5 O'clock ~EDITION.~

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 218 FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1894. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVII.

THE TRAIN WRECK.

Nothing Remaining but a Heap of Cinders and Twisted Iron.

HUMAN BODIES IN THE DEBRIS.

Suspicion that the Villainous Deed Given Out at the Round Food Trouble.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 10.—A fearful wreck, involving the loss of twelve or more lives, occurred on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad, where it crosses on the high trestle the tracks of the Union Pacific and Burlington and Missouri River, at 10 o'clock last night. The Fort Worth express was due to arrive here at 8:40 p. m. It was about ten minutes in arrears owing to the time when it struck the trestle crossing Salt creek. The rails spread and the engine drawing two cars after it went tumbling along the cross ties about fifty feet and there was a crash for all forty feet to the top of the creek below. The engine took fire and the glowing coals spreading ignited the wooden carpets and the coaches behind. In a few moments the bridge, dry as tinder from long exposure to the sun, was one mass of flames. Coals falling upon the coaches set them afire. The flames mounted high in the heavens, coloring the entire southern sky a brilliant crimson, while the occupants fell upon the dying, groaning dead from which mortal anguish of agony were heard to arise. Willing hands were there to help, but little could be done. The engine and tender died, then the combination smoker and express coach left partially upon the engine, and the rear coach, following, telescoped into it, pinioning the unfortunates in the smoker so it was impossible to save them, or for them to escape.

THE WRECK COMPLETE.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 10.—Nothing remains of the Rock Island train, wrecked five miles south of this city last night, but a heap of cinders and twisted irons. Mingled with the debris are the remains of at least eight men and it is believed the total number of dead will reach twelve. Those known to be killed are: C. D. Stanton, Consul Bluffs, conductor turned to death; William Craig, Pattonsburg, Neb., fireman, buried under the engine; Isaac Dopew, carpenter, Council Bluffs, instantly killed; W. O. Hamilton, Pattonsburg, attorney, burned to death; S. S. Bell, Lincoln, a traveling man, crushed to death.

Hunter, a traveling man for Consolidated press cooker; F. H. Gerneke, stenograph, Idaho; Henry Peters, brakeman, Council Bluffs.

Injured—E. F. Scott, Fulton, Kas., express messenger, fatal internal injuries. C. L. J. C. Bills, Pattonsburg, Neb., treasurer of the national guard of the United States, badly cut, will recover. J. A. McDowell, Pattonsburg, legs cut and head badly crushed. Harry Foote, Council Bluffs, brakeman, leg broken. It is reported by Brakeman Foote, the only one of the crew who escaped, that five traveling men and two farmers were in the car turned.

J. E. Pierce, a traveling man, Lincoln, internal injuries; Mrs. Fritz and sister, Lincoln; a passenger named Somerset, hurt about the head.

A number of people were missing and it is feared C. Unteh, mother and son, and Jensen, are among the dead. M. Beaver, crushed, and A. B. Eddie, both of Pawnee City, cannot be found and are supposed to have perished. An unknown man, said to have come from Methowsin, Kas., on his way to Black Hills, is supposed to be among the dead.

J. W. Glover, a section man, today said he saw three well dressed men jump the freight and go west. He said the men each carried a long, brand new satchel. This gives rise to the suspicion that some of the Round Food, Okla., outcrop of the food may have caused the wreck. Marks made by a wrench on the bolts and rail were plainly visible and there were marks of a crow bar on the cross ties. The wood ties were deeply dented where the crow bars had been inserted and the rails lifted clear of the ties and the spikes pulled out were lying loose around the bridge.

C. H. Cherry, an injured mail clerk, was to have been married in a month. The bat in the railroad company alone, will amount to $30,000. How much money may have been lost through the mails and otherwise, is not known.

A. S. Ball was not killed but terribly injured internally.

REWARD OFFERED.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—The Rock Island officials offer $1,000 reward for the capture of the train wrecker.

10TH WEEK KILLED.

Two Children Horribly Mangled on a Missouri Levee.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 10.—The twelfth a short heartrending accident, in which two little children were mangled by a train on the Queen and Crescent road, have last been reported from Anniston, Ala.

William and Lolly Burgess, aged 8 and 5, were playing their mother, a neighboring farm on an errand. When the little children were on their way back they came to a culvert and got down in it. Hardly had they done so when a train dashed around a curve at the rate of forty miles an hour. Engineer Elliott saw the head of the little boy raised as he the fireman with both feet in terror at the approaching engine. In an instant the engineer threw his lever back and did all he could to stop the engine. The distance, however, was too short and the train thundered toward the culvert. The only hope of the engineer was that the children would have presence of mind enough to crouch down under the flue. When a short distance from the culvert he saw the little boy rise from the flue, a little hand was stretched down toward the small sister underneath, thinking to save her life at cost willing to have her as he thought to die. Hardly had he raised his head from the culvert when the engine was upon them. The pilot passed over the body of the little girl, the iron wheels rolling over the boy, crushing and mangling him. The boy was thrown high in the air, and fell bleeding by the side of the track.

The California Wine Patrolers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The big wine syndicate which has been formed here to control the wine business in the state will control 80 per cent of the product of California within the next five years.

Its formation doubles the value of the crop as the present price of the crop is $5 a ton while the syndicate agrees to pay $10 a ton. Seven houses are in the syndicate and more will probably be soon admitted.

Destroyed by Fire.

DANVILLE, Ills., Aug. 10.—Almost the entire business portion of Fithie, a suburban village, fifteen miles west of this city, was burned last night. The origin of the fire is unknown. There was little insurance.

The residence of James Cunningham, at Hampton, the finest private residence in eastern Illinois, just completed at a cost of $27,000, was burned last night. No insurance.

EXPLOSION IN THE STOCK YARDS.

A Supposed Attempt to Destroy Part of Packingtown.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—What is supposed to be an attempt to blow up part of Packingtown, occurred last night. A bomb exploded in a wagon load of empty boxes near Armour's packing house, at Forty-second street and Parkside avenue, right in the heart of the stock yards.

The explosion occurred in one of the Swift's company's wagons filled with empty boxes, which are left every evening for the convenience of the packers. The report was like that of a cannon, but the only damage to property was the destruction of the wagon and the boxes, which were reduced to kindling wood. A search for some portion of the bomb or anything else to throw some light upon the mystery, was made, but without avail, and the police were disposed to postpone a fuller investigation until morning.

WAR ON STRIKE LEADERS.

General Superintendent Fillmore Says He Will Hunt Them Down.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The Examiner says: General Superintendent Fillmore, of the Southern Pacific, was asked today whether the company was contemplating making an example of some of the leaders of the late A. R. U., who engaged in the strike, from getting employment in any kind. Mr. Fillmore said:

"We have no use for men who engaged in the late strike, and will do all we can to prevent them from getting employment in any way."

"Suppose these citizens could obtain other employment, would your company go out of its way to have them discharged?" was asked.

"Yes," answered Mr. Fillmore, "if I knew such a man was not true to the company, and if I had out that he was not loyal, and knew I will pursue him and use my best efforts to get him discharged. Those fellows who killed our engineers and destroy our property shall never earn their bread and butter in California if I can help it. As for those men who did not take an active part in the strike I have nothing to say. I have bitter feelings against them. When we need their help we will hire them again, for we do not consider that they were slaughter enough, but for those who led the strikers we have no consideration. I have no use for fellows of that kind and do not intend that they shall make a living as long as they are within my reach."

After a Mad Steer.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—A mad steer that escaped from the stock yards caused no much excitement last night as any incident of the strike. The steer almost killed Police Officer Jones and badly frightened several others. On getting out of the yards the steer ran east to Sawyer avenue and Forty-first street. He charged at several crowds of children playing in the street, but failed to injure any one. He ran south on the Wabash tracks with a crowd of boys following.

The police with a patrol wagon were soon after him and when they caught up with him Officer James fired at him with a Winchester and missed. The officer sprang out of the wagon to get a better chance to fire, when the steer charged on him. James waited until it was on him and brought it down with a bullet. The steer died in a few minutes from loss of blood from James's bullet.

RUMOR UNFOUNDED.

Li Hung Chang still Enjoys the Confidence of the Emperor.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—A correspondent of the Times at Tien Tsin declares the report that the rank of Li Hung Chang has been reduced by an imperial command is entirely unfounded. The report that the Chinese general, Yeh, was killed in a battle with the Japanese near Ping Yang is also declared to be false. Further denial is made of the report that the Chinese steamer Kowsing has been sunk. The Chinese government has ordered the authorities throughout the empire to protect the foreign missionaries.

STILL AHEAD.

The Washington Denver Relay Arrives.

OKALLOMA, Tenn., Aug. 10.—The Washington-Denver relay there passed Oklahoma at 8:55 a.m., 25 hours and 2 minutes ahead of time. The Oklahoma relay ended at Pierre City at 7:14 a.m., 24 hours and 20 minutes ahead of time, making a mile in 2 hours and 20 minutes, a gain of 1 hour and 1 minutes.

KILLED IN A DUEL.

The Result of a Quarrel over a Woman.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 10.—In a duel last evening, Senor Jose Vera-Lopez, president of the supreme court of the federal district, killed Senor Romero, a well known businessman. The seconds of Vera-Lopez were Apolinari Castillo, president of the federal senate and editor of El Partido Liberal, and Senor Pino, congressman and editor of El Universal. The seconds of Senor Romero were Senor Bertello, a Spaniard, General Lauro Carrillo, ex-governor of Chihuahua, and a brother of the senior. The duel was the result of a quarrel over a woman. On the first fire Vera-Lopez fell with a ball through his heart.

NOT FREE SUGAR.

The Tariff Conferees Find They Cannot Agree on That Basis.

OTHER DIFFICULTIES REMOVED.

A Point Arrived at When a Decision One Way or the Other Must be Reached.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—It is stated on the authority of a conservative senator that the Republican senators will be called in today and that the senators will make a proposition to report disagreement on the tariff bill.

If the House will not accept a resolution is to be presented in the Senate asking the Senate conferees.

It did not take the conferees long today to find that they could come to no agreement on a basis of free sugar. The Senate bill is to be accepted in other respects.

Within half an hour after the conferees began the Senate conferees left the room and called on Senator Gorman. Other conservative senators were sent for and it was said a point had been reached where a decision one way or the other must be reached.

IN CONGRESS.

A Resolution to Investigate the Alabama Election.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Chandler today in the Senate offered a resolution directing the committee on elections to investigate the recent elections in Alabama and ascertain if frauds were committed.

At Hill's request the resolution was let over until tomorrow.

Vest declared that when the resolution is considered tomorrow, he will speak of the "infamous law invented and circulated as to the work of the conferees on the part of the Senate."

Hill tried to obtain recognition to offer a resolution calling for information as to the status of the tariff conferences, but it was temporarily crowded out, and went over until tomorrow.

The Senate immediately after going into executive session today took up the Chinese treaty. There is a great desire on the part of the senators favoring the treaty to have it disposed of before adjournment.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The Senate bill granting the Northern Pacific Railroad company the right of way through Indian reservation, Minnesota, was passed by the House today.

Chairman Sayers of the appropriations committee reported a disagreement of the conferees on the sundry civil bill, so to the Senate amendments involving $621,000. The House ratified the agreement to recede and discussed the amendments to which there was still disagreement.

Russia wishes to maintain a strictly neutral position, but as soon as any constitutional change occurs in Corea, she will resolutely protect her interests."

The dispatch states that France has declared her readiness to cooperate with the Russian fleet in the far East.

A JUDGE GUILTY OF MURDER.

Decision of the Supreme Court of Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 10.—The supreme court of Alabama has handed down a decision ordering Judge Job Talley, of North Alabama court, guilty of murder, and he is ordered imprisoned and stripped of his judicial crimes. The case grew out of the killing of Robert C. Ross, cashier of the bank of Heflebro, several months ago, by the three sheriffs brothers for wrecking of their sister. Judge Talley, a relative of the sheriffs, previous to the delivery of a telegram to Ross warning him that he was being followed by the sheriffs brothers. For this act the supreme court finds that Talley is as guilty as those who fired on Ross and he must stand trial on a charge of murder.

The Grain Market Review.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—The grain markets today were decidedly quieter and weaker than during the past few days. The feature of today's trading was the strong preference which the speculators showed for May futures over September, the former becoming the leading option.

The Board of Trade firm of Boggs, Fraser & Co. assigned today. The disturbance in the corn market and the failure of the Hawkeye Commission Co., of Omaha, are believed to have caused the failure. Boggs and Fraser were stockholders of the Hawkeye company.

JOHN AND RICHARD IN IT.

The Way in which Costs are Run Up for Service of Process.

A short time since a long-winded, nasty-eared criminal case was heard by Commissioner McNally. Nelson and Scott, belligerent saloon men of Farmington ward and contestants for the title of possession of a saloon property were defendants, but there were a number of side fights having more or less interest in the outcome.

The result of the hearing was the discharge of Scott and the fining of Nelson. The latter soon after lodged an action in the same court for the recovery of certain goods alleged to be detained in the saloon by Scott, joining with the latter several others, among them Don C. Tutte, A. M. Smith, and the more or less renowned John Doe and Richard Roe, running up the costs for service of process alone to a considerable figure, as the officer had a separate bill for each summons, in which even those noted names of fiction were not omitted. It then occurred to the defendants that the court, the officers and the plaintiff seemed a little too much prone to use another's society to be altogether the thing, and thereupon the defendants took an affidavit that they could not get a fair trial before Mr. McNally for the reason substantially set forth above, and took a change of venue to Commissioner Greenman, where the case now is. The amount claimed is $150, which the costs have swollen to about $250, and attorney's fees added will make the sum total considerable when it is all over. The case will be heard by Commissioner Greenman at 11 a.m. Monday.

STOLE WORDS AND LAW.

A Book Thief Pays a Visit to the Office of Attorney Kerby and Lands in Jail.

A middle-aged bewhiskered individual with a black face and sticky fingers walked into the office of Attorney C. Ira Kerby, this morning. His call was of a business like character, but not such a one as results in fat fees and congratulations from brother lawyers, as on his departure he carried with him a Webster's Unabridged Dictionary and a copy of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

The theft was soon discovered and the police notified. Officer Partridge took the trail, recovered the books and captured the thief, who was escorted to the hall and locked up for hearing. The dictionary had been disposed of at a second hand store, the keeper of which readily turned it over to the officer. The man gave the name of Edwin Thomas.

Women in Saloons.

Di Pinco, an Italian saloon keeper, is under arrest for allowing women in his place of business after time of closing at night. His resort has a name altogether unenviable and the punishment for the offense with which he is charged will probably result in a lesson to those who are known to be equally guilty.

Fortune's Historians.

Bob Fortune, the periodically insane individual who has brought so much trouble and disgrace on his family by his kleptomaniac instincts, is again a prisoner within the city jail. This time he will be confined there for a period of forty-five days unless something unforeseen happens to his advantage. His last offense was the theft of a coat.

FIRE AND POLICE.

Commissioners Meet to Hear the Defense of Suspended Firemen.

LAST NIGHT'S INQUISITION.

A Secret Session at Which the Unwritten Law of Desired Discipline was Expounded.—Cause of Discord.

Commissioner Frank W. Jennings returned from San Francisco and other coast cities on this morning's train in time to attend the meeting of the fire and police board at Chairman Salisbury's office this afternoon called for 2 o'clock.

The purpose of the meeting was to take action regarding the suspension from duty of the last batch of firemen laid off by Chief Devine for various causes as heretofore set forth in the News. Also to look into the matter of the required temporary retirement of Patrolman Edwards from the police forces at the instance of Chief Pratt.

The case of Captain Gilbert was first called. The charges were as follows:

First—That he failed to fill out his application papers in his own handwriting, and that he did not possess the necessary educational qualifications.

Second—That he was under the minimum height and above the maximum age.

Third—That he had failed to pass a satisfactory physical examination.

His first witness was ex-Chief Sheets, who gave him a very good record as fireman, and ex-Clerk Cummings gave similar testimony.

Dr. McAllister testified that the defendant's hearing was defective; that his eyesight was "good at a distance" but bad near at hand.

Ex-Fireman Mowers was next called as a witness in Gilbert's behalf. He gave it as his pronounced opinion that the defendant's eyesight or hearing never placed him at a disadvantage among the men.

Ex-Fireman J. J. Clark was asked by Gilbert:

"When the ladder was run out who was the first man to respond?"

"Captain Gilbert," was the quick response.

Ex-Fireman McMullen testified that Gilbert always was an agreeable man to work with.

In his own behalf the defendant stated that he was an old soldier, that he had served in the war and was now drawing a pension but was healthy physically. The case was taken under advisement.

WAS NOT READY.

The case of J. J. Clark was then called, the charges against him being that he was above the maximum age for applicants, was predisposed to rheumatism and had a weakness of the heart.

Clark was not ready and his case was postponed for his own convenience.

HOWARD'S CASE.

The case of E. P. Howard was called and the defendant took the floor to plead his own case. Concerning Dr. Beatty, who conducted his physical examination, he said: "I think he is as good as a doctor and if he was here I would tell him so to his face. As to Chief Devine I want to say right now and here that he has got to quit making it warm for me or will make it mighty interesting for him."

"Did you say this?" exclaimed Chairman Salisbury, "we do not propose to listen to such remarks. If you persist in them the board will close your case right now."

This warning apparently had the desired effect as Mr. Howard sank on to a sofa and instantly subsided.

As to weak lungs and cough, Dr. Smith said he had examined the defendant but failed to find any indication of physical disability and he had "been hammering away at lungs as far back as '81."

MCMULLEN'S GOOD HABITS.

McMullen's first witness was Captain Gilbert, who said he had often seen the defendant under the influence of drink but not intoxicated. As to his honesty he believed there was no more honest man in the department.

Ex-Clerk Connors stated that when he was in the department a good many men drank; so did McMullen, but rarely to excess. There were many bills against the department during the last administration, but he was always desirous to pay them, and frequently assigned his salary to creditors for two months ahead.

The closed the taking of testimony and the cases of the deposed firemen were taken under advisement, after which it was expected the complaints against the suspended firemen would be taken up.

The hearing was still on at 4 o'clock.

IT WAS A SECRET MEETING.

Chief Pratt Lays Down the Law Behind Locked Doors.

Contrary to previous announcement the police inquisition held at the city hall last night was behind locked doors instead of being thrown open to the public. A News representative who, earlier in the day, had been invited by the chief to be present was requested to step outside as it had been decided after "due deliberation to make the meeting strictly private."

As the News man stood out of the Council chamber, the door was opened, closed and locked by an obliging patrolman who was as polite as any French valet. Something over forty officers responded to their names as they were called out by Captain Donovan and as the door for the lecture drew near the Sixteen moments were wished away in smoking cigars, jingling clubs and spouting true fictions. The uninitiated knew in general way what to expect from the chief and inclined also to the view that some surprises might be sprung upon them. But in this they were mistaken. When they were finally told to wait for the reunion to reconvene a reduction of their salaries became in evidence. It was received that many wages made everyone sad and succeeded them in accepting offers that they would otherwise reject, there was a pyrotechnic demonstration of approval. The chief said that there was a blistering, distinct, emphatic, surest in the department that need be stopped to shatter how great the evil. The present condition was undermining the efficiency of the force. Another thing, he said, most cause and the, was conveying information to the newspaper men, who were often apprised of matters of importance before he was himself, and in regard to this bearing to the communications of any one who had too must be done away with if every man intended to be supported. He here read from the rules and pointed out according to them that he as head of the department was entitled to the first hearing of complaints.

Then as to the Annetta question. He knew that there were many men on the force who were American, but that was all right. He held no ill will towards them. As long as his officers were good, faithful men, he cared nothing for their religion or politics. In the department there could not and must not be mixed. After more talk of a similar strain the meeting came to an end and the police went their way, some of them going on duty and others gathering in little groups talking over the night's developments.

ONE CAUSE OF DISSENSION.

The Man Say It Lies in the Unfortunate Prosecution of a Veteran Sergeant.

It is very doubtful if last night's verbal commitment of the police force will bring about the result Chief Pratt so much desires. Certainly the injunction that they shall not talk to newspaper men in regard to things that concern the public will not be obeyed.

It will probably have the effect of making patrolmen a little more cautious while on duty, but as the absolutely sealing their mouths is something the men will not submit to when their time is their own. Some of the officers—apparently a majority—cannot understand why it is proposed to throw such a tight rein around them and they are go to imparting information to reporters. As a rule they are on the best of terms with the newspaper boys and often get important cues from them in tracing wrong-doers to their lairs.

"I see Mr. Pratt's idea one officer last night. "It is not in giving out information of a legitimate character to reporters, nor so much the Annetta question, nor lodging of complaints with the police commissioners, that has stirred up trouble in the police department, but it is because the men are opposed to the tyranny that Sergeant Ford exhibits towards them on every occasion. He is a big man in height and weight, but a ——— bigger in his own estimation. From the day he stepped into the position he now occupies there has been trouble, and so long as he remains there discord will be found among the men. Some of us would get out right now but we have got to earn a living and times are too hard and economy too few to get out of our own accord."

Will Wait Another Week.

When the representatives of the Liquor Dealers' association stepped forth from their deliberations in the city hall last evening, it was with the announcement that an adjournment had been taken for another week. At that time it is expected definite plans will have been outlined for adoption. They had legal advisers present and the question of closing "notable resorts" on Sundays was discussed on the old lines. For the present they intend to obey the law themselves, they say. But a watch will be kept on their places of business on Sunday all the same.

SHE WANTED TO DIE.

Jennie Wilson, a Missouri Woman, Makes an Unsuccessful Attempt at Suicide.

A young woman about 20 years of age, thinly clad and queer acting, was found on the street near the pontoiline between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning by Sergeant Ford.

At first the officer supposed that she was intoxicated but ascertained on taking her to the police station that such was not the case. The woman stated that she came here from Independence, Mo., arriving in Salt Lake late in yesterday afternoon; that she was in search of her husband, and had walked the streets for twelve hours hoping to find him; that she was penniless on account of being robbed in Kansas City a few nights ago of $20. Finally she became discouraged and said that she was on the way to the depot to throw herself in front of an approaching train and kill herself.

Then she went into convulsions and a physician was sent for who on making a diagnosis of her case announced that she had taken poison, probably morphine. The usual stomach were administered and the patient soon crossed the danger line. Today she showed plainly the awful stress through which she had passed.

Officer Bailey noted the good samaritan who had unfortunate woman and had her conveyed to his sister's home where for the present she will find friends, food and shelter. During her whole there no effort will be made to find the unknown sought for husband.

Boys in Blue Net Game.

Companies A and H, Sixteenth Infantry, under command of Lieutenant Spence and Captain Whistl respectively, have returned from Nevada, whither they went during the strike lawlessness, and are now enjoying a well-earned rest at Fort Douglas.

A Small Fire.

There was a small fire at the rear of the residence of Joseph A. Peck, at No. 109 south Fifth West street, yesterday afternoon when the News went to press. The blaze was in the summer kitchen and was caused by an overheated stove. The flames were extinguished without great difficulty and the loss is slight.

THE LEGAL LEXICON.

Judge Bartch's Decision Today in the Various Contempt Case.

A TRANSACTION IN IOWA.

Motion for the Appointment of a Receiver Denied Thereon Facts of the Case.

Judge Bartch this morning rendered his decision in the matter of the A. B. Dick company vs. E. H. Parsons, the legal arguments in which closed yesterday. The case was submitted on motion of counsel to set aside the order previously made by his honor citing Commissioner McNally to certify his transcript in these proceedings to the court upon appeal. It was now ordered that the motion to set aside be overruled, and the motion to set aside the appeal in the contempt proceedings be denied.

ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP.

Carl O. Petersen, a Swede, now a resident of Salt Lake county, was admitted to citizenship.

A STAY GRANTED.

Irvine vs Rowe. Five days' stay of execution was allowed in this case to make additional showing why default should not be set aside.

LEAVE TO FILE.

John A. Miner vs Seth W. Morrison et al. Motion by defendant Morrison for leave to file amended answer granted. Motion by plaintiff for leave to file amended complaint also allowed.

LEAVE TO WITHDRAW.

Kahn Bros. vs the Utah Gem Mining Co. Leave given plaintiff to withdraw summons in attachment service.

Fatio vs the Park City Bank. Plaintiff granted permission to withdraw summons in attachment service.

TIME ALLOWED.

Walker vs Cahoon. Defendant granted till Aug. 16th to plead.

THE MOTION REFORED.

The hearing of the case of E. D. Carson vs Thomas Wiley and G. A. Franks occupied some time. It came up on an order to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney L. M. Armstrong; Attorney Thomas appeared for the defendant Wiley. Mr. Franks figured as a nominal defendant here. A suit in foreclosure is now pending. It seems that one J. H. Creek, Jr., who resides on South West Temple street, some time ago sold some cows to Wiley and incident him to give a mortgage upon them as security for the payment, as West so upon six months which, it is claimed, belonged to Wiley's wife. The mortgage was assigned to Mr. Carson, and subsequently to Mrs. Carson. It was now asserted that the court appoint a receiver to take charge of the cows in question, as it is claimed to show that the six cows did not belong to Mrs. Wiley at all and that she had no financial interest in them.

After hearing testimony and legal arguments Judge Bartch denied the motion.

PROBATE.

No orders were made in the Probate court today.

Samuel Westbrooke & company have also commenced attachment proceedings in the Third district court against Mrs. M. A. Allen to recover $236.41 for goods sold and delivered.

Detective Francis plead guilty in an assault in Commissioner McNally's court, and a fine of $5 and costs followed. It seems that Francis and a man named Hoskins got into an altercation yesterday over the Derby vs Hosker suit, which was filed in the Third district court on Wednesday, and in which it is alleged that Mrs. Hosky, the plaintiff, was forced to sign a conveyance of certain property by threats and other illegal methods. Francis struck Hoskins in the face and then unfortunately surrendered himself, with the above result.

ATHLETIC CARNIVAL.

A Day of Fine Sport and Entertainment at Saltair.

The Y. M. C. A. will give its grand gymnastic tournament at Saltair, August 14. It will consist of a program in some respects similar to that rendered in the Tabernacle at the recent gymnastic carnival.

There will be exes, bars and vitual work on the horizontal rest parallel bars, Spanish rings and bars, Indian club swinging, dumbbell exercises and fancy swing. The program will be enlivened by a repetition of the grand bicycle drill which was given in the Tabernacle and Thomas Indian by double the attention of Captain W. W. Hall. The junior branch of the Y. M. C. A. will do some excellent work in the line of "pyramid building."

All of the participants will be dressed in white trousers and leggings above such as are worn by tennis players, thirty men and boys in such suits will be quite a novel sight in the locality. The day promises to be one of recreation and extra enjoyment to our summer sojourners as it opens in most delightful in every detail.
