Sunday School Conference.

ORDERVILLE, Utah, June 2, 1897.—The annual Sunday school conference of Kanab Stake was held at Glendale Sunday, May 30, at 10 a.m. and at 2 p.m.

The beautiful little ward meeting house was merely large enough to accommodate the officers, teachers and students of the Sunday schools, consequently the exercises of which an overflow meeting consisting of parents and visitors was held in the District school house.

There were present on the stand Elder Thomas C. Griggs of the Sunday School Union board, the Stake superintendency, Elder Edwin D. Woolley of the Stake presidency, and representatives of the various schools of the Stake.

An abundant flow of the Holy Spirit was manifest in the excellent instructions of Elder Griggs, Woolley and others, and the interesting exercises rendered by students.

The reports of the representatives showed the schools to be in a prosperous condition.

An interesting session of officers and teachers was held at 12 m., during which valuable instructions were given.

A peaceful influence prevailed throughout.

We heartily welcome a visit from the general board in our isolated home.

RUDANA ADAIR,
Stake Secretary.

OBITUARY.

ELLA HARRIS.

LEWISVILLE, Fremont County, Idaho, June 9, 1897.—On Friday, June 4, 1897, Sister Ella Harris, daughter of Joar and Nancy Harris, departed this life for the unseen world, having been sick about three weeks. She suffered much pain, but passed away in a peaceful manner and in hopes of a glorious resurrection. She was a good, faithful member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and was loved and esteemed by all who knew her. She was known and respected generally for her good and exemplary deportment. When at home she was a punctual attendant at the Sunday school and the Young Ladies' meetings, and also of all meetings of divine service. Her sickness and death called for the true sympathy of her numerous relatives and friends, and everybody, both in and out of the Church, seemed to manifest a wish one other in trying to do something to soothe and comfort her and her mother's family. She was born at Clarkston, Cache county, Utah, December 30, 1878.

The funeral services were held in the Lewisville meeting house on Sunday afternoon, June 6th, 1897, and were conducted by Bishop E. F. Jardine. Long before the time appointed the large and commodious meeting house was exceedingly filled by the people of this and the surrounding wards, and some of her relatives and friends came from other Stakes and states, including Utah. The choir under the leadership of Brother D. G. Brain, sang some good and appropriate hymns, which filled the people with a feeling of solemnity. The speakers were Elders H. Stokes, E. Bachman and H. Bramwell. Each spoke by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit and poured forth words of comfort and consolation to the bereaved family, made plain the true scriptural doctrine of the resurrection of the dead, and invited all in some mode Christ and prepare themselves for the glorious future which awaits the faithful.

A long procession followed the corpse to the cemetery, numbering about seventy-five vehicles and fifteen young men on horseback. The choir again rendered a beautiful hymn at the grave, the dedicatory prayer was given by Elder W. A. Walker.

How to Strengthen Weak Ankles.

It will be found very beneficial to bathe them in salt water—sea water if possible. Afterward they should be bound with a bandage that has been wrung out in cold water. This must be removed at night and the ankles again bathed and then massaged for five or ten minutes. A few weeks of this treatment will make them very much stronger.

How to Avoid Gaining Flesh.

If one can believe what one reads, the flesh reducing system may be put in a line: "No liquid at meals." This is said to be the only requisite Dr. Schweninger, Bismarck's physician, makes of his patients who would decrease their weight.
