

They begin to realize the uselessness of prolonging a war which has cost the Spanish nation about 50,000 men and over $200,000,000. Public men in Spain begin to voice the popular sentiment. Pimargall, the venerable leader of the republicans, and Francisco Silvela, the leader of the conservatives, were frantically applauded in recent meetings when they pointed to the advisability of letting Cuba go."

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Herald this morning says:

The count of Turin who has challenged Prince Henry of Orleans for the remarks he uttered at the expense of the officers recently released from captivity in Abyssinia, is a prince of the blood and therefore of Prince Henry's rank.

Prince Victor Emanuel of the house at Savoy-Aosta, count of Turin, was born at Turin in 1870 and is therefore twenty-seven years of age. He is the son of the late Duke of Aosta, a nephew of King Humbert and major of a cavalry regiment. The count's challenge created rather an anomalous situation, for the count, being the brother of the Duke of Aosta, is the brother-in-law of Prince Henry's cousin, Princess Helen, whom the Duke of Aosta married in 1895.

The count's mother, Princess Maria Dalphozz Della Clatema, who died in 1876, was considered one of the beauties of the day. Her skin was clear and pale, her profusion of hair dark and wavy. She has given to her sons her slightly aquiline cut of features so much admired in Italy. The vicissitudes of her husband's career while on the Spanish throne preyed greatly on the mind of the princess and she is said to have suffered much from the slights and intrigues of the Spanish court during her husband's short reign.

HOLYOKE, Mass., July 20.—E. A. Ford, a prominent business man of this city, died at his home at 2 o'clock this morning, the result of a bicycle accident. He collided with another rider at 10 o'clock last night.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Distinguished guests who are to take part in the Logan Monument dedicatory ceremonies, have already arrived. Prominent among them are Secretary of War Alger who made but a short stop in the city and will return July 22nd; Major W. F. Tucker, U. S. A., son-in-law of Gen. Logan; Mrs. Logan Tucker and two sons, Logan and George Edwin Tucker; A. St. Augustine, the designer and sculptor of the monument itself, and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt. The arrangements for the demonstration are under full headway. The committees and sub-committees which have assumed charge of the various details of the preliminary work, are holding morning, afternoon and evening sessions and their plans are well advanced for toward completion. It was definitely settled last night that President McKinley would not be able to come. W. Beach Taylor, Logan's old private secretary, was in Washington to secure the attendance of the President, but the fact that Congress is just about to pass the tariff bill, requires the presence in the Capitol city of the nation's executive. Mr. Taylor had two interviews with the President yesterday. He was unable to get Mr.

McKinley to promise to come to Chicago. Senator Cullom who has been in constant close communication with William Harper of the committee on arrangements, wired that the Senate would dispose of the tariff bill either Thursday or Friday. Under these circumstances it will be impossible for President McKinley to absent himself from Washington. Secretary Gage will not be able to attend. The Illinois congressional delegation will be represented by a committee consisting of Messrs. Mann, Belknap, Foss, Lorimer, Prince, Jett and Campbell.

The enforced absence of the President is a sore disappointment to the Logan day committee and it has upset many of their arrangements. Who will take the President's place as orator of the day is a question. Mr. Harper said that the President undoubtedly would designate some person for the task, but he did not know who would be elected.

The first of the visiting soldiers, four companies of the Nineteenth United States infantry arrived in the city last night on the steamer Manitoba. They came from Fort Brady, at Sault Ste. Marie. Other troops will arrive today.

Governor Drake of Iowa will be here tomorrow afternoon.

Governor Mount of Indiana will arrive Thursday morning accompanied by thirty members of his personal staff and will occupy quarters at the Victoria hotel. The exact time of the arrival of Governor Schofield of Wisconsin and the governor of Oklahoma and West Virginia will not be learned until this evening, but it is believed like Governor Mount they will delay coming until the morning of the ceremony. Governor Mount will follow the example set by Governor Fanner in the procession in New York and ride with his staff.

The civic and military features promise to surpass those of any similar demonstration that has ever been held west of the Allegheny mountains. Ten thousand soldiers in arms, 2,000 veterans, who followed the lead of the fighting commander whose deeds are to be perpetuated in bronze; 3,000 members of uniform orders to which Gen. Logan belonged during his life time, and a multitude of civilians organized under various names will march in the monster parade which is to be the spectacular feature of the unveiling of the monument in Lake Front Park next Thursday afternoon. The work of the committee on marine display is near completion and the outer harbor will be alive with craft on Thursday. The assemblage of boats on the lake front Thursday afternoon will be the finest thing ever seen on the lakes.

The big grand stand which has been built to hold 8,000 persons is ready and crowds visited the Lake Front Park to view the structure.

Mrs. Logan and her party will reach here at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening over the Lake Shore road.

BRAZIL, Ind., July 20.—The block miners have decided to abandon their local order and join the United mine workers of America. One hundred and seventy-five families of miners have been given relief. Many more applied for relief but did not receive anything as what rations there were on hand have been exhausted.

NEW YORK, July 20.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Rear Admiral I. M. Miller will sail for Honolulu by the mail steamer leaving San Francisco August 5, and upon arrival at the Hawaiian port will assume command of the Pacific squadron.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., July 20.—Fifty of the strikers in the Monogah went into the mines again today and ten at Clark followed their example. This move is very discouraging to the agitators headed by Mr. Debs, but a meeting will be held at Riversville this afternoon after which they expect some encouragement. This morning twenty-five men at the Olenwell mines came out for the second time, but their action is not one of much moment.

This morning the men went to work earlier than usual as a sign of good faith.

Debs says he expects a good meeting at Riversville this afternoon. If the men at Watson will come out, he says, the success of the greatest strike in the history of mining will be insured.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 20.—The miners are arranging for a series of meetings in Pittsburgh, McKeesport and other points in the district to enlist public sympathy in the strike movement. The meetings will be followed with a general appeal for aid.

A private telegram from Columbus to the miners' officials states that one of the most important questions considered by the executive meeting yesterday was that of granting permission to the men to work at the mines where the operators are willing to pay the advance demanded. The committee refused to take the responsibility of deciding the question, and it will be referred to a general vote of the strikers. This will take four weeks and meantime the strike will go on at all mines.

A Dunbar, Penn., dispatch says the operators are shipping coal to Pittsburgh and are paying a higher rate than the strikers demanded. Organizers are at work among the men, but it is not likely that they will come out. West Virginia operators are at Dunbar trying to secure men to take the places of the strikers, but are meeting with little success.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 20.—J. R. Sovereign, president of the Knights of Labor, arrived today from Pocahontas, W. Va., where he spoke ten minutes to the miners, when the mayor by proclamation stopped "all public meetings or assemblages of more than three persons in any public place within the corporate limits," alleging that such meetings were inimical to the public peace. President Ratchford copied the proclamation for future use.

WHEELING, W. Va., July 20.—The strike situation shows no marked change this morning. A few of the men who struck yesterday went back to work and some others came out.

The New river and West Virginia Central regions are working full time.

Shipments continue heavy and there is no apparent decrease of output from the maximum before the agitators began their work.

No effort to interfere with West Virginia coal trains has been made.
