Cyanide Shipments Increasing.

That the Consolidated Kansas City Smelting and Refining company did the proper thing when it established its reduction works in Colorado, is evidenced by a speech made today by Major J. H. Jackson, who presides over the destinies of that institution, who stated that since the opening of November 10 had a very liberal supply of cyanides, their being but two days in that period upon which the smelter did not receive a report, and this being one of them. Major Jackson feels much encouraged at the outcome. No company has received and the increasing supply of cyanides goes to show to what extent the process is being adopted in and enlarged upon in this section of country. At present a number of new mills are projected, and even year will see still greater shipments of the product mentioned.

Mines of the Coeur d'Alenes.

Speaking of mining in the Coeur d'Alenes and dividends paid by the companies operating there, a correspondent of the Spokane Spokesman-Review says the Bunker Hill and Sullivan company has paid $1,000,000 in dividends in 1898 and the Hecla, Star, Gem, Frisco, Tamarack and Star Consolidated, be twice helped in the same direction and this above is true, and the latter shipping strength is therefore at its best, and the Hecla, Star, Gem, Frisco and with considerable freedom at times, the stock parting with lots owners at these prices.
