

KENNEDY WILLING TO PART AT LOSS

Contractor Affrighted at Condition of Treasury Back Of Bonds.

WOULD SELL TO LAND BOARD.

The Per Cent Discount Has Not Attracted Them and He Still Holds Securities.

James Kennedy evidently thinks the other's warrants are worth less than pin. He holds $20,000 in city warrants paid to him for public improvements. Yesterdays he offered them to the Land board for $19,000—a loss of $1,000 to him, which he is willing to take if he can only get the money. The action of Kennedy quickly followed the publication of stories revealing the worse than rotten conditions existing in the city treasury under American ring.

The state land board boys county warrants from over the state at 1 per cent or 1 per cent. There is no difference in the paper of honestly addressed counties and corruptly addressed cities, however, and the board requires a better margin for the Morgan county bonds which were bought by the board yesterday for 1 per cent premium. The imposition of Mr. Kennedy to sell has not been accepted by the board yet, indicating that the board is not eager to take them up, even at that price which for good security would be considered a tempting morsel to the person.

TO FILE INTERVENOR.

E. A. Walton appeared before Judge Charles W. Morse this morning in the circuit court to argue his motion for the admission of his complaint in intervention in the suit of J. E. Darmer and others against the St. Joe Mining company. His motion was allowed and permission given to file his complaint.

COURT NOTES.

James Honnemickel has begun suit against the Boston Consolidated Mining company for damages amounting to $1,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained because of the negligence of the defendants in July of this year.

James Courtney has brought suit against James M. Hamilton to recover a certificate of 500 shares of the stock of the Iron Blossom Consolidated Mining company.

The Bingham Consolidated Mining & Smelting company has brought suit against A. Smith & Co., and John Gray in settle the question as to the ownership of $35, claimed as wages of Gray. Karlene Mortensen has asked the probate court to issue letters testamentary in the estate of Christopher Mortensen, who died March 28.

PERSONAL.

Arthur Penley, a well known Murray business man, is seriously ill. Mr. Sam Randolph has returned to Bailey, Idaho, trip, much improved in health.

What Daniels Is Doing.

I have a number of first-class unlined-for suits—can be altered to fit.

You can get suits in the store like them at any price.

Fine materials, finely made, full of style—silk lined; also Pad-Cock overcoats and some English walking suits.

These suits at half price!

I have made suits in Salt Lake for several years—graceful suits—they fit—long enough to establish reliability and reputation.

On every suit the customer has been saved from $10 to $20—I charge only $20 $25 and $30.

Mine are fashionable—they are high-class—the woolens are imported—the suits are all that first-class suits should be.

Don't be held up.

Come in and let's talk it over.

Daniels the Tailor

57 W. Second South.

Pure Teas

are healthful-nerve soothing-delicious.

FOLGER'S GOLDEN GATE TEAS

J.A. Folger's Golden Gate
Ceylon
Japan
Colog
English
Breakfast
Gunpowder
Black & Green

are pure. Packed flavor-tight in dust-proof cartons to protect their purity and flavor.

J. A. Folger & Co.
San Francisco
Importers of Pure Teas

LATE LOCALS.

Registration Office.—The registration office in the Thirty-seventh district has been changed to the James Plumbing shop at 67 east First South street.

Attractive Pamphlet.—The San Pedro passenger department has just published an attractively gotten-up and illuminated pamphlet illustrating the "Los Angeles Limited" trains.

Spencer Family Reunion.—The annual Spencer family reunion will be held on Monday night in the Thirteenth ward hall, 143 east Second Street, at 7:30 sharp, and an interesting program has been planned and permission given to file his complaint.

Funeral of Mrs. Waring.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Waring will be held at noon tomorrow in the Eighteenth ward chapel. Friends may view the remains between the hours of 9:30 and 11:30 o'clock at her late residence, 129 C street.

Manager Wells' Estimate.—Manager Wells of the Utah Light & Railway company estimates that the attendance on the state fair yesterday was within 25,000. The street car service of the company is doing a very heavy business this week.

Veterans to Meet.—A social entertainment will be given by the United Order, Spanish War veterans, at their hall, 323 1/2 south State street, on Tuesday evening next. The members of the G. A. R., Women's Relief corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., and all eligible members of the Spanish War veterans, have been invited to attend.

Will Do Business.—H. H. National Packing company, incorporated Nov. 9, 1902, in Portland, Me., has filed certified copies of its articles of incorporation, by-laws and resolutions to enter Utah as a corporation. The company is represented by A. F. Collier as its agent. The company transacts a general meat and packing business.

Becke in Annual Session.—The semi-annual meeting of the Utah Beckers' association was held today in the council chamber of Prof. E. S. Lovett, president and in the report showed the condition to be in excellent condition. Resolutions of respect to the memory of Oliver B. Huntington, were adopted. The afternoon session elected the officers for the next year.

State Library League.—State Superintendent of Public Instruction A. C. Nelson has announced the following appointments as officers of the State Library League: Howard Driggs, chairman; A. C. Matheson, secretary; Miss Esther Nelson, Dr. E. G. Gowans, and Mayor L. R. Anderson of Minden. The league will take up the work of establishing libraries in the various towns and cities of the state.

Shoers Tonight.—Today's local weather map points toward light showers tonight or tomorrow, with a high pressure center moving across country west of the Nineteenth meridian. The weather today is impeccable, southern Texas weather, with a rising thermometer. The mercury reached 66 degrees yesterday, with prospect of its passing the 70's this afternoon. With clear skies overhead, the great throngs of conference and state fair visitors are managing to enjoy themselves.

LONDON'S TOURIST HARVEST.

Seven and a Half Million Dollars Spent There by Americans.

This year's American season in London has been in every way a record one and the rank of visitors from the other side of the Atlantic has increased.

Not so very many years ago the West End tradesmen took next to nothing during the months when society went out of town. Business was practically stagnant until the mansions in the West End pulled up the blinds and opened the shutters and society returned.

Today things are different. The peaceful invasion of American pleasure-seekers has endowed London with a second season. Everybody benefits by them, from the diamond merchant in Bond street to the cabman waiting for his fare. London is recognized as the market place of the Americans, and London has been fortunate enough to cater especially for Americans during their season.

Everything is done to provide for them, as it were, a home from home. The restaurants have found out the virtue of ice water and soda fountains, and even the chisel contributes his mite to their comfort by stocking chewing gum. The result is satisfactory to all parties.

Inquiries made by an express representative yesterday among the tourist companies, hotels, and steamship lines show that something like $6,000 Americans have visited London this year, spending for a long period, but the hotels, large and small, and the boarding-houses of Bloomsbury and Baywater have been besieged by the invading Americans since March.

Between them these 60,000 Americans have spent about £1,500,000 in London. This sum is based on figures supplied by one of the largest hotels, which alone has housed 6,000 Americans since March, and the average hotel bill of each has been £5. There are at least five hotels which can give similar figures, and if the average American spends £25 in London we reach the total stated. Some of course spend more, and some live in boarding houses for £2 2s. a week, but others spend hundreds, or even thousands of pounds on jewelry and dress.

Go where you will in London at this period you will hear nothing but grateful recognition of American custom. "Americans come to London," said a West End tailor yesterday, "Many of the men come with half empty trunks, and buy a complete outfit of socks, ties, collars, shirts, suits of clothes, and hats. I have been kept busy with for keeping suits and frock coats at a time when business is at a standstill as far as my regular customers are concerned."

"They will have flowers," said a florist. "I might shut my shop, but all the best London customers are out of town, but the American visitors keep things going. These roses that you see here pointing to a magnificent bunch of pink roses are sold to a wealthy American customer. Roses are their favorite flower."

The American visitors have stayed off disaster from the river this year. The weather matters nothing to them. To come to London without seeing the river would be a wasted journey, and though the visitors equip themselves with umbrellas and umbrellas for their river trips the Thames boatmen essay the lesson.

The hotels and boarding houses get by far the largest share of the £1,500,000 which American travelers leave behind them in London. Next come the antique dealers, for America is particularly fond of old silver and Sheffield plates, and will pay almost any price for a fanciful object. Then follow the tailors, the hatters, the bakers, the jewellers, and the miscellaneous traders.

Roughly one may apportion the £1,500,000 which the Americans leave behind them as follows:

Hotels and Boardinghouses	£500,000
Tailors	24,000
Hatters	15,000
Antique Dealers	10,000
Jewellers	20,000
Furniture	25,000
Drapers	6,000
Dressmakers	150,000
Cabmen	5,000
Brakes, motor cars, carriages, and miscellaneous expenses	11,000
Theatres	12,000
Musical halls	12,000
Total	£1,500,000

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.

There is more to life than the mere gathering of dollars—and the Doctor who deals with his fellow man in such a manner that he can meet his patients in years to come without the dropping of the eyes of a prick of conscience has not lived in vain.