NEWS OF THE WEST.

Horrible Death of a Miner at Leadville, Colorado.

DOPE BURGLAR ALARM INVENTION

Alexander Salvini, the Actor, Sued for Salary by a Member of His Company.

The New York and Cripple Creek Tunnel Gold Mining and Prospecting company have filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state at Denver. Capital stock, $1,000,000.

Lucinda Stanbrough: The horse meat much is in practice at Juno Springs and epidemics are remote this bracing weather. It is an opportunity for people to satisfy themselves as to the palatableness of meat, if not in whole-somenessness.

Holland was by the storm in the mountains Tuesday was the most severe of the season. Rotary snowplowing, further reports the News Journal, kept the road open, though in many places the drifts are well nigh as the cross ties (twenty feet high).

A movement is on foot at Greeley, Colo., for the organization of a company for the purpose of furnishing light and power for the city and to operate a system of electric railways running throughout the country about Greeley, including at Loveland, Estes Park, La Salle and other points, the lines being to extend to parks, canyons, the heights to and from the city.

A Boise (Idaho) Statesman dispatch from Lewiston, says: Mrs. Jane Scott was burned to death Tuesday night. Her residence is located, standing alone on the north bank of the Clearwater. By some means the lady caught her clothes on fire while alone in the house. The accident occurred early in the evening, but nothing was known of her terrible fate until she was discovered dead on the top the next morning.

The case of Belle Archer, the actress, against Alexander Salvini, the star, for some $1,200 salary to be due her and her husband for salaries while members of the Salvini company, came up in the county court at Denver on Monday morning and lasted six hours, when the jury was unable to agree. Judge Gabbert ordered the jury locked up for the night and at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning the jury reported a verdict for the plaintiffs, awarding Miss Belle Archer $600 and her husband, F. E. Elwood, $600. The hearing will be had in a new trial.

The work of digging the trenches for Sheridan's water works pipe has been completed to the reservoir and a number of men (temporarily laid off, says the Enterprise. The earth line will be somewhat very shortly from the new water, eight and a half miles from Sheridan to the city limits, everything being favorable, and in a short time thereafter the mains will be laid in the principal streets of the city.

A mail carrier on Friday evening found the body of Andrew Barr, a section foreman of the Union Pacific railroad company, in a lonely canyon near the mining camp at Forbes, about six miles from Trinidad, Colorado. The dead man left a doted widow in the town, which was the cause of his death. A pistol was found lying near the body with an loads in it. The general belief is that the man committed suicide.

Gil Fricke was interrupted the Fairview (Colo.) Country company, with a capital stock of $10,000. The company will begin the erection within fifty days of a factory which will have a capacity of about 25,000 cans per year. It will require, it is said, 200 acres of tomatoes and vegetables to keep the factory one season. Besides vegetables, the factory will handle all the dried apples from the orchards of Fairview and Canyon City.

Charles Dashleon and Wm. Merrill, old and experienced woodsmen, left Detroit, the terminus of the Oregon Pacific railway, on Monday morning for a hunting trip to Boswell, Idaho (Oregon), two miles from the railroad track, expecting to return before night. Nothing has since been heard from them and eight men have started to look for them. It is thought that they have been lost, as there has been a heavy snowfall ever since they left.

George Whiting has been sentenced to serve thirty days in the county jail for stealing two rattlers from the Denver Novelty works. On the stand the youngster, who is fourteen years old, said Dr. Cocaine has invented a burglar alarm and submitted the plan to the Novelty works, with instructions to make the alarm. He claimed that he called in the inventor and found that the price was far beyond his means. He thereupon stole the rattlers in revenge.

The Idaho supreme court has dismissed the alternative writ of mandamus issued against State Auditor Rooney in application of Winters, Parsons & Bonney, the Butte contractors, who sought to compel the auditor to issue a warrant in final payment of their contract for the construction of the Custer county division of the state wagon road. The supreme court sustains the position taken by Governor McConnell, Attorney General Parsons and Auditor Rooney, holding that final payments cannot be made on the state wagon road contracts until the work has been accepted by the governor's viewers and the account approved by the state board of examiners.

Eugene Kelly, a miner at the Pittsburg mine, Leadville, Colo., has met with a horrible death. Kelly with two other men started on the bucket to come to the surface for their noonday meal. At the top of the shaft there are two landings, one at the mouth of the shaft, where the men usually get off, and another about twenty feet above. When the bucket was stopped at the first landing, as the engineer thought, a bucket of ore was coming up, the engineer did not stop at the first landing, but continued to the second. Two of the men, however, leaped off at the first landing, but Kelly, being on the other side of the bucket, was carried on to the second landing. When the engineer saw there was a man on the bucket he immediately stopped, but not at that instant Kelly leaped, thinking that he would land on the second landing and not be borne up to the dumping block. The leap was a fatal one. Instead of landing on the solid floor the unfortunate man plunged down the shaft. The body was found 50 feet below with every bone broken, though his features were undisturbed. Kelly was a single man, about 35 years of age.
