ROUSING RALLY.

The Democrats Again Hold Forth at Walker's Pavilion.

THE LIBERAL ADMINISTRATION

Severely Handled by Several of the Speakers.

Walker's pavilion was filled to overflowing last night with a most enthusiastic gathering of Democrats. To the audience were many ladies. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Fisher jr., chairman of the Democratic municipal committee.

C. E. WILLIAMS

was the first speaker. He said:

"When the idea of organizing on party principles was announced, I was pleased and decided by that party of prominence that is not based on principles entitled to perpetuation, and we were invited to caucuses. Any voter who had sand with us then was a traitor. Traitor to what? To that little party that is responsible for a purpose that was so inconsiderate. Pulled up with a little hitch yesterday, I gave intimation that I was with you, and present that it was safe to join with us in temporary truce. (Applause.) And with this new place did they undertake to make a party that had no inception in the birth of this great government and has no foundation in modesty. (Applause.)

"Six weeks from tonight following the meeting here last night of the Liberal convention, I say after the gathering of a convention that came here frightened with fear. Yes, they gathered together with fear and trembling, and after a discussion of five minutes in Utah. It really announced to caught but a most pleasant opposition to Democracy.

"The time has come when we must have a change. We are in bondage to you and to me and to every citizen of this territory. The Democratic party believes in local self-government, in home rule, in equality and an accommodation of the law that does not make of a people dependent upon parliament by a minister from the seat of the sovereign nation. Applause. Tonight we come before the people of this territory and of the United States, supposed to be our great party principles of government. They are the principles of any man in Salt Lake City, aye, in the United States. They come from that organization in the past to liberty, for truth and for progress and improvement in our nation. (Applause.)

"To those men in office, suffering in the enjoyment of liberty's inherent, of your rights and prosperity and protection will follow you. I say that it is time to put your house secured of the protection of the law. (Applause.) You have paid your money for government and paying power. Now, I say, by any of your own makers, do you not pay power? Do you make laws? Then shall we go back upon ourselves? Shall we go to call upon Mayor Lee for the appointment of a special police force. (Applause.) A party that has the intelligence and ability in addition to holding a majority in such a manner deliver a year for the term of its administration, a million or more a year, deserves to be rebuked in where it is going next Monday—'Old Salt' answer." (Applause.)

J. H. WALDEN.

"I believe that this present election is a mistake. I do not think we should put in a lot of great men to vote for any for sale in office. The Democratic Legislature waited 8, and I think it would be better to make those men in other counties belong. Governor Thomas thought to throw woke up to three times after expressing a real cause which came from Fat Lamon. Very interesting time to view the election and to hold. Applause.

"Why did he appoint that bill? Where came the influence? Where of the Judges? Where the Clerks? Where did to go? Why from Fat Lamon. Applause.

"To proceed, I have in my hands a resolution of Tooele days. Taxation is most highly. Liberal Liberal ticket was which was proved I should be proud to cancel income. Where, ah where, the fathers of the house. Laughter. A few days ago I was in the office of the others, in the words of the poet, had to go where the weathers is cold. Laughter.

"There have got one great lawyer their present ticket. He seems to be by trade a man. Hard, determined, I said to Mr. John Dooly, Do you think it is right to move Wells, Fargo & Co's bank into the city office? Why should he? Why should Harry Dalton others go to go to position of Sheriff? Why for one thousand days Mr. Dooly wing? Hardy, the great man who leads the Democratic party, should resign for one dollar in it. Applause. No, it is because Harry, the beautiful, so young Mr. Dooly, called him, where the earth and the fulness thereof. Laughter.

"You have nominated me for this office, and to the best of my ability, I will do all in my power to get it. Applause.

A. H. SCOTT.

"Salt Lake has always been my home. I never have stolen and I have nothing to be ashamed of doing so. And I tell you that my children will always make it their home. (Applause.) Before we begin to be concerned in the great questions of peace and tranquility, Whether our homes are to be protected from burglaries and our streets from holdups, or whether we are to keep in power a few men bent on the ruin of the city. Applause. There is only one ticket before you by which you can rid yourselves of these features. On the Republican ticket there is not one good man, and every man here knows that there is not the slightest hope for them. If the men of this party have at heart the interests of the city and think that the Liberal party is its enemy they should gladly welcome the chance to destroy them. (Applause.)

J. R. TEASDEL.

"My friends, there is victory in the air for the Democratic ticket tonight. I delightedly view the fact that there is a colossalized interest why the Liberal party should be crucified. (Applause.) Yes, if there were no other, is that the success in the Liberal party means the retention of the present police force. I have tried for a long time to think of something Lind sort or said to compare his police force with. (Laughter.) I have finally concluded that when the boys of the Liberal party selected this force he had in mind Shakespeare's character of Dogberry. 'Remember, forsooth, your authority is be the most cock and sensitive of mortals.' Laughter. And if ever you meet a thief remember to let him escape, that the community may be rid of a big nuisance. (Laughter.)

"The selection of such a force is enough to make every honest man go up and take the Democratic ticket on Monday. (Applause.) I say, to you men there is victory in the air tonight for the Democratic ticket. (Applause.) I ask you as honest men if the Liberal party keep one of its members. Did anyone tell you that we are trying to debauch our vights. I know of one little precinct where I know that there were twenty registered Liberal voters. Then it was on the more successes, and I agreed to succeed. Professor Cox, every man was in to go to the polls and see that the ballot shall not be demanded. Make it no wonder, that when you appeal for work you shall not have to carry a blister wrong that you vote the Liberal ticket. (Applause.) It degrades our sense of manhood. They say there is no chance here that conditions outside the state. This does not apply to the Liberal party. Surely on this one change doth follow another so quickly that that road on the road of each other. There are two of them. One day man set how many more will go to Sacramento? They have been weighed and found wanting. (Applause.)

LE GRAND YOUNG.

"Democratic Lam I would rather see the Republicans victorious than the Liberal. I care nothing for a party without principles but they will save the. (Applause.) It is against the Republicans that we must round up our votes, for it is against them we are fighting. Everybody knows that the Liberal party is composed of the men of Republicans. The abolition of the Democratic ticket means ruin and disgrace to the city and disgrace and principles on which a state may stand forever, or else the election of a party that is that is not worth anybody.

CORONEL LEVY

made a humorous speech during which he said:

"I saw Mayor Scott last night and he said, 'Colonel, we are all ready for you in the office. You ought to have it without doubt.'" (Applause and laughter.)

UTAH LEGISLATURE.

COUNCIL.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

As we went to press yesterday the bill entitled C. F. 25, relating to the incorporating and regulating of metropolitan with the amendments made by the House, was being considered. None of the amendments were not concurred in, and in order to reach a satisfactory settlement, a committee consisting of Peters and Haynes was appointed to confer with a like conference committee from the House. A communication was received from the House, stating that H. F. 18, providing for the suppression of the dissemination of infectious and contagious diseases among live stock, had passed that body.

Also that H. F. 27, relating to the practice of dentistry in the Territory, had passed with its amendments. Referred back to committee on public health.

Hoskin's bill introduced in the beginning of the session and which authorizes the special school tax collector, in consideration of an act entitled "An act to provide for a uniform system of free schools throughout Utah," approved March 15, 1890, to refund said tax to the persons who paid the same. It reads as follows:

Be it enacted by the Governor and Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Utah:

Section 1. That in all cities of the first class, which at the time of the passage of the act entitled "An act to provide for a uniform system of free schools throughout Utah Territory, approved March 15, 1890," contained at more than 3000 inhabitants, wherein special taxes of varying percentages had been levied and collected in the year next of that year, the board of education is hereby authorized under such power and jurisdiction as it may deem proper to refund such tax money as it may have received to such taxpayers as may have paid the special school tax under the amount without rebate that they have so paid, on the presentation of their tax receipts, or affidavit to show that they have paid such taxes.

Sec. 2. The funds to meet the cost of such repayment shall be provided by the sale of bonds, the authority to issue which shall, then been granted by the voters at an election held at a regular or called meeting. Any residue of such funds after the full repayment of the bonds shall be used by the board of education under its jurisdiction, for the purchase of school sites, the erection of school buildings, or for general school purposes.

Sec. 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

SECOND READING OF BILLS.

C. J. M. 4, asking Congress to turn the "Constitutional Home" into a home for deaf mutes, was read the second time. Rules were suspended interfering with its third reading and the measure passed.

Dunn's requested that the bill be placed on the table for the time being, so he desired to interview Mr. Lawrence relative to the condition of the "Home." He was not opposed to the passage of the measure but wanted a little time to investigate the matter further. Granted, and the bill made special order for Monday next.

C. F. 21, for the payment of jurors, witnesses and photographic reporters, and defining the duties of court commissioners, printing in third reading was made special order next Wednesday.

At 5:25, adjourned until today at 2 p. m.

HOUSE.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

The election committee reported on H. F. 1, in relation to holding elections and fixing the tenure of office, presenting therefor a substitute, recommending the passage. Adopted, with an order that the substitute be printed.

The committee on mines and mining reported back H. F. 20, to amend section 273 Compiled Laws, without action, being unable to find the words referred to—"Sunday" and "Sundays" in the reference books. This bone proved an error, "Sun" meaning "four" and "Sun" "Sun." It was, on motion of Mr. Lewis, referred back to the committee on Counties.

The committee on education reported back H. F. 23, in relation to the sale of lands for the benefit of the Utah University, recommending its passage. Adopted.

The committee on live stock reported back H. F. 63, to amend Sec. 2264, recommending its passage with an amendment. Adopted.

Pike presented (H. F. 76), a bill for an act to prevent and punish the adulteration of food and prevent the sale thereof. Committee on public health.

Marshall presented (H. F. 77), a bill for an act to prevent the driving or herding of sheep within two miles of cities of the first and second class. Committee on live stock.

Ferry presented (H. J. M. 6), being a petition to Congress against the passage of the Faulkner and Teller bills. After the reading, it is simply the "Liberal" resolutions adopted at the "Liberal" convention Thursday evening slipped lustily from the Press and pasted on the sheet. The "memorial" was read at length.

Ferry moved that it go to the committee on resolutions leaving out modifying remarks. Seconded.

Arnett moved that it be referred to John Winnett, of Nephi, for correction. Seconded and carried.

J. D. Irvine brought "Roberts' rules of order" to bear, showing that to the House it was orderly if had no place and could not be debated.

Sargent moved an amendment to Arnett's motion, that "the things to be referred to" be stricken out and the place on the records. Seconded and carried.

Wright was excused for the day.

On motion of Ferry, it was ordered that when the House adjourn tomorrow it be till Tuesday next.

The special order (H. F. 3) was then taken up, after which some debate and proceedings were had, and then

C. F. 41, by Glendinning, a bill for an act for the relief of associations, organized under and operating thing business on the building society plan, was read the third time.

The bill was the source a great deal of discussion, Pierce, W. H. Irvine, J. D. Irvine speaking in favor and Ferry and Marshall opposing it.

Arnett's motion to strike out the enacting clause resulted in a tie vote, and the speaker declared it lost. Marshall insisted on the speaker placing himself on record, and after a moment's hesitation that official voted aye, thus killing the bill.

A Council message related that it had concurred in all amendments, except those on page three, made by the House to C. F. 32, the Metropolitan City bill, and that they had appointed Peters and Haynes to confer with a like committee from the House on the same. The report was agreed to, and the Speaker appointed Arnett and Marshall.

At 4 o'clock, on motion of Pierce, the House adjourned until today at 2 p. m.

PROVO PARAGRAPHS.

An Interesting Budget of News from the "Garden City."

The political fever is at its height. The Democrats are confident of success in the municipal election, and the Republicans feel sure they will win. Both tickets are "A 1." The "Liberals" are not in the race. They will not pull Kip votes.

"Indigo," presented by the Carleton Opera Company, gave a select and refined audience at the Opera House last night.

District court will be in session in a few days. It is expected that a great legal battle will be fought in the Cline-Hite murder case. Hite has retained the services of Judge Powers and other eminent counsel. The prosecution will be conducted by John M. Zane and J. L. Rawlins, who they will both work as they never worked before.

B. Y. ACADEMY NOTES.

The Normal, published by the Normal Association, and The Business Journal, published by the commercial students of the academy, are both in a prosperous condition.

The students have now become accustomed to the new building, four recitations and other improvements, and they begin to appreciate them.

In the library no classes are held. From 9 o'clock in the morning until 4:30 in the evening students may be found here, preparing their lessons and gathering knowledge from their text books.

Rapid progress is being made in the military drill, under instruction of Lieut. Johnston, of Fort Douglas. The ladies also have commenced drilling, and will soon uniform.

The Mutual Improvement classes taught by Dr. Hardy are well attended and are making rapid progress. These classes are a new feature of the Academy, but they are destined to become very popular.

Quite a number of the students are availing themselves of the knowledge to be obtained by attending the lectures delivered by Hon. J. E. Booth, William H. King, L. L. D., D. D. Home, Esq., and E. A. Wilson, Esq.

The normal training school, a new feature of the Academy, promises to render valuable assistance, both in the Church schools and district schools, by furnishing teachers both theoretically and practically qualified. What the schools need are more and better teachers, and the Academy desires to do her share in supplying this want.

MILK CRUST ON BABY

Kept Spreading Until His Face Was a Raw Sore. He Scratched Until Blood Ran.

Best Physicians Said No Cure While Teething. He Was Cured Promptly by Cuticura.

Something must have been done, and done quickly, when our little boy, only two months old, was so disfigured that he was a fright to see. Milk crust had spread until it was one raw sore. It was so bad that we could not put a piece of court plaster on his face without his crying with pain. We had tried many remedies, but he only grew worse. We had given up all hope of his face ever being cured, when we began the use of the Cuticura Remedies. The result was astonishing. The crust fell off in a few days, and a few more applications of the Cuticura Remedies completely cured our child. We cannot say too much in favor of the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. E. A. WILLIAMS, Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Scaly Humor 17 Years.

I am satisfied that Cuticura Remedies have cured me of a scaly and pustular humor from which I suffered for 17 years. I was so bad that I was a fright to see. After trying your advertisement I decided to try your Cuticura Remedies, and I am happy to say that I am now free from the disease, and I feel that I owe my life to the Cuticura Remedies, as other remedies failed to do anything for me. The last book which you gave me I gave away to a friend who was suffering from a bad skin disease. DAVID CORDLE, Fort Dodge, Iowa, Dec. 1, 1890.

A Little Girl's Experience in a Lighthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Truscott are keepers of the Gov. Lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she was taken down with Measles, followed with a severe Cough and turning into a Fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at A. C. Smith & Co's Drug Store. 6s
