MINES AND MINING.

The Members Of the Exchange Do Not Favor Two Calls.

PROPOSITION DEFEATED TODAY.

Silver Is the Only Stock Dealt In This Morning—Work at Bingham and Elsewhere.

The proposition to have two daily calls in Exchange has been another case of a motion substituted for a vote of the members present at today's regular call and defeated by ten voting against it while nine favored it.

The suggestion of two calls per day was made by some of the members who were confined to the belief that it would lead to more business being transacted. They argued that the fixing of quotations on the morning call, would enable owners of stock to know where they were at and thereby give them a chance to dispose of their holdings intelligently and with a greater degree of safety than otherwise. The proposition seemed to meet with much favor, and at a meeting of the governing board on Friday it was agreed to allow the matter to vote on it. This has been done, with the result that in the future there will be but one call a day on business.

Today's work on the exchange did not amount to a great deal in the way of trading. The listed stocks were ignored entirely, and when attention was directed to the unlisted ones, business came near and 200 shares changed hands at varying figures. The first sale transpired 11:30, while the last put the stock up to $[illegible].

THE OLD RELIABLE.

The Bullfrog's Account of Operations and Ore Shipments for the Week.

On from the late strike reported in the Bullfrog returned 45 per cent lead, 6.10 ounces silver and $1.50 gold, and the quality is improving with depth. Though in Brooklyn ground the strike is known as the Telegraph, and is under lease to Joe Kauffman and partner. The boys have a pay streak varying from one to two feet, and so far everywhere body is practically cleaned up.

Our report of shipments for July shows a falling off as compared with previous months of the year. Several reasons obtain, among the Old Jordan and Geneva, have temporarily suspended outputting while repairs, changes and improvements are being made, while others are laying off on account of the low price of lead, preferring to see how solid there is an advance. On the other hand, quite a number of new leasers have begun work, some on virgin ground, and prospecting has seldom been more active than now, so that the business of the camp may be said to be in a fairly flourishing condition, while the outlook for the balance of the month is favorable. The shipments were:

Manager Hinckley of the Montezuma is getting some smelter shipment, or 25 tons a week, and John O. Leach, late manager of the Wonderful, has sold his interest in that property to J. F. Wenzman, the Pioneer owner.

The ball is rolling down lively on the Dalton & Lady Dale, and indications for the month promise to largely exceed those of July.

The Intermountain Electric company is now building in a plant at the Wonderful for the purpose of hoisting the mine, mill and office.

Blackburn & Jones have bonded and leased the Holy Moses to Tonopah gulch to R. J. Gibson, who is making arrangements to develop the property.

James McHugh, a well and widely known mining man, on Sunday came up from the city with County Surveyor Jeseph to look at a Markham gulch property with the view of purchasing an interest.

Captain H. C. Snyder and son are running on open cut on the Gibraltar, a claim in Fortuna gulch, and have uncovered the vein, which shows a good strong running 8 to 10 inches in silver. The Colorado company in Carbonate gulch and Dr. John Moyer, of St. Joe, [illegible]

At Pioneer, Otto Eiken and Henry West have taken a lease on the Tribune No. 5, one of the Pioneer group. A vein was accidentally uncovered in the working shaft a month ago while prospecting a water hole. The lessees have started tunnel, and are following a good big pronounced streak of ore.

R. L. Fox, over on the Intermountain Company, Ophir, has purchased of Charles Moore a half interest in the Pioneer claim in Carr Fork. A tunnel on the property is showing six feet of ore, which is a recent strike, averaging at $14.50 per ton, and it was left the last week. Another tunnel is on, and the lessees propose to move with all speed to put on an active sixty-prospect and development.

Mining in American Fork.

Wilson Margetts, Tobias and party were in American Fork canyon the week, over the Weber, and inspected the workings of the mines they found two shifts working regularly at the Bullionaire. The latter being cutting on a principally line of development work. The Kalamazoo miners have left the old workings and are now running in a southwesterly direction through new ground, leaving the old tunnel works in the north and thereby getting off about 400 feet of them. Mr. Clement, who sets the workings of Mr. Sweeny in 1875, is confident of finding the original story of ore by taking the new southwestern course. The mine produced in 1880 and 1881 the value of $[illegible] worth of ore at either in 75 per cent lead. The other now is to find the vein from which this Kalamazoo. The present owners, viz: Margetts Bros., John Pierce, John L. Carter, and the heirs of W. H. Brown estate, have every confidence that Mr. Perkins is doing all to his power to find the original discovery of Mr. Sweeny, while at the same time Messrs. Hathbun and Jones are working mines closely and are also sure of success.

Several men are now employed at the Dutchman using principally compressed work. The mine is coming to the front under the able management of Mr. A. S. Brennan, and the several American Fork teams will soon be at work again hauling the output to the cars.

Owing to a heavy storm which came on while the Margetts party was in the canyon, the hospitality of the employes of the Wild Dutchman mine was extended, and the crowd was royally entertained while the storm raged without. The Margetts boys thanks to a Bee-hive lodging.

Beaver & Wolverine mills are running in full blast and turning out the best of pine lumber that has come from the canyon for years.

Armstrong and Ryan, proprietors of Twenty-mile mine in American Fork canyon, report that they have just discovered some fine ore in this property.

Badger Company Incorporated.

The Badger Mining company was incorporated this morning by Samuel Bailey, F. A. Clark, S. A. Clark, and Morris Beck of this city and D. S. L. McCuskie of Park City. The amount of capital stock of the company is placed at $200,000, divided into shares of $1 each in par value, 50,000 shares of which are set aside as treasury stock to be disposed of by the board of directors at their discretion and for the purposes of development.

The company owns the Badger group of mining claims, consisting of the Badger, the Hungry-Dollar and the Medition claims, all of which are in the West Mountain mining district. The principal office of the company are to be located in this city and the life of the concern is given as fifty years.

Dips and Spurs.

Mr. Joseph Woodbury is in from the Alta district where he has been doing development work.

The Utah and Galena companies paid their monthly dividends today.

The Springville Independent says that the Western Lithograph company have placed two men to work developing their claim.

The Laramie Boomerang says: A sack of forty pounds of ore from the Venetian mine in the Keystone district, has been sent in and it is some of the richest ore ever seen from a mine in this section. It is a fine milling free gold quartz. The specimens seen today sparkled with gold, and good judges stated that such ore would run $1,000 to the ton.

SCIPIO'S DIPHTHERIA.

Report from a Reliable Visitor—Previous Reports Exaggerated.

SCIPIO, Millard Co., Utah, August 7, 1896.

To the Editor:

Your correspondent read a clipping from your valuable paper, sent by a friend, under caption "Scipio's Diphtheria," and thought a truthful statement of the sickness in this town would be acceptable to you and many on Deseret reader. As usual the News takes the "cream" report in the instance with a few grains of salt, and rightly so. The writer is no doctor, but has stayed here a little longer than did Dr. Winther, who made himself quite important the sixteen hours he was in town; but I have kept my eyes open and know quite well the statistics with regard to how many cases of sickness there are at present, how many have died, etc.

There are today eighteen cases of recent sickness in the town, and of these only ten are known to be diphtheria, and they are on a fair road to recovery. The other sickness are all running to end in the usual fashion, they are spread far now (think), and are kept at home. There have been two deaths in four months, and of these only three are known to have died from diphtheria—all three belonging to one family, and having died on one of the days. I for one believe that the public funeral, where all the school children and the entire school body, and the entire people are and in session. The people have been advised of Bishop Yates to be very cautious, and to endeavor to keep out of or so that they not even attend public worship, there being only about a dozen people in worship last Sunday afternoon. Here is a board of health composed of intelligent and prominent townsmen, who are taking active measures to check the spread of any disease. There has not been since new cases since our last, inquiries has been made (about a week) but a number anywhere near it. As for the amount of sickness had by the dread White here, as reported in the Tribune, he must have stayed a lot in the three days evidently assumed, that being the number he treated with the staff around the few hours he stayed here.

It is bad enough as it is, and it is to be regretted that such a number of children are not somewhat efficient, but it is not so bad as Dr. Winther has reported it to be, even at most of the people's late sickness. The disease has been bad to a certain severity, there might be something to that of course, since it is to be not nearly that the most cases have occurred, which is in the southeastern part of town, but if that is the case, their will be no more sickness from this source, as they are not now use that water for culinary purposes. This is a town infested by intelligent, honorable and good, common sense people—so being parents as you are full—which is in their power to check the disease and alleviate those who are yet suffering. From the peculiar situation of the country we are about entirely cut off from the world to see what others are doing. Please remember this post office address. Your humble and obedient servant,

Tooele Stake Conference.

GRANTSVILLE, Tooele Co., August 8, 1896.

To the Editor:

The Quarterly Conference of the Tooele Stake was held at Grantsville, Sunday and Monday, August 2 and 3, 1896.

Sunday morning was devoted to the Sunday school, the services being held in the academy. After singing and prayer, the Sacrament was administered and the following exercises were rendered: Hymn by the primary department; questions and answers on the life of Christ as members of the Sunday Intermediate; Articles of Faith by the school, Superintendent A. G. Johnson stated that at our last Conference we had 1,000 in our Sunday School; now we have 1,200. Sunday School Committee reported. Reported the Sunday schools of the Stake were in good condition and a good work was being accomplished. Elder F. M. Lyman said that was a new departure but it was a good one. As a great many of the children did not attend the quarterly conference and had not the privilege of enrolling the authorities of the Church felt the church should be done, he felt that it would be acceptable to the Lord and to His servants. Stake President Grow was present; the authorities of the Church and Stake and they were unanimously sustained, he also made a few remarks.

The 2 p. m. meeting was held in the Lower Grove, present Elders F. M. Lyman and J. W. Taylor of the Apostles, President Grow and Counselors, the Bishop of all the wards of the Stake, and others of the leading Elders of the stake. After singing and prayer the sacrament was administered.

Elder J. W. Taylor was the speaker, occupying all the time. He spoke on apostasy, insisting that the spirit of apostasy had been going on for the last [illegible] years. He advised the Saints to be faithful to the spirit of the Kingdom, stated he was a direct descendant of the Prophet Joseph and Hyrum and the whole of the Lord is manifested in revelation.

Sunday, 10 a. m.—Singing and prayer.

Bishops J. L. Worthen, T. Atkin, W. H. Cantrell, W. F. Shaw, F. Du Bois, J. L. Kay and J. H. Robinson gave their views on being in good condition. Elder F. M. Lyman explained the constitution of the Seventy quorum. He said the authorities of the Church authorized monthly conferences to be held, a great part of the work in Mexico, the priesthood in Canada, the West of Canada, etc. He said as the priesthood in Israel—men who were not worthy to be in the priesthood, and who would not magnify their calling, but who were sons of the house of Israel, were sent to Egypt to be tested and proved, so now we have men who are not worth so. Admired also to the priesthood with Pharaoh with the exception of Moses, the Apostles have long tried patience, long suffering, long to see if they would magnify their calling, and hence the need of the Spirit of God and prayer to the Lord with the authorities.

Elder Taylor said a good prayer, which was followed by a powerful discourse. He said he testified that the world desired to be saved in heaven, that the world had been in darkness, and that God had been in prayer.

The conference was well attended by the Saints of the Stake, a good feeling was felt and the Spirit of God was present and upon His servants.

Conference adjourned to October next.

Senator Cannon's Address.

Senior Department of Sunday School, gives the home of Senator Cannon of Utah, was by some accident omitted from the Deseret News issued by Senator Teller and other silver Republicans, the gentle press of the east has been jubilantly repeating the assertion that Senator Cannon has abandoned the stand which he took at St. Louis. Senator Cannon has spoke more at the time since the St. Louis convention in the west attending to business matters with which he is associated, and only recently has he gone to Ogden. Time for less session to write a communication to a local newspaper, addressed to the citizens of Utah, in which he clearly sets forth his position in his present campaign. He says greater or stirring interest in Utah water, Senator Cannon holds a lengthy conference with Senator Dubois of Idaho and it is believed that the outlook of the Republicans of Utah Republicans will be supported by the Republicans of Idaho.

Information Wanted.

W. L. Hall, Esq., of Carthage, Mo., and daughter are in Salt Lake for a time only. They are anxious to learn the whereabouts of Mr. Hall's sister, who joined the Latter-day Saints in either Illinois or Illinois, and came to Utah in one of the early companies, probably in 1847. At that time she was Miss Binsy Hall; the inquiries are as to know whether or not the sister would be over 50 years of age. It is said a daughter of Hosmer Hall, and a native of Ashe County, Mo. Mr. Hall will remain in Salt Lake for about two weeks, and will be exceedingly if any one having information of this sister will kindly inform him. Address, W. L. Hall, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Letter from Jerusalem.

OLIVET HOUSE,
Jerusalem, Palestine,
July 15, 1896.

Deseret News Publishing Co.

Dear Brother—Since February 19, 1896, when I last wrote you, from Papeete, Tahiti, I have traveled many thousand miles and have not a varied experience, some of which has been quite pleasant and some unpleasant.

From Tahiti I accompanied Elder Frank Cutler on a trip to some of the Tuamotu islands, on which we administered to both missionary and native labors, particularly on the island of Takaroa, where there has been a continuous fire on of the Church since 1851. On my return to Tahiti (having Elder Cutler in the Tuamotus to attend the coming April conference) I found my ticket to be good further by (twenty-one days) so there was no accommodations or opportunities to go to New Zealand till the little steamer Hakatai came along in the beginning of April. I secured with her to Auckland, New Zealand, where I met President William Gardner and many other Elders returning from their annual conference held near Napier, and a week later I accompanied a small company of Saints emigrating to Zion and several returning Elders from Auckland to Sydney, Australia. Here I spent a few days assisting to interpret and missionary others, also assisting the brethren to get the company off, and also had the pleasure to help to the baptism of eight new members into the Church.

On May 4, 1896, I sailed from Sydney as a passenger in the first-class steamer Ortaya, bound for the city of Work. En route the ship stopped two days at Melbourne, which gave me an opportunity of attending to some future work there in connection with Elder Joseph Stephenson, of Hyrum, Weber county, who is laboring there as a missionary. A few days later I landed (while the ship lay at anchor outside) at Adelaide, South Australia, where the Infusion of the Gospel was first preached in this dispensation in fall by a young Elder from Bingham. There are no missionaries at present in South Australia at the present time. In passing I landed also for a few hours at Albany, West Australia, where a mining boom prevails at the present time. So far as I know we believe the first missionary ever visited this colony.

After leaving Australia we had a pleasant voyage across the great Indian ocean, only encountering one heavy storm, which was not very severe. We stopped one day at the beautiful island of Ceylon, and continued by way of the Arabian Gulf and up the Red Sea to Suez. About half way up the Suez canal, I stole my voyage, landing at Ismailia, from where I proceeded to Cairo, the capital of Egypt. After visiting the great Pyramid and other points of interest, I returned to Ismailia, and thence to Port Said, where I embarked for Haifa, Syria. But coming from Egypt, where cholera prevails, I had to submit to 10 days' quarantine before I could land. After finally landing on June 21st, I made a trip to Damascus and back by rail. Next I proceeded by horse element along the Plain of the coast, via Hiram and Tyre to Haifa, where I landed and visited the few Saints there and the graves of two of our Elders from Zion who died here.

After visiting Acre, Mount Carmel, etc., I proceeded inland to Nazareth, thence by way of Mount Tabor to the Sea of Galilee, returning to Nazareth by way of Cana. Next I traveled a-
