Novel Method of Acquiring Clothing is Related in Police Court.

HELD IN DEFAULT OF BAIL.

Reinhart is Unwilling to Plead to Grand Larceny Charge, but Is Not so Particular About Lesser One.

"I picked the clothes up off the track, but if that's grand larceny, all right," said William Reinhart in Judge Bowman's court this morning when arraigned on the charge of grand larceny, the stealing of four suits of clothes from the Wells-Fargo Express company. He pleaded not guilty to the charge, but stated his willingness to plead guilty to petit larceny. The case was set for April 2, and Reinhart is in the meantime locked in the county jail in default of $500 bail.

While Reinhart is confined in jail, his pal, H. E. Watson, is locked in the city jail with a similar charge to be preferred against him. He was arrested on suspicion by a deputy sheriff yesterday morning and taken to the county jail, but was released on the mounting. The police succeeded in getting a partial confession from Reinhart in which he admitted he had a pal, and shortly after Watson was released he was "picked up" by the police.

The police claim they have positive proof that the two men, Reinhart and Watson, stole the packages from the Denver & Rio Grande yards and while in the clothing store trying to dispose of some of the clothing, Reinhart was doing the same. So far no complaint has been filed against Watson but he will be charged with grand larceny.

The case of the State vs. Maud Williams and Margaret Burns, charged with vagrancy, was again continued this morning until April 2, owing to the illness of Deputy Sheriff Bert Seager.

In Judge Bowman's court this afternoon there is a jury trial in the case of the State vs. Raymond Curtis, an ex-con, charged with stealing a pair of trousers from a Commercial street clothing store.

Mrs. Curtis, mother of the accused man, spent all of yesterday trying to secure counsel for her son. She was without funds, but asked several attorneys to assist her in clearing young Curtis of the charge. Finally, Atty. James F. Smith consented to take care of the case and at once asked for a jury trial, which is taking place this afternoon.

IN THE JUVENILE COURT.

Judge Gowans listens to Troubles of Walter Dunn and Wife.

In an effort to gain possession of his little daughter, Bertha, aged 3 years, Walter Dunn, a roofers' filer, filed a complaint against his wife, Mrs. Bertha Dunn, in the Juvenile court charging her with contributing to the delinquency of the child. After listening to the testimony today of the father and the mother, Judge Gowans decided to continue the case until further evidence is submitted.

Mrs. Dunn has not lived with her husband for some months and has refused to allow him to see his child. He charges her with being immoral and unfit to take charge of the little Dunn told the court that he intended to file suit for a divorce against his wife in a few days charging her with desertion. In his complaint, he says, that he will ask for the custody of the child on account of the immorality of his wife who, he says, ought not to be allowed to rear the child. Mrs. Dunn died in her own defense but the court sides with the defense.

While the hearing was going on, Bertha was in the courtroom. She climbed upon the knees of her parents and played hide-and-go-seek with the other children in the courtroom.

HANDCART VETERANS.

A meeting of the Handcart Veterans will be held in the upper room at the Ferguson word assembly hall on Sunday evening, April 11. A cordial invitation to all interested is extended by G. A. Jones, the president of the association, and Albert Jones, secretary.

FESTIVAL AT MURRAY.

Tuesday night's program of the week's carnival of music at Murray was devoted to the rendition of the cantata, "Mother the Beautiful Queen," by the Murray First ward choir, assisted by members of the Murray Second ward and Taylorsville choirs, making a chorus of 90 voices, with an orchestra of eight pieces. The rendition was considered the finest piece of musical work ever presented in Murray. Through painstaking practice all the members were well up in their parts and the presentation was altogether a most pleasing one. The soloists, Misses Nellie Menken and Myra Lyon, soprano; Lotte Mapes, contralto, and Messrs. Charles Caldwell, George C. Smith, John D. Smith, Hartman, and W. M. Dow, rendered their parts in excellent form.

Tonight the contest program will be continued, the principal feature being the choir contest for the $40 prize between the Waterloo and Emerson choirs. The other competitive numbers being a piano solo, ladies' and men's quartets and a ladies' chorus.

BADGER ASSAILS GROUND OF VETO

class, having a population of 1,500 or more inhabitants. All the counties of the state, and all cities and towns with the requisite population, may be comprising its terms, come under its provisions."

The same reasoning applies to the provisions of S. B. 148.

Under S. B. 148, 3, 4, 5, it was held that an act classifying counties for purposes of assessment of damages for street purposes into counties having incorporated cities of over 100,000 inhabitants, was not a prohibited classification, though it was an abandonment of the general classification of counties and the adoption of a special classification for the particular purpose of the act.

The law, "Mule Law," providing a special classification of cities for purposes of the regulation of the liquor traffic and providing that 50 per cent of the voters in incorporated cities of more than 2,500 inhabitants may prohibit the granting of licenses, outside of such cities are necessary to prohibit the granting of licenses, outside of such cities has been upheld as constitutional and not in violation of the constitutional provision that general laws shall have uniform operation.

GENERAL AND UNIFORM.

"A law is general and uniform in its operation which operates equally upon all the subjects within the class of subjects for which the rule is adopted."

Nichols V. Wallace, 37 Minn. 266, 271, 33 N. W. 809.

The ground taken by the governor that S. B. 148 attempts an unconstitutional classification of cities is, it seems to me, absolutely and wholly without legal foundation.

The second ground of the veto is that the bill is so interwoven that if one part is unconstitutional, the whole is unconstitutional. We believe this ground is equally without foundation. Sections 1 to 62 of the bill are the regulation sections, they are wholly distinct and separable from the local option provisions. Even though the local option provisions were unconstitutional the rest of the provisions would still stand. If the restrictive provisions were enforced it is a great advance on present conditions would be brought about. The back door of saloons would be closed; all screens, blinds and partitions would be removed and the interior of the saloon would be exposed to all public; Saloons would be open 40 less seconds than at present and all saloons would be closed at 7 o'clock.

If the present program is carried out they will leave for Ogden tonight.

ENGLISHMEN WHO ARE ROUGHING IT

Two Young Britshers Tramping From Los Angeles to New York City.

ARE IN SALT LAKE TODAY.

J. H. Barrett and S. Sumner Tell of Their Experiences and the Hospitality Encountered in Utah.

Annual Gathering from Over Utah Is Well Attended and Much Interest is Shown.

Just to demonstrate that Johnny Hayes is not the only blooming works when it comes to pedestrianism, two youthful blonde Englishmen drifted into town last evening from Los Angeles. The youngsters answer to the names of J. H. Barrett, formerly of Stratford on Avon, and S. Sumner, erstwhile of Manchester, "where it always rains." They are walking from Los Angeles to New York and expect to do the self appointed task in 170 days. Incidentally Barrett who prior to coming to America belonged to the Tommy Atkins family, says he will poke anybody's nose who calls him a bobby. They want it distinctly understood that they are walking for their own amusement and instruction and if anyone wants to purchase a souvenir postcard to advance the cause of education well, "that will be dandy."

"The young men are neatly attired in khaki suits, leggings to match, stout walking shoes and carry their belongings in a knapsack. Judging from their complexions their trip so far has been uneventful. Some of them have a trinkle behind the baldight devoid of cuticle that looks like a miniature fire alarm box in the center of his good natured face.

The boys left Los Angeles on Feb. 19 and encountered numerous adventures en route. They walked on from Lentwood, a mountain town, and prior to arriving here secured a marking post and brush and painted across their white sweaters in black the legend "Los Angeles to New York on Foot."

They this morning saw peaks of praise for the hospitality of the residents of Ogden. At last night's supper turned over her washcloth to the pedestrians. At other points bed and board were forthcoming and everybody signed the book they carry as a record of their trip, the latest entry being the postmark and signature at the general delivery window this morning.

The motion of Dr. Fuller was seconded by Hon. Heber J. Grant, who is a national trustee of the organization. In the discussion that followed addresses were made by Frank B. Stephens, Rev. F. B. Short, Heber J. Grant, Louis S. Fuller, Mrs. Luis L. Shepard, H. W. Smith, Stephen H. Love and Jessie Knight.

TO CHOOSE OTHER WORKERS.

Without exception, the sentiment was for prohibition, and the speeches were replete with earnestness and enthusiasm that presages the routing of the liquor forces, foot and horse.

The motion of Dr. Fuller carried without a dissenting vote.

It was decided that the board of trustees should hereafter include the members heretofore designated as a headquarters committee, and from the board will be chosen an executive committee. The officers and board as at present existing is as follows: President, Rev. F. B. Short, who succeeds Rev. P. A. Simpkin; vice president, William H. King, such office having been created last night; secretary, Samuel Russell; treasurer, H. W. Smith; members of the board, F. B. Short, W. H. King, Samuel Russell, H. W. Smith, Rev. P. A. Simpkin, Frank B. Stephens, George Q. Morris, Rev. H. T. Talbot, Rev. E. J. Goshen, Rev. A. Buxton, Prof. John T. Miller, Rev. C. G. McIntrye, Seth Griffin, Mrs. E. E. Shepard, Mrs. Fremont Morningstar, Rev. Geo. Townsend, Rev. Martin Thomas, John Hood, Rev. M. R. Craven, Rev. H. J. Hanson, George F. Goodwin, Stephen M. Lee, Charles S. Sturtevant, Rev. Josiah D. H. Christensen, Thomas Hull and George N. Lawrence. A finance committee is composed of Heber J. Grant, Jesse Knight and Seth Griffin.

MAYOR INSPECTS CHAIN GANG.

Mayor Transford is deeply interested in the work being done by the city chain gang. The story published in last evening's "News" with illustrations, has caused several city officials to sit up and take notice. This afternoon Mayor Transford accompanied Chief of Police Barlow to the "seat of operations," and his honor was surprised and pleased at the progress made on the road. The gang members were dressed in their uniforms, three guards and four teams.

SEEK LOST RELATIVES.

Three inquiries were received today by Postmaster A. L. Thomas from different parts of the country asking for information concerning a citizen of Ogallala, Neb., George of Spring Valley, Washington, wants to know the location of Robert Ross, who is supposed to be an attorney somewhere in the state.

Elmer E. Johnson of Leotiada, Pa., would like to know the whereabouts of Thomas Stanton, who she thinks is living at the home of Mrs. Fraser in Salt Lake City.

Knowledge concerning the present location of John C. Hall is badly wanted by his sister, Mrs. Helen M. Hall, who is living at the present time at the St. Anthony hospital, Oklahoma City, Okla.

GENERAL PEN INSPECTION.

Federal and State Inspectors Will Work Together Throughout State.

Consequently Weather Man Starts a Guessing Contest as to Tomorrow.

There is no weather map today as there seems to be a howling storm scattered all over the east that has reduced the telegraph service to a minimum, for the reason that wires are down over.

The Salt Lake weather bureau receives all of its daily intelligence from Denver, and word from there said there was no weather map available.

As sources of telegraphic information were cut off by the storms, the barometer took a regular slide downwards yesterday, falling from 30.00 to 29.30. This indicated there was something doing elsewhere, and there evidently was. The barometer, however, is not to be within your present duty as representatives of the people having at heart the welfare of all.

I shall be greatly pleased to give my approval to such a measure.

Some difficulties will be found, I believe, in carrying out the proposed legislation for the veto of S. B. 148 will be given a special message of the governor sent to the legislature only two weeks ago.

CARL A. BADGER.

WIRES ARE DOWN.

Julius Knuttschmidt Prepares Pamphlet Arguing for Increase.

The local office of the bureau of animal industry announces that a general shearing pen inspection will be made of all sheep within the state, at 33 corals.

Twenty bureau inspectors and six state inspectors will be detailed for the work. All sheep found to be infected will be condemned and the carcasses will be given a certificate good for 90 days, permitting them to enter a national forest for grazing or other purposes without further inspection. Infected herds will be placed under rigid quarantine until such time that they can be sheared and dipped without exposing clean sheep, thus preventing the spread of scab.

This is the second year the government has made defendants to the suit the following corporations and individuals: Union Pacific R. R., Oregon Short Line Railroad & Navigation Co., San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, the Southern Pacific, the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern roads, the Farmers & Mechanics Loan & Trust Co., Edward H. Harriman, Jacob H. Schiff, Otto H. Kahn, James Stillman, Henry H. Rogers, Henry C. Clark and William A. Clark.

DEFENDANTS IN SUIT.

In the suit which was commenced in this city in January a year ago and which will probably be completed in this city, Edward H. Harriman, Jacob Schiff, Otto H. Kahn, James Stillman, H. W. Rogers and Henry C. Clark are charged with conspiracy to restrain competition among western railroads over which Mr. Harriman and his associates are alleged to have gained control of the market.

It was decided that the board of trustees should hereafter include the members heretofore designated as a headquarters committee, and from the board will be chosen an executive committee.

The officers and board as at present existing is as follows: President, Rev. F. B. Short, who succeeds Rev. P. A. Simpkin; vice president, William H. King, such office having been created last night; secretary, Samuel Russell; treasurer, H. W. Smith, Rev. P. A. Simpkin, Frank B. Stephens, George Q. Morris, Rev. H. T. Talbot, Rev. E. J. BOY IS A RUNAWAY.

Mother Appears in Juvenile Court And Explains Her Fault.

John Matter, a bright eyed, 2-year-old boy, who was found wandering about the streets last night by the police, was brought before the Juvenile Court this afternoon. His mother, Mrs. May Matter, who lives at 27 west First South street, was cited to appear and answer to a charge that she had caused her son to go away from home.

The police officers claim that she leaves the child home at night while she goes out and that he is neglected.

When she was called before the court, Mrs. Matter was in Idaho where he is working.

She works in the city here to help support herself and child. He slips out at night to go to the Land home and several boys were discharged on their promise to do better.

PACIFIC EXPRESS ON CARPET.

At a session of the Interstate commerce commission to be held in Salt Lake City on April 21, the matter of express rates in and out of Boise, Idaho, will be investigated.

The investigation has been ordered as a result of complaints which have been made by the Commercial club of Boise, and most of the witnesses to be examined will be from Idaho.

The Pacific Express company is the only company affected as it is the only express company entering Boise.
