BUSINESS REVIVAL.

Comptroller of Currency Eckels Predicts Prosperity.

FOREIGN CAPITAL WILL COME,

And the Banks Will Be Able to Lend Out Money for Business Enterprises.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—James N. Eckels, comptroller of the currency, today wired the editor of the Times-Herald the following statement:

"The liquidation of the last three years has prepared the way for a revival of business in this country upon lines which ought to insure stability and continuance.

"The immediate effect of the defeat of the free coinage propaganda and the issue connected with it is seen in the suggestions everywhere made of projections for new undertakings and a re-awakening of old ones.

"Of somewhat similar scope of these will fall off, but the general tone of business will continue and investors will invest in those things which chiefly promise a return of profit on the investment.

I do not believe speculative enterprises will succeed for a long time to come. A great amount of money will come out of hoarding, but it will be used cautiously. The amount which has been accused in safety vaults and strongboxes is larger than ever in the country's history. Much of it is in gold coin, but not a little is in the form of credit currency, such as bank notes, silver certificates and legal tenders. The favorable conditions for the people, aside from the settlement of the money question, rest in the abundant crops here and the shortage elsewhere, the reduction in the stock of manufactured products and the fact that the expenses have been brought to a minimum in every line of business. The banks have, since 1893, been charging off bad and better securing doubtful paper, so that they will be able speedily to loan out such sums as the business men need. Already deposits are increasing to such an extent that the prospect of a strong money market under the next bank call is very flattering.

"With the restored confidence now established by our determination to maintain the single gold standard of value and the establishment of American credit, there is reason to believe much foreign capital will come hence. I do not see, either, why the banks ought not soon to resume the furnishing of any aid needed in business transactions, a thing they did without injury to themselves until the passage of the Sherman act in 1890. I believe the national banks should issue all the paper currency of the country, and with this power given them they should be obliged to redeem the same in gold. This they could readily do, if the legal tenders were removed and they were completely freed from further silver legislation. I have no doubt that under such circumstances they would be willing to underwrite it."

THE POSTAL SERVICE.

Annual Report of the First Assistant Postmaster General.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The annual report of Frank H. Jones, the first assistant postmaster general, gives a review of a large part of the year's postal business of the government, and makes numerous recommendations for the improvement of the service. It shows that during the last three fiscal years the aggregate savings in the divisions of salaries and allowances of postmasters was $545,984; in free delivery, $2,314,445; and postoffice supplies, $318,546; total, $3,178,975.

For that period there was an aggregate reduction of 3,609,134 in the number of pieces of mail sent from postoffices to the dead-letter office.

The experiment of free delivery in forty-five towns and villages cost the government $9,247, leaving an unexpended balance of $1,763. Investigation showed that in a majority of the offices the gross receipts had increased since the establishment of the service, the department being compelled to send money to some offices for the payment of letter carriers' salaries. Congress did not appropriate for further permanent or experimental service, and the experiment was accordingly discontinued with the close of the fiscal year.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The first assistant says:

"The attention of Congress ought to be called to the private letter box abuse on large cities. It is in some cases the practice to locate persons engaged in conducting fraudulent and unlawful correspondence through the mails, who for a comparatively small sum can rent a box in some cigar or stationery store through which to receive letters addressed to them. Several bills have been introduced within the last few years designed to put an end to the practice of appointing postmasters at offices of the north class, thereby depriving them of the compensation properly belonging to them. This matter should be called up and some action taken that would result in postmasters appointed at least the compensation which properly belongs to their respective offices."

Other recommendations are: Placing postmasters in classified master upon the civil list; penalty for unlawful use of the franks of a member of Congress; authority for suspension of postoffice employes; for substituting clerks with pay in the place of registered mails occasionally absent; leave with call pay to clerks or carriers appointed while on duty; substitutes to assist regular carriers on holidays and other emergencies, and to locate house covering employes or sickness of money order clerks.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, the report asks for appropriations of $17,000,000 for compensation of postmasters; $11,000,000 for clerk hire allowances; $7,700,000 to cover rent, heat and light as fixed, owned and third-class offices; $318,000 for miscellaneous and incidental items, including furniture, $150,000 for canceling machines, $15,000 for advertising, $190,000 for postoffice supplies, and $18,000,000 for free delivery, including salaries of 12,952 regular carriers.

FOR CUBA.

Williams's Mission to Spain as Yet a Secret.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Morning Advertiser will say tomorrow: "It was reported in this city yesterday that the personal general to Havana, Ramon O. Williams, might be expected here from Europe in about ten days. Although the fact of this visit is doubtless owing to the vigilance of the newspaper of the Spanish capital, it is nevertheless true that he has been in Madrid for three weeks past, and in the immediate circle of his family it was announced that he was to leave for New York by one of the North German Lloyd liners on Saturday last.

Members of his family seen yesterday at his residence in Brooklyn asserted that they knew of no other reason for Mr. Williams's visit to Europe than to improve his health, which had been injuriously affected by his residence in Cuba.

Prominent personal friends of the ex-consul general, however, make no secret of their belief that his mission to Spain was to sound the Spanish government and in conjunction with Minister Taylor to endeavor to procure a friendly settlement of the difficulties with Cuba. It was also stated that Mr. Williams was authorized to favor negotiations by which the purchase of the island by the Cubans might be arranged on the understanding that the United States would guarantee the payments to the moiety country.

McKinley at Church.

CANTON, O., Nov. 8.—The opening of the morning services in the First M. E. church this morning found Major McKinley in his accustomed place with a number of friends, having walked early to his home of Wednesday.

Rev. Dr. Manchester, Major McKinley's pastor, in his prayer invoked divine blessings on the President of the United States and those elevated to exalted positions, and referring to the President-elect in the congregation, invoked the blessings of a wise Providence upon him and upon those about to be called to counsel with him.

Mrs. McKinley was looking much better today, and was able to attend to the dining-room with her husband and their guests.

Abner McKinley started for his home in New York today, and was joined at Akron by his family, who have been in Pennsylvania.

They Do Not Want Castillo.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 8.—The Commercial Tribune's special from Frankfort, Ky., says: There is no longer any talk of the Republicans uniting with the gold Democrats on Carlisle, Breckinridge or any other Democrat to succeed Senator Blackburn. All negotiations and talk to the effect were based on the possibilities of another deadlock. Now that the Republicans are confident of a majority on joint ballot, the state (not a party) caucus will be called senator. Governor Bradley, Congressman Hunter, Ex-John Boyle and others are mentioned for the place.

Interested in Our Election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Morning Advertiser tomorrow will say: Three members of the new Canadian cabinet were interested in the outcome of the recent presidential election that they came to New York to study the methods by which it was conducted and to learn the result at the earliest possible moment. They are William S. Fielding, minister of finance; William Patterson, minister of customs, and Andrew R. Ross, minister of railways.

The trio arrived a few days before the election and left for home last evening, apparently well satisfied with the result. They do not seem to share the sullen expression given by a portion of the Canadian press that President McKinley will be unduly hostile to them on the reciprocity, fisheries, bond regulations and other questions at issue between this country and Canada.

The Cuban War.

HAVANA, Nov. 7.—General Castellanos's reinforcements, 2,000 troops from Previous Santiago De Cuba, left his headquarters a few days ago and advanced in the direction of Cescorte and Guaymaro on the eastern part of the province of Puerto Principe, which have been besieged a long time. By the insurgents Cescorte and Guaymaro were which reported to have fallen. The former was said to have been relieved a month ago by General Castellanos. According to the latest advices in the Puerto Principe the insurgents in command of that place has moved with a strong force to the relief of Guaymaro. General Castellanos, a later report says, has been engaged with the insurgents under Gomez and Calixto Garcia and broken their formation. No details of the engagement, however, are obtainable, owing to the lack of facilities for communication with the Spanish troops. The insurgents insist that the Spaniards have sustained serious defeats in that part of Cuba.

A Lumber Dealer Fails.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 7.—William H. Treworgy, lumber dealer, has filed a voluntary petition of insolvency caused by the failure of the Portsmouth, Va., Lumber Manufacturing company, in which he advances money. His liabilities are schedule as $204,445; the assets consist of real estate, personal property, stock, etc., which he has transferred to the trustee for the benefit of the creditors.

Signs of Prosperity.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 7.—The Carnegie Steel company, limited, at a meeting today resolved to proceed with the building of two additional blast furnaces, the total expenditures at the works authorized to exceed one and a quarter million dollars. It was also decided to push to completion the new railroad to the lakes, requiring the expenditure of three and a half million dollars. Carnegie also accepted bids today for the erection of a new library and a hall at Homestead, to cost $250,000. He said he was so certain the country was entering a period of prosperity that he was willing to spend his surplus.

THE CHILEAN CRISIS.

The Resignation of the Cabinet Means a New Policy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—A special to the Herald from Valparaiso gives the following particulars of the Chilean crisis:

The cabinet resigned at a late hour Saturday night, and a new ministry will be formed on Monday. Constitution will be its motive and it will represent the different factions of the liberal party. It will be pledged to abstain absolutely from all interference in the general elections in March.

This position will end the crisis in the affairs of the republic, it is believed. There is great rejoicing throughout the country.

The liberals of all shades of opinion face the outlook as a common life.

The real author of the mischief was the direct result of a conference between the president and several leading politicians, representing all parties. All expressed the opinion that it was impossible for the then existing cabinet to govern the country, owing to the opposition of the Chamber of Deputies, which, as an extreme measure, would refuse to sanction the budget. This, it was said at the conference, was the precise situation which led to the revolution of 1891.

Route for Cabinet for Solitary.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Nov. 8.—The following statement was given out on night as a release from her Republican headquarters:

Yesterday complete official returns give Mckinley a majority in Kansas. Indications savings indicating that the four mining counties will increase future their decrease these figures.

THE LEADVILLE STRIKE.

Gen. Metcalfe Desirous of Bringing the Trouble to an End.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 8.—Owing to the great expense of maintaining the militia in camp at Leadville, Gov. McIntire, it is reported, has opened negotiations with a view to bringing the strike to an end. The mine-owners have not yet shown a disposition to make any concessions whatever, and they are preparing to import more miners from Missouri. There has developed, however, a strong opposition to the policy of introducing a guard in order to enable the mine-owners to operate their properties and treat on their own terms, and it is believed the governor will soon be forced by public opinion to withdraw at least a portion of the troops.

Higher Wages.

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 8.—The American gasoline works yesterday notified the workmen to report for duty November 16, at which time a reduction of 10 per cent in wages will be restored.

Work for the Santa Fe.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 8.—It is announced that tomorrow the big plant of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company at Pueblo will be put to work on a large order of steel rails and fittings for the Santa Fe, which works keep the immense mills employed with a full complement of men for a month at least. The opening of the mills means the immediate employment of fully 1,500 men, 1,200 of whom will be in the mills and the remainder at the mine. At present only 300 to 600 are at work.

Fight With Cuban Rebels.

HAVANA, Nov. 8.—Col. Palanca encountered the insurgent leader, Rotuo, at Palo Prieto, in Santa Clara province, and killed fifteen of his men and took one prisoner. The insurgents carried off the rest of their lost. The troops had two officers and four soldiers wounded.

The insurgents attacked the village of Agualo Passagerre in Matanzas province. The garrison made a brilliant defense and after a short fight the insurgents were repulsed, leaving five killed behind the house, Mendez and Rey cabinos. They retired with great loss. The mayor of the town and three soldiers were wounded. Estenos Cespedes, an American, has been expelled from the island.

Armenians Congratulate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—The following telegram was been sent to Maj. McKinley:

Hon. William McKinley, Canton, O.:—The Armenians of the state of California send their heartfelt congratulations for your election, and hope you will do your utmost in behalf of their unfortunate, the people of which are suffering for their faith. J. M. PENDIAN,

PERSIA COMMITTEE.

PAUL S. OUNJIAN,

SEC'Y ARMENIAN COMMITTEE.

There are about 600 Armenians in California, and they save all taken a great interest in the election.

Indians For McKinley.

PENDER, Neb., Nov. 8.—The Winnebago Indians in Thurston county, have given enthusiastic over the late election returns, and revelled in a gorgeous feast and Indian dance on the reservation last night. Many were in Feather bonnets McKinley and Hobart buttons to celebrate with. Colored banner bearing the inscription, "McKinley and Sound Money," were exhibited during the several dances to the tune of the tom-tom in the hands of the dusky medicine. Winnebago president has always been a friend to the Democratic administration, but this year 78 Republican votes were cast.
