PHOTOGRAPHER OF MINES.

James H. Crockwell Appointed to That Position by the World's Fair Commission for Utah.

The World's Fair Commission for Utah have chosen James H. Crockwell of this city for official photographer of mining for the Territory. Mr. Crockwell has long made mining photography a specialty and is personally acquainted with nearly all the leading miners and mines in the intermountain country. He will soon commence a visit to every camp in the Territory for the purpose of taking views at every phase of mining life known in this part of the country, full above and under ground. He says his desire is to show to the people of the world at Chicago, in connection with Utah's mining exhibit, the entire process through which ore passes from the time it is mined until it becomes bullion. In addition to this there will be views of all the leading mining machinery, and of cuts and levels, tunnels and shafts and surfaces of mill mining.

Mr. Crockwell's recommendations to the commission were from the leading mining men of the Territory and the appointment is considered to be a good one.

Jubilee at West Weber.

On the 11th inst., the children of the Sabbath schools of Huntsville, Taylorville and West Weber wards held a jubilee at West Weber. While waiting for the Huntsville school the boat wagon of that ward drove up, followed by seventy wagons and carriages. There were some very pretty banners and mottoes suitable to the occasion. There were on the stand, besides the local authorities, H. H. Goddard, of Salt Lake, first assistant superintendent of Sabbath schools of Utah, and R. R. Ballantine of Ogden, superintendent of Sabbath schools of Weber County.

The following programme was gone through: Class exercise, Book of Doctrine and Covenants, A. Halgren, Hooperville, address to Young Men; Song, "I'll be a Little Mormon," Taylorville Primary class; song, Primary class Hooperville; class exercise, Faith, A. McFarland, West Weber; recitation, "How to be Happy," A. Anderson, Taylorville; class exercise, questions and answers on the Book of Mormon, Sister E. Manning, Hooper; duet, "When Night Comes O'er the Plain," Misses A. and J. Ballantine, West Weber; recitation, "Only a Girl," Flora Gibson, West Weber; song, "Clish's Vase," Taylorville; class exercise, "Priesthood Restored" (leaflet 38), Taylorville; quartette, "Woodland Home," West Weber; Artificial Faith, by all the children; class exercise, "Life of Seph," Sarah Hart, West Weber; song, "The Children are Praying for Me," Taylorville; class exercise, "Birth of Christ," Hooperville; double quartette, "O Redeemer Rise," West Weber; class exercise, Leaflets 48-53, G. F. Hunter, Taylorville; song, "Daughter of Zion," Hooperville; song, "Example," Laura Huntington, West Weber; quartette, "Distant Shores," Taylorville; class exercise, catechism card No. 2, "Knowledge of God," A. Hardy, Hooperville; song, "Touch not the Wine Cup," C. G. Purrington, (seven years old) West Weber; song, "The Captives," Agnes Williams, Taylorville; song, "Father, O Hear Us," Hooperville; class exercise, Leaflets 46-47, F. B. Dance, West Weber; "Comrades in Arms," Taylorville and West Weber.

Addresses followed and a very pleasant time was had. G.

WEST WEBER, July 11, 1892.

Court Jottings.

In November, 1888, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Page took each other for better or for worse, in Park City. There is one child issue of the marriage. In February last the fostre Harry grew tired of home life and fled, and since that time he has completely deserted his wife. Now she appeals to the Third District Court for a divorce.

Subsequent to the close of the News court report yesterday afternoon a demurrer and eviction suit for $10,000 was filed in the Third District court by J. H. Pritchett against the Bingham Canyon Mining company, E. R. Wilder, agent, and E. F. Hanson, lessee. The plaintiffs allege that they are entitled to the present and immediate possession of the property in question, that the property is unlawfully and illegally detained from the plaintiffs, that the said defendants claim to hold possession of the property by virtue of a certain so-called location, but that said location is void and of no effect, that the plaintiffs made a location of the ground described in the complaint on December 8th, 1891, and that by such they are entitled to the possession of the same. Bancroft and Tarbox are the plaintiff's attorneys.

John Hickman, who is serving a year's sentence in the penitentiary for larceny, has petitioned Governor Thomas to grant him a pardon. The petitioner states that he is 23 years old and a cripple, having had he been broken when he was three years old. Ever since that time the condition of his spine has made such that at times (and especially under the influence of liquor) he is not wholly responsible for his actions. The petition is signed by a number of citizens.

The Governor has therefore received the following in regard to Peter Welch, another penitentiary convict, who is sliding toward the gallows:

SALT LAKE CITY, July 12, 1892.

DEAR SIR.—A few days ago I wrote you a letter in regard to a convict in the penitentiary, Peter Welch, whom I then said I was convinced had committed no robbery in the Third District Court. I now desire to ask you to grant him the full Wright, because I am satisfied after the trial that he has been wrongfully convicted.

Since the operation he has been in the penitentiary, and has contracted disease; well so far as I can judge in consultation, I am sure he is not long for this world. If you decide to grant the full Wright, I will be pleased to send it to the sheriff. The record in the case is as follows:

Peter Welch and Lindon Rowe were jointly indicted for robbery on the 22nd day of February, 1892. They were tried together and both convicted March 11. On March 12, 1892, they were each sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. I have the honor to be, very sincerely yours,

JOHN M. ZANE,
Assistant United States Attorney.

WAKEMAN'S WANDERINGS

A TRAMP THROUGH CORNWALL—I.

Indescribably Dreary in General Aspect, but Full of Interesting Hidden Nooks, Rustic Folk, Early Origin and Rare Characteristics—Romance Legends and Romantic Scenes.

[SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.]

TINTAGEL CASTLE, Tintagel, Cornwall, June 29, 1892.

Dear Cornwall, Tintagel, Dozen and Half, as Mark Twain calls Cornwall, has been a favorite with the readers of England a little better than a generation. Its popularity as a resort for Londoners and its popularity as a subject with Mark Twain and Wilkie Collins and Charles Carleton Coffin have made it well known to and liked by many people who have never been there and have not the means of visiting it. Its fame as a place of resort for health and pleasure is not so great as that of Devonshire, which, with the towns on the Channel, is the favorite resort of Londoners.

Now the weather is cool and the Londoners are in their country homes, and Cornwall is quiet, with the towns on Watering-place Bay, Mount's Bay and Falmouth Bay comparatively empty. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

You will find there, through nearly all the region of Cornwall, some Lincoln's Inn Fields, and a few Lincoln's Inns, in every village and city for the miles in every town. I do not mean a single instance of that sort during my entire journey. Two, in fact, which are the exceptions. The Lincoln's Inns are comfortable places. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

You will find there, through nearly all the region of Cornwall, some Lincoln's Inns, and a few Lincoln's Inns, in every village and city for the miles in every town. I do not mean a single instance of that sort during my entire journey. Two, in fact, which are the exceptions. The Lincoln's Inns are comfortable places. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

You will find there, through nearly all the region of Cornwall, some Lincoln's Inns, and a few Lincoln's Inns, in every village and city for the miles in every town. I do not mean a single instance of that sort during my entire journey. Two, in fact, which are the exceptions. The Lincoln's Inns are comfortable places. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

You will find there, through nearly all the region of Cornwall, some Lincoln's Inns, and a few Lincoln's Inns, in every village and city for the miles in every town. I do not mean a single instance of that sort during my entire journey. Two, in fact, which are the exceptions. The Lincoln's Inns are comfortable places. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

You will find there, through nearly all the region of Cornwall, some Lincoln's Inns, and a few Lincoln's Inns, in every village and city for the miles in every town. I do not mean a single instance of that sort during my entire journey. Two, in fact, which are the exceptions. The Lincoln's Inns are comfortable places. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

You will find there, through nearly all the region of Cornwall, some Lincoln's Inns, and a few Lincoln's Inns, in every village and city for the miles in every town. I do not mean a single instance of that sort during my entire journey. Two, in fact, which are the exceptions. The Lincoln's Inns are comfortable places. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

You will find there, through nearly all the region of Cornwall, some Lincoln's Inns, and a few Lincoln's Inns, in every village and city for the miles in every town. I do not mean a single instance of that sort during my entire journey. Two, in fact, which are the exceptions. The Lincoln's Inns are comfortable places. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

You will find there, through nearly all the region of Cornwall, some Lincoln's Inns, and a few Lincoln's Inns, in every village and city for the miles in every town. I do not mean a single instance of that sort during my entire journey. Two, in fact, which are the exceptions. The Lincoln's Inns are comfortable places. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

You will find there, through nearly all the region of Cornwall, some Lincoln's Inns, and a few Lincoln's Inns, in every village and city for the miles in every town. I do not mean a single instance of that sort during my entire journey. Two, in fact, which are the exceptions. The Lincoln's Inns are comfortable places. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

You will find there, through nearly all the region of Cornwall, some Lincoln's Inns, and a few Lincoln's Inns, in every village and city for the miles in every town. I do not mean a single instance of that sort during my entire journey. Two, in fact, which are the exceptions. The Lincoln's Inns are comfortable places. The fishermen will take care of you in the little cottages with the quaint old gardens, without leaving a bill in advance, and charge you for what you drink over a glass of ale. The cities are dull, and the towns are dull, and the people are dull, and everything is dull except the sea, which is never dull, and the rocks, which are never dull. All this dullness is very pleasant to a tired Yankee. Many things will remind you of home, and yet, strangely enough, in other directions, you will be reminded of the old country home in the setting of the sun.

THE UNION MEAT COMPANY

WILL SELL THE CHOICEST MEATS OF ALL KINDS AS CHEAP AS ANYBODY DARE DO IN THE CITY. CAREFUL DELIVERY AND GOOD ATTENTION PAID BY OBLIGING SALESMEN. TELEPHONE 66.

No. 54 E. FIRST SOUTH STREET

GRANITE IRONWARE.

IS LIGHT HANDSOME WHOLESOME DURABLE

MANUFACTURED ONLY BY ST. LOUIS STAMPING CO. ST. LOUIS.

For Sale by all Dealers. Manufactured as a House Furnishing Specialty.

FOR BROILING BAKING BOILING PRESERVING

The BEST Ware MADE FOR THE KITCHEN.

Cook Book and Price List FREE on application.

JAY C. WEMPLE COMP'Y

NEW YORK. CHICAGO.

EMPIRE WINDOW SHADES SPRING ROLLERS ARE THE BEST MADE.

Sold by all Dealers. These Goods are all Hand Made.

MISS POLLY GOLIGHTLY HAS DOZENS OF BEAUX

THE REASON WHEREOF I WILL TELL:—

IT IS NOT BECAUSE OF HER BEAUTIFUL CLOTHES,

BUT SHE'S LEARNED HOW TO COOK ON THOSE CHARTER OAK STOVES

THAT'S HOW SHE BECAME SUCH A BELLE!

—FOR SALE BY—

Z. C. M. I. - Sole Agents in Salt Lake City.

OVERLOADED!

With an Enormous Stock of Spring and Summer Clothing. Today we inaugurate our

SEMI-ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE.

BIG CUT IN PRICES.

Look Out for Special Bargains.

Goldsmith & Co.

61, 63 and 65 MAIN STREET, SALT LAKE CITY