RYAN WILL NOT PROSECUTE GIRL

Minerva Hall, Who Threw Carbolic Acid in Lover's Face, Released Today.

NO COMPLAINT TO BE FILED.

Mother of Unfortunate Young Woman Spent Night With Her in The City Jail.

Miss Minerva Hall, the 20-year-old girl who last night threw carbolic acid in the face of Ike Ryan, her lover, because the latter would not marry her after, according to the girl, accomplishing her ruin, was released from custody today by the police for the reason that Ryan refused to prosecute her and the authorities would take no action in the matter because the injured man refuses to file a complaint against the girl. Ryan was about town this morning and is not as badly injured as at first supposed. His eyes are not burned and it is not likely his face will bear any scars.

When the girl committed her desperate act she was in a state bordering on insanity. The story told the police by Miss Hall was to the effect that for some time she had been intimate with Ryan. She met him three or four years ago and fell in love with him. She came here from Tooele, where her parents reside, and took a position with the Salt Lake Cleaning company. She said that shortly after she met Ryan he promised to marry her but failed to keep his promise. The couple took rooms at 73 south State street, and it was supposed they were married. She was known there as Mrs. Ryan, but worked out as a domestic after leaving the cleaning company.

HER MIND AFFECTED.

Miss Hall says that on Nov. 4 Ryan promised to marry her but went duck shooting instead. The young woman this morning denied the story that she had had a child, but said that she expected to become a mother. Her condition, and the refusal of Ryan to keep his promises affected her mind and last evening she decided upon a desperate course.

Miss Hall located Ryan in a back room of the Century bar on south State street, where he was drinking with two companions. Procuring a bottle of carbolic acid Miss Hall entered the room, walked up to Ryan and threw the acid in his face. Ryan sprang from his seat with a cry of pain.

"Why did you do it?" he asked.

"Don't dare to ask me; you know, you know," replied the girl.

The young woman quickly left the saloon but was arrested just across the street by Officer Doty.

NOT SERIOUSLY BURNED.

Ryan's face was painfully, though not seriously burned. Dr. C. M. Benedict attended to the injuries and is confident that Ryan will not carry any scars. As before stated, he was on the streets this morning and was apparently not suffering from the effects of the acid. Ryan was formerly a driver for the Greenewald Furniture company. He is about 23 years of age and resides with his parents at 230 Washington street. His father is a teamster employed by the Wagner Brewing company.

When Miss Hall was taken to police headquarters last evening her mother was notified of the affair and at once went to headquarters and asked permission to remain with her daughter during the night. Her request was granted, and this morning a brother and sister of the unfortunate girl spent several hours with her. The girl's mother did not care to be interviewed about the case.

DETECTIVES AT WORK.

Thieves Make Good Their Escape With $200 in Booty.

Detectives are still at work trying to locate the property stolen from the residence of Mrs. Marvina Fenton, 157 North State street, on Nov. 4. The property stolen by the burglar amounts to less than $200 but there are certain articles which are valued for more than their market price, among them being a gold watch and stick pin set with a small diamond. A pair of opera glasses, some small articles of jewelry and $5 in cash disappeared with the burglar.

The robbery was committed while the family was at dinner on the lower floor of the house. The thief climbed up a ladder to the second story and ransacked the rooms. The matter was reported to the police but particulars of the affair were not given out for the reason, according to Chief Pitt, the officers had a clue to the identity of the thief. The latter, however, made his escape and the officers are now trying to recover the property.

STOLEN HORSES RECOVERED.

The two fine horses stolen from Keith-O'Brien several weeks ago and the ones stolen on the same night from the farm of the state prison by ex-convicts have been recovered. They either had been turned loose or escaped in

As the citizen finding them did not know to whom they belonged, the animals were taken to the estray pound, where they were found by their owners. The thieves kept the saddles, which suggests that the horses had escaped.

This morning Chief of Police Pitt received the following telegram, dated Miller, Idaho, Nov. 12:

"Ed Crowther killed here last night. Wife supposed to live in Waterloo district, your city. Notify family. Will bury body here tomorrow." The message was signed by J. D. Rogers, coroner.

Chief Pitt tried to locate the dead man's relatives, but was unable to do so. Just how Crowther met his death was not stated and the Crowthers located in Salt Lake stated they knew nothing about the dead man.

STRANGE WEATHER THIS.

Barometer All Over the Country Shows High Record—Warmer Tomorrow.

Today's weather report tells a story of unusual conditions over the country. There is no low barometer anywhere except at San Diego, Cal., and in Florida, where it is low, it is really so near the "high" that it can hardly be classed as a "low," for it is 30.1 inches. The minimum temperatures are down the scale today, being eight degrees above zero at Denver, and two degrees above at North Platte. The cold wave came from the north and east over the plains country, but was shut off from further eastward travel by the Rocky mountains. A feature of the day was the mild at Abilene, Tex., the land of extreme temperatures. At Galveston the mercury registered 36, only two degrees higher than the Salt Lake minimum. This is cold weather for the Gulf country. Yuma's temperature yesterday was 84 for the maximum, and 54 minimum—real arctic weather for that section of the country. There is no sign of any storm approaching from the ocean and it will be warmer weather tomorrow.

MORITZ COMPLETES DEAL.

Transfer of Second South Business Site Effected With $87,500 Involved.

Jacob Moritz closed with the Tuttles today the purchase from Henry Chipps of the property fronting 99½ feet on Second South street by 186 feet on Plum alley, and 58 feet on Commercial street. The consideration, which has not been published heretofore, was $87,500. Three and four-story buildings are occupying the site at present, but it is Mr. Moritz's intention to wipe all that them all down and erect there an eight or 10-story business office building, to cost in the neighborhood of $400,000.

The location is an ideal one for commercial purposes, as the entire building will always have an abundance of light which can never be cut off, and the new building will be right in the heart of the city. The present tenants have leases, so that it will be several months before any active step can be taken in the way of construction.

NINTH CHAPTER OF KOOYMAN SERIAL

Lover Turns Villain, Seizes Girl And is Haled Before Magistrate.

BECAUSE HE IS BALD HEADED

Young Lady Resents Attentions and Receives Slap in the Face—Offender Fined Ten Dollars.

Because he is baldheaded John Kooyman failed to gain the affections of Miss Nellie Eggen; because he failed in gaining her love he committed a slight battery upon the woman; because he struck her he was arrested, convicted, and this morning was fined $10 by Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith.

Kooyman is the head of the Kooyman family, which has received a great deal of notoriety during the past several months. Charges and counter charges were made by various members of the family against each other and cases after case came up for judicial arbitration, in Judge Diehl's court until court, counsel and spectators were sick of the mess.

The climax came when Miss Eggen, formerly Mrs. H. Telekamp, swore to a complaint against the senior Kooyman, who has been married more than 20 years, and is the father of 14 children, charging him with battery.

It seems that Kooyman wanted to marry Miss Eggen, despite the fact that he already had a wife. Miss Eggen says she resented his attentions and that he struck her a slight blow on the face. Kooyman paid his fine and it is to be hoped the Kooymans will not appear in the judicial limelight again.

LAND NOT AGRICULTURAL.

Witnesses Declare Carbon County Not Suited to Grazing.

Carbon county lands are not chiefly valuable as grazing lands—in fact, they have no value as agricultural lands of any sort is the conclusion drawn from the testimony of the witnesses who testified before Master in Chancery S. H. Lewis yesterday as a preliminary to the disposition of the civil suits instituted against the Utah Fuel company and others by the United States for the return of lands alleged to have been taken up by fraudulent methods.

The witnesses examined yesterday were J. W. Warf, a man of many professions and an old resident of Carbon county, and J. M. Whitmore, another old timer in the county. They declared in their testimony that there is almost no land in Carbon county that could be used as grazing land, that the country is rocky and broken and that coal deposits are shown to exist in many outcroppings throughout the county.

Among the allegations of the government is one in which it is asserted that the persons who acquired the lands in Carbon county subscribed to oaths declaring that the land they sought was chiefly valuable as agricultural land—that these non-mineral affidavits were known at the time to be perjured. It is along the line of proof of this allegation that the testimony now being taken tends.

TO BREAK FATHER'S WILL.

Heirs of Thomas Miller Seeks to Gain Portion of Estate.

A jury in Judge Ritchie's court is still listening to testimony in the case of Margaret Miller, et al against Elizabeth Livingston. In this suit the heirs of Thomas Miller are endeavoring to break their father's will, alleging that at the time the instrument was signed the testator acted under duress. The will was upheld by Judge Lewis in 1906, but his decision was reversed by the supreme court, which ordered a new trial.

The contestants are the children of Thomas Miller by his first wife, while the defendant is a sister of Marguerite McLean Miller, whom the said Thomas Miller married subsequent to the decease of the mother of his children. The second Mrs. Miller is also dead, and Mrs. Livingston became the latter's heir, the children of Miller having been practically disinherited by receiving only $1 each of their father's estate.

Margaret Miller, daughter of Thomas Miller, was on the stand yesterday afternoon and again today during the entire forenoon.

IN THE FEDERAL COURT.

In the federal court tomorrow the case of Joseph H. Sisam against the United States Smelting company will be taken up. This is an action for the recovery of damages alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff by reason of the poisonous deposits said to have been made by smelter smoke upon his property in the lower Salt Lake valley.

MORE SMOKE CASES.

Suits seeking damages for alleged injuries from smelter smoke were placed at the foot of the calendar in the United States court today. These cases were not set at the regular setting of cases in the federal court. The actions concerned are those brought by Joseph R. Carlisle and John Tiscomb each against the Utah Consolidated company.

SNIDER-CATRO CASE.

J. J. Snider's suit against N. J. Catro, in which he seeks $20,759 as commissions for the sale of mining properties in the West Mountain mining district, was dismissed without prejudice today in the United States court upon motion of the plaintiff's attorney. A demurrer to the reply of the plaintiff was sustained by the court.

SENTENCED FOR ASSAULT.

Walter Smith, who entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assaulting Mary Atkins with a deadly weapon, was sentenced by Judge Armstrong yesterday to 18 months' imprisonment in the state prison.

GETS FIVE YEARS.

Judge George G. Armstrong yesterday sentenced E. F. Daley, sometimes known as F. F. Marion, to serve five years in the state prison. The defendant pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary, committed on the premises of J. M. Swem, Oct. 24. He is the man who drank "doped" whisky that had been left in the office as a temptation to midnight marauders.

EFFECTS OF RAISE IN DISCOUNT RATE.

A well known local financier, who is in fact the Nestor of the Utah money market, was asked this morning, what is the effect upon this country of raising the rate of discount by the banks in Germany, England, and France to 7 and 7½ per cent; also, how can they prevent money coming to America, especially when they owe us for cotton, grain, flour, etc. He said, in reply: "Raising the rate of discount by the larger banks of Europe has the effect of creating a home market for money, through the high rates, and operates to prevent money from going away to be invested elsewhere. To illustrate, suppose money brings 6 per cen in London, as against 4 per cent in Paris. Money will naturally leave Paris for the more remunerative market at the English capital where 2 per cent more can be secured. It is quite true they owe us for cotton, grain, etc, and it is true that the balance of trade is in our favor. But, this balance is only apparent. To illustrate: In the interchange of exports and imports between the United States and Europe for the eight months past, there is a balance of trade in our favor, according to reports, of $195,000,000. But as against this, we owe for transportation of all the imports to foreign shippers, and we owe them immense sums of money as dividends on their investments in the United States. Moreover, our travelers expend also immense sums of money in Europe. Now, these items do not appear in reports of the export and import trade, so that while we have apparently a balance in our favor, the probabilities are that the real, the net balance of trade is against us, when we consider these other factors."

IDAHO LANDS ARE RESTORED TO PUBLIC DOMAIN

(Special to the "News.")

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—About 7,500 acres of land heretofore withdrawn for use in connection with Dubois irrigation project in Idaho have been restored to the public domain. The lands restored are located in townships 6 and 12 north, range 29 and 33 east, respectively, within the Hailey and Blackfoot land districts. The lands within the Hailey district will become subject to settlement on Jan. 22, 1908, those within the Blackfoot district on Jan. 28, 1908, and to entry filing and selection in each district, 40 days after the above dates. A considerable amount of the lands restored, it is believed are held under adverse claims, being embraced within pending entries or the like, but the exact area cannot be stated at this time.

CONDITIONS ARE GOOD.

Rumors of Danger in School Denied in Physician's Report.

Dr. S. J. Townsend has made a report to the board of education of the sanitary and health conditions at the Bryant school. Rumors have been circulated tending to cause alarm among the patrons of the school in question, but the physician, who is acting as medical inspector for the board, finds that there is no occasion for fear or apprehension. The certification, made over his signature, is as follows:

"This is to certify that I have carefully examined the sanitary conditions of the Bryant school and found them perfectly satisfactory."

UNITED STATES NOTICE.

Confidential Adviser to Deposed Korean Emperor in Salt Lake Today.

Prof. H. B. Hulbert, who has lived for over 20 years in Korea and has acted as a confidential adviser to the lately deposed emperor of that country, is in Salt Lake City today. He is on a tour of the large cities of the country acquiring the attention of all commercial and manufacturing associations to the real danger of our trade in the far east because of Japanese methods of industrial expansion. Two years ago Japan formed a protectorate over Korea and at that time guaranteed to preserve the treaties between Korea and the other powers. This she now declines to take back and to secure the abrogation of those treaties, Prof. Hulbert shows that this will work a very definite injury to our interests and he is urging our people to bring influence upon their representatives in Congress to see to it that the senate committee on foreign affairs investigate the matter carefully before allowing Japan to cut us off from trade with 13,000,000 people. Prof. Hulbert has a store of evidence in hand to show that Japan's methods and her ambition are both contrary to the principle of open competition in trade and his intimate acquaintance with conditions in Korea would seem to indicate that it would be well to heed the word of warning which he gives.

Prof. Hulbert addressed the Korean club in their native tongue this afternoon, when the Koreans gave him a hearty welcome to the city.

SYSTEM STOPPED OUT OF RESPECT

Not a Wheel Moved on Burlington Route for Five Minutes Yesterday.

PREST. C. E. PERKINS BURIED.

Most Loved Railroader in United States Is No More—Thousands Mourn His Death.

For the first time in the history of the Burlington route that immense system was at a dead stop for five minutes yesterday; every wheel was motionless; every hammer still, every office quiet—all out of respect for C. E. Perkins, builder of the Burlington and its president since 1881, who died a few days ago and was buried yesterday at Westwood, Mass. The Burlington system extends from Chicago to Cody, Wyoming, and has a vast network of branch lines, about 9,000 miles in all and these and the entire system took on a standstill until yesterday. At 2 o'clock every movement in the east was stopped and at 3 o'clock in the west. Engineers brought their engines, whether pulling freight trains or fast passenger through city or across plain or mountain to a stop; all machinery in all shops was silenced; workmen laid down their tools and freight and passenger officials and employes dropped their pens and pushed away their typewriters. Just about this time away back in Massachusetts the body of a man the whole country had known and honored so long, was being carried towards its last resting place.

He was born in Cincinnati, Nov. 24, 1840, and moved to Burlington, Iowa, in 1859. An old Burlingtonian, now a newspaper man of this city, commented as follows upon the death of Mr. Perkins:

WAS LOVABLE MAN.

"Charles E. Perkins, one of the greatest railroad men of the age, was respected and loved by all who knew him. No man was too great or too unimportant to see in him a great big hearted man and true friend. His engineers, firemen, engine wipers, were often honored with a chat with the system's head. He knew most of his men by name; knew about their families and their lives. When the 'old man' was on the train, every member of the train crew knew he would have an encouraging word to say before the run was over.

"He began his railroad career with the Burlington & Missouri river railroad as clerk to the assistant treasurer, he was promoted through various offices until he became assistant treasurer himself. He held this position from 1862 to 1865, and then became superintendent. In 1875 he was elected a director of the Burlington, and when he was promoted from the vice presidency to the head in 1881, the line had become an important road among those of the United States. Under his direction and guidance the system spread in all directions. Some time ago he gave up active work, owing to age and a desire to spend the remainder of his days in quiet, he retired. Geo. B. Harris is now president.

HIS HOME LIFE.

"The Perkins home in Burlington, Ia., is a beautiful one, in the prettiest portion of the city. Immense flower grounds lay around the building itself. Every several weeks Mr. and Mrs. Perkins would send a heavily loaded dray around the city, distributing food and clothing among the poor. This shows the character of the man who could hold his own with the biggest railroaders of the age. When the system was absolutely idle for that five minutes yesterday thousands of men who knew Perkins were thinking those things over or telling them to others. When passengers on the fast trains asked what was causing the stop conductors said simply, 'The old man is gone.' He certainly was a fine old fellow. He has been living in Massachusetts for some time, but the Perkins' home is still maintained in the city from which his road derived its name."

TRY, TRY AGAIN.

Railroaders Plan to Make "Sympathetic" Strikes an Ugly, Dark Reality.

New York, Nov. 12.—Plans are being discussed for a federation of railroad employes, according to the Times today, so that strikes of the members of one brotherhood would involve a strike of the others. The organizations are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, the Order of Railway Conductors and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

A federation of this kind was suggested when the late P. M. Arthur was head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, but the plan fell through because the engineers did not take kindly to it, being conservative in the matter of sympathetic strikes. The brotherhoods are federated on some of the individual railroad systems, but this has noted so far as a preventive of strikes.

OUT OF PRESIDENCY.

John W. Brock is out of the presidency of the Tonopah & Goldfield, according to unconfirmed rumors in Tonopah. The Philadelphia Press printed a story which told of the deposing of Brock and the election of C. R. Lord to succeed the Nevadan. Arthur Brock, a son, was president of the Bullfrog & Goldfield and the story as printed by the Press says both these roads are to be merged with a capitalization of $10,000,000. Mr. Brock, Sr., has not been interviewed and until he has made a statement the story is gossip, merely.

METHODIST MISSIONS.

Because of Big Debt Foreign Ones May Have to be Curtailed.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 12.—Because of a debt of $85,000 hanging over the Methodist Episcopal board of foreign missions in session here, that body must either retrench to the extent of $170,000 in making appropriations for the foreign mission field, or violate a strict interpretation of the laws of the church, which say that the board shall not appropriate more money than the income of the foreign mission board during the previous year. This condition is due to the separating of the foreign and the home mission societies during the past church year. The committee on general appropriation will report in favor of violating the strict interpretation of the law, and it is expected its action will be endorsed in the general meeting because a curtailment of $170,000 in the income would mean a vast reduction in the number of missionaries in all foreign fields.

The conference appropriated $26,300 to the support of missionary bishops, $18,000 to the support of retired missionaries and the widows and orphans of missionaries, $25,000 for incidental needs of missions, $47,000 for the publication fund, $9,000 for young people's work, $28,750 for the salaries of field secretaries, $33,500 for administration purposes and $10,000 for miscellaneous uses.
