TWENTY-SECOND DAY

Woman Suffrage Creates a Breeze in the Convention.

ARTICLE ON GOVERNANCE REPORTED

Senority and One Day's Salary Voted to the Fair Use of Victims of the Red Canyon Disaster.

There were eighty-six delegates present at the Constitutional Convention all told this afternoon. Prayer was offered by the Rev. G. G. Allison, Baptist district missionary for Utah. After the minutes were disposed of, Boyer, of Springville, presented a petition signed by Frank C. Leonard and twenty others asking that the Convention adopt an article preventing the sale of liquor within the State. Committee on schedule, future amendments and miscellaneous.

Mellor, of Salt Lake, presented a petition signed by Edward Dalton and 400 others of Iron county, making a similar request. Same reference.

MORMON CHURCH.

The committee on rules, inquiring on the Freeman resolution calling for a working machine, recommended that it be adopted. The convention agreed to the report and hereafter the delegates will have to be at their desks at 11 a. m. each day.

DELEGATES AND FEDERAL RELATIONS.

The committee on ordinance and mineral relations reported the following article for incorporation in the Constitution, which was referred to the committee of the whole:

The following ordinance shall be irrevocable without the consent of the United States and the people of this State:

Fifth—Perfect toleration of religious worship shall forever be secured, and no inhabitant of this State shall ever be molested in person or property on account of his mode of religious worship; and polygamy or plural marriages are forever prohibited.

Sixth—The people inhabiting this State do agree and declare that they forever disclaim all right and title to the unappropriated public lands lying within the boundaries thereof, and to all lands lying within said limits owned or held by any Indian or Indian tribe; and until the title thereto shall have been extinguished by the United States the same shall be and remain subject to the disposition of the United States, and the Indian lands mentioned in this section shall be and remain subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, but said lands belonging to citizens of the United States residing without the State shall never be taxed at a higher rate than the lands belonging to citizens of this State; and the property of no person shall be taxed higher than that of persons of the same class in the same county; and all property exempted by law for purposes of revenue shall be exempt from taxation; and no such exemption shall be made by any municipal corporation in this State.

Eighth—All debts and liabilities of the Mormon Church, under authority of the legislative assembly thereof, are hereby assumed and shall be paid by this State.

Ninth—The United States shall make no law for establishment and none shall exist; provision of public schools, which shall be free and open to all children of the State and free from sectarian control.

The committee also reported back the following propositions: File No. 10, by Maloney, of Weber. File No. 16, by Dickson, of Salt Lake, with recommendation that the latter be referred to the committee on schedule, future amendments and miscellaneous.

SAME TO DEFEAT IT.

Chindler, chairman of the committee on elections and suffrage, said he was convinced that there was no attempt on the part of the minority members of his committee to defeat the woman suffrage part of the article by delay and he therefore moved that it make the special order for Wednesday, in the committee of the whole.

Roberts, of Davis, with an exhibition of some ovation, feelingly declared against the gentleman assigning improper motives to the minority members of the committee. The woman suffrage article was in the regular calendar and should be taken up in regular order. To meet the point, was not the proper thing. He could not understand where there was such "all fired haste manifested" in the matter. Mr. Evans, one of the opposing minority, was sound, but he believed he was more ready to report.

Cannon, of Salt Lake, invited Chindler to be calm and Roberts asked (Why is there such a disposition to hurry the question?)

Cannon replied, he supposed the question had been put to a caucus.

In Pentland—Mr. Kennedy, I will respond of the city, "only" a few thousands, of Salt Lake, "I believe" we are ready to vote in favor of the minority report at tomorrow's session.

Thomas—We might as well be honest about this question. (Why? you say? I am honest. It is because I know that the opposite to the woman suffrage cause are getting votes every day, and they have boasted that they will carry it if they only have a little more time. (Laughter.) Now, there, Democrats and Republicans have decided in favor of it and members of those parties knowing their parties are pledged to the proposition, should be in better business than attempting to defeat the carrying out of that promise.

We will call it was found that 87 delegates were in favor of the motion and 32 opposed, whereupon the chair announced:

"Gentlemen the motion is lost, as in order to carry, two-thirds of the minority have voted, vote in the affirmative, a reversion of the rules being contemplated."

RULES FOR WOMAN'S BENEFIT.

Brandley, of Sevier, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Constitutional Convention, assembled in Salt Lake City, do hereby express our sympathy with the grief of stricken people of Wyoming in the severely sad but come upon them through the terrible explosion in Red Canyon, for it further

Resolved, That we devote one day's salary to the relief of the sufferers and children whose husbands and fathers have been dealt in this horrible manner, and be it further

Resolved, That the President of this Convention be and he is hereby authorized to make the necessary arrangements for the proper distribution of the moneys thus received.

Keaton, of Salt Lake, moved to amend that we give five days' salary to them.

There was no second to the amendment and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

CONSIDERATION OF THE WORK.

The Convention then resolved itself into the committee of the whole and proceeded once more to discuss the declaration of rights, beginning with section 18, where the delegates left off their labors on Saturday night.

Goodwin, of Salt Lake, offered the following substitute for section fifteen: "No law shall be passed to abridge or restrain the freedom of speech or the press, but all persons shall be responsible for the abuse of the privilege. In all trials for libel the truth may be given in evidence and shall be sufficient defense, if it shall appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous is true, and was published with good motives and for justifiable ends. And the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts. Upon establishing a libel the damages for libel, plaintiff shall file bonds for costs or please interposed."

Varian was the first to raise the voice against it. It is long and when the vote came it was overwhelmingly against it.

The bill of rights was still being discussed at 4 o'clock when this report closed.

Convention Stray Bits.

Secretary Christiansen—A postage, a postage stamp! My position for a postage stamp!

Kimball, of Weber, is at his post again. He was in his seat several hours before the Convention meeting was started.

Anti-woman suffragists and anti-prohibitionists are coming into, and, it is said, preparing to pull some with a view to keeping their positions out of the Constitution.

The Cache county delegation are working with extraordinary promptness to have the Convention adopt the Utah Territory and Agricultural College—at Logan, of course.

Small church property to tenant Kimball, of Weber, and Van Horlscot, Salt Lake, say "yes," and so does Colonel Kaiser. The former brings to mind the fact that section 4 of the Declaration of Rights has not yet been disposed of.

The legislative committee was relieved for a morning at five m. Thursday that they didn't "get together," and another attempt will be made Saturday when their report, which only requires a further passing again, will be presented.

Delegate Hammond, of Box Elder, has heard nothing from home regarding the alleged gold discovery in that section of the county. Mr. Hammond did hinge in the opinion that the Indian agent whose name is the sequence of Night throws more at the late than he would be willing to state.

The delegates this morning received an abundance of "circulars" introduced on the middle system and seven of the commissioners began measure in the lathes, and at noon the atmosphere about the Convention hall was fairly laden with milliners, commissions, mulligans, contingent and other similar signs, sounds and warbs.

The Edna Society.

The Edna society of the University gives a public meeting Tuesday evening, March 26, at 7:30 o'clock, in the University building. A very interesting program has been prepared, among the numbers of which is a Spanish song by Miss Mary Price, every piece by Miss Foster, a recitation by Miss Maud M. Babcock, piano selection by Mr. Guy Lowe, and a selection by the Mandolin and Guitar club.

The public are cordially invited, and the talent obtained for the program needs no introduction and insures a full house.

W. H. Ryan's Trial.

The case of W. H. Ryan, ex-superintendent of waterworks, was taken up in Judge Barlow's court at 2:30 this afternoon. The defendant is charged with embezzling moneys belonging to the city while acting in the official capacity, by means of alterations of the payrolls, etc.

Another Bi-Nated Pair.

In the Third district court this afternoon Annie J. Squires filed a suit in divorce against her husband, Harry Squires, on the grounds of cruelty, desertion and failure to provide.

The marriage took place in the city on May 7th, 1894, since which time, Mrs. Squires alleges, the defendant has treated her very badly. Within six weeks after the wedding, she says, he began to absent himself from home and after which kept throw her jewelry ranging from several days to two weeks at a time. Hence she was compelled to rely upon her parents for support, her husband having failed to provide for her, and on March 15th of the present year he wholly abandoned her.

Ever since the marriage, plaintiff declares further, her husband has treated, abused and cursed her and repeatedly applied to her opprobrious epithets. No alimony is asked for, but Mrs. Squires desires her maiden name restored to her.

Andrews & Andrews are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Suit on a Note.

David Evans brought suit in the Third district court this afternoon against J. M. Goodwin, to recover $500 on a promissory note, with interest at 8 per cent.

Land Patents Received.

The following patents were received today at the local land office, and await their owners:

No. 21, Timber culture certificate, issued to Jacob Gardner, of Bountiful, Davis county, for ninety acres.

No. 117, Coal certificate, issued to Wm. A. Nelson, for eighty acres in section 4, township 2 north, range 3 east, in Summit county.

THE COUNTY FRAUD.

Kilgore Declines to Tell What Became of Workingmen's Wages.

IT WOULD INCRIMINATE HIM,

He Says in Refusing to Reply—Bonds for Perjury Required—Pleas of Not Guilty.

The county court and its investigating committee again this morning to hear more George Kilgore had to say as to the bonds issued to have been committed to him. Kilgore, however, refused to reply before the committee for the reason that it would tend to incriminate himself.

At the investigation of the committee on Saturday the testimony given was to effect that Kilgore, late road superintendent, had received from the men employed in macadamizing the State road five per cent of their earnings for the use of our whose names had been admitted to work it was stated that he had exacted five per cent from the five per cent, but that he was compelled to pay the superintendent a bribe of five cents for each day he was allowed to work.

On being subpoenaed as a witness Kilgore, who was backed in charge of the Utah Territory and Agricultural College—at Logan, of course.

The legislative committee was relieved for a morning at five m. Thursday that they didn't "get together," and another attempt will be made Saturday when their report, which only requires a further passing again, will be presented.

between 200 and 300 witnesses to be called. A large number of these persons had served in steady, active work to testify.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Grand opens its doors tonight with Young Mrs. Winthrop, the curtains on the whole are more nearly the ideal than any the present company has yet put forth. The Bingham season closed Saturday night, so though last week was not a heavy Business one it will be one long remembered by the night people who generally go to the Bingham and see Kyle particularly.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, March 18, 1895.

Grillis Sentenced.

James Grillis, found guilty of burglary on Friday, appeared for sentence by Judge Rigby today. Judge Rigby said he appeared that defendant had spent the last 8 years of his life in the penitentiary, so sorrow had not been wasted time he committed another crime. The youth, sorrowful, said he was in the wrong sanity. He could see now a same man would act in the manner defendant did. The court had not received a letter from Dr. Pike stating that the defendant had been in the asylum for a time, and that his health was now very good. The court would take material view of the case and instead of imposing the maximum sentence, his years, he would sentence defendant to two years and six months in the penitentiary. Grillis thanked the court for the mercy shown.

Two Young Travelers.

Friday night, about 12 o'clock, two boys who gave their names as Frank Burton, aged 14, and Hamel Clayton, aged 15, were found on the streets. They told Officer McKown that they had arrived in town the same day, intending to go to Colorado to "see the country." They arrived here in a freight car and wanted to go home. After they had spent in jail all night Marshal Knight took them home and gave them breakfast and one telephoned to the Ogden officials.

Sale of Irrigation Property.

The Starr Irrigation Co. has sold its reservoir and water right to the Nebo Irrigation Co. for $2,000. The sale was closed Friday and 25 per cent of the purchase price, $500, was paid to the stockholders of the Starr Irrigation Co. One per cent was paid on the 1st of January, when negotiations commenced. The power of attorney about 1,100 acres, stretching down from Starr Dam. Here the waters of Canyon creek will be stored to the full capacity to irrigate about 20,000 acres of land adjacent and also adjacent to Goshen. The cost of the reservoir and canals, it is estimated, will be about $100,000, and it is expected they will be completed by the middle of next year. Gill S. Peyton and E. G. Hopson, representing the Nebo company, came down to consummate the deal.

First District Court.

The following business was transacted Saturday afternoon in the First district court:

The jury in the case of the People vs Wm. Marsh (poaching) brought in a verdict of guilty. Sentence set for March 23.

In the case of the People vs Wm. Twelves (misdemeanor) the jury was instructed to render a verdict of not guilty.

Axles.

The charge of forgery against Carl Osterloh and Herman E. Osterloh, preferred by Chas. Hardy, was dismissed by Justice Dudley Saturday afternoon, there being absolutely no evidence to connect the defendants with the offense.

Wm. O. Jones, aged 28, and Jane I. Hales, aged 19, both of Spanish Fork, received a marriage license this morning.

IMPERFECT VISION

Is caused by the length and shape of the eyeball. When the proper dimensions of the eye are accurately ascertained it is easy to prescribe the proper glasses.

For by the methods commonly in vogue, glasses are fitted by the guesses of inexperienced test glasses until the patient selects a combination, which he thinks improves his vision. This is a guess work on the part of both. Glasses worth hundreds of dollars are thus fitted, and the result is that the eyes becoming easily confused when using wood.

By the Skiametric original method, we determine the exact cause of the impairment of the vision, and the length of the eyeball is taken by scientific instruments, which record results that are not to be disputed, and we can then intelligently prescribe the proper glasses, thus making a mistake the matter impossible.

We have good scientific knowledge and given minutest attention.

Every pair of glasses are especially ground to suit the peculiarities in each case, and guaranteed.

As all examinations are free, it will cost you nothing to find out whether your vision can be benefited or not.
