The Evening paper is the paper of Today, the morning paper is the paper of Yesterday.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

5 O'clock -EDITION.-

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

No. 293 TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1894. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVII.

Battle of the Ballots.

Votes Come in Early and in Enormous Numbers.

"TAMMANY IS DOUBTLESS KILLED DEAD."

Wilson of West Virginia Probably Elected.—Idaho is Republican.—Great Populist Gains Reported.—Republican Ditto.

NEW YORK.

CHICAGO NEWS.—The Post's (Dem.) New York special dated 8:30 says: Tammany is probably "killed dead." The polls in this city closed at 4 o'clock and the work of computing the returns is now progressing rapidly. Unless there has been more scratching than anticipated the general result of the war on Tammany will be known within three hours. Only about 65 per cent of the persons registered voted. Their failure to do so was partly caused by complex machinery. In some cases 36 ballots had to be handled. Of the vote received, the anti-Tammany districts show the largest gain, and there was decided falling off in the Tammany districts. In some of the latter the total vote will be less than a third what it was two years ago. The election was the fairest ever held in New York. About forty persons were arrested for fraudulent registration.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Conditions in eastern New York are favorable for the polling of a large vote, the storm which raged yesterday and last night having passed over. Reports received up to noon show that in central New York the weather is fair but much colder, while in the western part of the state there is some snow, which may affect the vote.

At Troy the voting is progressing rapidly and without special excitement.

In this city interest in the state and municipal contests overshadows that for congressmen. The multitudinous number of ballots was puzzling even to the initiated. Each elector was asked to vote on six separate questions outside the regular state and municipal tickets, with the result that a large number of voters threw all or part of them away and voted only for the candidates presented. As far as ascertained most of the votes were tabulated these questions cast their ballots for rapid transit and in favor of greater New York.

Dazed among the official watchers at the polling booth in the 22nd district (second assembly district) on Oliver street, was Mrs. Elizabeth B. Grannis. "I have been," said Mrs. Grannis, "treated with the greatest courtesy. I am free, however, to say some officers here this morning have complained the influence of drink on a score of the voters too. I don't think any man should be allowed to cast a ballot who is not sober."

Brooklyn.—Campaign managers at the different political headquarters in Brooklyn express confidence in the result. At Democratic headquarters they claim on a plurality of 7,000 to 10,000 to Kings county for Hill. The Republicans claim Kings county by 15,000. The total registration is 135,000.

A very wet atmosphere and heavy sky greeted the early voters. About 9 a.m. the sun struggled out. Shortly after 9 a.m., Senator Hill entered the polling place. Several persons made way for him and one inspector said: "Let Senator Hill vote." Then somebody shouted "let the man alone." Hill refused to take anybody's place in the line and waited his turn, chatting with those nearest him.

From reports received from the precinct committees up to 1 o'clock concerning the progress of the voting, Superintendent of Police Byrnes ventured the prediction that no more than two-thirds of those registered would be able to vote today.

It is alleged that Recorder Smythe is being gratified by the news that many balls in that voter for Grant for mayor can be challenged.

White Plains—Walter W. Heath was fatally wounded in an election row at Kinsbury today. He disputed with a deputy U. S. marshal who shot him in the groin.

Owing to the bad state of the wires, the election news from New England is meagre but so far it favors the Republicans.

Several voters who falsely swore they were filed in order that they might have assistance in preparing their ballots were arrested. A number of jail cases are sitting in various courts today for the express purpose of adjudicating cases of violation of the election law. Judge Cowen had a large number of cases before him and fined the accused in $1,500 bail for further hearing. Few could furnish the required bond.

WEST VIRGINIA.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Reports from the interior of the state indicate a heavy vote, especially in the First (Wilson's) congressional district. Wilson's workers claim to be well satisfied with the way things are going. Dr. Dent's friends are making no claims.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va.—The good citizens of Marion county are voting for Congressman Wilson in large numbers. Dent was expected. Chairman Jackson at the Republican headquarters will be elected by 500 majority.

IDAHO.

BOISE, IDAHO, Nov. 6.—Interest in street is manifest in the election. There is a crush at the polls in all parts of the city. The indications are that the vote will reach 18,000, 5,000 more than in 1892. Three thousand Northern votes today for the first time. Reports indicate that the Republicans will carry the state and legislative tickets by a large plurality. Many Democrats will vote the Republican ticket for Jos Jones, a democrat running on Populist.

MONTANA.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 6.—The greatest election ever held quietly all over Montana. The greatest interest centers in the contest between Hoskins and Ainscough for the permanent capital. The weather generally is good and the vote is heavy. The only work offered to be challenged is a certain justice. Hunt (Democrat), Lane (Democrat) and Rotter (Populist) are candidates. Hunt's election is generally looked upon as assured. Hartman, for Congress, will no doubt be contested.

At 1 o'clock the Hoskins capital committee claim the state by a good majority.

WYOMING.

Special to the DESERET NEWS.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 6.—The weather is fine in the eastern part of Wyoming and reports received from various counties along the line of the Union Pacific railroad indicate that a large vote is being polled. In Uinta county the Republicans are getting out their vote much better than the Democrats. Forty w three estimate that the Republican ticket will have an average majority of 300 in the town.

By Associated Press.

The weather is good throughout the state and it is expected the vote will equal that of two years ago. The election is proceeding in an orderly manner.

ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—With weather bright and cool, the vote in Chicago and Cook county is very heavy. The campaign throughout the state, and particularly here, was hot from start to finish, and interest in the congressional contests centered largely in the prolonged struggle in the fourth district where Lorimer, accurate whom are congressman Frank lawler, as an independent candidate, Timothy Ryan, Democrat, and ex-Justice of the Peace Charles Woodman, Republican. An interesting feature was developed by the fact that, as a result of last night's battle the women were given the privilege of voting in state university trustees. A large vote is cast by the fair sex.

Fifteen minutes before the polling booth of the Ninth precinct (Chicago) opened, there was a hard-fought contest for the honor of being the first to vote. Michael Kennedy, who found himself the first on the sidewalk, having, it is claimed, been attacked by a gang of boodlers.

Chicago—One precinct in the city was crowded to the People's party at 8 a.m. It comprises the main part of Pullman. Everywhere in the district comprising Pullman, West Pullman, Kensington and Roseland, the Populist strength was great.

Trouble has occurred in Lemont, on the drainage canal. Through a clerical error an insufficient number of ballots were sent to the place and the canal laborers announce that they intend to vote whether they had ballots or not, and deputy sheriffs were hurried to the place.

It is believed the Populist vote in the city would not exceed 25,000. The vote in the stock yards and railroad quarters was large, but outside the Populist strongholds, the vote was thought to be well short of the party leaders' claims. At Populist headquarters it was claimed the vote would reach 100,000.

Chicago—William Lorimer, Republican candidate for Congress in the second district, was the hard-worked man from the polling place in Lemont town hall this afternoon. Deputy-Give deputy sheriff sent from Chicago to preserve order were thrust out of the Justice of the Peace Weimer refused to receive them or act with them. These proceedings, coupled with a conflict that took place between the state of police taking Lorimer to his aides and carrying him into the street.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT, Nov. 6.—The state is expected to be Republican by at least 20,000 plurality, and instead of seven or eight Democratic congressmen there will be only two.

COLORADO.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 6.—The weather is fair throughout the state and the vote is heavy. In many precincts more than the registered number of votes are polled. Democrats claim to have at all polling places where the voting began at 7 a.m. and it is expected early in the evening to meet with rain. A Democratic victory is claimed. Both Republicans and Populists are very confident.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6.—It looks as if there will be no Democratic congressman in this district. In certain districts political leaders have given every assurance of carrying their districts for Democrats. In the present members of a number of the leading Democratic families have joined the Republicans and threw out the witnesses and challengers appointed according to law. One of the gang connected in this manner snatched the ballot box with a heavy blow of wood. In another precinct one of the witnesses was secured out of the hands by the judges only to save trouble made by police. In other districts more or less friction in the same line is reported and more trouble is being displayed. From several wards women complained by citizens that they are not being allowed to vote.

Warrants have been issued for Joe Pendleton and several other workers, and for several judges in the 10th ward. No further arrests are anticipated.

ST. LOUIS.—Election day opened with rain and cold. While in the early morning the voting was exceedingly heavy, it fell off toward the middle. There is no trouble at any point. The Republicans report that the Twenty-concessional (city) district, including that Congressman Dick Bland, is as the only administration man in the Missouri division, is being heavily contested. But whether in favor of Nelson (single tax) or Merritt (Republican) is not definitely known.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 6.—The election continues quiet throughout the state and a heavy vote is being polled.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6.—The Populists are coming out strong and the results will be close.

TENNESSEE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 6.—Reports so far received from the state indicate a light vote. The prevailing belief is that Democracy will win with reduced majorities.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Reports from all parts of the state indicate that the vote will be as heavy as that polled in 1892. The contest has been fought almost entirely on tariff lines, and party feeling runs high in some localities.

OHIO.

ALLIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 6.—Congressman Jonathan D. Carey, Populist candidate for Congress, is receiving a large vote and his followers claim his election.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—There is no indication up to noon that anything unusual is transpiring in connection with the election in any part of California. The republicans a heavy vote and in some precincts 50 percent of the vote was polled by 9 a.m.

IOWA.

EAST DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 6.—In towns in the Fifth district, which is prime many in the size of their vote, which coming mainly from the Democrats.

TEXAS.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 6.—The election here is exciting considerable interest, there being four tickets in the field for state offices. For Congress, Noonan, Republican, is running ahead of Houston, Democrat. On the state ticket Culberson, Democrat, for governor, is largely in the lead.

KENTUCKY.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 6.—Reports from all over Kentucky indicate a heavy vote. The Breckinridge ex-Confederate element is voting largely with the Republicans for Judge Denny for Congress. Owen's friends are discouraged over the indications but do not concede defeat.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 6.—The election was voting heavily throughout the state for the Tillman-Independent candidate for governor and against the constitutional convention.

Columbia, S. C.—There is a report here that there was an election riot at Lamar, Darlington county, in which three or four men were wounded.

KANSAS.

TOPEKA, Nov. 6.—The voting in Topeka is very heavy. While both Republicans and Populists are claiming gains, indications point to a large majority for the Republicans in this city. Owing to the large vote, many precincts in Topeka will not be counted before daylight.

Leavenworth.—Today's election is the hottest in this city and county for years. There are strong indications that Morrill, Republican, will carry Leavenworth county by a few hundred plurality, with Lewelling a close second. Suffrage will probably be defeated.

NEVADA.

CARSON, Nev., Nov. 6.—There is clear weather and a full vote in all parts of Nevada. The Democrats have joined with the Populists, and there is also a silver party in the field, but the Republicans claim that they will have a plurality.]

WASHINGTON.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 6.—More than the usual degree of interest is shown in the election in Washington today. It is expected the Republicans will elect both Congressmen and judges of the supreme court.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 6.—The largest vote ever polled in Wisconsin in an off year is being cast. The Republicans claim the election of their state ticket, the lower house of the legislature and eight or ten of the Congressmen. The Democrats claim the success of Peck for governor and four Congressmen.

NEW JERSEY.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 6.—The Republicans are confidently anticipating victory in the seven state senators to be elected today.

NEBRASKA.

OMAHA, Nov. 6.—At one o'clock reports from all parts of the state indicate the heaviest vote in the state's history. The weather is favorable and the Populists are encouraged. Severe weather would have meant the success of the Republican ticket, but the situation is now quite favorable to the Democratic candidates.

On account of the rumors of fraud in cast voting, it is quite probable a contest will occur on the state ticket in any event, unless the majority is overwhelming.

OHIO.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 6.—A heavy snowstorm began soon after the polls opened and had a tendency to retard voting. Interest centers in the congressional contest in the Twenty-first district between Tom L. Johnson, Democrat, and Theodore E. Burton, Republican. Charges of the wholesale colonization of floaters and all sorts of illegal votes have been freely made. A number of men have been arrested for illegal registration and warrants are out for many others.

MINNESOTA.

DULUTH, Nov. 6.—About 40 per cent of the Democrats are voting for Owen, Populist, for governor.

Minneapolis.—It seems will probably cast the largest vote today ever cast in an off year.

St. Paul.—Probably two-thirds of the vote was polled by noon.

Minneapolis—It is estimated that three-fifths of the total registered vote of this city was in by noon. The heaviest voting was in the Republican districts. It is reported that Owen, Populist candidate for governor, is running ahead of his ticket very largely.

IN UTAH TOWNS.

BEAVER.

BEAVER, Nov. 6, 1894.—Last night was one of excitement. I assume that all Ogden and our neighbors from the country were out upon the streets. The Republicans had a torchlight procession and two meetings, and the Democrats had a rally at the Grand Opera house. The greatest interest appears to be manifest by all in today's contest with chances still remaining about equal. It is the third time the Populists have run, and no doubt will, consequently feeling runs high in some localities.

OHIO.

ALLIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 6.—Congressman Jonathan D. Carey, Populist candidate for Congress, is receiving a large vote and his followers claim his election.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—There is no indication up to noon that anything unusual is transpiring in connection with the election in any part of California. The republicans a heavy vote and in some precincts 50 percent of the vote was polled by 9 a.m.

IOWA.

EAST DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 6.—In towns in the Fifth district, which is prime many in the size of their vote, which coming mainly from the Democrats.

TEXAS.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 6.—The election here is exciting considerable interest, there being four tickets in the field for state offices. For Congress, Noonan, Republican, is running ahead of Houston, Democrat. On the state ticket Culberson, Democrat, for governor, is largely in the lead.

KENTUCKY.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 6.—Reports from all over Kentucky indicate a heavy vote. The Breckinridge ex-Confederate element is voting largely with the Republicans for Judge Denny for Congress. Owen's friends are discouraged over the indications but do not concede defeat.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 6.—The election was voting heavily throughout the state for the Tillman-Independent candidate for governor and against the constitutional convention.

Columbia, S. C.—There is a report here that there was an election riot at Lamar, Darlington county, in which three or four men were wounded.

KANSAS.

TOPEKA, Nov. 6.—The voting in Topeka is very heavy. While both Republicans and Populists are claiming gains, indications point to a large majority for the Republicans in this city. Owing to the large vote, many precincts in Topeka will not be counted before daylight.

Leavenworth.—Today's election is the hottest in this city and county for years. There are strong indications that Morrill, Republican, will carry Leavenworth county by a few hundred plurality, with Lewelling a close second. Suffrage will probably be defeated.

NEVADA.

CARSON, Nev., Nov. 6.—There is clear weather and a full vote in all parts of Nevada. The Democrats have joined with the Populists, and there is also a silver party in the field, but the Republicans claim that they will have a plurality.]

WASHINGTON.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 6.—More than the usual degree of interest is shown in the election in Washington today. It is expected the Republicans will elect both Congressmen and judges of the supreme court.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 6.—The largest vote ever polled in Wisconsin in an off year is being cast. The Republicans claim the election of their state ticket, the lower house of the legislature and eight or ten of the Congressmen. The Democrats claim the success of Peck for governor and four Congressmen.

NEW JERSEY.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 6.—The Republicans are confidently anticipating victory in the seven state senators to be elected today.

NEBRASKA.

OMAHA, Nov. 6.—At one o'clock reports from all parts of the state indicate the heaviest vote in the state's history. The weather is favorable and the Populists are encouraged. Severe weather would have meant the success of the Republican ticket, but the situation is now quite favorable to the Democratic candidates.

On account of the rumors of fraud in cast voting, it is quite probable a contest will occur on the state ticket in any event, unless the majority is overwhelming.

OHIO.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 6.—A heavy snowstorm began soon after the polls opened and had a tendency to retard voting. Interest centers in the congressional contest in the Twenty-first district between Tom L. Johnson, Democrat, and Theodore E. Burton, Republican. Charges of the wholesale colonization of floaters and all sorts of illegal votes have been freely made. A number of men have been arrested for illegal registration and warrants are out for many others.

MINNESOTA.

DULUTH, Nov. 6.—About 40 per cent of the Democrats are voting for Owen, Populist, for governor.

Minneapolis.—It seems will probably cast the largest vote today ever cast in an off year.

St. Paul.—Probably two-thirds of the vote was polled by noon.

Minneapolis—It is estimated that three-fifths of the total registered vote of this city was in by noon. The heaviest voting was in the Republican districts. It is reported that Owen, Populist candidate for governor, is running ahead of his ticket very largely.

IN UTAH TOWNS.

BEAVER.

BEAVER, Nov. 6, 1894.—Last night was one of excitement. I assume that all Ogden and our neighbors from the country were out upon the streets. The Republicans had a torchlight procession and two meetings, and the Democrats had a rally at the Grand Opera house. The greatest interest appears to be manifest by all in today's contest with chances still remaining about equal. It is the third time the Populists have run, and no doubt will, consequently feeling runs high in some localities.

OGDEN, Nov. 6.—2:30 p.m.—The election is proceeding very quietly. At 2 p.m. 1,350 votes had been polled in four of the five wards, no report from the Third ward. The Democrats are ahead in all the wards but the Fourth, which is solidly Republican.

PROVO.

Special to the NEWS.

PROVO, Utah, Nov. 6.—The day that will decide the political complexion of Utah opened bright and clear and the weather is very warm.

The streets are filled with carriages carrying voters to and from the polls, and the citizen corps and teams are doing a thriving trade to enthuse the citizens. Great order prevails around the polls and but little challenging was done up to 11 o'clock. The Votes stand as follows (from the closest estimate that can be made): Republicans, 336; Democrats, 193. More scratching is being done than at any previous election.

The tickets (envelopes for Constitutional delegate votes) sent down by the commission forbade to fall short, and are closely guarded by the judges of election. There was at one time a fear that some voters would not be able to vote for Constitutional delegates on account of this scarcity of blue envelopes, but a supply was soon obtained in regard to the legality of Constitutional delegates' votes being deposited in envelopes of another color, which would be a technical violation of the instructions from the commission. This difficulty has been overcome, however, by a new supply of blue envelopes being obtained. There is no doubt of Provo's Republican majority reaching 100 from the present outlook. The Republicans have expected the Democrats would be heavy. Election returns will be announced there, and tickets of a division are being issued.

PROVO, Utah, Nov. 6.—5:30 p.m.—The votes cast to this hour, 2:30 p.m., show 336 Republican votes, 206 Democratic.

PAYSON.

Special to the NEWS, per Deseret Telegraph.

PAYSON, Utah, Nov. 6.—Considerable excitement prevails, but everything is running smoothly. At three o'clock 197 votes were cast from a total registration of 354.

TOOELE

Special to the NEWS.

TOOELE, Nov. 6, 1:30 p.m.—There has been but little election hilarity here today thus far. Up to this time business interests have entirely prevailed. The Independent or Taxpayers' ticket has been labored and only the tickets of the two old national parties are to be seen. The Republicans are slightly in advance, though their opponents are endeavoring them to carry what advantages they get. A good deal of scratching is going on.

MAY BESIEGE.

General Mercier, Minister of War of the French Republic.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The standing parliamentary committee on military affairs have voted unanimously that the government's plan to let 12,000 soldiers go before completing their full time was inopportune and inconsiderate. The committee also voted with only three dissenting votes that the step would be illegal. General Mercier, minister of war, laid the deputation, informing him of the committee's decision that the plan was the cabinet's and not his entirely. Nevertheless, he added, if the cabinet should reconsider it, he would resign.

Chinese Gets Immortelle.

VALPARAISO, Chile, Nov. 6.—It is reported that this government has received into negotiations through G. H. Fitzhugh, of New York, with Chile for his sale of the warship Esmeralda for the sum of 300,000 pounds and that the contract has been closed and now awaits only the sanction of Congress. The Armistice Lynch and the Admirals Condell may also be included in the transfer for another 100,000 pounds.

ELECTION AT HOME.

Quiet, Earnest Work With Few Evening Incidents.

MANY SCRATCHED VOTES CAST.

The Number of Ballots Cast at Press Time.—Populists Doing Want Little They Can.

[The NEWS' report of the election in this city and vicinity closes at 6:15 p.m. The fact that almost every ticket was scratched renders the result of the election problematical to warrant a forecast. The same fact will make the count slow and tedious, and it will probably be midnight before it can be completed. A later edition of this paper need not, therefore, be expected.]

The fact as the state of the weather is concerned this has been a splendid day for election. Not a breeze not a cloud has been perceptible and all physical conditions have been extremely favorable for the casting of a heavy vote. That this will be about the result in this city and Territory there is not a shadow of doubt.

An extremely gratifying feature of the contest up to the present writing is the almost remarkable quiet that has prevailed in and about the city. No disturbance above that of an ordinary election day ripple has occurred to mar the tenor of the day. A marked intensity of feeling verging on bitterness and loss of temper, was observable, however, in some of the precincts this afternoon, and it is not unlikely there may be interesting incidents to record before the battle shall have ended tonight.

It is the opinion of the respective political party leaders that the heaviest percentage of the registered vote ever cast in this city will be deposited today. The returns in this city up to the time of going to press so far as obtainable were as follows:

First Precinct.

Large crowds continued to hang around the approaches to the Exposition building throughout the whole morning, for it was here that the voters of the first precinct were required to go and cast their ballots. A good deal of activity prevailed from nine o'clock on, and business at times was lively. The interest passed, however, without the witnessing of any untoward incident, and a successful showing has been made at the four polls up to twelve o'clock.

There are on the general register in this precinct the names of 2,220 voters.

The judges are: Poll No. 1, Irene A. Smith, D.; George B. Alder, D.; Harrison Sears, R.; No. 2, H. S. Lansky, D.; Fergus Coulter, D.; Samuel J. Peck, R.; No. 3, A. R. Roberts, D.; A. M. Winney, D.; Ace Pendleton, R.; No. 4, O. H. Pettit, D.; J. J. Thomas, R. The last named gentleman (Mr. Thomas) took the place of Mr. J. T. Lynch, on account of sickness, at almost the last moment.

At half past ten 554 votes had been received, each poll announcing as follows: 1st, 136; 2nd, 131; 3rd, 146; 4th, 141. Of this number the Republicans boasted that they had secured more than one half, but the other side maintained the statement. The First precinct, however, has the reputation of being a Republican stronghold and hence that party is exceedingly sanguine as to results.

But the scratching process is to vague to an alarming extent and it is freely talked around that Herman Hamberger, the candidate for county selectman on the Democratic ticket, is one of those to whom special attention has been paid in this matter. It is said by the Republicans that Hamberger, the nominee for delegate to Congress, is forging ahead of his opponent in a substantial manner, but this is a piece of speculation which the "Committee" decline to swallow.

In the early stage of today's proceedings the Republicans got an inking that "something wrong" was going on "somewhere," and it was not long before large red posters came out not from the press conveying this word of warning: "Republican attention! Look out for fraud. Republican tickets have been printed with the names of Democratic candidates put in the place of Republican nominees. Read each name on the ticket that you may not be deceived!"

These notices were put up in conspicuous places all over the Exposition grounds.

One of the most agitated individuals around the polling station all morning was Jo. O'Brien—he of extensively scuffed renown. He was ubiquitous and seemed to carry about with him wherever he went a grievance which nobody could fathom. He claimed to be on the watch for a couple of "shiny rascals," and Jo's eyes eye was turned upon every voter as he came along, but up to the time when the dinner call rang the "rascals" had not materialized.

The headquarters for the First precinct in a small tent in front of the Exposition building. The Democratic headquarters are next by.

A telephone message received at the NEWS office at 12 o'clock from the First precinct says that at that hour a total of 731 votes had been cast. Of this number the Republicans claim to have 374, leaving to the Democrats and Populists 357. But the Democrats of course contest this. Notwithstanding the ticket, for delegate to the Constitutional Convention, is, it is said, being freely scratched, though no systematic scratching is reported in this line.

A shout of "Three cheers for Cannon" went up from a knot of men of Republican threats at one period of the morning, and the followers of Rawlins were not slow to give a counter cheer for their favorite.

"A vote for Cannon means plenty of labor and good wages at home," was cried in the shape of a ballad sung at the heels of the first named group.

At 2 o'clock 1,120 votes had been received. Of these the Republicans claimed 693, the Democrats, they say, gave to be Democrats and Populists.

At 3:30 p.m. word was received that a total of 1,381 votes had been cast, of which number the Republicans claimed 933, giving the balance to the Democrats and Populists.

A telephone message received from the First precinct at 4 p.m. says that up to then 1,551 votes had been polled, and it is computed that 81 per cent of the voters in the precinct will cast their ballots. On the number stated given the Republicans by claim to 91 votes and give the balance to the Democrats and Populists.

Everything is running smoothly at the NEWS goes to press.

Second Precinct.

The polling station for this precinct is in the Continental saloon, the judges being: Poll No. 1, P. C. Dunn, D.; John H. Bailey, D.; A. O. Wilson, R.; 2, Henry Wallace, D.; George Cutler, D.; E. J. Eardley, R.; 3, Thomas Hull, D.; DeWitt B. Lewis, D.; A. H. Kelly, R.; 4, F. J. Daly, D.; J. M. Waldell, D.; H. G. Reynolds, R.; 5, J. P. Mahan, D.; T. R. Wilson, D.; Von H. Brooks, R.; 6, C. Ira Kelsey, D.; C. Max Seidenstricker, D.; John E. Busby, R.

The stakes on either side of the ballot having been removed, the six polls are located in their stead. Nothing of an eventful character has happened up to 4 o'clock, the stream of voters was a steady one from 9 o'clock on. Just a few persons were challenged, but none of them challenges amounted to anything.

At 1 p.m. the total number of ballots received reached 1,145.

Republican voters were cautioned in this way: "Beware of bogus ballots." A notice to this effect was pasted on each of the trees in front of the Continental hotel, and those to whom the warning was intended were further admonished to examine their tickets before voting.

A crowd of idle men hung around the hotel premises and having their little jokes at the expense of passersby. All was serene at the polls with the Hoosier but quite a pleasant time. Carriages were there, as usual, freely employed.

At 5 o'clock the aggregate for the following were the figures as shown at Republican headquarters: Total votes cast, 1,719; Republicans, 905; Democrats and Populists combined, 749.

At Democratic headquarters a computation was made at the same hour for the benefit of the NEWS reporter. The result, as claimed by the Democrats is only between, was 860, but a reserve mode is held at the outside, by their boast. A jubilant worker on the ground stated that he expected at least 200 votes for his ticket. Taking all the figures together and they indicate those given by the Republicans as about right. The latter claimed, at 5 o'clock, a plurality of 217, and the tally keeper said he was sure that was a safe figure.

A good deal of excitement prevailed around the approaches to the precinct voting station at 4 o'clock and voters were coming up very fast. The total number of ballots cast at this time was 1,380. Everything is being conducted in an orderly fashion.

The total number of voters on the general registration list is 2,801.

Third Precinct.

The polls were thrown open in the Third precinct promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. They were all located in the Exposition building, which, at the corner of First South and Fourth West streets. Some little delay was caused, the Republicans complaining that they had not been provided with constitutional convention ballot envelopes. This matter, however, was soon adjusted and the election machinery was put in motion.

There were three polls presided over by judges as follows, the first named in each instance being the presiding judge: Poll No. 1, E. B. Rich, D.; Joseph Pugsley, D.; Jesse Goodman, R.; poll No. 2, Henry Barnes, D.; O. H. Hardy, D.; Morant J. Fonnes, R.; poll No. 3, John R. Bain, D.; William G. Newman, D.; Joseph L. Heywood, R.

From the very first earnest, hard and persistent efforts were put forth by the Republican and Democratic committees and their small armies of workers. Never before has such determination been seen in that district. Scratching tickets were very numerous and the Americans announced to have effected a sweep in the Third. Anti-Harry and Dykes men were found in goodly numbers on all the approaches to the polling places, and considerable work was expended (ignorant of A. P. A. ism and its relation to American politics were quickly informed thereon.

One incident occurred in the Republican camp that caused a little flutter. It was the discovery that the name of O. Ambo Barber, the Populist nominee for constable, appeared on the nation as "pleasant." The correction, however, was quickly made by pencil and the mistake will probably make no difference to the number of ballots when the votes are canvassed. Voting was very steady during the whole of the forenoon but up to 11 o'clock the total number of votes cast was not given out by the judges. There had been only a few challenges, but in no instance, it seems, were one or more considered sufficient to deny the voter the right to cast his ballot.

After the agitation over the matter of envelopes for the Constitutional convention ballot had subsided, matters progressed quietly. There were a good lot of men in the crowd who were under the influence of liquor more or less, but there was no disturbance. Much talk or was heard regarding the big gold-colored ballot envelopes.

At just noon, the tally keepers of both parties compared notes. The action upon the following figures: Total vote, 1,719; Republicans, 905; Democrats and Populists combined, 749.

At Democratic headquarters a computation was made at the same hour for the benefit of the NEWS reporter. The result, as claimed by the Democrats