BLACKLEG AMONG CATTLE.

A Remedy that Has Been Used With Some Success by a Logan Stockman.

Logan, Utah, March 22, 1898.

To the Editor:

A great many inquiries are being received at the station in regard to the disease commonly known as blackleg. This disease causes the death of many hundred calves and young cattle yearly in our state, and it would be difficult to estimate the total annual loss in the United States. It is a disease more prevalent during the spring months, but June, July, August and September are the only months exempt from outbreaks of this disease. Complaints have been made that already this spring hundreds of calves have been lost by their owners. The purpose of this paper is to give some information to prevent, if possible, this annual loss to our farmers.

As animal with blackleg moves stiffly some one of the four legs, depending upon which part of the body the disease settles in, being very stiff and requiring an especial effort for the left of the sick animal to use the left.

The disease may settle on either side, but during a visit recently to a Bennifer county farm, where the disease was prevalent, I noticed that in every case it was the left side that had been attacked. The most characteristic symptom of this disease is the formation of gas directly beneath the skin of the affected part. The tissue is swollen and tense; the circulation of the blood is arrested and the affected part appears cooler to the touch than other portions of the body. The treatment of animals already sick with blackleg is rarely satisfactory.

Good results have been obtained from exercising an animal violently when the first symptoms are observed. Place a hog on a horse and run the calves around the pasture to secure rapid circulation and prevent blood from settling in any part of body. Bleeding from the jugular vein, in early stages, is also practiced, from one to four quarts of blood being drawn from the animal. The treatment should be, however, preventive, and remedy which has been used with some success by a Logan stockman is here given:

Sulphur 16 lbs., saltpeter 4 lbs., copperas 4 lbs. air-slaked lime 2 lbs.

Pulverize these ingredients and mix them thoroughly with one gallon of common salt, and place it where cattle will lick it in the place of common salt.

Any assistance the station can render in case of outbreaks of this disease will be gladly rendered.

Asst. Prof. Veterinary Science, Agricultural College, Logan.

DEVINE IS CONFIRMED

Mayor's Appointment of Chief of Fire Department Carries by a Vote of 12 to 3.

COUNCILMAN CHRIS DIEHL IS HONORED.

Mrs. Hampton Sees Prison Matron—Adverse Report on John T. Caine's Appointment—Miscellaneous.

It took the members of the City Council a little over an hour last night to transact quite a large amount of business. All the councilmen were present and Mr. Jibe, the street master, which matters were disposed of occasioned some surprise to a couple of members of the previous Council who happened to be present. It was Councilman Diehl's 6th birthday and he was presented with a beautiful bouquet by President Barnes, who in a few well chosen words congratulated the gentleman and called on him to preside, which Mr. Diehl did for the whole evening.

The Mayor's appointment of James Devine for chief of the fire department carried and the gentleman was confirmed by a vote of 12 to 3, Barnes, Margetts and Weller voting in the negative.

In the matter of the appointment of John T. Caine as superintendent of the waterworks, the reports were received from the committee, one signed by Allen, Fitzpatrick and Diehl, recommended Mr. Caine be not confirmed, and the other, signed by Pitchforth and Diehl, recommended that he be confirmed. The matter finally went over for one week.

Mrs. Mary J. R. R. Hampton was confirmed as prison matron; Buckle and Robertson voting in the negative.

The Mayor's appointment of Eli A. Pulland as clerk of the board of health came up on a report from the health committee, recommending Mr. Pulland's confirmation. The report was laid on the table pending the passage of an ordinance raising the salary from $720 to $900 a year. The ordinance went over for one week.

Mayor Clark sent in the name of John L. Groo for poll tax collector, which was referred to the committee on streets.

HALL OF RELICS TO REMAIN.

Mr. Westenhaver, of the Mineral Mining Congress, by Hyde, of Wells, chairman, asked that the hall of relics be allowed to remain where it was until the middle of July, in order that the congress might see it for a mineral display. The owners of the buildings have agreed to this, and the petition was granted.

ALLOWANCE NOT ENOUGH.

Chairman Robinson of the Council committee on control asked for the appropriation of $90, to make up the deficiency in the expense of the jail building, which the $400 allowance failed to meet. The coal bill alone was $18. Romney was willing to let the committee overdraw, if it would report expense beyond the allowance, when they so occurred. Robinson said his committee had no desire to waste money. The appropriation was passed, Romney and Robertson voting no.

TRACKS TO BE LOWERED.

In the matter of the Council's request of the Oregon Short Line company to lower its tracks on South Temple, west of Sixth West street, the company announced its readiness to do the work at any time, but that the tracks must stay as they are for the summer have been obliterated and the work cannot begin until the stakes are reset. The engineer was instructed to set the stakes.

MISCELLANEOUS.

W. H. Remington, receiver of the Eagle Foundry & Machine company, offered to sell to the city, with the approval of the court, a number of patterns for the use of the city waterworks, which cost $4,000, for the sum of $350. Referred to committee on waterworks and sewerage.

The committee on streets recommended John Jones be employed to prosecute delinquent poll tax for one-half the amount collected, the city to furnish the papers. Callister said the city attorney or his assistant should attend to the cases, but Morris said the gentleman's fees too heavy. Robinson and Barnes favored instructing the city attorney to look after the cases. On motion of Callister the report was recommitted.

John W. Judd sent in a claim for $30 for prosecuting charges against Fire Chief Devine before the board of police and the commissioners. Referred to the committee on municipal laws.

The recorder was instructed to advertise notice of intention to construct a sewer lateral on the west side of Fourth East between South Temple and First South streets.

On recommendation of the street committee the street superintendent was instructed to grade a street between Fourth and Sixth streets.

Henry Cohn and F. Auerbach & Bro. asked the Council to carry out the city's part of a contract which the city and county executed to which they agreed the obligations of the Jordan and Salt Lake Bottom Water Canal company. The petitioners granted a right of way for a canal over their land, and they represent that the canal has never been constructed as agreed in the original contract. They claim to have suffered damage by loss and damage. Referred to the committee on irrigation, with the city attorney associated. A resolution introduced by Callister was adopted, instructing the sanitary committee to draw up an ordinance prescribing the duties of the board of health officer and present the same to the Council for consideration.

To Incorporate Moab.

Grand Valley Times: The incorporation of the town of Moab is one of the questions the citizens of this valley should give serious consideration to in the near future. It is a step it seems necessary to make the place surround the attention as a business and home center that the surrounding country and the resources of this section will demand. Nature has done much in the way of climate, soil and resources, but man must do much to bring these advantages within his reach. Better sanitary conditions, water supplies, sidewalks and streets are only to be reached in any practical degree through a local government. The additional taxes, if any, would be as nothing when compared to the advantages to be gained.

It is reported that a new building especially adapted for the hotel business will be created this spring by Mr. Lester Taylor. Such a building, conveniently located, would be a valuable addition to Moab. It is to be hoped that that contemplated prosperity wave will strike this place at an early date and that before the next presidential election we shall have Moab connected as a first class office with a free delivery system in full operation. The way to reach that point is for all to take hold and build it up.

BEST OF ALL

To cleanse the system in a gentle and truly beneficial manner when the springtime comes, use the true and perfect remedy, Syrup of Figs. For the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all druggists, at 50 cents per bottle.
