

GOV. PEABODY HAS AN EXPERIENCE.

Three Men Invade His Room in Chicago and Tell Him What They Think of Him.

HE WAS NOT INTIMIDATED.

They Were Sympathizers of the Union Men of Colorado—Nothing Rash Was Done.

Chicago, June 24.—As his work as a delegate to the Republican national convention was concluded, Gov. James H. Peabody of Colorado was threatened by three men who forced their way into his room at the Auditorium Annex.

According to a statement made today by the governor, the men invaded his room last night after he had dismissed several members of the Colorado delegation. He was alone at the time but had neglected to lock the door. The spokesman of a party claimed to be the publisher of a labor union paper in Chicago. He informed the governor that he had been delegated by the board of business agents of the Building Trades council of Chicago to present to him a copy of a set of resolutions denouncing his action in deporting union men from the state of Colorado. The resolutions were adopted at a meeting of the business agents of the Building Trades council, claiming to represent 35,000 men of Chicago. They charged Gov. Peabody with violating his oath of office in deporting union men, characterized the union men of Colorado as peaceful and law-abiding citizens, and closed by saying: "We mourn the fact that we are unable to duplicate with regard to him his acts of deportation, and being thus situated, we hereby order that the charter of this organization be draped in mourning so long as Gov. Peabody shall remain in the city."

After the intruders had presented their resolutions, at the same time advising Gov. Peabody to get out of Chicago, the governor of Colorado had something to say. "I suppose you would like to see me driven out of Chicago but let me tell you that I shall stay here as long as I have business here," he said. "These resolutions are a pack of malicious lies. At no time since my incumbency as chief executive of the state of Colorado have I ever opposed a labor union. But I will say that among the union men in Colorado there are and have been a number of dynamite, anarchists and murderers. If you men and your friends countenance and endorse such methods as those that have wiped out so many precious lives in the mining districts of Colorado, then I must say that you are no better."

The governor did not tell his friends of the incident until a short time before his departure from Chicago tonight.

NEW POSTAL SERVICE.

It Will Be Started in Canal Zone Today.

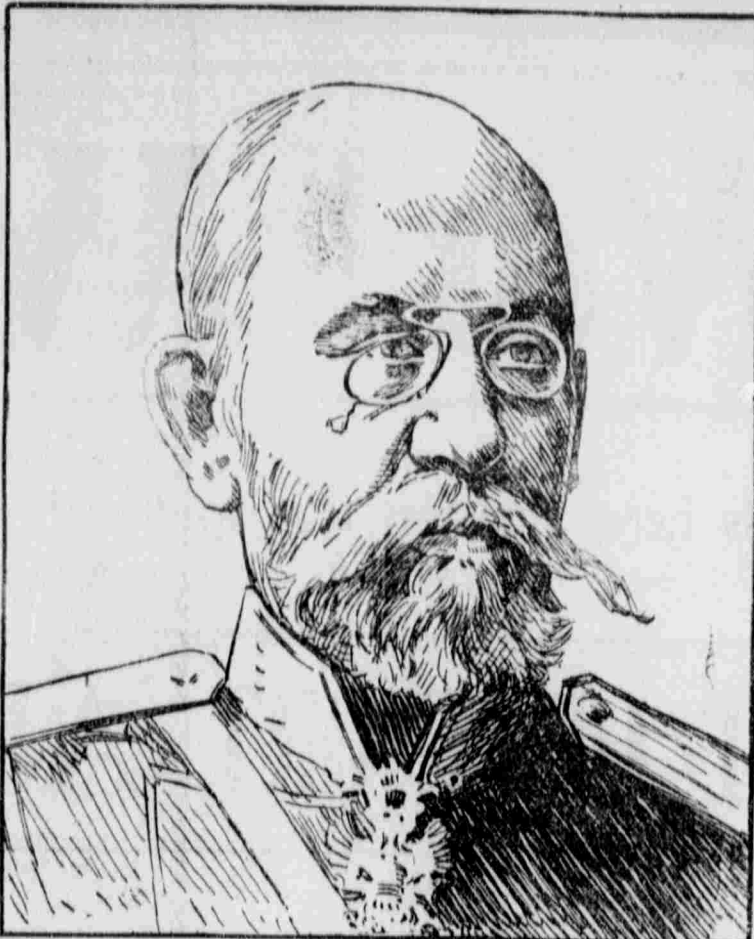

Panama, June 24.—A postal service in the canal zone is being started tomorrow. Nine offices have been established. E. C. Tobey, treasurer of the canal zone, is organizing and instructing postmasters in their duties. Mails from the zone to the United States and vice versa will be carried at the domestic rates of the United States until a supply of American stamps is received. Gov. Davis has arranged with the republic of Panama to use Panama stamps with the words "Canal Zone" printed on them. Arrangements also have been made with the Panama postal authorities to receive and forward central and South American and West Indian mail.

Nine postmasters were appointed today. As soon as possible registered letters and money order offices will be established.

FOOD PRESERVATIVES.

Prof. Wiley Will Begin Investigation of Methods.

Washington, June 24.—The Post tomorrow will say: Having concluded his investigation into the chemical preservatives in various food products, Prof. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture will now investigate methods of preservation through the medium of cold storage or sterilization. This work is now organizing, and will not be completed for at least another year. It is Dr. Wiley's theory that certain classes of food deteriorate after being preserved for a certain length of time, no matter what method is used and he expects to prove this by his experiments, and to recommend that under no circumstances should food be preserved more than one year. Dr. Wiley will conduct these experiments in his own kitchen at the bureau of chemistry, and in practically the same manner as he conducted his recent investigation, except that he will not receive the services of a regular "poison squad." He will, however, obtain the assistance of a competent and impartial jury of persons, comprising both men and women taken from the various executive departments to whom he will feed certain varieties of food cooked in his own kitchen, after having been preserved for various periods from one month to a year.

GOVERNOR GENERAL BOBRIKOFF OF FINLAND, WHO WAS SHOT BY A STUDENT.

The shooting by a student of General Count Bobrikoff, governor general of Finland, may mark the beginning of that uprising which many observers have declared to be inevitable whenever Russia should find herself hard pressed by an enemy on the outside. Bobrikoff has always been a despot in his treatment of the Finns, and since his appointment as governor general in 1899 he has gone at the Russification of Finland in a manner calculated to alienate whatever loyalty to the czar his charges may have felt. Bobrikoff is the man who settled the question of emigration by an order prohibiting the issuance of passports to any Finn who had not served his time in the army.

Igorrotes to be Clothed.
Washington, June 24.—The Igorrotes and Negrito representatives of the wild tribes of the Philippine Islands, on exhibition at the St. Louis exposition, are to be clothed that their nudity cannot be a subject of criticism. Directions to this effect have been given to the responsible officials at St. Louis.

GEN. CHAFFEE COMING.

Leaves Tonight for a Tour of Inspection of Utah and the West.

Washington, June 24.—Lieut.-Gen. Chaffee, chief of staff, Gen. Humphrey, quartermaster-general and Capt. Corte Hutchins of the general staff will leave tomorrow night on a two months' inspection tour of military posts. The party will be accompanied part of the way by Mrs. Chaffee, Miss Ellen Chaffee and a stenographer and a messenger. The itinerary includes Montana, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah and Kansas.

INDIAN "SACRED" DANCE.

Large Delegations Gather Near Butte to Attend It.

Butte, Mont., June 25.—Delegations from Flathead, Snake, Chippewas, Black Feet and Lemhi tribes of Indians are in attendance at the "sacred" dance given by Mrs. Chaffee, Miss Ellen Chaffee and a stenographer and a messenger. The dance lasts for two days, continuing day and night, and is for the purpose of perpetuating in the minds of the young warriors the heroic deeds of their forefathers. The beating of the tom-toms and weird tooting of whistles of the Indians can be heard for miles about the Hump. As many as 50 Indians engage in the dance at one time, continuing until they drop exhausted. Other Indians stand ready to take the places of the warriors who drop.

Duties of Appraisers.

New York, June 25.—A decision, which is regarded as being of much importance to importers, has been rendered by the board of United States general appraisers. It has no bearing on rates, but upon the methods to be pursued by persons making protest before the board upon duties assessed by the collectors. Briefly stated, the decision says down the principle that in appraisement cases a general appraiser or a board of general appraisers is not required to examine the merchandise under consideration, unless it is submitted as evidence by either party to the ac-

PERDICARIS AND VARLEY RELEASED

Rasuli's Captives Arrive in Tangier, Fatigued But Glad To Get Back.

GIVEN A GREAT RECEPTION

By Moorish Authorities, Admirals of The Fleets and Numerous Personal Friends.

Tangier, June 25 (12:55 a. m.).—Ion Perdicaris and Cromwell Varley, who were captured by bandits, have just arrived.

Perdicaris is much fatigued after his long ride, but said he is glad to get back. He is greatly pleased with the reception accorded him by the townsmen, who met him in great numbers.

Perdicaris suffered many hardships while in the hands of Rasuli, although he said he did not think that these were the fault of the bandit chief, and that he had every comfort possible under the circumstances.

Varley appeared to be as cheerful and bright as if he had just returned from a picnic.

Both Perdicaris and Varley are much thinner, and especially the former, who has aged considerably.

Perdicaris was received at his town house by the authorities, the admirals of the fleets and numerous personal friends. His Moorish servants made a great demonstration of joy, kissing their master's hands and clothes.

Much credit is due to the two shepherds of Wazen, Mulai Ali and Mulai Hamet, who have devoted much time in efforts to secure the success of the negotiations. Mulai Ali was in communication with Rasuli constantly, thus ensuring the safety of the captives, while Mulai Hamet traveled between Tangier and Benhar.

Mulai Hamet says that he arrived at the camp of Zeelal, governor of Beni M'Sara tribe, at 3 o'clock on June 23, but that the captives did not arrive until the morning of June 24.

Nothing unusual occurred during the exchange of the prisoners, who started immediately for their homes.

The delay in turning over the prisoners was apparently merely a mistake as to the date set for their release.

LONDON PRESS COMMENT.

London, June 25.—The Times this morning in a lengthy editorial on the release by the bandit Rasuli of Messrs. Perdicaris and Varley, calls attention to the fact that the Times correspondent, Walter B. Harris, was captured by the same brigands, who, embodied by the success of that venture, seized Mr. Perdicaris, who, on account of the position held by that gentleman at Tangier fulfilled all the conditions which would enable the bandit to drive a bargain such as no other brigand ever dared to propose.

As the result of the sultan's acceding to the demands of Rasuli, says the Times, the world received the impression of the Moroccan ruler to discharge the least elementary duties of government.

The moral of the situation, the Times points out, is that France must intervene and provide the sultan with an organized force and with funds.

The Standard also publishes an editorial in which it concludes that Morocco must now continue to remain under a reign of anarchy and that France must avert such perilous complications in the future. The Standard concludes: "See, Hay's vigorous diplomacy brought about the speedy closing of the most remarkable incident in history in Morocco."

HELEN KELLER.

This Gifted Girl is on the Verge Of Prostration.

Boston, June 25.—Miss Helen Keller, the gifted deaf and dumb, and blind student at Radcliffe college, has broken down and is reported to be on the verge of nervous prostration. She began to fail two months ago and was ordered by her physician to abstain from college work. It is believed she will get a degree with the class of 1904 in spite of her inability to fill all the requirements.

Senator Fairbanks' Mother.

Springfield, O., June 23.—The mother of Senator Fairbanks, Mrs. Mary Adelaide Fairbanks, lives in this city with her daughter, Mrs. M. L. Milligan. She is 74 years old. She is of the opinion that her son would have preferred to remain a senator instead of becoming the nominee for vice president.

"I was in Washington last winter at his house," she said, "and many men came to see him in regard to his being a candidate for vice president. I am, of course, very proud that he should have been nominated and particularly since there was such a strong demand for him that he could hardly do otherwise than accept. I think the position he now has is one of the most honorable that a man can have in politics. There is a great deal of influence and dignity about the senate and a great many opportunities to do good."

Mrs. Fairbanks received an affectionate telegram from her son in less than an hour after the convention adjourned this afternoon.

Senator Fairbanks has extensive manufacturing interests in this city and owns much real estate here. The senator visited his mother here about two weeks ago.

CRUISE OF THE LAKE.

Fifteenth Ward Bishopric Show Their Appreciation of Ward Choir.

On Thursday night the Bishopric of the Fifteenth ward showed their appreciation of the ward choir by taking them on a most pleasant outing at Saltair. The party, which consisted of about 40, left the city on the 6 o'clock train, and went directly to the "Cats." As there were too many for the "Cats," it was necessary for some to go in the launch, but this did not mar their pleasure. In the last, although those in the launch received a little more than their share of salt. The boats were headed for Black Rock, but on account of the wind, were forced to change their location. While on the lake, the choir sang until they were almost hoarse. When most of the boys' hats had blown in the water, they returned to the beach, about 9:30. A delightful supper was then served, after which a number of songs were rendered for those who had gathered around them. After giving three hearty cheers for the Bishopric and Captain Davis, the salt-besmeared party took the train for home.

CHINESE SAFETY VAULTS IN PORT ARTHUR.

The piles of stone in the foreground of the picture mark the entrances to underground places of refuge which were hastily excavated by the terror stricken Chinese at Port Arthur after the first bombardment. They are situated in what is known as the new town, which is the Chinese quarter. Though constructed with little provision for comfort, these subterranean burrows afford a safe refuge from the intermittent showers which Admiral Togo's long range guns have provided for the diversion of the beleaguered Russians. There is certainly no reason why the Chinese, neutral as they are, should not exercise as great ingenuity as they know how to save themselves. There is little chance for them to become heroes at Port Arthur under present conditions.
