POLITICAL FABULUM.

Wells, H. W. Young, George D. Pyper and Messrs. Dale, Patrick and Jennings.

POLITICAL CHALLENGE.

Chairman Parsons of the Republican county committee has sent a challenge to Chairman Dunbar of the Democratic committee, as follows:

Your party, through its press and on the stump, is making the claim that Mr. Arthur Van Cott, Democratic nominee for county superintendent of public schools, is an intelligent superior of Mr. Charles A. Stephens, Republican candidate for that position. A challenge is hereby issued for Mr. Van Cott to discuss with Mr. Stephens any place in Salt Lake county, on any date prior to November 5, 1895, the question, "That Democrats are in all respects more competent than Republicans to preside as the public school system of Utah."

Mr. Van Cott is to take the affirmative. Details to be arranged by the chairmen of their respective parties."

Saratoga Rockers Win.

The Saratoga buckets and the Jersey Blues, a brace of pig skin kicking organizations composed of local school boys, met on the vacant premises back of the Morgan hotel yesterday afternoon. The meeting was a Waterloo for the blue Jerseys, the buckets from Saratoga completely vanquishing them. The score stood eight to a goose egg.

Primary Association.

The officers of the Primary association will hold their usual meeting on Friday, November 1st, at 2 p.m. at No. 14 E. South Temple street.

E. C. CLAWSON,
President.

People thoroughly of health insist on Dr. Price's Baking Powder.

County Court.

The county court held another session late yesterday afternoon and finished up the business before it.

County Attorney Whitemore returned one claim of O. H. Barber for $5 and recommended that the claimant be required to furnish an itemized statement. The bill is for arresting and delivering to the county jail one M. Marcelino Neiseo on a criminal charge.

Dr. H. Kern's claim of $93.75 for services as scalper in the Parrell matter was allowed.

The Big Cottonwood Power company asked for and was granted an extension of six months' time in which to complete its work. Granted.

After allowing further claims, footing up a total of $457.95 for the day, the court adjourned.

COURT MATTERS TODAY.

The Lake Investigation is Still in Progress—Other Business.

The charge of forgery against James A. Lake came up again today in U. S. Commissioner Hommer's court. The defendant did not put in an appearance up to 11 o'clock, and there was considerable talk of his having "skipped." He had reason of the strong showing made against him. Shortly after, however, he appeared, and the taking of evidence in his behalf followed. His witnesses testified that few summons was made on two boys on the Wright premises, but who these two boys were has not yet developed. Their identity may come to light before it is true, as is stated by some interested in the defense, that possibly service of summons was made at some other Wright residence in that locality where there were two boys. The defendant, however, insists that he made service at the proper place, while the witness for the prosecution emphatically denies that to be the fact. Today Attorney D. S. Streup counsel the prosecution and Attorney S. H. Lewis appeared for the defendant. The case has not finished when the NEWS went to press. It developed late in the afternoon, however, that the summons had been served on some other Mr. Wright than the one it was intended for.

DISTRICT COURT.

The only case before Judge Merritt in the Third district court today is that of Robert L. Boswell et al. vs. Mark T. Gaskins, which has been in progress for several days, in all the time was occupied in examining witnesses by the attorneys in the case.

NOTES.

The sheriff has arrested the Danielgill, Austin, who is alleged to have been the victim of Frank Meldrum on Oct 20 last. Meldrum's hearing on a charge of rape is to be begun in office this afternoon. The witnesses, however, are chiefly under the grand jury, so the hearing may be adjourned.

The trial of the cases of Salt Lake City vs. A. T. Schreiber and M. E. McKinney, cons. of intelligent jurors, is set for Thursday at 10 a.m., before U. S. Commissioner Hommer.

Attorney J. R. Rogers, about whom there was so much in the papers a few months ago, and who departed from town for a while and was said to have "skipped," is in the city again and was moving about among acquaintances today.

TRAFFIC CONFERENCE.

No Definite Action—Yesterday's Meeting Devoted to Discussion.

Up to the time of the adjournment of the traffic conference yesterday evening no definite action had been taken, the entire time having been devoted to a discussion of the Castleton-Utah rate proposition as against the Union Pacific-Utah scheme. The Santa Fe and the Rio Grande systems are strongly without representation, so far as the conference, although being interested parties in the situation, Freight Traffic Manager Morrow of the Union Pacific, although active in seeking some fair and fair agreement by his line making a low rate from the east to Utah for Utah, was not present at the conference, and indeed is more consistent upon and regretful. The Union Pacific representatives stated that would be able to take any decisive action without consulting superior officers.

The Southern Pacific's proposal is that as San Francisco desires to reach Salt Lake on a more favorable basis than Ogden, and all Utah merchants the cause is a common market, the Southern Pacific should be authorized to reduce the rates from San Francisco to Utah to the same rate for milk as charged by the existing Utah from the East—the eastern point at which to base such Canadian rate to be whatever eastern point actually joins issues with Utah in the market, the Southern Pacific claims San Francisco should be recognized as the point actually on the Pacific competing with eastern points at entry, namely, New York on the Atlantic and New Orleans on the Gulf, and, in the distribution of merchandise San Francisco should be recognized as the point actually on the Pacific coast, just as New York is the metropolis of the Atlantic seaboard; the interests of Utah jobbers to be taken care of by railroad commodity rates, and Ogden and Salt Lake to have the same rates from San Francisco. This proposition meets with no favor from the eastern roads, who see in it the prospect of a falling off in the trade from the east to Utah, because it is believed San Francisco, under the proposed plan, can successfully meet eastern competitors in many lines of goods, and of course Utah merchants will buy in the market that can lay goods down at their doors the cheapest.

The conference was in session today and a representation from the Utah Jobbers' Association is meeting with the railroad men in order to bring matters under discussion to a speedy settlement. The session was still on when the NEWS went to press, so the in view of the fact that the meetings are private, no news of today's doings can be given out; but it is thought that some announcements will be arrived at before adjournment today.

An Ogden Visitor.

C. D. Stack Esq., an Ogden real estate dealer, is down from the Junction city and taking in the sights of the capital.

County Court Thursday.

The county court will meet again on Thursday to make appropriations for salaries of persons in service of the county.

Price's Cream Baking Powder has always gained highest possible honors.

Marriage Licenses.

Five couples presented themselves in the county clerk today desiring permission to wed. That functionary accommodatingly made easy the first step in matrimonial infliction for the following parties: George C. Wharram, 27, and Zina Henderickson, 21, both of Draper; Joseph L. Ford, 49, of Washington, Washington county, and Matilda N. Sawyer, 40, of Salt Lake City; Newton Antrus, 24, and Juanita Barrett, 21, of Idaho Falls, Idaho; John W. Hashleson, 23, and Mary E. Smith, 22, of Upper Blue Lake Ward; Charles W. Kirk, 23, and Alice J. Ongley, 19, both of Salt Lake City.

Found the Woman.

The "girl" whom Frank Meldrum, of Sandy, is accused of outraging has proven to be Annie Peterson, aged 20 years. She was found last night by Deputy Sheriffs Thomas and Miller, after three days of hard work, and is now in Sandy. Meldrum the accused, is now in the county jail. It is stated that he took her to Sandy with him and brought her back the next day. Location at the saloon where the girl was, the officers were taken to trace her. She was found to have become identified with the Salvation Army and it was at the headquarters of that organization she was seen in her night, and whose she was. She was "Annie the Dude." The woman was taken to the county jail but said she could not understand some questions as to the occurrence upon which are based the charges against Meldrum.

THOMAS C. GEORGE,
Stake Supt.

Mr. Harris's Condition.

Word from St. Mary's hospital this afternoon is that Mr. Fisher S. Harris passed a very restless night, but during the day he has rallied somewhat and strong hopes are felt for his speedy recovery. His indomitable pluck is coming to his rescue and his friends—which means nearly everybody—are very glad to know that the prospects for seeing him around again are so bright.

Mrs. Wadsworth's Funeral.

The funeral of Mary A. E. Wadsworth, whose death is chronicled in another column of this issue of the NEWS, will take place from the Nineteenth ward meeting house at 1 p. m. tomorrow. The deceased was one of the Territory's pioneers, having come here in 1848. She was well and widely known throughout Utah as one of the early day school teachers. She was eighty-three years old.

A Fine Organization.

The organization of the Dunballer K. of P. lodge of thirty-five pieces is now almost completed and its membership is and in connection with an excursion for invitation. It is the intention to make it one of the best bands in the United States, the instrumentation to include clarinets, saxophones, basoons and French horns in addition to a full instrumentation in the brass section. The order of K. of P. is taking much interest in the organization and the members are making some good rehearsals. When the band is heard for the first time in public Salt Lake people will be surprised at its excellence.

Unity Hall Program.

This evening at Unity Hall, 44 south East Temple street, Professor Hopkins will speak upon the Psychic Factor in Evolution. His topics are as follows: First, Spencer's definition of life and its conditions thereon. Second, the mental factor and natural selection; the evolution of society the outcome of law. Third, the nature of progress; the individual and society. Admission free, and everybody invited.

MINOR MENTION.

The cold breeze today is strongly suggestive of an approaching biting frost.

This weather is favorable for the threshing and caring for the immense celery crop which has been raised this season.

Ogden is complaining of a remarkable increase of scarlet fever. It is to be hoped that Salt Lake will be able to ward off any attack of the awful disease.

The present week's political agitation seems to crowd out consideration of all other business except that which cannot possibly be crowded aside; and much that ought to be attended to is neglected.

The postoffice business in political circles in the Territory is fully as large now as in the holiday time. It is safe to say that the effect is not usually one of such unalloyed enjoyment as is that of the Christmas mail.

Prof. John M. Oroway, Massachusetts Institute of Technology,—"Price's Baking Powder is free from adulteration."

AMUSEMENTS.

The Gailey Stock was given to a large and appreciative audience last night at the Grand. It is a fine play, and the various parts were well played by the members of the company. Mr. Ingersoll, Miss McIntyre, Miss Morris and Miss Warren are seen to advantage in the parts, which indeed must be said of all the members of the company. The Gailey Stock should draw full houses this week as did Chas. Ellis.

The Iron Master will be seen again at the Lyceum this eve ing. Tomorrow the program changes to Jim the Penman.

AT THE THEATER.

Trilby comes, as previously announced, to the Theater on Saturday next for a matinee and an evening performance.

POLICE COURT.

Everything Calm as a Summer's Breeze Before Judge Smith Today.

Stillness reigned supreme in the police court chamber today, no punishment whatever being meted out to offenders of the law up to press time. The docket, which is at present presided over by Dennis C. Eichner, in the absence of Mr. John James, who is advocating the principles of Republicanism, bore the following inscriptions:

Jim Carter, charged with keeping a gambling house, had left $25.

The case of John F. Pratt, charged with a violation of the quarantine ordinance, in not reporting a case of scarlet fever which existed in his family, was continued until tomorrow at 2 p. m., as the prosecuting witness had failed to put in an appearance.

Roy Osborne was to be arraigned this afternoon for petit larceny, but a wait had to be made until the witnesses for the prosecution could be brought into court. The lad is 14 years of age, and is charged with stealing a watch belonging to William McKessel, who resides between Third and Fourth South and Tenth and Eleventh West streets. It is alleged by a man named Morris Higgins, that he saw young Osborne sell the watch in question, which is valued at $20, to a second hand dealer named Page, who afterwards sold it to a man in Park City. The boy, accompanied by his mother, was waiting for trial in the police court when the NEWS went to press.

William Travers appeared in the courtroom this morning to answer to having been drunk. His face was a sickening scene to look upon, it being a conglomerated mass of cuts and bruises, which the man alleged had been inflicted upon him by a tardier named Billy Fields and for whose arrest Travers ordered the issuance of a warrant. The warrant was issued, but up to 2 o'clock the man had not been landed in the halls of justice, although Travers swore that he would star around all afternoon rather than be defeated in landing his man in jail.

Price's Cream Baking Powder has the best standing because it is the best powder.

STOCKS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The stock market opened fairly active, prices at 10 o'clock were generally easier, a few gains of 1/8 to one point, industrial shares were being sold heavily, as at 11 a.m., business became very dull, prices declined 1/8, Chicago gas, 1½; large loss in sugar trading was shown on the market and the price fell 10 pts.

Despite the advance in the posted quotations of sterling exchange, by some leading houses and by 1/16 and 1/8 by others, some prices played higher during the greater part of the last hour. Near close strong bear demonstrations resulted in quite a recession.

Trading continued to 10½, and transfers aggregated 225,000 shares, the transactions in active issues had discouraged a way to interest the outsiders. It has been said bitterness that this was impracticable.
