NO QUORUM PRESENT.

Three Councilmen Rise, Call the Roll and Adjourn for the Week.

As majority of the members of the City Council, including President Lombardo, are absent from the city there was no council meeting last night and consequently no business was transacted. Acting Mayor Beardsley, however, dropped into the council chamber about 7:30. After pacing the floor in studious silence for a time he took his departure. He had been gone but a short time when Councilmen Hardy and Evans came in and taking pocket, fire proofing and miscellaneous matters for half an hour when Mr. Beardsley returned, and after a pleasant and "good evening" ordered Deputy City Recorder Dennis to call the roll, which he did, and after which an adjournment was taken for lack of a quorum until Tuesday night next.

Wonderland.

Patrons of this popular resort have a treat in store for them, for the week commencing tomorrow. Sig. Cordano, the great musical wonder, will appear in his great act; also The Graces, William and Lena, in a refined pantomime act. In the theater the stock company will appear in the new society drama, The Queen's Evidence, with Richard Crolius in the leading role.

THE POULTRY EXHIBIT.

A Very Creditable Display of Utah Birds at No. 59 South Main Street.

The sixth annual exhibit of the Utah Poultry association is now on at No. 59 South Main street in the new brick building recently erected by Spencer Clawson and in which the "petrified lake" was shown to curious and easily humbugged citizens. Notwithstanding the swindle connected with it having been so completely exposed by the local press.

The poultry exhibit will last for several days to come. Doors open each morning at 10 o'clock. That class of the public who like to gaze upon beautiful birds will miss a splendid display by remaining away.

There are now on exhibition seven pens of light brahmas, six pens of langshans, three pens of single comb white leghorns, eight pens of barred plymouth rocks, four pens of white plymouth rocks, five pens of buff cochins, two pens of partridge cochins, six pens of black minorcas, one pen of brown turkeys, one pen of white fan tail pigeons, one pen of buff bantams; besides one pen each of white rabbits and painted pots.

The association now has a membership of about sixty, and is officered as follows: President, W. D. Rigby of Salt Lake; vice-president, W. W. Browning of Ogden; secretary, J. W. Hasiam of Salt Lake; treasurer, A. J. Ridges, of Salt Lake. Prizes, graduated from the amount of entrance fee, have been offered in each class, and the aim of the association and exhibition is to raise the standard of poultry in Utah.

Suits Against Cohn Bros.

Suits against Cohn Bros., the dry goods merchants of Main street, who assigned on Monday, were filed in the Third district court last evening.

John V. Farrell & Co. claim $532.19 for merchandise.

Scoville Bros. & Rieth claim $754.25 for merchandise.

Benjamin & Co. claim $1449 for merchandise.

Bamenthal Bros. & Co. claim $1399.50 for merchandise.

Henry Rothchild & Co. claim $464.50 for merchandise.

Charles M. Clinton filed an action against Simon Goldman in the Third district court yesterday to establish a lien to which interest in certain property in this city belonging to the defendant, Goldman is the defaulting teller of the German National bank of Denver.

Country Credit.

The merchants of Kaysville and Layton have organized a business men's protective association after the pattern of the association recently formed in this city. The object is to bring about a partial abolition of the credit system which they report has been doing them irreparable injury. Accounts will not be carried by any member of the association for over six months, and delinquents at one store will not be given credit at any other.

The following Kaysville firms have joined the association: Kaysville Co-operative, Hyrum Stewart, E. A. Williams & Son, Wessels & Co., John Barton & Son and Robert Blamires. The Layton firms who have signed the agreement are: Farmers' Union, Adam's & Sons Co. and Evans & Layton.

IT IS GROWING SERIOUS.

Deputy Marshal Gill had a Narrow Escape.—Frank Carr a Dangerous Fellow.

Matters in connection with the South Ogden Mercantile company troubles are fast assuming serious phases and it is becoming very common for guns to be brought into play by members of the opposing factions. Frank Carr seems to be the one specially delegated to make serious mistakes for which he will undoubtedly be called to strict account. Yesterday he added to his already long list of offenses by shooting at Deputy Marshal Gill while the latter was in the discharge of his duty and, as a result, was held in $2000 bonds to await preliminary hearing on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder and in bonds for contempt of court, bearing to be had on Saturday.

Sidney Stevens and his sons, at whom Carr took three shots on Monday, went before Judge Miner yesterday, and by their attorney asked that the contempt of court cases against W. J. Stephens, S. C. Stephens, A. S. Rook, Frank Carr and John Hill, be called at once for hearing. When the names of the defendants were called, Carr, Rook and Hill failed to appear and bench warrants were issued for them and placed in the hands of Deputy Gill for service. Accompanied by Sidney O. Stevens and A. Y. Ross, who went to identify the men, Gill went down to the store together in South Ogden, where Carr was known to be fortified and demanded admission to the scene of the row. There was no response. Through the keyhole of the door door the whole-souled deputy could see Carr sweeping a place within on the floor. Across this he had what greatly resembled a rifle. Gill again demanded that the door be opened and stakes his errand and official position. For the second time, receiving no response, he rolled out his notice the door was opened he would use all necessary force. Still there was silence, and placing his shoulder against the door the deputy exerted his strength to burst the lock. Then the silence was broken by the crack of a rifle and a bullet came crashing through the door on a level with Gill's abdomen but about three yards from his side. Had he not been in the position named the ball would have passed his body and death would more than likely have been instantaneous.

Not caring to expose himself again the deputy went for reinforcements and was soon at the head of a small army of determined officers, including Deputies Cassels, Hatcher and Corey, Marshal Kellogg and two deputies, Marshal Detroit and sergeant Smith. F. W. Lafrentz, who has been appointed by the court to take charge of the entire business, pending the final settlement of the case, and W. J. Stephens arrived on the scene, about the same time as the officers and Carr opened up when ordered to do so by Mr. Stephens. He was at once arrested and brought into town. When searched at South Ogden he was without arms and claimed that the man who did the shooting had escaped. His story was the improbable, and in the face of the circumstances surrounding the case did not hold water. Not being entirely satisfied, just before taking the prisoner before Judge Cross to plead to the complaints sworn to by Gill, Deputy Corey again searched Carr and found that someone had supplied him with a thirty-calibre revolver, loaded in every chamber. The guilty person is suspected and may be arrested.

Carr was ready to plead Carr was held in bonds of $4,000 to await hearing this morning. J. C. Stephens, J. O. Stephens, and Elizabeth Stephens became his sureties. He was then taken before Judge Miner and arraigned for contempt. He had nothing to say in extenuation of his conduct and his bonds were set at $2,000, which were furnished by the same bondsmen. To the court, in reply to a question, he stated he was acting under instructions from Stephens Bros., who had ordered him not to allow any one to enter the building. These contempt cases, which will be heard on Saturday, may be very serious affairs.

Judge Cross dismissed the case of grand larceny against Sidney Stevens, Sidney O. Stevens, C. P. Gust, A. Y. Ross, William McFarlane and William Pierce, and the bonds over which the trouble first started were returned to the safe of Sidney Stevens, to be in the custody of Sidney O. Stevens, the secretary of the company.—Standard.

THE MINING CONGRESS.

It Will be Held Here if the Requisite Amount of Assistance is Forthcoming.

W. F. James, the well-known mining man of this city, is strongly advocating the proposition to hold the next National Mining congress in this city. In conversation with a representative of the News, he said: "The meeting of several hundred wealthy and intelligent mining men in this city is bound to result in good to our community, and I think we should see to it that we serve our own interests. It will, however, cost something to entertain those who would come here to attend the conference. It would be very poor economy to turn our distinguished guests here and allow them to shift for themselves. If Salt Lake business and mining men realize what good that is sure to flow from the congress convening here there will be no trouble in raising the necessary means to handle it in proper shape. Helena raised $6000 to defray the expenses of the congress when it met at that place in July last. Denver raised $8000 when the congress assembled there. Unless we can raise a similar sum we had better not undertake the matter as it would result in humiliation."

Mr. James is of the opinion that April next is the proper time to hold the congress and if he can secure the proper financial aid from the Chamber of Commerce and the Business Men's association then he will go to work at once and see that it meets here.

JUNCTION CITY NEWS.

The County Commissioners.—Housebreakers.—Court Drainings.—General.

[Rocky Mountaineer.]

The board of county commissioners met yesterday. The opinion of the county attorney relative to the vexed question of the salary of the county sheriff was received and filed. It is to the effect that the sheriff cannot draw a salary. The treasurer submitted a report showing cash in the treasury on January 23, 1893, $37,295.81. The monthly report of the county clerk for December, 1892, was submitted, showing expenditures for the month of $13,556.59, and for the year 1892, $153,568.39. Of the latter amount $7555 was for tax sale certificates issued to by the county; $3793 was a loan to Morgan county and $40,000 was for funding outstanding debts. This leaves the regular running expenses of the county for the year about $56,000. An appropriation of $50 was made to repair a bridge south of Huntsville. A number of claims were disposed of and the court adjourned for one week.

Among the passengers on board the Southern Pacific train which arrived in Ogden at 7:35 o'clock last night was Leigh S. Lyneh, World's Fair commissioner to Samoa, India, Japan and a number of other Oriental countries. The gentleman is returning from Apia, Samoa, where he went to attend to some business duties made necessary by the death of H. B. Gibson, the representative, who was drowned off a reef while collecting specimens. During his stay in Samoa Mr. Lynch devoted his entire time to a study of the resources of the island from an Expansion standpoint and declares that they are very varied and almost unlimited. He brought back with him many rare specimens and curiosities, some of which he displayed last night during the wait for the east bound train.

George Love, Thomas Rice and Joseph Rentzel, three tramps, were held to the grand jury by Justice Carlson in bonds of $1000 each, on charge being housebreaking. The men broke into the carriage house of Alex. Louis Farr and appropriated a set of new harness which they pawned for $4.50 with a south Washington merchant. The robbery was reported to police headquarters and officers Learn and Fetter found the guilty parties in a Twenty-fifth street saloon. They will be taken to the penitentiary this morning.

Turner and Walker, two of the prize fighters, as they are termed by the composting element, were unable to secure bonds in the lock-up and went to the penitentiary. Jewell met with a similar fate now lying in jail will be taken to the pen by a deputy this morning.

In the case of Willis H. Booth vs. Union Pacific Railway company, a judgment of $[illegible] was rendered in favor of the plaintiff by consent. The suit was brought to recover damages done to the plaintiff's fruit near Bingham City by reason of the railroad grading through it.

The Union Pacific and Rio Grande Western has made a reduction of $50 per car on all packing house products from Chicago and Missouri river points to Ogden and Utah points, where the packing houses are taken in straight carload lots.

A large force of men was put to work on the Grand avenue school building yesterday morning and the structure was the scene of great activity during the day. It will be completed in about two weeks.

H. S. Woolley, of Paris, Idaho, was in Ogden, yesterday. He has just sold to William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," one hundred head of saddle horses. Cody will send a man west at once to receive the animals.

Robert Burns, the great Scotch poet, was born January 25, 1759. Tonight the Scottish people in this city propose celebrating the event with befitting honors.

Judge Miner's time yesterday was devoted largely to the several hearings in the cases which have grown out of the South Ogden Mercantile company trouble, and no jury cases were called for trial.

The Switch saloon on lower Twenty-fifth street closed its doors yesterday. This makes three saloons which have suspended during the month.

LOGAN EVENTS.

Arrangements for a Grand Concert.—An Epidemic of Diphtheria Probable.—A Victim of the Richmond Explosion.

Arrangements are being made by the lessees of the Pocatello Opera house for the Tinticher Opera house band to give a grand concert and ball at that place in the near future. The band makes music that was highly appreciated on the occasion of their last visit to Pocatello.

Professor Sanborn of the Agricultural college delivered a lecture before the Philomathic society last Friday evening, on the evolution of the plow. The lecture was very interesting and was illustrated with stereoptican views. The evolution of the plow from the most primitive up to the latest pattern was clearly traced.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Jeannette Cowley were held in the Tabernacle on Sunday. Elders Yates, Martineau and Tinticher were the speakers.

James Sparrow of Trenton has been arrested by Sheriff Kirkbride, charged with stealing a pair of horse blankets from a wagon that was standing in the yard behind Toombs' livery stable. Sparrow claims to have found the blankets on the sidewalk. He will have his trial on Saturday before Judge Smith.

It seems probable that there will be an epidemic of diphtheria in Wellsville. A young lady named Lloyd has had the disease for a short time, and was not aware of its dangerous character. This being the case, visitors to the house have been numerous, and one of her sisters has been teaching a school there, so that a large number of people have been exposed. All schools have been closed, awaiting developments.

A team belonging to Mr. Tibbets of Providence ran away on Third street on Saturday. They ran against and demolished a cart, and finished their career by running against a telegraph pole and leaving the wagon there.

Nephi Johnson had a hearing before Commissioner Goodwin on Monday, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, alleged to have been made on Mina Hansen. The case was dismissed and Johnson placed under $500 bonds to keep the peace.

John Doe was fined $5 by Justice Brangham, for drunkenness.

One of the men injured by the explosion of giant powder at Richmond on Friday last, Thomas Exeter, was not supposed to be seriously injured at the time, but symptoms of concussion of the brain, as well as hemorrhage of the lungs, have since been developed, and he is in a critical condition.

The quarterly conference of this Stake will convene on Sunday and continue until Monday evening.

LOGAN, Jan. 23.

SOCIAL RE-UNION.

The People of Sugar House Ward Spend an Enjoyable Evening.

The evening of January 21st, 1893, will long be remembered by the good people of Sugar House Ward, in consequence of participating in a social reunion, provided by a special committee appointed by the Bishopric of the ward. At 7:30 the spacious new meeting house was filled to its utmost capacity by the people of the ward, who came prepared to spend an enjoyable time together. The following program was rendered, under the direction of M. M. Alwood:

1, Quartette, Mr. and Mrs. A. Castleton, Miss A. Fowler and N. S. Thompson; 2, Prayer, by James Moffitt; 3, Violin Solo, with organ accompaniment, Master Jas. and Miss Annie Fowler; 4, Address, Royal B. Young; 5, Glee, Thompson Bros. and Messrs. S. H. Love, Wm. Spry, J. W. Summerhays and Arthur Castleton; 6, Dutch Recitation, Bird Murphy; 7, Quartette, Thompson Bros.; 8, Recitation, Dr. A. G. Conger; 9, Baritone Solo, Wm. Spry; 10, Recitation, Geo. M. Cannon; 11, Duet, Hardy and Cummings; 12, Benediction, by A. F. Cummings.

A pleasing feature of the evening's exercises was the presentation to Elder Arthur Stayner, Jr., of a complete set of Washington Irving's works, handsomely bound, as a token of appreciation, by the members of the ward, of his efficient labors as superintendent of the Sabbath Schools. The presentation, made by Elder Chas. Alston, was a complete surprise and Brother Stayner in replying made a telling and appropriate reply.

While each number of the program was rendered in a creditable manner and was heartily encored, special mention should be made of the quartette rendered by the Thompson brothers, glee by Thompson Brothers and Messrs. Love, Spry, Summerhays and Castleton; also the vocal solo by Master James Fowler, 11 years old, accompanied on the organ by his sister, Miss Annie.

During the intermission hand-shaking was engaged in by all present, and expressions of congratulation and good-will were heard on all sides.

The object of a social reunion for the members of the ward was fully realized, and all spent hours feeling that a more frequent occurrence of similar events would prove beneficial.

Within Our Gates.

William Stoneman, who looks after and controls the destinies of the Ogden shoestaff in a business way, took a turn down this way last evening and sped him homeward today.

James Stevens, of Stonch, which the same is in the county of Sanpete, came his way through the drifts and gorges yesterday and brought up at the White house.

J. S. Salmon, the town to Smith we look with longing eyes for a cessation of our redemption from the charly clutches of a merciless monopoly, came in, hung up his hat and is temporarily one of us. We regret to state that the name of that town is Cedarville.

Robert Burns' birthday has again dawned upon us and the brawny Scots are going to celebrate the occasion at the Knutsford this evening. He persons as wants to preserving for us was nature's own and only poet; still let the hope remain that it will not be considered disrespectful to say that, during these nights, anything that Burns is welcome.

Fish Commissioner A. M. Musser was today exhibiting a lot of cisco bass just received from Utah lake, the same (the fish, not the lake) weighing all the way from a quarter of a pound to a pound and a half. They were consigned to the bosom of their watery parent, as infants a little over an inch in length, but, like everything else that stays in this fair land, they grow and wax fat.

Charles Barrell is responsible for that neat and piquant addition to the musical forces of the city, the Juvenile Drum corps, by means of which "the sanpdering fife, the spirit-stirring drum" have full and free expression at the mouths and hands of the rising generation. Last night they were entertained at the residence of S. R. Newman, who has contributed two members to the brigade. Mrs. Newman and her daughters made the lads entirely at home till a late hour and in such a manner as made everyone feel as though he were a major.

SHOULD BE INVESTIGATED.

A Tamale Man Said to be Making His Hot Meat Rolls in a Diphtheria Infected House.

City Detective Matt. Rhodes made the alarming statement to a News reporter today that a tamale manufacturer was making his hot meat rolls, which he sells every night on the street to persons who have empty stomachs and who have long since lost the sense of taste, in a squalid house in which he lives in the western part of the city, and in which members of his family are suffering from the ravages of diphtheria.

This is a case which the health commissioner might inquire into with profit.

How Much will you Risk for One Cent?

THE difference in price between the PUTNAM NAIL and cheaper kinds amounts to one cent each pound.

We offer a bonus to any nail factory in the world for a nail which shows holding power equal to our nail, or even to prove that our nail is not the best nail made.

The process of their manufacture is rapidly driving out all other kinds, because they are found more economical in the long run. The cost per pound, considering the fewer pounds required and the fewer kegs, so that after the nail is driven and the job is finished the total cost of putting in a given number of nails holds good, and you have either more nails for your money, or the same number of nails at less cost. Ask your hardware dealer for the Putnam Nail. Insist upon having what you want, but you should see your good taste.

Use the Putnam Nail.

It is Bar-Forged from the best Norway iron, which is a working fact, by the makers of Hammers alone, and then Hammer Polished.

This, the old time process is followed, which has not forging nails under hammers, and hammering them by the slow, cold, without any slipping or slamming whatever.

AND THE NAIL CANNOT SPLIT.

That is why you can drive nails for well laid floors without fear.

This process will stay at home, and your hardware man will be happy to supply you.

ASK FOR ONE CENT.

Send for circular.
