Commission Signed—Filibuster Seized—Supreme Court Decision—President Grant on Cuba—He will not forget Utah in his Message.

WASHINGTON, 17.—The President has signed the commission of Wm. Gibson, postmaster at Austin, Nevada.

The British war steamer Niobe sailed from Jamaica for Cuba on the evening of the 6th. The American filibustering steamer General Sherman entered the harbor of Aspinwall on the 2d inst., under the name of Gen Ariza, and was at once seized by Captain Cushing, of the U. S. steamer Wyoming, for using illegal ship papers and sailing under the flag of Honduras while it is claimed she is an American vessel. Her case will be decided by the U. S. Courts.

In the case of Catherine Brown, colored, against the Washington, Alexandria and Georgetown R. R. Co., to recover damages for personal injuries received on being put off the ladies' car, the Supreme Court to-day, affirmed the judgment for the plaintiff, holding that the court below had jurisdiction; and that the action was properly sustained against the company; this does not decide the general question of the right of the railroad companies to make regulations separating the races in their cars, in the absence of charter provisions prohibiting them.

The President, to-day, in conversation relative to Cuban matters said the government had thus far acted on such facts as had reached it, and was now engaged in collecting, from all available sources, further information concerning the capture of the Virginius, and the particulars attending the revolting executions. It was desirable that all information should be of such a character as to leave no doubt whatever as to its reliability. The propriety of this course was too evident to require explanation, the government being careful in what it is doing and may hereafter do, and intends to work upon facts and not upon assumptions, and that we may be prepared to maintain our position. The President said he had changed none of the views heretofore expressed by him concerning events in Cuba, but had more than ever been confirmed in them by recent occurrences. He shared with the public in their denunciation of the capture on the high seas of vessels sailing with regular clearances under the U. S. flag, and the startling events which so quickly followed, Spain never having considered the Island of Cuba in a state of war, and there being no proclamation by the U. S. according belligerent rights to the insurgents. The Virginius, if regularly cleared for Cuba, had a right to enter Havana or any other open port in the Spanish possessions. This government did not recognize any right on the part of Spain, in the present state of affairs, to interfere in any manner with our merchant ships on the seas, except the same should have been at war and within one marine league of the coast of Cuba or of her dominions, and of this fact she was aware. As a matter of course, it is the determination of this government to protect its citizens in all their rights, and to compel respect to its flag. The present naval preparations were with this view, and not to initiate war by the President that power being vested in Congress, but to be prepared for all possible contingencies. Upon the meeting of Congress all the facts in possession of the Executive Department relative to Cuban affairs, would be laid before that body, with such recommendations as the occasion might demand. To-morrow he said he would commence the preparation of his message, but would defer that part relating to Cuban affairs until within a day or two of the meeting of Congress, desiring first to obtain all possible information upon the subject. During the brief conversation the President said he should, in his message, again recommend legislation on Utah affairs, in order to relieve judicial matters in that Territory from their present embarrassment. He would, in calling attention to judicial subjects, submit a plan not yet fully matured, rendering the currency more flexible, and preventing it, if possible, from being used, as recently, for gambling purposes.

Decline in Stocks—Mails Brought Back—Naval Activity—Suspended—Berlin Special.

NEW YORK, 17.—The decline in stocks, to-day, was attributed partly to heavy realizations, and partly to a telegram from Washington that Senator Sherman did not believe in either war or inflation; after the close of business a rumor was afloat that a London banking company, identified with a prominent American R. R. by the negotiation of bonds, and still holding a balance belonging to the railroad, was in trouble.

The steamship Cleopatra, which arrived to-day, brought the newspapers and mails she took on her outward bound trip to Havana, the Spanish authorities refused to allow them to be landed.

At the navy yard the same activity is manifested as for the past few days. To-day 250 men were added to the force. The Juniata is now ready for sea, and will anchor off the battery to await orders. It is stated by an employee of the navy yard that work upon the Spanish ironclad Arapiles was suspended this afternoon.

The London Telegraph, of the 6th, has the following special from Berlin—"It is not denied in official circles here that the Pope wrote a second letter to the German Emperor. The fact that it has not been published is ascribed to the circumstance that he treated of matters strictly personal to his majesty, and in no way touched upon political subjects. It is not from motives of discourtesy that it has been kept back, but for the simple reason that it is entirely devoid of importance. It has not been nor will it be answered."

Meeting of Cuban Sympathizers.

About three thousand American and Cuban citizens met at Steinway Hall to-night, for the purpose of giving expression to their sense of the late outrage at Santiago de Cuba. Wm. M. Evarts presided. The list of vice presidents included Jno. A. Dix, A. T. Stewart, Jno. Kelly, Wm. E. Dodge, Fernando Wood, A. R. Lawrence, Wm. C. Conner, Judge Josiah Sutherland, General Franz Siegel, Wm. Cullen Bryant, John Jacob Astor, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Chas. P. Daley, Enoch C. F. Fanchez, Harper C. Van Boorst, A. Oakley Hall, W. F. Havemeyer, O. Ottendorfer, E. Delafield Smith, and others. Hon. W. M. Evarts, in opening the meeting, said, when he accepted the invitation to preside he felt as every person must have felt, that the Cuban question was one of the greatest importance. He rapidly reviewed the various steps which had brought this nation face to face with the present difficulty, and said that during the whole period of the struggle for independence by Cuba the greatest insults had been offered to the American flag by Spain and her runners. Our complaints were met by regrets and concessions, and on account of our correspondence with Spain about this matter, a convention of both nations was effected, which had its seat at Washington, to settle and redress grievances. Now, like a thunderbolt, two nations—America and England, had been stricken with the shock of a transaction which moved the whole civilized world. A ship, accused of being under the American flag, while on the high seas and distant from Cuba, is visited by the pride and arrogance of Spanish power, and turning from her pursuer, is overtaken and captured, and all on board conveyed to the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, when four men are taken out of her and condemned and shot; then forty more, followed by fifty-seven others. The British and American consuls spoke in vain, their interference went for naught. We had a complete understanding with Spain to the effect that every citizen of our country taken by them, for any act, should have a trial before proper tribunals, and have competent legal defenders. If there was peace between this country and Spain, no matter what crimes these men were guilty of, under the laws of nations they should have been called to accounts by the country to which each belonged. The laws of piracy allowed any nation that wished, to punish offenders, but there was no evidence to show that the Virginius was a pirate. Still, if she were a pirate, we hold that the law could not be be carried out in her case without trial, condemnation, or conviction. Away then with the idea that our citizens are to be dealt with as though they were engaged in marauding. Don't fear but the President of the United States is imbued with the same feeling as pervades this meeting. We deal with Cuba as a community, and intend to have redress for these outrages, (loud and prolonged cheering) and security, perfect and absolute security, that no such disgraceful butcheries shall ever again be repeated. (Renewed applause.) We will receive from the government of Spain, though we desire that republic to be upheld, promises that her power must be more efficacious over her own forces in Cuba, and if she wants help we are prepared to give it. If it be true that Spain can no longer control the actions of her subjects we will see to it that they will not have immunities from regularly constituted powers. We would make the American people feel that their peace would not again be disturbed in future. The concluding portion of the speech was received with uproarious cheers and cries of "war," "war."

Hon. S. S. Cox was the next speaker. He claimed that the Virginius, at the time of seizure, was duly authenticated by our government. Our flag, rightfully, was at its mast-head, with register and clearance. The seizure was on the high seas, not within Spanish waters. There was no recognition by Spain of belligerent rights to the insurgents of Cuba, and the legal status of the vessel secured her the same right on the sea as citizens have to walk the streets or city parks. Mr. Cox then referred to the barbarities practiced by the Spaniards [illegible] and said, had he had sent to New York a letter to be read at the meeting there to-night. It is a very delicate question, as Sumner hinted, and public opinion should be carefully and calmly formed. The haste and heat of popular clamor he did not think calculated to form general sound views. He remarked that, "I shall be attacked for what I have written, unless they suppress the letter. They have contrived to get a vast deal of excitement on the question, and the popular indignation overlooks the real issue. Give the people a little time to cool off, and they will listen to calmer views." Mr. Sumner also remarked, on the attitude of certain London journals on this matter, some of which were never friendly to the U. S.—They are doing all they can to rouse indignation in this country. We need to be careful, he thought, how we adjust our policy on opinions received from that quarter; they would be too glad to involve us in war with Spain; they don't like republicanism in America. England would rub her hands in glee if she could make out the Virginius a second Alabama. She would be glad if we placed ourselves in the same position as herself, by recognizing the Virginius. As to the legal aspects of the case, Sumner said it appeared, to his own mind, very clear, that the vessel went under the United States flag; but that does not necessarily comprise our honor. If she was a filibuster and the flag and the papers were a part of the pretense. It would be foolish, however, he remarked, to make the case of the Virginius a plea of recognition for Cuba. It would be cruel, too, to precipitate war with Spain, unless we were really driven to it. We must save the Spanish republic if possible. [To Editors—The letter referred to by Sumner was not read at the N. Y. meeting to-night. Boynton.]
