case history has taught us to expect.

"But when the record of the war is made up it will appear that no great army was ever organized and equipped so well and so promptly, with less privation and less suffering than our own volunteer army in our present war.

"Now questions have grown out of the war. New territory has been acquired. What shall be done with it? New administrative questions will arise, questions of revenue, questions of finance all of which are directed by our responsibility. Shall we adopt a colonial policy? What shall it be? Whatever is done with these islands, we must lift up their semi-barbarous people toward the level of American citizenship. Their government, their civilization, their education, demand the best wisdom of our ablest statesmen. Shall we trust their settlement to those who, two years ago were making a crusade against law and order against American credit and expending in the lowest instincts of the citizens or shall we stand by the administration and give to President McKinley at the national capital a Senate and House of Representatives who will aid him in every patriotic endeavor, to carry sound system of government into these islands of the sea.

"Shall we, gentlemen, begin by lastly a senator here and an assemblyman there in the state of New York? We must see to it that our Democratic associates return to the shadow of Tom. We must have a Republican in his place. We must see to it that we have a Republican executive in the Empire State. We must stand by the administration in those perilous times that are to come, guaranteeing to these islands a stable, just and equitable government that will give to Cuba a place among the nations of the earth and give to Porto Rico a chance to sweep the American flag to march onward toward American civilization and become a part of the American people."

The mention of President McKinley's name was the signal for wild and continuous cheering, and Delegate Chauncey Mosier of Ilowaiira rapped the chairman by asking for three cheers, which were given with a will.

At 1:25 the convention, on motion of J. Hoad Pickett, took a recess until 3:30 o'clock. It is understood that Mr. Dillingham will make a personal statement of Col. Roosevelt's eligibility for the nomination for governor at the session this afternoon. It will not consist of a presentation of affidavits and documents as originally intended, but will be a plain statement of the facts as Mr. Hoit understands them together with his interpretation of the legal and constitutional aspect of the case.

After another recess the convention reassembled at 4:40 p. m. Atty. J. Niles Cady of Hudson Falls takes the floor at 4:20 p.m., and nominated Governor Black. Mr. Chauncey M. Depew took the prize and made an eloquent and masterly address in nomination of Col. Theodore Roosevelt. The speech was begun at 4:35 p.m. and is as follows:

DEPEW'S GREAT SPEECH.

Gentlemen—Not since 1861 has the Republican party met in convention when the conditions of the country were so interesting or so critical. The wildest dreams overborne of the imagination of the optimistic believer in our destiny could not foresee when McKinley was elected two years ago, the surprising events of events of the past three months. We are either to be endangered by this break in the dykes created by Washington, and our government, or we are to find by the wise utilization of the conditions forced upon us how to be safer and stronger within our old boundaries, and to add incalculably to American enterprise and opportunity by becoming masters of the sea, and entering with the energy of our manufactures the markets of the world.

The times require conservative statesmen. As in 1776 and 1861 we need workers and builders. We have but one school for their training and education, and that school is the Republican party. Our Republican administration upon which a tremendous responsibility rests, must have a Republican Congress for its support in the next two years—two years of transcendent importance to our future. New York, imperial among her sister states in all which makes a great commonwealth, is still the pivotal state in our national contests. We, the delegates here assembled, have a very serious duty to so acting as to keep our old state and her congressional delegation in the Republican column. Our thought, our energy entirely, is with whomsoever standard bearer can we most forcibly present to the people those new and vital issues, the position of the Republican party and the necessity to the country that it should receive the support of the country. Friends and enemies alike join in the general acclaim when the wisdom, sagacity and statesmanship of President McKinley. Our state has had a faithful, able and worthy representative in the great deliberative body in the world in Senator Platt. We are justly proud of our delegation in Congress and its influence with the conservative members of the Republican administration. We possess unusual executive ability and courage in Governor Black. The relations legal of a state overcome whether conditions and topics me to present the name of, as it will persuade you to nominate as our candidate for governor of the state of New York, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. If he were only the best of a brilliant charge on the battlefield and their work nothing more which fitted him for this high place, I would not put him in nomination. But Colonel Roosevelt has shown conspicuous ability in the public service for ten years. He was a soldier three months. It is not, that which lies with an executive mind and restless energy Roosevelt's, but rather the opportunity. Give him the chance and he leads to victory.

The wife of a cabinet officer told me that when Assistant Secretary Roosevelt announced that he had determined to resign and raise a regiment for the war, some of the ladies in the administration circle thought it their duty to remonstrate with him. They said:

"Mr. Roosevelt, you have six children, the youngest a few months old and the oldest not yet in the teens. While the country is full of young men who have no such responsibilities and who ought to enlist, you have no right to leave the nurses upon your wife of the care, support and training of all that family."

Roosevelt's answer was a Roosevelt answer:

"I have done so much as any one to bring on this war, because I believed it must come and the sooner the better and now that war is declared, I have no right to ask others to do the fighting and stay at home myself."

The regiment of rough riders was an original American conception, a democratic idea patriotic and industrial. It contained men from all conditions of American life. The same great position and found under the scarlet hat of the cowboy and the elegant imported silk of New York's gilded youth. Their companions are the cowboys of the West and the East, their manhood is the same.

In that hot and pestiferous climate of summer Cuba, fever had opportunities for protection from disease and heat which were not possible for the men. But the rough riders endured as readily the and dangers which were not shared by their comrades. "I helped them to the fighting to stand battle than to the deadly dangers of the trenches. It required more for him if his comrades must sleep on the ground and under no cover, to feel continuous charge of the rough riders through the hail of shot and up the hill of San Juan, their colonel was a hundred feet in advance.

The bullets whistling by him are rarely directing the heads of those that are upon him. The moment lead and falls and the live pressure, he is a hero, must be in an equable, warring, fighting, charging, and shouting. He needs a charmed life. He drives the cowards before and plunges through, calling:

"Come on boys, come on, and we will lick hell out of the world."

The moral force of [illegible] comes and about the Spaniards, and they fled from their fortified heights and Washington was saved.

"The sick will not of them," is the fury of the battles. It was not the fighting qualities of Washington which saved the Revolution, and carried the day at Monmouth. It proved the battles the fortunes of the young soldiers and not those trained in the Prussian school of war, but the battle made up the valley from Wilmington.

The Roosevelt is the typical citizen-soldier. The Spanish bullets of our army in Cuba, might not have been powerful for weeks through the regular channels of promotion and reward made the young soldiers and sailors. Here the citizen in the ranks, overcome the official routine and officials of the war department, and the people through newspapers and shipped to the army the dangers of disease and death, and resulting one hero before the war, and the people have been subject to every method for visiting the authors of war, and the message impulse of the people gave him the signal for action.

It is serious to political conflicts when new and unexpected issues have to be met and decided, that a candidate can be found who represents the best and progressive side of those issues. Representatives seem more the manner to compromise and are often easily influenced by the necessities of the hour. Memorial declaration, made at a time when to make it meant his fall, by Douglas for the United States Senate, and Lincoln for President, are illustrations of the agreeable instances. We stand. I believe this government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free," embodied the anti-slavery feeling. Douglas with Democratic and the power of honor to the Union federate army behind him, stood for the perpetuity of union and liberty. McKinley, by his song and other advocacy of the protection, is the leading spirit for the protection of American industries. For this year, for this crisis, for the states of the Empire state, for the power of the country and the onward toward and onward trend of the U[illegible] States, the candidate or candidate is the hero of Santiago, the leader of the rough riders—Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

Dedham, Mass., Sept. 27.—No change was reported in the condition of Hon. Thomas F. Bayard this morning. The end is not far off.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 27.—The U. S. cruiser Montgomery, from Porto Rico, arrived here this morning and anchored in the inner harbor.

Alex. Smith's Case Dismissed.

Alex. Smith the blacksmith who attacked Frank Lamphier, his employer, with a hammer a week ago, had his case dismissed in the police court today. Lamphier, it is understood, is now recovering from the injuries he received, the case was one in which both men were to blame, the dismissal of Smith was by mutual agreement of the parties concerned.

University Notes.

Improvements about the buildings and grounds are noticeable. The student building is painted more attractively; new iron rings and railings are placed at the south entrance of college hall; a fine lawn, with gravel drives and walks, covers the campus; and many of the lecture rooms have been re-arranged and otherwise improved.

The physical laboratory is being moved back into the main building, into the rooms fitted up originally for chemistry, but more recently used as botanical rooms. This will bring all freshmen work into the same end of the main building.

Professor Langdon, who has spent the summer in the University of Chicago studying Assyrian, is not in the city yet, but is expected shortly. Professors Herdman and Cline are temporarily acting for Mr. Cleaves in mathematics. Professor Thomas, formerly of the B. Y. College, and now instructor in history, has for a time charge of the chemistry work, while Professor Wilson studies in Gottingen.

A few of the professors spent their vacation in and about Logan, others away in study or visiting or lecturing in the interest of the college. Professor Coffin has been cultivating his farm, Professor McEwan attending to a crop near of the English language, and being a little business work. Mrs. Coop has been visiting and studying for Young Women's Mutual. Professor Power visited Denver and Omaha, but has been at work most of the summer at the station.

President Tanner, after visiting the Missouri Educational association at Washington, and the Chicago and Alton lines, canvassing half a dozen counties in Utah and Idaho, and attending several teachers and farmers meetings is now at home.

Professor Lindhard, who spending some of his summer in making cheese, has a report from his dairy the last three weeks to see what is being done in the private dairies and dairies in Utah, Idaho and Western Utah, Bingham and Sevier counties. He happened along just in time to attend several farmers institutes and talkies and cheese.

Professors Fairs, Bringham, Jensen and Mrs. Gordon visited friends at former places of residence, or places of special interest in the State.

Professor Hedrick has perhaps been the busiest member of the faculty since commencement. He has "been so busy that he could not get into a web." Besides his work on the College farm, he has given a course of lectures on the Chemistry and the nature of the Universe, and the onward and outward trend of the U[illegible] States, the candidate or candidate is the hero of Santiago, the leader of the rough riders—Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

INCREASED BUSINESS.

Brisk Trading in the Pit of the Stock Exchange Today.

OPHIR HILL WILL SOON CLOSE DOWN.

Mining on Clay Hill—Washington Opening Up—Excitement in California—Rich Butte Creek Strike.

While no records were broken on the exchange today, there was a considerable increase in the amount of business transacted, the sales being nearly twofold those of yesterday, the sales aggregating 2,300 shares with a selling value of $1,147.50.

There was activity all along the line from the time Geyser-Marion was reached in the listed class until the miner's good gave evidence of a short-day. The stock mentioned was ordinarily firm and sales were made at 88 and 90½ cents. Grand Central was in good shape but inactive while Mammoth remained unknown and made a sale at 39c, with the stock in look decided at 41.50c. This stood because for the latest case, among which stocks Ontario had a good bid at $4 and offered at $4.25, which was wanted at 30½ cents.

The unlisted rail call brought out records from Chloride Point, Dexter, Comstock, Beck Tunnel, Ophir Hill, South and Young America, all of which sold at good figures except in the Comstock where the stock is in the good dollars, and at 30 cents and had a closing bid of but 41 cents. Dexter gained considerably in the bidding and did business at from $1.15 to $1.60 a share, with a closing bid of $1.60. South Swansea showed greater strength than ever and sold around 31.25, while Lower Mammoth made transfers at 33 cents and Young America at 30½ cents. Eastern remained firm but did no business.

WILL SOON CLOSE DOWN.

Ophir Hill Preparing to Draw the Curtain on the Season's Run.

The Ophir Hill, which has been running so successfully the last few months, will ship about 1,000 tons of concentrates for September, and then draw the curtain for the season, with a record of several thousand tons of the product for the time the plant has been in operation.

"It is too bad," said a gentleman today, "that the Ophir Hill is not allowed to be able to pay away both summer and winter. When running, the company employs a good number of men, and as the mine has fairly set bodies and the mill is in a condition to turn out at least 1,000 tons of concentrates every month, it would be a good thing for the local market, to say nothing of its owners, to keep the property in operation continuously. But conditions are not favorable at present, and I am told that already, month hence are being made for a halt for the season."

The Ophir Hill is operated by water power, and this has caused the supply to cut off, thus making it impossible to continue. This therefore, is the cause of such an early shut-down.

MINING OF LION HILL.

Vigorous Work Being Done to Get the Mines of Importance.

William Leathem and son came in from Mercur last evening to attend the wedding of Miss Maggie Leathem, the former's daughter, which took place in the Salt Lake Temple tomorrow. The senior gentleman is an old-time mining man and was a figure in Silver Reef during the palmy days of that once prosperous camp. He says conditions at Mercur are peculiarly and unfortunately the reverse of what is being experienced in other parts of the country. He says conditions at Mercur are peculiarly and unfortunately the reverse of what is being experienced in other parts of the country. He says the mine is in good condition, but the mill is running slowly and turning out but a couple of crucibles. The Northern Light, which is the principal producer, is being vigorously prospected under the superintendence of D. C. Lane, a man who is well known in this city. The property is the first if there is any possibility of it.

Mr. Leathem says that the Hingham and Ophir are doing some good ore bodies, which, if they are as all expected, will put both properties on a paying basis at a date not very far distant. The gentleman says all the owners of interests are sanguine of success, and that Lion Hill is being developed as never before in its history.

The Washington Opening Up.

Work on Washington mine at Frisco is moving along every day, and the making of another Black River in the news imported by Hon. F. T. Finnerty, who came in from that district last evening. The gentleman says that each day's development is the cause of greater encouragement. The mine opening up wonderfully and showing good bodies of paying mineral. The Washington has a vein of ore in itself, its owners claiming but sufficient to pay running expenses. There is a shaker in the Horn Silver, says Mr. Finnerty.

EXCITEMENT IN CALIFORNIA.

Rich Strike in the Sierra Mountains—The Cause of It.

Medford, Or., Sept. 26.—The greatest mining excitement ever known in Southern Oregon, and northern California, has taken place in the Siskiyou mountains, one mile from the Jackson county line in Northern California, on what is known as Sterling Ridge.

William Angle and Jordan Brown are the men who discovered it. They came to Medford last night exhibiting a few fifty pounds of gold dust. They say they have been prospecting for about six weeks and struck the pay dirt two weeks ago. They have taken out about sixty pounds of gold and are very enthusiastic as to future developments. The mine is said to be 1,200 feet above sea level.

The altitude will make it impossible to work more than a few weeks longer. Its winters are so severe that the snow will be deep in the vicinity within the next few weeks.

Rich Strike on Butte Creek.

Joe Redd and John Svoboda came in from Little Lake yesterday, and bring cheering news from their section. Mr. Redd and his partner have recently made a strike on Butte creek, about two miles from Mr. Haggerty struck his vein a few days ago. Mr. Redd says he has a lead that is of copper ore at a depth of 18 feet which will pay $15 to the ton, and a shoot extends further on another vein which is 30 feet wide with an ore strike, still runs very high. He brought in a number of samples from both veins, which are very fine looking. Mr. Redd says he and his partner will pass work on his claims through the winter. He already has an offer of $5,000 for an interest in those claims.—Boston Herald.

DIPS AND SPURS.

Silver City, Sept 25.—The South Swansea has declared a dividend of $1,000, the same payable on the 15th.

E. G. Wilson will hereafter take Amedee Dawson's place in the pit of the stock exchange.

Fish Springs: Work on the Paymaster is progressing steadily and the ore is constantly getting richer in gold as depth is attained.

The declaring of a dividend by the South Swansea company has had a gratifying effect on the local stock, as will be evident to the pit today.

Dalton was called on the exchange today for the first time. It appeared as a fixed week and had a bid of 19 cents, with a number of offers at 20 cents.

The Tecoma mine at Bingham, in which a good strike was recently recorded, is yielding values running 3 per cent copper, 3 per cent lead, 24 ounces silver and $2.50 in gold. The ore body is a fine and a half wide.

Ophir Company Incorporates.

Articles of incorporation of the Hybrid Mining and Milling company, with headquarters at Ogden, were filed with Recorder Hammond today. The capitalization is fixed at $10,000, divided into 200 shares of the par value of $50 each. J. W. Little, of Chicago is president, F. W. Little, Pleasant Hill, Missouri, vice president, E. E. Stevens, Ogden, secretary and treasurer. These gentlemen, with John Jones and C. W. Jones of North Ogden, constitute the directorate. The object of the company is to carry on a general mining and milling business.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Salt Lake City and vicinity: General fair weather fair afternoon and tonight. Wednesday partly cloudy. Cooler tonight.

Notice to Ticket Sellers.

The "News" is requested to say that only about one in five of the wards have, thus far, reported results of their sales to the Park City church bazaar tomorrow. It is desired that the reports be sent in at as early a date as that an account can be rendered to the committee. Mr. Eli Peirce is also anxious to announce the winner of the cow and have more ordered forward. City and county wards will confer a favor by attending to this matter without further delay. Mr. Peirce's address is 26, East Temple street.

Uncle Sam's Opinion.

The only way to gain an expression of opinion in this country is by a popular vote. When the people express their views on any question of national policy they do it at the ballot box. In domestic affairs they show their preference by their purchases. Those who possess the judicious discretion to show that preference at the store counter. That is why our U. S. baking powder has grown so popular. People who know what a good article is think it is the best totally popular on the market.

APPEAL IS DISMISSED.

Supreme Court Decision in the Case of Welch vs. Lambert.

LOWER COURT ORDERS NOT APPEALABLE.

Central Way Over Water from the Weber River—The Ditch Says Goes in One Day.

The Supreme court handed down an opinion today dismissing the appeal in the case of James Welch, appellant, vs D. Lambert and S. Lambert.

Action was commenced to recover damages from the defendants for the alleged wrongful act and interference with the water of the south fork of Weber river.

The jury returned a verdict of "no cause of action." Judgment for costs was entered against the plaintiff, in accordance with a bill filed by defendants. Then Welch moved to strike out the cost bill and also to strike from the file a paper entitled "judgment on verdict." These motions were overruled, when an appeal was taken.

The defendants contended that there was nothing to appeal from; that the orders were not appealable, and that there was no bill of exceptions to the record.

Justice Barton, who delivered the opinion, holds that the points are well taken and that upon authority of numerous repealed rulings of the Supreme court such orders were held not to be final judgments, and, therefore, under Art. 5, section 8 of the Constitution, he appeal did not lie from them.

A dismissal is then ordered with costs to the appellant.

Chief Justice Zane and Justice Miner concur.

The Blythe Rape Case.

The trial of John A. Blythe, on the charge of raping a six-year-old child, named Hinda Sorensen, was resumed before Judge Norrell and jury today. At noon both sides rested and on the reassembling of court this afternoon arguments were begun.

At 3:20 the case went to the jury, but up to the hour of going to press no verdict had been returned.

Frank Peyton on Trial.

The trial of Frank Peyton, charged with embezzling $1,000 from his employer—Uncle Horace of the European Restaurant—was on in Justice McMaster's court this afternoon.

TWO FIGHTERS IN TOWN.

Willard Bean, Who Aspires to a Utah Championship, and Jack Wesley of Michigan.

Willard W. Bean, a southern Utah athlete who latterly has resided at Provo, was in Salt Lake today. Bean has been doing miscellaneous work as a pugilist the last year or so, and is just now aspiring to the championship of Utah. Of course that is a distinction that unquestionably belongs to Jim Williams. But that fact is no wise deters Bean. He seems anxious to meet Williams. The latter would quickly accommodate him but he is now in better business, having quit fighting for a regular salary and respect-ble calling. Something he long ago carried to do. Jim's friends say that he can never be induced to enter the ring in a pitched battle again. While Bean may be not undeservedly in quite clover with his form, he one who has had opportunity to judge of the capabilities of the two men thinks for a moment that the Provoite is a match for the Salt Laker. But Jim is out of it, and is to be congratulated.

Jack Wesley, who hails from the East, as the "terrible man from Michigan," is to fight a twenty round contest with Bean at Mercur between October 10th and 15th, the winner to take the gate receipts and the loser 25 per cent of the gate receipts. Both men have posted $50 as a forfeit for the performance of his part of the program. Wesley called at the police station today and cast sidelong glances at Williams, but made no overtures to him.

Ayer's Asthma Cure

better known as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, has made a record for its remarkable cures of asthma. Cases that have been considered beyond hope or help have been cured by this remedy. We give two examples of such cures out of the many on record:—

"My mother has been a great sufferer from asthma for the past ten years, and her recovery is almost without a parallel. On account of her advanced age—over seventy—we had but little hopes of ever seeing her well again; but we are sincerely grateful to inform you that she has been entirely cured by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."
INGLIS BANKS, Tar Brook, N.S.

"I was a sufferer for a long time from asthma, vainly endeavoring to procure relief in the use of ordinary remedies. At length I was induced to try a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle afforded me so much benefit that I continued the use of the remedy until entirely cured."
JOSEPH KLONE, Charlotte, N.C.

Paine's Celery Compound Makes People Well

The one true specific for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system is Paine's celery compound, as generally results by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the research of this century has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L. L. D., of Dartmouth college first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's celery compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, indigestion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, nervous diseases and kidney troubles. Paine's celery compound has numerous copies and again where everything else failed.

P. A. Dix and John H. Thorne for the office of the peace and constable respectively.

In the police court today the case of L. C. Harris, for a violation of the Cross ordinance, was continued for a day or two. James Hughes, charged with vagrancy, was discharged.

An interesting concert will be given in the Third ward meeting house tomorrow evening, the occasion being the visit of Fall Lake will be repeated for the occasion and all who attend are sure to enjoy themselves thoroughly.

The funeral of Mrs. Ann A. Schoenfeld of the Sixth ward city, I. O. O. F. will be held Sunday at 4 p.m. by the special of a ten pound girl, the second child of the family. All persons are invited along nicely.

The "News" is pleased to note the genial Frank Lutz of Rexburg, Ida., has put on the mantle of matrimony, the gentleman having taken unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Charlotte Barber. Congratulations.

County Attorney Frank Nebeker of Cache county came down from the north last evening to see his father, Mr. Ira Nebeker, who is ill at the Red Cross hospital. Mr. Nebeker has come in from Chicago in a bad condition since he has been under treatment at the hospital to much better, though the case is still serious.
