STARING AT DEATH.

The English at Railways in Constant Fear of a Massacre.

ENEMIES WITHIN AND WITHOUT.

But a Handful of Defenders Against Overwhelming Numbers of Matabeles.

CAPETOWN, April 15.—[Copyrighted 1896 by the Associated Press.]—Military men, settlers, Dutchmen and Kaffirdom, civilians of all classes, never to troops and government officials cover to the statement that the governor of Cape colony, Sir Hercules Robinson, has not told the truth if he has notified the home government that Buluwayo is in a dangerous condition. It is evident to everybody here that the British in Buluwayo are in a most critical position. The chief point of their weakness is the smallness of their numbers and the immensity of the forces of Matabele gathering for attack. Then again large numbers of Matabele, pretended to be friendly, have by some means or other succeeded in entering the town and it is well known that they have planned to rise and strike at the Europeans as soon as the warriors of Matabele are heard outside the line of defense. Most of the Matabele in Buluwayo get there by pretending to be seeking the protection of the whites, and the latter fall into the trap. These Matabele are armed and an outbreak must soon occur.

It has been feared that Buluwayo is held by 3,000 men; this is not correct. The number of fighting men at Buluwayo is under 600 and of the small number compared with the 10,000 Matabele in the vicinity, few are reported to have been dispatched to hold the Mangwa pass, a steep defile with magnificent natural strongholds, which can be entered only by a narrow path. Other dispatches mention that a strong force of the revolting 600 within intended to block Buluwayo yesterday to attack the Matabele impi, composed of Umbiqas's crack indaba regiment from which the native prime force, who have been slowly to have started the rebellion, were recruited. The impi is believed to be one of the most formidable in strength of Matabeleland, in numbers and efficiency.

Nobody here can understand why such action is premature. It is feared the swift advance of Lobengula may be repeated. The Britons may be cut off in detail, and while there engaged with overwhelming numbers, the main body of the Matabele army may be turned against Buluwayo and sweep over it, in spite of valor and rapid firing guns. The great trouble at Buluwayo seems to be that a majority of the inhabitants are determined men, prone to engage the enemy first and estimate the numbers generally too late.

STARTING THEM OUT.

The Women of Missionaries to Turkey Elected.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 15.—Telegrams from Mardin, eastern Turkey, state that the ladies of Rev. Geo. P. Knapp and Rev. Lyon M. Bliss, American missionaries of the American Board of Foreign Missions, Boston, have been stoned by the Turkish government and the certificate are not allowed to go any come from the missionaries.

Anti-Semitic Victory.

VIENNA, April 16.—Dr. Lueger, anti-Semitic leader of the Reichsrath, was again elected burgomaster of Vienna today by a vote of 98 to 52. The minority of the Liberal Vienna Ministers. Crowds greeted the announcement of the result with cheers.

Must Bury the Wires.

ST. LOUIS, April 16.—The municipal assembly has passed a bill to bury the electric wires. The bill requires all wires to go under ground by July 1, 1896, except the messenger call, score, burglar alarm and wires of that character which are not strung on poles and are insulated.

The bill further provides that the franchises of the companies which hold the conduits erected in 1890, and that five per cent of the gross receipts must be paid to the city. It puts the construction of conduits under the control of the board of public improvements, and reserves the right for the city to buy them up at the expiration of fifteen years.

THE SOUDANESE WAR.

Ten Thousand Men on the Frontier Ready to March On.

NEW YORK, April 16.—A dispatch to the Herald from Assouan, Egypt, says:

At present there are 10,000 men on the Soudanese frontier, not of which there are gathered at Assouan the three battalions of infantry, a squadron of cavalry and a battery of six guns under Colonel Butler.

The latter force, as soon as sufficient camels have arrived on the spot for purposes of transportation, will push on to Dongola, which is garrisoned by a strong force of Dervishes. The attack, long delayed, under Col. Hunter, will number nearly 2,000 men, while the number of Dervishes at present at Dongola is about 1,400.

Hickman left Assouan on Monday with instructions to the chief on whose aid speed to Dongola, to start to take up the post of chief of the staff to Col. Hunter.

Tangantic Market Depressed.

PITTSBURG, April 16.—Tobacco has entered the tangible and keep up a real market for tight nine of the previous chemical to this city, and the price has gone up from $250 a pound to $400 within the last month. Tangantic is the substitute used in combination with cocaine to make x-rays visible. The man who discovered the market is a wealthy Pittsburger, interested in scientific discoveries.

When the discovery of tangantic as a substitute is mentioned it makes the eyes visible was announced the young man went to Professor Trigley, of the Allegheny high school, to see the experiment with this chemical. The professor established that the high school was just out of tangantic and that it might be some time before any could be furnished for such experiments. The young man pondered a minute and then asked Prof. Trigley if he could secure some for him and go on with the experiments. Prof. Trigley gave his word, and the young man went out to hunt some up. It was not to be found in Pittsburg, but he was given an address in New York, which he took home with him.

He enclosed a pound of tangantic. In two days the reply was received, stating the house had not that much in stock, but had sent all over New York City and would forward as much as they could get. Shortly afterwards came a package with three drams and a letter $5.

The experiments were entirely successful, and then a letter was received from Chicago asking if he would sell part of his secret. Then a letter came from New England seeking the same thing, and following them came requests from all over the country for some of the valuable stuff. Even New York dealers sent on, and now the price has crept up from $5 to $10 a dram.

The Remains of Col. Corbett.

NEW YORK, April 16.—A cablegram to the Herald from Cairo, Egypt, says:

A little ceremony was conducted Friday by the clergy of the American mission, prior to sending the remains of Col. John A. Corbett to New York, and was attended by the American colony. The Khedive was officially represented.

HIDDEN LOUNGE.

An Account of His Disagreeable Experience in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 16.—S. B. Hibben, manager of the Atlantic Refining company of Santa Ana, Cal., who is mysteriously disappeared here Thursday afternoon a few hours after his arrival in this city, has been found. It seems that he on leaving the hotel he wandered around the city until 2 o'clock Friday morning. At that hour he was stopped by a policeman, who thought the man acted in a strange manner. As the man asked the policeman the way to Lake Lake, the officer being afraid the strange or eccentrical subject, locked him up. In the morning Hibben was arraigned before Justice Richardson on a charge of disorderly conduct. A $10 fine was imposed on him. As the fine was not paid Hibben was sent to the Bridewell to work out the fine.

Last night Capt. Crawford looked over the roll of the day's prisoners. He saw the name "S. B. Hibben," and he at once recognized it from the newspaper accounts. He visited the prisoner and saw the description corresponding with that of the missing Hibben and gave a telephone message to Chief Kipp. Subsequently communicated with Lieut. Thomas and Detective Fitzpatrick, the whole finally ferreting out the mysterious disappearance of Mr. Hibben that has occasioned so much anxiety. Hibben was arraigned before Justice Richardson and the charge against him was dismissed.

He denied a pound of tangantic. In two days the reply was received, stating the house had not that much in stock, but had sent all over New York City and would forward as much as they could get. Shortly afterwards came a package with three drams and a letter $5.

The experiments were entirely successful, and then a letter was received from Chicago asking if he would sell part of his secret. Railroad men, policemen and newspaper men were looking for the missing man, but there was not a trace of him to be found. Shortly after arriving in Chicago, Hibben had submitted to an operation for cataract in San Francisco and the operation had left disfigurement, and to cure the family had taken to the city for treatment. Hibben will be released this morning.

SAW THE DEVIL.

Remarkable Story About the Death of an Infidel.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 18.—A special to the Tribune from Winnipeg, Man., says:

The town of Qu'appelle, near Winnipeg, is much excited over a remarkable incident, more so because all the parties concerned there with are quite prominent. There are the local Anglicans at Qu'appelle was dying and the week was a week that other were watching at his bedside. Suddenly there to the adjoining room heard a piercing cry and rushing into the sick room, found the two watchers in a heap on and the infidel dead. The men have never since been able to speak of what they saw and cannot bear to the matter. One of them is not expected to live. It is believed there that they saw the Evil one.

Allison's Chances.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 18.—H. C. McMillan, chairman of the Republican state central committee, who has been in charge of Senator Allison's Iowa campaign, has returned to the city, after a short absence. He issued a statement through the press to the effect that the friends of Senator Allison, which include all Iowa Republicans, would begin at once to organize to make a fine showing of the state at the St. Louis convention. He says that after a careful analysis of the situation he was convinced that the Iowa man was stronger today than he has been at any time during the active campaign.

His idea is that there will be no nomination on one of the early ballots and when it comes to a protracted battle Allison will grow best one to be a man who is safe and on which all sections can unite."

SUICIDE OF COL. JONES.

A Commander During the Civil War End His Days.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The Herald this morning published a detailed story giving an account of the identification of the remains of a suicide in the Hudson river off Yonkers. According to the Herald the dead man was Colonel Jones, who died a little while ago in the Bridewell by the hands of the time of his death. In connection with the case the Herald says:

"Mr. Jones, as he was declared to be by the coroner and the police, was Major General Hawkins Jones and was a commander during the civil war and was formerly a lawyer in St. Louis, Indiana and this city. General Jones was in command of the 8 Ayres brigade, United States army in the troops, and was interested out with the seven rich of noble general of volunteers. He was several wounds in battle and was awarded a pension which he had to do after emoluments he set through. Wm. A. Harding was day at the time of his suicide. General Jones in the practice of law in this city for many years and appeared in a number of several notable cases. He was a member of the Loyal Legion and Grand Army of the Republic and was well known in the Republican party. He was a well-to-do man, and was worth $10,000 at the time of his death. He was married twice. His first wife died and he married a second time. He was several times married and he took care of all his wives very much so both. He became depondent, some of his old wounds were troubling him, and he decided to end his existence. Then a letter came to Mr. Harding two weeks before his death and told him that his affairs was troubling him greatly. He continually heard troubling noises and he said he called his name was he calling of them.

General Jones committed suicide on the day Mr. Harding received his pension certificate with the request that he collect the money. General Jones managed to get the money in his pocket before he left Kentucky. He had three brothers. One of them, Col. John Wesley Jones, of this city, was prominent in the Republican party.

Made an Important Arrest.

DENVER, Colo., April 17.—When Policemen Gilmore and Valois picked up "Jeff" Williams on Larimer street yesterday afternoon it is quite probable they arrested a fugitive who will be taken to Idaho to be prosecuted. The prisoner is generally suspected of being Jack Davis, alias "Diamond Field Jack," who is wanted at Hailey, Idaho, for murder committed there on November 11th last.

A FABULOUS STORY.

Making Gold by the Means of the Roentgen Rays.

CHICAGO, April 18.—A special to the Times-Herald from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, says:

A young man named Johnson residing in Jefferson county, a graduate of Columbia college, who has been experimenting with Roentgen rays has made an important discovery. By means of what he called the X-rays he is enabled to change to base metal their a cheap piece of metal worth a few cents $124 worth of gold. The metal transformed has been tested and is pronounced pure gold.

KILLING THE BACTERIA.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Professor Pratt and Wightman spent the evening in their laboratory, the former performing a novel experiment with Koch's lymph on two of the victims of scourge. The inoculations were cholera, tuberculosis, hog cholera and diphtheria. The victims had been pierced by the Roentgen ray thirty-six hours previously. They showed not the slightest indication of fire, a fact which may or may not lead to further proof that the scientists are right in their claim that their experiments have found a solution for the infectious and contagious disease. They withheld any positive verdict until a week shall elapse, until the germs shall have had time to recover from their wounds sufficiently and they shall prove to be ready to work in the most tempting manner the invasion of human tissue that can be made.

It is the theory that all the germs coming directly under the force will be killed. This is the position of Prof. Roentgen as well as the Chicago men. There is no fear by the physicians that the killing of the germ in the skin would certainly cause necessary to life.

Fire Caused by an Explosion.

CINCINNATI, April 18.—At 12:15 this morning an explosion of coal oil in the cellar of Knoll Schaefer on No. 1 Bay Miller street set the house on fire. The upper story was occupied as a dwelling. The flames spread rapidly, setting off the surrounding buildings. The following persons were badly burned: Mrs. Mary Schaefer, family; Mrs. Frida Wagner, daughter; John by Pfeil, 8 years old, was severely burned. Mrs. Schaefer and baby of Frida Wagner, was slightly burned. All the burned were taken to the city hospital.

Perilous Trip Ahead.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—It is of no than story that a canoe or two will be find across the now of the Pacific Mail steamer City of Para before she again returns to this port. The vessel will sail for the turbulent Central American ports today, and Captain Roesing will be instructed to make an effort to enter the ports held by the Nicaraguan insurgents for the purpose of landing freight.

As the result of the jaw within which has been in progress in Nicaragua for several months, the Pacific Mail steamers, as well as all other strangers have been denied entry at San Juan del Sur, Corinto and several less important harbors.

A LONDON LETTER.

The Princess of Wales Pays Her Lord an O.d D.y.

ALLURED FOR THE CROWN JEWELS.

Emile Souvestre's "Lost Cross" Expedition to Abyssinia—the Coming Season—Notes.

LONDON, April 18.—[Copyrighted 1896 by the Associated Press.]—When the Prince of Wales arrives in London from the south of France, on Monday, only the Duke of York will be in waiting to greet him, and after a night in the city he will go to New Market, where he occupied rooms at the Jockey Club. The Princess of Wales, with her daughters, was at Sandringham and on the day of the prince's arrival from France they all attended the annual steeplechase given by the New York Hunt. This results the fact that when the Princess of Wales and her daughters, on October 20, returned to London from Copenhagen, where they had been visiting the parents of the princess, the king and queen of Denmark, they found only a few minutes notice in the railway station to meet them. The Prince of Wales was attended the New Market race meeting and afterwards went to Sandringham, but this time he left there for a few hours in order to meet his family. The Princess of Wales seems to have all her sovereign's regimen most keenly and it has been said that she appeared to give him a share of his own medicine, and that it is expected by any means to cure his royal disgusts.

CHURCH'S BUSINESS.

The way Mr. Richard Cobden's ideas are being carried out in Egypt is startling and the Daily is speaking as to calculate, but no one officially believes that Boulanger has any chance of becoming the Daily's choice. Worth event will be decided on Wednesday, June 3d.

A PLOT TO SPOIL THE CROWN JEWELS.

There was some alarm in the Tower of London a few nights ago. It is alleged that a band of thieves had a plot to steal the crown jewels and had discovered. In any case, whether the report is followed on fact or not, it seems there is no doubt that numerous informations are being taken to guard the regalia.

BICYCLE BOOM.

The boom in bicycles is spending fairly the strongest compare of the earth. Has been heavy orders from Germany and the United States, which even will be decided on Wednesday, June 3d.

A CHARMING DUCHESS.

Since the home-coming of the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, Londoners has only witnessed one party festivity—the reception by the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough of a deputation from the lessees of the Lyceum to present the young couple with their wedding gifts. Appearing in the newspapers, the little wonder Duke by the pretty way in which the lessees the manner of the presentation, saying that one intended to call upon all on the lessees.

CURIOUS FEATURE OF THE BUDGET STATEMENT.

A curious feature of the remarkable prosperous budget speech made in the manner in the exchequer, Sir Michael Hick-Beach, in the House of Commons yesterday, is that the greater part of the increase in the importation of wines is due to the "gambling" in the stock exchange in early the speculators, whether successful or otherwise, consoled or comforted on the occasion in the same way. To which is estimated that 1,200,000 extra bottles of wine were consumed in this country.

The increase in the consumption of beer, which also materially helped to swell the revenue budget, is accounted for by the mildness of the winter which stimulated trade. It appears that 32,000,000 barrels of beer were brewed during the year, an increase of 1,000,000 over the previous year.

RUSSIA'S INTEREST IN ARMENIA.

The interest of Russia in Armenia is so strong that it is stated that there is a great deal of indirect comment now regarding the alleged Russian Red Cross expedition. Russia is by popular subscription, is proposed to Massowah, and herein lies the attempt the sounded Armenians. The present Russian expedition recalls the former so called scientific and religious missions which have resulted in solving political ends. The present expedition is by Count Sievers, H. Ivanoff, who is the accredited Czar's Savelight, the Russian ambassador at Abyssinia; Lieut. Kostenko, a skilled engineer officer, two surgeons, six assistant surgeons, sixty attendants, one paymaster and three interpreters. But it is more than suspected that the surgeons and their assistants know much more about killing men than they do about curing wounds, and Russia is accumulating in many directions showing large sums from and France have been sending arms and ammunition to the Armenians are possibly even to the Russian, and the agents of these countries are nothing the work of organizing the Armenians against the Turkish and British.

INSULT OF AMERICANS.

The consul in Rio of Ann Gibbs has already begun and the outcome must particular by those are to many instances grievous.

A FASHIONABLE SEASON.

Everything points to the most splendid and fashionable season that the metropolis has known for years. Lady Edith Chetwynd, youngest daughter of Earl and Countess Howe, was married today to Mr. Franklin, Lady Edith's brother. On April 25th, Lady Beatrix Curzon, elder sister of Lady Edith, will be married to H. J. Tyrrell. Both these events will be celebrated at St. George's Hanover Square.

W. P. Frith, who is now 77 years of age and who lives in comfortable retirement at his villa Ambrosden, Wynnstay, near the Crystal Palace, will soon be 100 years and he intends celebrate, "Jubilee the Jubilee."

Lady Jeune, assisted by Miss Doris Cecil, has undertaken to the management of a committee of distinguished gentlemen and a great number had to do of the Highland Mary Stuart fund, to take place in the gardens of the Institute of Painters, in water colors on the night of May 21. The fund is being raised for the purpose of finding a large statue of Highland Mary at Dumfries, and it will be unveiled on July 1, the anniversary of the death of Robert Burns.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

The theaters have been doing a good business since Easter Monday. The new plays which were then produced were uniformly doing well. This is true of The Sin of St. Hilda at the Shaftesbury; A Modern Times at the Comedy; The Gay Parisienne at the Lyric and Dorothy (the musical farce written by Adrian Ross) at the Prince of Wales.

The new Japanese play will be produced at Daly's tonight. The play has been in active rehearsal for the past three weeks.

The Adam's Model, which up to the opening night of the Jeunesse musicale, drew crowds to Daly's, is to be by presented at Islington.

Herbert Leigers, at one time a great favorite in America, is temporarily at his residence in Chertsey.

It appears a King (only IV are now so far) is to be the Dancing Tree—special to produce it at matinee performances next week. In the play Mr. Tree produces an old Gay Gallery reading of the discovery of Talwell from that he willing to be seen in The Merry Wives of Windsor.

Killed in an Explosion.

HELENA, Mont., April 18.—News was received into this morning that some time last night a powder magazine belonging to the Boulder group of mines near Boulder exploded. The place is known to be Boulder and two miles away. Nothing more was learned, many rumors. This is the third serious mine accident in this state in two weeks.

The death list is now placed at seven, as follows:

Hilton—Frank Dorse, W. J. Sheridan, Hugh McGillivray, Dan O'Leary, H. P. Ross, John Cullen, James Gallagher. The seriously wounded are Joseph Dorse, James Connolly, George Dorse, a brother of Frank, Conmally, Miss L. Lynch and Neil Brown. Many others are cut and bruised.

The accident occurred in a magazine used for blasting powder. Four men were working when the explosion and the last men were working when the explosion occurred. It is supposed the candle lighter the powder. He was found literally fed to the magazine to another drift. Men and boys were caught and killed in escape. The men had just finished their midnight lunch and were on the way back to work, little had to go to the magazine when the explosion occurred. Many were past. Those in the center are dead and seriously wounded. The news was hastily served in Superintendent Conner says there could not be over twenty pounds of powder in the magazine. Dorse leaves a wife and one children; the others are single men; most of them long resided here but a short time.

COUNTY TEACHERS MEET.

Talking on Plant Life, Explosions and Ideas of Teaching and Angling by Drawing.

The semi-monthly meeting of the teachers of Salt Lake county took place at the University this morning, and considering the inclement weather together with bad roads, the attendance was good. Superintendent Van Cott announced as the first speaker, Prof. Watling, who spoke in substance as follows upon the subject, "Plant Plants Grow?" When the stem of a plant first appears above ground the cells of which it is composed are homogeneous. The first differentiation is the formation of epidermal tissue or inner tube. This is followed by the formation of real wood and true bark. The living part of a tree is the cambium layer, or the zone between the bark and the wood. From both part of the time the growth is outward. The bark part of the tree consists of the wood while the outer part forms the bark which is continually shed. The speaker briefly showed how, in the formation of leaves, stems is seen first, and called attention to some wax cultures, to some showing the plant growth of the plants.

Professor Reynolds of the university followed Mr. Watling, speaking on the Theory of Association of Ideas applied to Teaching. Mr. Reynolds said in part: Teaching must be based upon observation of mental processes, or upon metaphysical presupposition. To teach a science the teacher can contribute more than anyone else somewhat about the mental processes of the pupil individually, in order to help them in getting ideas and developing normally.

All knowledge is gained by the interpretation of presented objects through previous mental processes. The process of assimilation, though following the same law, is unique in each individual. The real success of the teacher will therefore depend upon her ability to understand each child's mental make-up, to sympathize with his mental and emotional condition, in order to select the right objects for presentation, and to present them in the right order. They must not be so near to the child that he will be lost in detail, nor so far off that he has known so to be impossible of interpretation. The law of interest and difficulty is fundamental, and will cover half the teacher's work.

Prof. Angling then spoke on his favorite theme, "Drawing," calling attention to the desirability of distinguishing between objects that may be seen and those that may be drawn, and between those which are interesting and those which are uninteresting. If our pupils were to write exactly as we dictate, a multitude of sins, including sloppy, illegible and illegible would be avoided. The speaker said the second course would some jobs and some effects, pretty frames, office, out of books, offices, and natural objects. The speaker had great sense upon Bain's well all necessary fundamental principles of drawing. He expected some new ideas upon the board, illustrative of the outlying districts mentioned. The meeting was a very pleasant one.

TEN YEAR SENTENCE.

That Is What George Bliss Gets for Killing E. J. Sorenson.

BEING BROUGHT TO PRISON TODAY

A Tragic Marital Scrapbook Terminates in Mr. Davis Suing a Divorce from His Wife.

Special to the News.

MOROAI, April 18.—Judge Street of Salt Lake came out today for the purpose of passing sentence upon George Bliss, found guilty of the murder of E. J. Sorenson in September of last year.

The defendant was brought into court and after consulting with his attorneys was commanded to stand up, which he did. The sentence imposed upon him by Judge Street was ten years in the State prison, to which institution he was being taken by the officers this afternoon.

An unusual circumstance is that the little which convicted the prisoner and his attorneys in Salt Lake also has Judge Street for a prisoner. The verdict here is that the sentence was, all things considered, a very light one.

MR. DAVIS DIVORCE CASE.

The Dorset Davis divorce case, connected with which there has been considerable of a sensation, was come up for hearing. The testimony was not of great length, though it was very damaging. The result was that the divorce obtained a decree.

HAGUE ADJUDGED GUILTY.

Found on Nine Out of Eleven Counts.—Will be Sentenced on Monday.

The protracted trial of Alma Hague, the Nephi bank cashier, came to an end last evening as foreshadowed in the News.

The case was submitted to the jury at 5:30 and three hours later the jury returned with a verdict of guilty in nine out of eleven counts. Sentence will be pronounced on Monday. Hague's attorneys sought to have him released on bonds until the time of sentence, but were unsuccessful in their attempt and he was remanded to the custody of the United States marshal.

THE "MANLY ART" WORKERS.

Williams to Meet Woods at Cripple Creek—His Contest With Fitzsimmons's Trainer.

Jim Williams the champion Utah pugilist has received a telegraphic invitation to meet Billy Woods at Cripple Creek. The invitation has been accepted and Jim will leave for the Colorado gold camp on the 5th of May. The fight will be for a purse of $500.

At present Williams is working with a shovel in the irrigation department of the city and has done very little in the way of training for his contest with Jack Stelzer, Fitzsimmons's trainer, when he meets on the 27th. He says, however, that he will look more closely after his physical condition from now until after the fight comes off.

Dick Case, the young brother, who has had everything his own way in his line of business in this section for the last year, is coming in for a good deal of condemnation from his associates these days on account of his failure to make a match with Bob Thompson, the clever little Salt Lake colored boy who traveled 2,000 miles to get a "go" with him. The almost unanimous feeling among the sporting fraternity is that Case is afraid of the dusky lad whom he challenged.

Portneuf Herald Sayings.

The following is from the Portneuf, Idaho, Herald:

"The Pocatello A. P. A.'s have resolved to place their peculiar ban upon the Mormons of Bannock county, because the Mormon voters of this city refused to support the Republican ticket Tuesday. A prominent A. P. A. said to the writer: 'Every Mormon candidate next fall will be hampered by the 100 A. P. A.'s in Pocatello. We intend to get even with the Saints.' It is more than probable that the Mormon voters next fall will support the county Democratic ticket and thus give the A. P. A. fanatics another deserved drubbing."

A Missing Butcher.

David Gallighan, an Eleventh ward butcher, has disappeared from his usual haunts and home. Where he has gone is an unanswered question. Neither his family nor friends have any information on the point, at least not so far as can be ascertained. As a result the doors of Gallighan's shop are closed and the customers now buy their meat elsewhere. It is alleged that the missing tonight of the cleaver and blade succeeded in raising divers sums of money by the issuance of fraudulent checks. It is not the first time Gallighan has gone from the railway or propriety. This time as usual is the excessive use of liquor is given as the cause of the man's trouble.

Woman's Suffrage.

The regular meeting of the W. S. A. will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 in the Fourteenth ward assembly hall. An interesting program has been prepared. Ladies invited.
