THE FEELING AT HEADQUARTERS.

A News reporter called at Republican Territorial headquarters this afternoon and asked Chairman Cross what plurality he conceded to Mr. Rawlins. He replied: "Fifteen hundred; not more than that."

The Liberal headquarters was visited immediately afterwards. Messrs. Lippman and Leonard were busily engaged in settling accounts of persons having claims against the committee. They both looked physically and mentally tired and did not receive their appointees. They said, however, that they were more than pleased regarding the Salt Lake county election, and said with a broad grin of satisfaction: "We are once more on top."

"What do you know about the Territorial election?"

"Nothing, absolutely nothing."

"What do you estimate Mr. Allen's vote at, and what will Mr. Rawlins' plurality be?"

"We have not the slightest means of ascertaining."

"Does Judge Powers know?"

"We cannot tell you that. He has not been at headquarters today."

The Democratic leaders were very cheerful over the result of the Territorial election and spent a good deal of the day in congratulating each other. At 5:30 this afternoon, Chairman C. C. Richards was asked: "What is Mr. Rawlins' plurality?"

"From 1500 to 4000. Not a vote less than 4000. Returns from the outside counties are coming in slow, and all are giving majorities for Rawlins."

BEAVER IS DEMOCRATIC.

Late advices state that Beaver gave Rawlins 297 votes, Cannon 108, and Allen 27. Beaver also elected its entire Democratic ticket.

THE MORMAN IN COMMA.

The official count in Ogden was not concluded at 8:15 p. m. today, but enough is developed to show that the head of the Liberal ticket has about 500 plurality. Patterson, Republican, from the Third precinct and Harvey, Democrat, from the first, for the city council are elected, but with these exceptions the Liberals made a clean sweep.

In the county the chances favor the election of the Democratic candidates for clerk, recorder and possibly sheriff, the remainder being undoubtedly Liberal.

The race between Rawlins and Cannon in Weber county is very close and it will require a completed count to decide it.

LATEST COURT NEWS.

Trial of a Farmer for Alleged Sheep Stealing at Draper.—Civil Business.

The trial of William Duerden on a charge of stealing thirty-two sheep, the property of James W. W. Fitzgerald, of Draper, on May 19, 1892, was commenced in Judge Zane's court this afternoon. Assistant District Attorney Stephens prosecuted, Powers and Hiles defended.

Both the prosecutor and defendant are farmers of Draper, and the sheep in question were sent out to herd in May last. It is alleged that they were then stolen and found afterwards shut up in a shed on Duerden's premises, but by whom they were driven there the complainant was unable to state. He identified the sheep by certain "natural" marks upon them; they had, however, been shorn since last seen by him.

The defense appears to be that the defendant purchased the sheep from another man in a bona fide way.

OTHER COURT CASES.

In the horse case John H. Bailey vs. H. Clawson et al., tried in Judge Zane's court this morning, the jury this afternoon returned a verdict for the plaintiff and assessed the damages at $25.

In the case of the Westinghouse Air Brake Co. vs. the Salt Lake & Fort Douglas Railway Co., leave has been granted to amend the complaint by making the Utah Central Railway Co. a party defendant.

The case of Pattibone, Milliken Co. vs. the Utah Central Railway Co. was taken under advisement.

In the case of the Salt Lake City Brewing Co. vs. Peter Clays, the defendant withdrew his answer, and judgment, by consent, was entered for the amount claimed, $90 and interest, leaving $710.54 due.

SELF-CONFESSED.

Frank Barrett, a Sneak Thief, Pleads Guilty to Burglary.—His Pal Proclaiming His Innocence.

Frank Barrett is the name of a well dressed, sleek looking individual who plead guilty in the police court this morning to burglary. He was arrested by Captain Donovan yesterday afternoon at his room at 323 south, West Temple street, in company with an associate who gave his name as F. E. Blake, who was also taken into custody on the same charge and who plead not guilty in the police court this afternoon. In their possession was a considerable amount of clothing stolen from the Spry and Greenberg laundry establishments some time ago. Blake stoutly proclaims his innocence. Both men are said to be clever crooks.

Amusement Notes.

"Nisbe," which will be presented at the Theatre on Friday and Saturday matinee and evening, is said to be among the cleverest of modern comedies. The piece has drawn large houses everywhere.

CLARA MORRIS

is always assured of a cordial welcome in Salt Lake. She is not only an actress of unusual and wonderful genius, but is a woman of rare intelligence and loving qualities. In all her portrayals this intelligence is shown, and my performance of here is certain to satisfy critics of it to compel the admiration of her hearers. On Monday evening Sardou's powerful play "Odette" will be given. It was seen here during Miss Morris' last visit, and was much admired. Tuesday evening for the first time in this city her own adaptation from the German, "Claire," will be the bill. An excellent company surrounds the famous star and a finished and powerful performance is to store for theater goers. The advance sale of seats opens Friday morning.

WONDERLAND.

Today is the last of the engagement of the two great attractions, Mr. Sandeen, the mind-reader, and Mr. Sampson, the Hercules of the age. A new programme with new attractions in all departments will be announced tomorrow. The ladies who go to Wonderland today will receive a neat little souvenir.

A CACHE FOUND.

A Lot of Alleged Stolen Goods Discovered by the Police.

The police last evening discovered the following list of goods supposed to be stolen: Five overcoats, eleven complete suits of clothes, several odd coats and vests, a silver watch made by the Hartford Watch company, movement No. 82,303; a diamond bar pin, one karat stone; diamond scarf pin, one and a half karat stone; diamond ring, coiled serpent, two stones one-third karat each; one-fourth dozen dress shirts, bearing the name and trade mark of Samuel Hahn, Salt Lake; a fine cross cull, a Bradleigh Prince Albert, and one pair doe-skin trousers; a half dozen heritage or summer shirts, a dozen suits of fine underwear, a lot of silk handkerchiefs and other articles.

They were found in a dilapidated shack in the middle of the block, between Second and Third South, and between Second and Third West streets, occupied by William H. Knox, a colored man. Knox was arrested for having stolen goods in his possession and is now in the city jail awaiting a hearing. The police say that the proof of Knox's guilt is conclusive. Other members of the colored society are suspected and will probably be arrested this evening.

W. N. Wood, a suspected accomplice, has been taken into custody. The officers say that they also have a clear case against Wood.

NOTICE

To the L. D. S. Sunday Schools of Salt Lake City.

It is proposed to hold memorial services in the Tabernacle on Sunday, Nov. 13th, at 11 a. m., in recognition of the services and death of Elder David Hoagland Cannon, and also the other faithful missionaries who have died while distant from their homes in the missionary field. This is deemed a fitting occasion for the presence of the officers, teachers and members of the Sunday school; they are hereby invited to be present, superintendents are requested to commence their schools promptly on that date, hold brief services and arrange for the marching of those capable, by escorting the youngest members, to the Tabernacle, where seats will be reserved for them, by 10:30 o'clock a. m.

From the Mission Field.

Elder Albert F. Haycock, of Panguitch, arrived in this city yesterday, having concluded a mission to England. He left home for the mission field exactly two years from the date of his return to Utah. He labored for the first eighteen months in the Leeds conference, and the latter part of the time was spent in the Birmingham conference. Elder Haycock met with some little opposition, but this he in no way, he says, discourages the missionaries, who try in every way to bring the Gospel before the people among whom they seek to labor.

Brother Haycock started for Panguitch this morning. He is in the enjoyment of good health, and has had a pleasant and profitable mission abroad.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

Two Divorces Granted. These and Other Small Matters Make Up the Docket's Log.

There was an unusually large attendance of members of the bar when the Third district court opened this morning. The all absorbing topic was politics, and there seemed to be a general indisposition among those present to settle down to legal work. Judge Zane heard a couple of divorce complaints to begin the day with and granted the usual decrees; then a few informal matters were taken up, and one by one the lawyers filed out, until at 11 o'clock very few remained. The following cases were disposed of:

DIVORCES.

Laura Hunt vs. Samuel A. Hunt was a suit for divorce.

The parties intermarried in this city in the year 1887, but soon afterwards the defendant went mooning off into wilmut giving the slightest reason, and has ever since absented himself from her. He is now living, it was stated, in Yorkshire, England, and had married again. Plaintiff has been obtaining a livelihood by teaching music. The decree of divorce was granted on the ground of abandonment.

Le Grand Young was the plaintiff's counsel.

Eliza T. Higgs vs. David Higgs was the title of another divorce action, failure to provide being the ground of the complaint.

The parties were married in this city in December, 1891, but from the first the defendant had neglected to provide for his wife, and still refuses to do so. She has consequently been largely dependent on the charity of friends.

A. N. Taylor was the plaintiff's attorney, and he having adduced the damaging legal statements of facts, the court granted the decree prayed for.

SHORT ORDERS.

In the case of the Pierpont Manufacturing Co. vs. L. B. Olsen, the demurrer was overruled.

Joseph C. Pikon vs. Harriet Harbert et al. A decree was granted quieting title to the case.

Henry Dinwoodey Furniture Co. vs. Mrs. Katharine Frilsch et al.; motion of the defendant to open default and for leave to answer was argued by Judge Powers for the defendant and by attorney J. H. Moyle for the plaintiff and overruled.

E. C. Coffin Hardware Co. vs. J. H. Walts et al. On motion of Attorneys Haight and Anderson, for the defendant, continuance was allowed at defendant's cost.

OVER A HORSE.

John R. Bailey vs. H. Clawson et al. This was a dispute about a horse and it was left with the Court to decide, both sides waiving a jury. The animal was seized under an attachment on a chattel mortgage, and the legality of the proceeding was questioned.

HE STEPS OUT.

Deputy Marshal Abe Dyer, having been requested by Marshal Parsons to tender his resignation, has complied with the demand. He is therefore no longer on the force, much to the regret of his colleagues, with whom he was quite popular. The reason for the move is said to be a political one.

THE SURVEY DIFFICULTY AGAIN.

Martin Lenzi today brought suit in the Third district court against Fred S. Hadra to recover possession of a certain small strip of land which it is alleged the defendant unlawfully holds under a recent survey.

California Homes.

A considerable portion of California is admirably adapted by nature for comfortable homes. There is perhaps no place in the world where a family of moderate means to begin with, and of industrious habits, can live so easily, enjoying not only the comforts but even the luxuries of life.

Instead of being, as many suppose, a place where only the wealthy can enjoy life, it is peculiarly adapted to homes of thrifty people who earn their daily bread, and while one without means would undoubtedly find it very difficult to get a start, a man with a small capital can very soon surround himself with luxuries that only the wealthy can enjoy elsewhere.

A small tract of land across not at most twenty, is enough, which can be purchased at a reasonable price, if outside of a "boom" district. With intelligence and industry used in planting and cultivating it, an income is certain. It unfold be part orchard and part vineyard. While the trees and vines are being brought into bearing, enough is materially contribute to the maintenance of the family can be grown between the rows, and if the neighborhood has been well selected, every member of the family able and willing to work can find pleasant and remunerative labor in orchards and vineyards near by, and minister to the support of the family while squaring the mortgage and call necessary to the planting of their own crop.

The third year a considerable return may be expected from the vineyard, and from a part of the orchard. As the work has all been done within the family, this will be nearly all net income. The next year and thereafter there will be work enough, and returns enough to the home place.

Costly buildings are not necessary, for the climate is such that to much of the state life in the open air is entirely pleasant for three consecutive days in the year.

In the Coast range of mountains, between San Francisco and Monterey, are many such homes. At first they were made on the valley land on either side of the range. Year after year they have crept up into the little valleys between the spurs of the foot-hills. Then on to the foot-hills, and in many places close to the summit. All through they have found excellent and good pure water, and everywhere an exceedingly healthful climate. Nestled in these little valleys are some of the most delightful places in the world. So mild is the climate that fuchsias and geraniums grow all winter and the family garden is planted in the fall, yielding good crops of peas, potatoes and any semi-hardy vegetables in February.

There is plenty of land, equally productive, now in the market and at low prices, and persons looking for a location for a comfortable home should not fail to visit this promising region.

The Santa Cruz Division of the Southern Pacific company's Pacific System taps this range of mountains near the southern extremity, the two long tunnels passing under the main tunnel.

For further information as to this locality, and how it is reached, call upon or address the following named officers of the Southern Pacific company: T. H. Goodman, general passenger agent, Pacific system, San Francisco, Cal., or D. H. Gray, general agent, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Why Visit California?

The most pointed and sensible answer is because it will do you a world of good. Seeking after knowledge, health, wealth, and the many other good things of life is the spirit of this age, and one of the most agreeable means to their attainment is travel. In all good endeavors, like charity, if possible should begin at home.

It is not the best evidence of good purpose to attempt the fulfillment to far away places. Sir Launfal searched the whole world in search of the Holy Grail, only to return after a lifetime of wasted endeavor, broken in body and spirit, to find it lying at his own threshold. We point the moral by asking: Why go to Europe for sights and delights and to be like that can be well had in California, not one whit lacking in quality, and at less cost? Why go to Switzerland for scenery that is surpassed in Yosemite and equaled in many other portions of California? Why travel half around the world to Alpine Alps, when the Sierras are just as magnificent? Why indulge to such extravagant praise of Lucerne and Geneva without knowing the beauties of Tahoe and Clear Lakes, and the wildness of Crater Lake? Why spend a fortune and risk life taking your ashes and life to Carlsbad, Vichy, Kissingen or Weissenburg, when so much nearer are Bartlett Springs, Harbin Springs, the Geysers, Napa Soda Springs, Paso Robles Hot Springs, Byron Hot Springs, and a score more equally famous for their cures? Why struggle so hard to scale Matterhorn and Blanc, when grand old Shasta towers equally high? Why go to Italy for climate that can be found quite as genial in California? Why boast so of European caravanseries and watering places, when Del Monte leads the world in beauty, elegance, delightful hospitality and moderate charges? Why sighing in such amazement at the engineering feats of Pilatus and St. Gothard, when equal difficulties have been achieved over the Sierras, and through the Siskiyous by the Southern Pacific Company? The three routes of the Southern Pacific company will take you to any desired locality, the "Sunset" by way of New Orleans, through Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and into the southern portion of California; the "Ogden" by way of Ogden, through Utah, Nevada, and over the Sierra Nevada mountains; and the "Shasta" by way of Portland, through Oregon and the Siskiyou mountains into the northern part of California. These routes afford splendid opportunities of viewing the country through which they pass, and the visitor will never regret having taken the trip.

These significant questions have been all answered in the true patriotic way by the Southern Pacific company. Know the worth, beauties and wonders of your own country first. If you are in search of pleasure, health, scenery, a place to build a home, genial climate, a land rich in the bounteous gifts of nature, ask any agent of the company for information, or send to D. H. Gray, General Agent, 15 east First South street, Salt Lake City, or T. H. Goodman, General Passenger Agent, San Francisco, Cal., for California literature, guides, maps, etc., answering all questions.
