A public reception and recital will be given tomorrow afternoon and evening, in the Pierpont School of Oratory and Physical Culture in the Templeton building, for which an attractive program has been prepared.

U. S. Senator George Sutherland announces the formal appointment of Charles Hines to West Point, and Corwin Lee to Annapolis. The former is the son of Frank Hines and the latter the son of Atty. W. A. Lee.

A second chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star is to be instituted in this city next Wednesday with Mrs. M. D. Conklin of Oklahoma City, most worshipful matron of the order, as conductor of the proceedings.

State Supt. of Schools Nelson received word today that two women teachers are needed in Utah county. Information concerning the positions may be secured by applying to Supt. Nelson at his office in the city and county building.

Bert Rensen of West Salt Lake was riding home Saturday evening, on his wheel, when in turning a corner on West Seventh South street, struck his head against the limb of a tree. He was stunned and fell into the ditch. However, Rensen recovered himself, and managed to reach a grocery store not far off where a long gash in his head was dressed.

The attention of music lovers is called to the piano recital to be given tomorrow evening in the First Congregational church, by summer pupils of Mrs. Graham F. Putnam, assisted by Miss Eleanor C. Putnam. Those taking part are Miss Louise Lamson, Miss Julia Cullen, Miss Alice Martin, Miss Alverda Martin, Miss Williams, and Miss Florence Ware. Mrs. Putnam will be the accompanist.

Miss Alta Newcomb, daughter of M. W. Newcomb of this city, who drew No. 993 in the reservation drawing, has filed on 160 acres of fine farming land in Box canyon, strawberry valley, on the Duchesne river, and she will cultivate the property herself. Miss Newcomb traveled 300 miles to her prospective ranch, by wagon and on horseback from Provo to locate her claim; and will return to it next month with her younger sister Gay, to start improving it.

There was a rain yesterday morning, which spread itself over most of the valley. The fall up in the city was, however, rather light, as the registration at the weather station showed only .07 of an inch. But in the southern part of the town half an inch must have fallen. It laid the dust in good shape, and greatly relieved the atmosphere of the dust. The air too was ever so much cooler afterward, and during the night, the thermometer made quite a descent. This mornig it was chilly.

Joe Bateman and James Buck, two Murray boys, were arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff Ira Beckstead at their camp near Murray, and are now in the county jail with the prospect of having to face a charge of horse stealing. For several days past the boys have been doing a wild west stunt. They went to Scofield, where it is believed they stole two horses. They then started back to Murray, and in the past day and a half they have covered 100 miles on horseback, sleeping at night by their camp fire in typical cowboy style. They were in camp last night when arrested.

Socialism was the theme of an extended discussion between John Basil Barnhill, a professed anti-socialist, and W. S. Dalton, editor of the Crisis, at Federation of Labor hall last evening. The audience joined in the debate after the principal speakers were through, and fired volley after volley of questions upon the principals. The audience was evidently with the Crisis editor as it applauded him more vociferously than his antagonist. Mr. Barnhill, however, was strong after trusts, which he declared were responsible for the amassing of millions and billions of wealth, and he opposed socialism because it considered competition an enemy to its ideals. Competition, he said, was the cure for trusts. Mr. Dalton in speaking for socialism regarded it as improperly defined by his opponent, and stated that it considered those things which were for the use of all the people should be owned by all the people. The aim of the socialists, he said, was to so organize the workers that wage slavery would be done away with and the working people would derive the benefits from their toil.

PREMIUM LIST FOR STATE FAIR.

Shows Offering of Prizes to Eighty-Eight Distinct Classes of Display.

GOOD FOR BLOODED DOGS.

National Guard Boys Will be the Peace Officers This Year—Military Band Music.

The special premium list for the state fair bench show has come from the hands of the printers. It contains much information of value to intending exhibitors, and to those who have already made entries. Prizes are offered in 81 separate and distinct classes. This is more different kinds of dogs than many people supposed there were in the world. Yet only 10 of the breeds are classed as foreign.

Included in the lists are 14 different kinds of spaniels, 13 of terriers and 12 of hounds. Then there are bulldogs, Chesapeake dogs, griffons, harriers, great danes, retrievers, Irish and Gordon setters, whippets and others too numerous to mention. The rules of the American Kennel club governing dog shows have been adopted for the guidance of the judges and officials. In addition the fair directors have adopted some local rules.

LAST ENTRIES.

It is provided that no entries will be received after 11:30 a. m. on Wednesday, Oct. 4. The entrance fee will be $1.50, but each payment of this character will entitle the individual making it to six admission tickets, so that practically no entry fee is charged. The directors will use their best efforts to look after the safety of all dogs but they will not be responsible for loss or damage. The right to reject any entry is reserved. From 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. on Oct. 5, 6 and 7 the show will be open. Judging begins Oct. 4, and continues until the work is completed.

GUARD PEACE OFFICERS.

Members of the National Guard of Utah, in dress uniforms, will look after the preservation of property and the comfort of the crowds. This effective feature of the fair is made possible by the courtesy of Col. Geoghegan, acting adjutant general, and Gov. Cutler. When he visited the Portland exposition President McDonald was much pleased with the police work done there by the National Guard of Oregon. The men "dressed" the grounds so well, and were so attentive to their duties that Mr. McDonald then and there decided that if it could be arranged he would have guardsmen on duty here.

SPECIAL POLICE.

At previous fairs the policing has been done by special policemen and deputy sheriffs. In most cases these officers wore no uniforms, and consequently could not be distinguished from ordinary visitors. Consequently, although their service was first class in practically all respects, it was often difficult to find one of them in a hurry. The guards will be readily recognized by their uniforms and they will be in a position to give information and directions to visitors who may stand in need of it. The men will, of course, be paid by the fair association, and not by the state.

MILITARY BAND CONCERTS.

Another pleasing feature of the fair will be the concerts to be given by the band of the First regiment, N. G. U. Colonel Geoghegan has informed President McDonald that he can have the services of the band without cost for one or two concerts. The hours for these concerts will be fixed in such a way that they will not interfere with the concerts to be given by Held's enlarged band.

SPEED MAN BACK.

H. C. Curtis, superintendent of speed is back from a trip to Cache county and southern Idaho. He went to secure the entries of fast running and trotting horses and was most successful. As a result of his trip eighteen of the fastest horses in the state will be sent during the fair races.

NEVADA HORSES.

An effort is being made today to arrange accommodations for two carloads of horses from Reno, Nevada. These animals are said to be exceptionally speedy and their owner is very anxious to enter them for some of the rich fair prizes. If it is possible to find room for them they will be brought on.
