THE LEGISLATURE.

Legal Holidays — Railroad Bill—The Election Contest.

In the Senate yesterday afternoon, after the close of the News report, the Senate passed the following bills: House bill No. 81, making legal holidays include January 1st, February 22nd, May 30th, July 4th, July 24th, September 1st and December 25th—Thanksgiving Day not being included; House bill No. 80, authorizing school districts that failed to levy a special tax in 1895 to levy such tax, and House bill No. 66, amending the law relating to the redemption of property sold for taxes, so as to allow four years for such redemption. The Senate then adjourned till Monday.

THE HOUSE.

The House transacted the following business yesterday after the News went to press:

FROM THE SENATE.

Communications from the Senate informed the House of the following: The passage of H. B. No. 5—the Hoel bill; the passage of H. B. No. 87, requiring the bringing of actions in the proper counties; the passage of H. B. No. 14, relating to the transfer of causes, and the adoption with amendments of H. C. R. No. 7, authorizing the employment of one or more accountants to assist in auditing the accounts of the different State institutions. On motion of Morrison the Senate amendments to H. C. R. No. 7 were concurred in.

CONSIDERATION OF REPORTS.

On motion of Cazier, the House then went into a committee of the whole, with Thorne in the chair, for the consideration of several committee reports which had previously been read.

The first taken up was the livestock committee's report on H. B. No. 18, by Cannon, for an act providing for the more effectual prevention of cruelty to animals. The committee recommended its non-passage.

Condon, the author of the bill, became somewhat enraged, when a motion was made to adopt the committee's report. Said he, on arising, "Gentlemen, before that motion is put I also to ask that the vote on this proposition be put on record. I would also like to ask the chairman of the committee whether they found their duty?"

Andrus, the chairman of the committee, stated that the bill had been under consideration for about three weeks. They had examined it thoroughly and found that it was substantially covered by the present statutes."

"Well," said Condon, "I give notice that if the committee's report is adopted, I will immediately introduce another which will be more definite and cover more fully the defects in the present law."

The report was laid on the table.

The live stock committee's report recommending the non-passage of H. B. No. 50 relating to the befouling of waters, was next taken up, when Cazier moved to refer the bill to the committee on public health.

This created quite a discussion, and upon a vote being taken Cazier's motion was lost. The committee's report was then adopted.

The passage of H. B. No. 50, by Condon, for an act providing seats for female employes when not actually engaged in service, was recommended by the committee on public health. Harris moved to eliminate the emergency clause, and Cazier wanted the enacting clause stricken out because he felt impressed that "if employes did provide seats for their clerks, etc., there was no means of compelling them to sit down." The latter proposition met with strenuous opposition from the author, after which the emergency clause was stricken out, and the passage of the bill recommended.

Substitutes for H. B.'s Nos. 65 and 73, providing pay for boards of education, were submitted by the committee on education. They provide that members of school boards shall serve without compensation, and in accordance with the committee's report were laid on the table.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

The committee of the whole then arose and the following new bills were introduced:

H. B. No. 98, withdrawn the day before by Egan, was reintroduced. It provides that railroads shall keep proper crossings over streets and roads.

H. B. No. 101, by Stephens, conferring on judges of the district court the probate jurisdiction which heretofore been vested in the probate court, to commit persons for insanity.

H. B. No. 102, by Condon, requiring teachers in the public schools to teach children to be kind to animals.

S. B. No. 5, by Miller, the newspaper libel bill.

S. B. No. 44, by Sutherland, to provide seats for clerks of courts.

S. B. No. 45, by Sutherland, to release one joint debtor without discharging the other.

The Senate informed the House that it had passed S. B. No. 44, providing for seats for district courts and county clerks, and S. B. No. 45, providing for the release of joint debtors.

The Governor sent to the House the report of the chancellor of the board of regents of the State University for 1895, the scalar of weights and measures, the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing society and the board of medical examiners. Referred to appropriate committees.

The first reading of bills brought Harris to his feet, to take exceptions to H. B. No. 101. He moved that as there was no means of enforcing the provisions of the bill, except as to the teachers, that its consideration by the House be delayed. The motion was ruled out of order at that time, but upon second reading, it was renewed and carried.

Stevens asked for a suspension of the rules, that his bill, No. 101, might be passed, but the House refused to acquiesce in his request, and adjourned until 7:30 p.m.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session was given over to argument in the Utah county contest case of J. F. Bringhurst vs Hyrum Lemmon, wherein the former contends that he is entitled to the legislative seat which is now occupied by the latter.

It will be remembered that the committee on elections, to which the testimony taken at the hearing was referred, brought in, after due consideration, majority and minority reports, the substance of which has already appeared in these columns.

The majority report, which was submitted by the Republican members of the committee, recommended the unseating of the present incumbent, Hyrum Lemmon, a Democrat, and the placing in his stead J. F. Bringhurst, a Republican.

The minority report, signed by Mansfield, Egan and Sarsaparil, dissented from the findings of the majority, and contended that inasmuch as Mr. Lemmon was now a sitting member, and held a certificate which implied that he was duly elected and entitled to the office, the presumptions were in favor of his right to continue in that position, unless overcome by evidence which clearly showed that he was not legally elected.

At the opening of the session, Nye moved that none but the chairman of the committee and the first named on the minority be allowed to speak more than once, and after the speeches were made by Critchlow, so as to allow a second speech, after all others had been heard, the motion prevailed and the House went into committee of the whole with Taylor in the chair.

Lewis, the chairman of the committee, made the opening, and, (by consent of the chair) closing speech. He reviewed the testimony in detail and declared that it was the duty of the House to ascertain the will of the people of Utah county in respect to Mr. Lemmon occupying the seat which he did.

Mansfield, the champion of the minority, follow in a democratic vein on the merits of the report which he represented. He appealed to the members to allow no technicalities to influence their decision, and declared that notwithstanding the charge of fraud raised by counsel for Mr. Bringhurst, there was none, a fact which was evident from the color of the envelopes upon which the accusation was based. They were found in the proper box.

Nye in his closing argument stated that the majority had no desire to take advantage of the minority on any technicality, asserting that had they been been willing to, the unseating of Mr. Lemmon would have been more speedy justified. He then went on reviewing the testimony and was in the midst of his second speech when a motion to rise and report progress prevailed, and an adjournment was taken till Monday at 2 p. m.

Sue for Separation.

Two more unhappy wives, in the persons of Julia P. Wadsen and Sarah A. Webb, have applied for divorces in the Third district court. The former was married to Lars Wadsen in 1886 and asks that she be given a decree on the grounds of cruelty and failure to provide. Mrs. Webb was married less than two years ago to W. J. Webb, and asks for a divorce on the grounds of failure to support.

Coke Club Banquet.

The second annual banquet of the Coke club takes place at the Templeton tonight beginning at 9:30. The organization which comprises about twenty-five active members has had a progressive year, while the club before it, could cut bright promises and numerous opportunities in the way of climbing the legal ladder. The members propose to have a royal time tonight.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Beautiful Clipper: On Tuesday last Bob Fortune and George Eldredge, charged with burglary, were brought before Justice Shearer for a preliminary hearing. The accused were charged with entering the smoke house of George O. Cones and stealing some sixty pounds of dried beef. It is also alleged that they stole twenty of Mrs. Nellie Smith's chickens and turkeys. Quite a number of fowls have been missed from Beautiful which probably got into the same hands. After hearing a number of witnesses the defendants were consigned to the county jail where they will wait for a hearing in the district court. Officers Shannon and Pratt, officers from the Salt Lake police force, were the principal witnesses and County Attorney Wilkes prosecuted the case.

Lehi Banner: The directors of the People's Co-op met on Tuesday in the bank building to hear the report of the superintendent for the past year. The report shows the institution to be in a prosperous and excellent condition financially. It shows that the amount of business done the last year has been far greater than that done in '94. The directors declared a dividend of two per cent for the last quarter. W. H. Dansie will have in a few days for the East for the purpose of purchasing spring goods for the institution.

If He's Honest.

If your shoe dealer is honest, he'll tell you that Goodyear Welts are best shoes made,—better than hand-sewed shoes, for they're as easy, flexible comfortable and shapely as hand-sewed, but don't rip. Hand-sewed shoes do rip. Ask any honest dealer.

ANOTHER RAMBLER DAY.

The Rambler boys had a great glorious time in the Ogden races. The Ogden of the day was the ten mile road race, in which McCunkey finished third, taking third prize and third time prize. Fourth came the track race, Joe Rich taking second in the novelty, Fowler third, Weiter second, and Thatcher third in the scratch, class B, all "Ramblers" you will note. In the half mile class A, Rich took second, Corum third, Hall fourth, class B, Thatcher second, Fowler third. Five mile, class B, Fowler second. In this race a man in a fellow car broke his head and fell, Cornelisse and Weiter both immediately behind him, the result was a spill for three riders and the race lost to Evans. The five mile, class A, was another Rambler event, May taking first, Joe Rich second and McCunkey third. Fourteen prizes in one day is good enough for any one.

People may laugh and people may cry,
And one day rain and the next day shine,
But Rambler's win races wherever they go,
