DYING FROM A DECAYED TOOTH.

Nebraska Chickens for California—Dealer and Exhibit by Tramps—Dead Baby Found in a Church.

The Bear Lake Stake conference will be held at Paris, Idaho, May 9 and 10.

A car of poultry, containing 1,400 dressed chickens, was shipped to San Francisco from Fremont, Nebraska, last week.

On May 8 the California state horticultural society will meet to discuss the subject, "Irrigation for developing the quality and size of deciduous fruit."

The recent heavy storm visited a serious loss of elevated sheep in western Wyoming. It is stated from Casper that out of 25,000 in Newcastle only 1,200 survive.

The body of a male adult, which had been suffocated, was found in one of the cases of St. Francis church, San Francisco, on Friday. The child was but a few months old when killed.

Mrs. August Baranson of Los Angeles, attempted suicide Thursday night because her husband neglected her. She was 17 years of age and was married less than a year ago.

David S. Maurry tells the San Diego Tribune of the 20th inst. that the organization of the Salt Lake road from Price, Utah, to southern California is now on a firm track. A section of 100 miles wants no street grades will be missed in its construction.

Harry Boley, aged 9 years, of Bawlins, Wyo., is lying on an Omaha hospital. A decayed tooth caused a large lump on the jaw, which developed into a cancerous growth. The growth prevents the boy from taking food, and he is starving. The surgeons can give no relief, except hypodermic injections to relieve pain and the pangs of hunger. It is expected that the boy, who is speechless, will be gradually suffocated by the enlargement of the growth till it closes the windpipe by pressure.

Albert A. Parks, 12 years old, was accidentally killed at Wat, Riverside, Cal., on Thursday evening, by the 14 year old brother, while the latter was loading the barrel of a 32-caliber R. The boys went out on the hillside, and the elder one came down ahead to look. He said nothing of the other until the neighborhood was aroused to search, when he told what had happened, and the dead body was found where the boy had been shot, about half a mile from the house.

Jerry C. Emmett was found Friday in a shack near Spokane, Wash., in a dying condition, having been robbed by tramps, after they had robbed him of all his money. Emmett has been in the mines, and came down a few days ago, footing his way. He was lying on the front end of a car of lumber, when a sudden jerk of the engine around a curve threw him, and it struck him, injuring him severely. When the train stopped he crawled off, intending to go off medical assistance, but waiting to an unoccupied space he went in and lay down to rest. While he was there tramps entered the shack, leaving the helpless invalid. They went through his clothes, taking a roll of money and his watch. They then kicked and beat him and left him to die. This was three days ago. Emmett was accidentally found by a passer-by and brought to the hospital. There is little chance of his recovery. He was almost crazed from starvation and thirst when found.

Paris, Idaho, Post, April 24: Bishop of Paris met last Sunday evening in the second ward meeting house, and unanimously voted to sustain the address promulgated by the First Presidency and general authorities of the Church at the general conference in Salt Lake City. It was an enthusiastic gathering and the excellent spirit manifested by the large congregation, both in listening to the reading of the address and the remarks made by President Budge, as also their unanimous in endorsing the rule of the Church, demonstrated the good feeling on the part of the people. Reports have been received of similar action taken last Sunday in all parts of the stake, where the address was presented. Everywhere the people turned out astonishingly well, manifesting the best condition of the times, and not one vote was registered in the entire Bishopric against the resolution.

SHIPS MAY BE SAFE IN A FOG.

AN INVENTION WHICH INDICATES THE DIRECTION OF SOUND WAVES.

Shipping in New York harbor are amazed by the work of the engineer. It is a new instrument resembling a sort of gigantic ear for a ship and is intended to detect the direction of sound waves in a fog. A successful test of the instrument was made yesterday in the government tug Daniel S. Lamont.

Twin Tubes, the inventor, went out with the tug and without being able to see obstructions, buoys and other lights in the harbor accurately indicate their direction, showing that the euphone would contribute greatly to the safety of vessels in a fog.

The instrument is mounted on the pilot house and consists of a double sonorous sound receiver, each receiving a tube conveying sound waves and having it too different ends of the operator. By turning the standard which the tubes rest on it is able to indicate accurately the direction from which the sound comes.—New York Commercial Advertiser.
