UTAH SHEEPMEN ARRIVE.

More Coming to Argue the Forest Reserve Problems that Threaten the Wool Industry.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 22.—Hundreds of cattle men from all directions extend on the early trains today and it is evident that there will be a large attendance at the annual annual convention of the National Live Stock Association which opens tomorrow. The storm of yesterday has passed away and for western during the week is anticipated.

Forty-five organized bodies, representing twenty states, are now affiliated with the National association and it is figured that they will send to Denver this week from 200 to 1,000 delegates and three times as many visitors. The states represented in the convention will be:

Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, South Dakota, Wyoming and New York.

Among the activities today was a large delegation from Texas which will make a strong effort to have the next annual convention held in that state. Fort Worth, Dallas and San Antonio are candidates. Chicago is the choice of some delegates from the East.

There is some agitation in favor of making Denver the permanent headquarters and selecting John W. Springer as president.

J. H. Kerr of Salt Lake has arrived and he says sheepmen are coming in force to argue the forest reserve problem.

Mr. Kerr says there are 1,500,000 sheep in Utah now feeding on the forest reserves and at a valuation of $1.50 per head they aggregate $2,250,000. If the rule of the department of the interior is enforced removing these sheep from the reserves they will be compelled to move from the State and it will be great blow to the industry in Utah. There will be a warm fight over the proposition, however, as most of the cattlemen are in favor of the position taken by the government.

The Dominion sent to meet the range cattle show to be held at the stock yards in connection with the convention will prove a great success. There will be about 5,000 head of cattle for sale, in addition to 1,200 entered for exhibition. This is the first exhibition of this character ever held.

In addition to the cash prizes already announced, amounting to nearly $1,000, the committee has decided to give silver medals as second and third prizes. These will be in the nature of special awards for merit. The judges will be leaders of cattle.

SCROFULA

It is Foul Blood's Advertisement

But It is Soon Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Yes, Scrofula, if anything, may be called the advertisement of foul blood. It is the scourge of the world—offensive, painful, debilitating, stubborn and will sign unendurable.

Outward applications do not cure, they only drive the difficulty to new quarters. Emollients may palliate, they cannot abolish the evil. There is but one sure way out, and that is to eliminate the taint from the blood.

There is one remedy that can effect this, and it is the only one that, so far as we know, has almost invariably succeeded—even when the system has been poisoned by long years of taint, and the ravages to be repaired are tremendous. That remedy is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this:

"My daughter was afflicted with impure blood. Times were running sores all over her body and they caused her much suffering. We tried medicines that were recommended as blood purifiers, but could not see that they did any good. A friend told me about Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began giving the girl this medicine. The result was that she was perfectly cured and is now taking a few bottles. She has had no symptoms of scrofula since she took this." MARGETTA H. SMITH, South Middleboro, Mass.
