at 78.75 cents per ounce was accepted by the persons who offered it for sale to the treasury department yesterday. Offers aggregating 233,000 ounces were received at 78.75 to 78.79 per ounce. The only one assigned at the department for the non-acceptance of the counter offers is that the owners are holding off with a view of getting better prices than the department offers. Silver was offered in the form of a penny bronze in Boston today according to advices received at the department.

IN CONGRESS.

Stewart Resumes His Argument Against Repeal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—In the senate Stewart resumed his argument against the repeal bill.

Stewart in answer to the charge that those who opposed the bill were thwarting the will of the majority declared that such was the case. The Sherman silver act was not the silver men's administration. It was filibustering against allowing the will of the majority to be expressed. They had used the most corrupt, the most aggressive, the most outrageous means, secret at first, public now, to evade the majority. Let the administration side of the house not let the majority express itself in the senate, let free and silver would have nearly two to one.

Kyle, Populist, S. D., moved that when the Senate adjourns it be to meet at noon tomorrow. Lost—yeas 11, nays 42.

Stewart then resumed the argument of the without concluding, yielded to Senator Jones, Nev., who reminded his colleagues that the time for the Senate to take a recess till 11 o'clock tomorrow.

Railroads and Immigration.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—General Passenger Agent Lomax, of the Union Pacific, was seen this morning regarding the immigration situation. He said he thinks it is going to be the source of the profitable time. A month ago Chairman Caldwell of the Western Passenger association took up the matter and should a week ago a special committee, composed of Walk, Kurtz and Talmadge, be appointed to investigate the matter. While what the action of the meeting will be is a matter of speculation, it is thought there will be some kind of a meeting on Saturday. This week in Omaha, Kansas City, Council Bluffs, which time I have heard nothing. The Santa Fe is all right in its position regarding the immigration business, but as long as the Canadian Pacific, Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific do remain out of the general, which is the case of the Union Pacific, there can be no agreement. When the Agreement is presented to me with all the roads interested on it, the Union Pacific will join the agreement, and return.

Wonderland.

All praise is due to the management of this resort, for providing amusement for the public at a rate of admission commensurate with the times. A stock company of more than ordinary capabilities are presenting interesting dramas in the desolation. In the early week all times something of interest is on exhibition, while on Sundays some specially attractive features are presented in the form of business appear. Visitors to Wonderland are assured of a pleasant time and full value for their money.

A special feature for the week commencing Thursday, Oct. 26th, will be an Egyptian village, direct from the Arizona region.

Will Soon Be Ready.

The Utah commission held a session this morning, and while various matters were discussed in a general way no definite action was taken on anything. The list of election judges will be completed in a day or so by the appointments for Salt Lake, Utah and Weber counties.

A Visitor in Salt Lake.

Hon. James Melville, of Fillmore, Millard county, is on a visit to Salt Lake today, and made a friendly call upon Territorial Secretary Roberts at the executive office this afternoon. He says that politics is just now the all-prevailing topic in the district from which he hails.

Notary Public.

Noah J. Shockell, of this city, was today commissioned a notary public by Governor West for Salt Lake county.

SIX MONTHS' IMPRISONMENT.

Kelsey and Rich Will Put in That Time for Stealing Old Machinery.

In Judge Zane's court this afternoon Thomas Kelsey and Charles Rich, who some time ago plead not guilty to a charge of larceny, withdrew their former plea and said guilty. They were sentenced to six months' imprisonment each in the county jail. The offense for which the defendants were indicted consisted of stealing many pieces of old machinery from some disused premises near the Warm Springs.

Warrants of Arrest.

Justice of the Peace Lochrie this morning issued two warrants of arrest. The first was against a Mrs. Woodmansee, who resides between Second and Third East, below Tenth South. The complainant is Rufus H. Smith, who charges Mrs. Woodmansee with malicious mischief, alleging that she cut loose a horse belonging to him and turned the animal out of the field.

J. D. Cleveland is the name of the second person "wanted." The complaint was sworn out by Mullett & Co., the clothiers, who accuse Cleveland of obtaining goods by false pretenses from their establishment.

Business Items.

G. H. Knowles and F. W. Ross who have been engaged in the real estate business in this city, the former for himself and the latter in connection with the firm of Horsbeck & Ross, have dissolved their interests, and will conduct their business hereafter under the title of the Utah Real Estate, Loan and Business Exchange. The partnership is in effect today, and to their former real estate and loan business the department of an employment bureau is added. The latter self-division is to be in charge of Mrs. M. Olson, and the renting department under control of Mr. Wm. Drake. The fact that the members of the firm are old time residents of this city, Mr. Knowles having been engaged in business here for more than forty years and Mr. Ross being a native of Salt Lake, is an assurance of responsibility to business that does not accompany transients.

The usual fall business of Utah has in times past been quite a feature in the market, but this season there has been less done in this line. Still, though the prices offered are higher than for some years.

Francis Bailey, general manager of the Bi-metallic Smelting company, Leadville, Colo., has been examining copper mines in this vicinity during the past few days and expresses himself as surprised at the quantity of ore that is developed. Mr. Bailey is at the Knutsford.

Under the circumstances, I hope the committee will accept my decline. Had other engagements not intervened, there has never be a time when I would more cheerfully accept any nomination. POLITICAL HOME RUN.

A special invitation is extended to the ladies to attend the Citizens' grand rally in the Theater tomorrow night.

The Republicans of the Eighth representative district will hold a rally at Sandy tonight.

It is said that Master Campbell, the counsel prodigy, will strike and greatly surprise the audience at the Theater on Wednesday night.

There is much speculation on the part of Democratic politicians as to who will be selected by the county committee to succeed Judge Cherry, who declined to run as a candidate for representative to the Territorial Legislature.

James Devine, the vigorous young Republican war horse, is confined to his home with a severe attack of illness, caused by over work and anxiety. His friends expect, however, that he will be at his post again within a few days.

The Democrats will commence their legislative campaign in earnest tomorrow night in nearly all of the counties of the Territory. The territorial committee has received numerous requests for speakers from all of the outlying districts. These will be supplied at once.

Union precinct, Salt Lake county, is to be the scene of a Republican rally on Thursday evening, when the speakers will endeavor to convince the citizens that the Republican candidate for the Legislature is the one for whom they should vote on November 7.

County Registrar Walden last night addressed a letter to the Utah Commission in reference to the appointment of election judges. Today the commissioners wrote Mr. Walden that both the commission and Mr. Walden declined to state the contents in detail.

The Republican rally in the Farmers ward school house last night was a numerously attended and enthusiastic one. The speakers were S. W. Sears, Alma Eldredge and George M. Cannon. Protection and home industries were the principal topics of discussion. C. J. O. Irwin acted as chairman of the meeting. The same speakers will be heard at Sandy tonight and are assured a large audience.

The citizens' executive campaign committee are particularly anxious that voters shall inspect the polling lists hung up at the different polling places. In the first place they will thereby ascertain if their own names are on the rolls and secondly they will be able to detect the names of persons who have no right to vote at all. The lists can be found at the Exposition building, Kennedy's Union Market street, Sixteenth ward schoolhouse, Northwestern school building on 13 street, Richards hall, corner of Second East and Second South streets.

AN $18,000 DAMAGE SUIT.

In Judge Zane's court, late on Monday afternoon, the case of the Wasatch Stock company vs the Union Pacific Railroad Co. came up for trial before a jury. It is a damage suit, involving the sum of $18,000.

On the part of the plaintiff it is claimed that on February 25, 1890, at Gibelton, Nebraska, he, in the name of F. J. Fallon delivered to the defendants for transportation to Granger, Wyoming, 23,500 pounds of corn to be used for the feeding of certain stock—cattle, horses and sheep, and that the same was delayed in transportation and did not arrive at its destination until March 10. In the meantime 3,300 head of the sheep, 50 head of cattle and 15 horses had died from starvation. For a second cause of action plaintiff alleges that he shipped on March a large quantity of cattle feed, which was also unreasonably delayed in transit, whereby damages are claimed in the sum named, computed at $4 a head for the 3300 sheep, $4 a head for the 50 cattle, $100; $100 a head for the 15 horses, $1500; a total sum of $18,000, together with interest.

The defendants deny that the feed was an unreasonable time in transit, repudiate all liability and aver that it was the duty of the owner of the stock to provide feed for the animals from other sources rather than allow them to die of starvation.

Attorney W. C. Hall appears for the plaintiff, and Attorneys P. L. Williams and D. R. Hempstead for the defendants.

The hearing has occupied all the time again today.

COURT NOTES.

L. C. Pender has obtained a divorce from his wife, Hannah Pender, in the Third district court, on the ground of desertion.

James Gerstach, the contempt of court man, was to have had a hearing before Justice Lochrie this morning, but the case went over till 4 p. m.

It is not likely that the charges against Vito Erciow, the Salt Lake anarchist, will be pushed, as it now appears he is making every possible effort to square up with his indignant creditors.

The friends of Bert Havens are also trying to square up his case, by making good the forged checks.

A Balky Horse.

A balky horse, belonging to Salzman and Goldberg, attracted a large crowd on First South street this morning. The animal got across the City railroad track and the combined efforts of about fifty men failed to make the animal budge one inch. Finally two policemen appeared on the scene, but their efforts were of little or no avail. All kinds of suggestions were offered, such as, "put him in the cart and pull him," "get the Black Maria," and similar ruses, which made the scene an extremely humorous one. At last exhaustion the horse was still there, with the delivery man perched upon the seat.

THRASHED BY A WOMAN.

Mrs. Morris Administers a Sound Drubbing to a Young Real Estate Broker.

When Arthur H. Patey, the young English real estate broker, was discharged from the city jail this forenoon and so he left the prison yard by way of a tack alley leading into State street he was violently set upon by Mrs. Morris, whose daughter he had been accused of seducing. Mrs. Morris emerged from a second-hand store just as Patey crossed the sidewalk. She was armed with a stout stick, to which was securely fastened a hammer of variable size and there was need on the part of the suspected destroyer of her child's virtue until she was exhausted.

Patey finally so aped by running down the street and turning the corner. The effort was an exciting one and was witnessed by a crowd of men who encouraged the woman to take out her revenge on the fellow.
