NEWS OF THE MINES.

The Bulls and Bears Have a Good Day on 'Change.

TRADING IN MERCUR BRISK.

Sunshine Developing a Downward Tendency—Suit Against the Geyser —Pollock's Weekly Review.

No complaint can be made of the work on 'change today as the tickets [illegible] tolerably well. [illegible] stock was favored with three sales of one hundred shares each, and Mammoth and Sunshine were also brought in to record sales. The latter stock, however, showed a downward tendency, and sold at figures lower than have been given for the stock since the opening of the exchange.

Little Pittsburg was the center of speculation on the unlisted call and 7,000 shares changed hands, all of it going at 1½ cents. Crown, which made its first appearance on 'change yesterday was followed at 1,000 shares as was also Daisan. Movements on the remaining stocks were uninteresting.

The closing figures were as follows:

LISTED STOCKS.

MINES.	Asked.	Bid.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

UNLISTED STOCKS.

NAME.	Asked.	Bid.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

POLLOCK'S WEEKLY LETTER.

The Stock Market Moving Upward—A Boom Expected During the Next Sixty Days.

James A. Pollock says in his weekly mining stock market letter under date of today:

The whole market closes with an upward tendency, but business is somewhat restricted, and it is difficult to anticipate the course of the market. The inevitable spring boom should make its appearance during the next sixty days. I fully expect to see a sharp rise, and as things are shaping themselves, it would not surprise me to see it initiated much earlier than usual this year. People buying now have practical assurance of the realization of handsome profits.

Ajax made no material change, but just about held its own, some business being done in the stock. Alliance remained inactive. The last assessment has been very generally paid. Gas had levied an assessment of two cents per share, and as a result the stock slumped off several points. Anchor was even stronger than during the previous week, bidding being more active and offerings at considerable advanced prices.

Bogan was in more demand, even with the assessment delinquent. Bullion-Beck made a handsome advance, closing stronger than for several weeks. Stockholders feel confident that the usual 25 cent dividend will be paid next month, as the properties are reported to be in good shape and the shipments of ore continue as heavy as formerly.

The Centennial-Eureka has practically suspended ore shipments during the option, which runs to July, the work at the properties consisting almost entirely of development work, which is daily showing up greater and richer ore bodies than ever. The assessment on Dalton was practically all paid, the number of delinquent shares being comparatively small. The stock was in more demand than during the previous week, prices remaining about stationary. Daly showed good strength and there was no stock to be had at the previous week's figures. Reports from the mines are of the most encouraging nature and the stockholders continue firm in the belief that the ceased dividend will be paid in the near future. Daly-West also showed increased strength, bidding being active and prices advancing. Dalton and Lark will declare its monthly dividend on the first of the coming month. The management announces that the amount paid will not be less than in March, when it was ½ cent per share, and there may be an increase.

[illegible] year was only fairly active, sales being made at slightly shaded figures. The mill continues with regularity and the reports of the company are all very good. There was a slightly increased inquiry for Horn Silver, despite the expected passing of the regular quarterly dividend. Lucky Bill is reported to have encountered a very [illegible] change in the formation at the bottom of the shaft and the stock made a good advance. Little Pitts- burg rallied materially and even with the assessment practically delinquent sold at higher figures than during the previous week.

Mammoth continued strong and made slight advances in price. The improvements in the mines and mill now almost have not yet been made but are certain for the near future. Morgan (Lessor) was inactive. Mercur sold at somewhat lower figures early in the week, due to the efforts of several holders to realize on a quiet market. The stock showed increased vigor toward the end of the week and regained much of its lost strength. Everything at the properties is in the very best of shape with increased shipments of product being made. Ontario will pay 10 cents per share on the 1st. The stock was very strong above $15. Silver King has announced its regular dividend of 25 cents per share, payable on the 7th of April. The stock sold as high as $16.50, with little offered.

Sunshine did considerable business at about the previous week's figures. The owners are still maintaining their usual silence, but they refuse to sell any stock at figures away above the market, which should be a good sign for the stock holders. Something in the way of dividends should be heard in the near future.

Tetro is reported to have found the vein for which it was driving, but no inside information is given out. The tunnel is out of time and into splendid looking quartz. Utah and Galena were in demand. Eagle was one of the active stocks of the week, advancing from 10 to 15 cents in less than ten days. The properties are in the Camp Floyd district above the Rover and are said to have a splendid future.

A MINING CONTROVERSY.

Daniel S. Mosby Claims the Ownership of a Half Interest in the Geyser Mine.

A suit in which Matthew T. Gisborn, the Geyser Mining company and Emeline Dressler are made defendants, was planted in the Third district court yesterday afternoon by Daniel S. Mosby through his guardian William S. W. Mosby. The plaintiff in the case is now an inmate of an insane asylum at Santa Fe, N. M., where he has been confined for a number of years. He claims the ownership of an undivided one-half interest in the Geyser mine, in the Camp Floyd district, and alleges that Gisborn obtained a deed to the property through false and fraudulent misrepresentation.

The complaint sets up that on November 6, 1890, the defendant Gisborn deeded to the plaintiff an undivided one-half interest in the Geyser claim for $2,000, the deed being recorded in the office of the Recorder of Tooele county on November 22, 1890, and about two years thereafter, letters patent were issued to Gisborn and Mosby. Shortly after this Mosby lost his mind, when it is alleged that Gisborn through false and fraudulent misrepresentation set out and secured [illegible] Mosby's interest in the property. Dickson, Ellis and Ellis are the plaintiff's attorneys.

A LAUDABLE ENTERPRISE.

A Canal to Be Taken Out in Idaho Which Will Furnish Water For 35,000 Acres.

In a letter to the News from Thomas Green, Marysville, Idaho, the information is given that the America Land and Irrigation company, which has recently incorporated with a capital of $[illegible], is about to take out a canal which is expected to carry 25,000 inches of water. The terminus of the canal will be twenty-five miles from where the water is taken from the Snake river and all told will cover about 35,000 acres of land, which our correspondent states is "just as good a land as can be found in this world."

Dips and Spurs.

A contract has just been let for the sinking of a 100-foot shaft in the property of the Mercur Gold Mining and Milling company in the Fooptone district.

Messrs. John Dern and E. H. Airis were the purchasers yesterday of Hudson Smith's interest in the Silver Lode Mining and Milling company. The consideration was $20,000.

THE RAILWAY SOUTH

Line that Will Go via St. George, Utah, to Los Angeles.

NOT WESTWARD FROM MILFORD,

But Southward, through Arizona, Along the Virgin River, to the Terminal Railway.

A dispatch from Los Angeles, Cal., in relation to the railway projects for connecting southern California with Salt Lake City, says that much has been written concerning the Nevada Southern railway. Mr. Woodbury, who is now in Los Angeles, says he is only waiting for the expiration of the period within which the road may be redeemed. This occurs on April 18th, or about three weeks from now. If the money is not forthcoming, he says, he will proceed with the construction and extend the line to Good Springs.

Opposed to Woodbury's statement that he has funds with which to extend the road, a pamphlet lately issued by his company urging the miners to enter into contracts for the transportation of ores from the mines by steam wagons to the railway, is instructive. In this a plain intimation is given that, without such contracts the company will be unable to secure funds with which to extend the road, a palpable admission of financial weakness. Those in a position to express an opinion are not slow to say that so far as Los Angeles is concerned no reliance should be placed on the Nevada Southern. Another transcontinental line must come, if it come at all, by another route.

While so much is being said in Southern California about building a railroad to Salt Lake, it is pleasing to know that the Mormons are actually engaged in railway construction north and south from Cedar City, Utah. Wilford Woodruff, the President of the Mormon Church, George Q. Cannon, and other leading Mormons are interested.

They are said to have an understanding with the St. Louis owners of the Terminal Railway by which they will gain entrance to Los Angeles. Surveys have been made in behalf of this Mormon syndicate, and the stakes have been followed by a man now in this city. From him it is learned that two tunnels only will be needed in building to Southern California, one 500 or 600 feet in length back of Pasadena, and another 5,000 feet near Rock Creek. The Utah Southern will be reached at Milford, 225 miles from Salt Lake, the immediate object being to tap the rich coal and iron district around Cedar City.

Coming south the first town of importance reached is St. George. There a large smelter, woolen and cotton mills are located, all owned by Mormons. That is a rich agricultural and mining country. It already produces enough to insure good freight receipts. In its southern course the road will follow the Virgin river through the northwestern corner of Arizona, passing then through the Muddy and Las Vegas valleys, across the Atlantic and Pacific Railway west of Barstow, from which place, according to the statement, the road will connect directly with the Terminal Railway. If built, the road will place Los Angeles within twenty-four hours' ride of Salt Lake City.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, - MARCH 27, 1896.

THE DEFENSE.

Harry Hayes Claims He was Not at Pelican Point in February, 1895.

Yesterday morning in the Hayes murder case, Sheriff Brown exhibited before the jury a blanket having large spots of blood on it, and a quilt with a corner cut off, which he had found in the Hayes cabin after the boys' bodies were found.

The prosecution announced that this closed the direct testimony and Mr. Whitecotton made the opening statement for the defense, which was in brief that they would prove the defendant was at Eureka all the time between the 11th and the 23rd of February, 1895, and consequently could not have been at Pelican Point on the 16th when the murder is alleged to have been committed. Mrs. Hayes and another witness would also testify that she had never accused defendant of killing her boy.

The first witness called was a Mrs. Gates of Eureka; she testified that at the time when Mr. Lombard [illegible] Joseph and George Hyde testified Mrs. Hayes had said Hayes had killed her son, she said, "Oh, Lombard, they have killed my son." She testified on cross-examination that she thought it strange that Hayes wanted to keep the finding of the body quiet. Mrs. Hayes testified in a similar manner as to the language she used on the occasion referred to, and further testified that her husband was in Eureka from the 11th of February till the 22nd.

The defendant next took the stand and testified that he had been in Eureka all the month of February; he [illegible] at the conversation [illegible] the Lombard's in regard to going to the ranch, and denied all knowledge of how the boys were murdered. He was subjected to a lengthy cross-examination and denied having said the boys had gone to Arizona; he had said he "thought" they had gone because a letter to that effect had been said to Mrs. Hayes, and he knew Albert had relatives there. He was also asked to explain that the "Black outfit" had killed the boys so as to create such a fear in his mind that he would never go to the ranch again. Some of his testimony [illegible] from the [illegible] of the prisoner's request, he denied having given, and explained his [illegible] wishing to keep the finding of the body quiet by saying that he [illegible] he would be better able to find the property taken from the ranch if he got out a search warrant, and if found the property that would lead to the discovery of the murderers. He claimed that the fact of finding some of the clothing belonging to the boys at the cabin, after they had disappeared, did not make him think they had met with foul play, and he suspected nothing till Albert's body was found, and for that reason he made no effort to find out how and why the boys had gone.

F. A. Harris, John Hart, R. G. Wilson, Joseph Hoover and Ed. Templeton testified that Hayes had been in Eureka on various dates from the 11th to the 27th. R. M. Wilson and Daniel Kelly were positive he had been there on the day the 16th (the day the boys are charged to have been killed). Mr. Shook, however, on cross-examination said that Hayes at one time during the month had come into the store and bought some stew which he said he was going to take to the ranch that afternoon.

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, - MARCH 27, 1896.

Death of W. S. Stone.

William Sidney Stone died quite suddenly at his residence on Madison avenue yesterday morning at about 11 o'clock. Mr. Stone was suffering from a severe cold and went home on the previous evening to take a sweat and try and get relief from his troubles. He retired to bed at 10 o'clock and remarked that he was feeling quite badly. At half past seven yesterday morning Mrs. Stone went to his room and found him sleeping and tried in her attempt to arouse him. She did not try to disturb his rest again until 10:30, when he was breathing quite heavily, and being unable to arouse him, his wife became alarmed and sent for Dr. Joyce. The latter came and called in Dr. Conroy. They could do nothing for him and he died at noon. The cause of death was congestion of the heart. Mr. Stone was well known; he came from Birmingham, England, in 1855, since which time he has resided in Ogden, except a short residence at [illegible].

Notes.

A fire yesterday morning at the residence of Attorney Beckwith's did damage to the amount of $2,000; insured for $3,375.

Yesterday a party of Union Pacific railroad officials visited the works at the Power dam in Ogden canyon.

Cut it in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

It is the medicine above all others for catarrh, and is worth its weight in gold. I can use Ely's Cream Balm with safety and it does all that is claimed for it.—B. W. Sperry, Hartford, Conn.
