THE DISTRICT COURT.

Charles Carter's Counsel Intend to Move for a New Trial.

EDITH KARREN'S BETRAYERS.

Arrangements This Morning—The Neslen-Teasdel Litigation—Miscellaneous Matters.

Nothing of special interest was developed in Judge Bartch's division of the Third district court today. Chief Justice Merrill has been passing his time with the law and motion calendar, the principal matter before him being the arguments in the Neslen-Teasdel suit.

In the case of Charles Carter, tried yesterday on a charge of stealing gold bullion to the value of $1,700 from the Camp Springs Consolidated Gold Mining Co., the jury, at 5 p. m., brought in a verdict of guilty.

Sentence was set for this morning, but shortly after the opening of court Judge Powers, of counsel for the defense, asked that it be deferred until tomorrow. He stated, as his reason for making the application, that since last evening new evidence had been discovered very material to the defendant. This went to show that the ore in question was not taken from the Camp Springs company at all, but was shipped into this city from Lander, Wyo., and thence to Gold Hill, where this transaction was alleged to have taken place. Some $10,000 worth of valuables, it would seem, was stolen from Lander, and about $900 worth of this went to a sampling works here. Counsel therefore desired time to procure an affidavit embodying these facts.

The request was granted by the court.

It is understood that Judge Powers will take exception to a certain portion of the court's charge to the jury on his argument for a new trial.

HERE UP FOR THREE MONTHS.

Frank Wilson, the youth who yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, came up for sentence.

The defendant became mixed up in a row on the night of the November election and during a scrimmage cut one James E. Evans in the neck with a pocket knife.

Judge Powers informed the court that if the case had been defended or contested whether the defendant would have been found guilty.

Wilson made a statement to the court from which it would appear that he should was not of an aggravated character.

Assistant District Attorney Howat said it seemed from the evidence that the defendant had been drinking on the night of the election. Whether the returns affected him in any way he did not know. (Laughter.)

Sentence—Three months in the penitentiary.

CHANGED THEIR PLEA.

Harry Thompson and George Hamilton withdrew their former pleas of not guilty, and now plead guilty, to a charge of assault with intent to rob. They were ordered to come up tomorrow for sentence.

THE EDITH KARREN CASE.

Wm. Lynch was arraigned on a charge of fornication. The offense is alleged to have been committed with a sixteen-year-old girl, named Edith Karren, on November 28th. He took still indefinite to plead. The defendant's bond had been previously fixed at $500. Attorney N. C. Anderson asked to get the amount reduced, but the court declined to entertain the application.

In connection with the same matter Nellie Davis boiled up. She was arraigned on a charge of decoying Miss Karren into a house of ill-fame on Franklin avenue for the purpose of prostitution. She pled not guilty. S. P. Armstrong is her attorney also. The defendant's bond was fixed at $500.

This is the case in which Edith Karren, who is a daughter of the city marshal of Ogden, is alleged to have taken a victim to the woman Davis while staying in Salt Lake recently.

THE JURY DISCHARGED.

The trial of F. M. Sawyer on a charge of fornication with a girl named Louisa Fowler, aged about seventeen years, commenced this afternoon. The jury was still out when the News went to press.

Before Judge Merritt.

Thomas F. Malloy vs Chas. L. McKibben et al. Default, and judgment against the defendant McKibben for $17,172 on foreclosure of a mechanic's lien.

NESLEN VS TEASDEL.

Legal arguments were made in the case of W. F. Neslen vs S. P. Teasdel—motion for the appointment of a receiver and for an injunction. Messrs. Rich & Hoge appeared for the plaintiff; Smith, Lee & Gray and Day and Hirst for the defendant.

It is on behalf of himself and other creditors that the plaintiff prays to have all the unsolvent property and assets of Mr. Teasdel determined by a decree of the court before any distribution of the assets of either S. P. Teasdel or Teasdel & Son be made, in order that the trust imposed upon the assignee be administered under the provisions and control of the court. It is asserted that the claim of plaintiff in the sum of $25,576.48, for which judgment has been rendered, is adjudged a claim against S. P. Teasdel and against the firm of Teasdel & Son; further, that it be adjudged and decreed that Wells, Fargo & Co., in the sum of about $25,000, be against the firm of Teasdel & Son. Mr. Neslen therefore seeks to have the assignee enjoined from distributing any funds now in their hands, and a receiver appointed to take charge of the property.

The answer of the assignees was given in these columns a few days ago. In it they repudiate the claim of Wells Fargo & company, denying that the same was the individual indebtedness of S. P. Teasdel and alleging that it was a demand against the firm. It is stated also that without the intervention of a court of equity it would be impossible for the assignees (Messrs. Dooly and Geoghegan) to determine which are and which are not the individual claims against the respective members of the late firm of Teasdel & Son, and which are claims against the copartnership.

The hearing is in progress this afternoon.

A Receiver's Compensation.

In the case of John Allsopp et al vs F. E. McGlinn et al, Judge Merritt has fixed the compensation of Jesse W. Fisher, receiver of the eight interests of F. E. McGlinn, at $375, and the fee of Joseph Armstrong, attorney for the receiver, at $75. The receiver asked for $750 and the attorneys for $150, but the judge cut the claims in two. The amount collected by the receiver was $4,314.

THE ACT OF JUSTICE.

Charles Valentine and Mrs. Mulvaney Hedged Around By Indictments.

The grand jury of the Third district court this morning returned indictments against Charles Valentine and Mrs. Stella Mulvaney, sharpler and adultery. The bond of each defendant was fixed by Judge Bartch at $1,000, to be approved by Commissioner Greenman. A warrant of arrest has been issued.

After the News went to press yesterday the grand jury found indictments against the same couple for grand larceny. In this case the bond of each was named at $10,000.

Mr. Mulvaney, the deserted husband and victim of adulterous intercourse, was before the grand jury as a witness today. He was not look use of the happiest of men. The gentleman holds frequent conversations with his counsel, Judge Powers, on the subject of the runaways and the prospect of their return here with Captain Dynamite.

Will Soon Finish New.

On Saturday morning next the grand jury will make their final report to Judge Bartch and then expect to receive their discharge from further service this term.

A Serious Charge.

An indictment was returned by the grand jury today charging some person with robbing the United States mails. The name had not been given out up to the time the News went to press and there is a good deal of speculation as to who it can be. A warrant of arrest has been issued.

Tuesday's receipts at the Denver branch mint, says the News of that place, reached $[illegible] ounces, about $90,000, in which New Mexico, Arizona, New Mexico and Utah were the leading contributors. The Buffalo mine at Ophir, in San Miguel, sent up a return weighing [illegible] ounces, while the Mammoth mine, owned by Sullivan & Hall, at Gold Fields, Ariz., was represented by a 100-ounce brick. Five small returns came in from New Mexican places, where the weather is mild enough to permit winter work. Utah's contribution was not large, but it indicates progress in the search for gold.

Three More Indictments.

The grand jury this morning made a further report, having found three indictments under the laws of the United States.

As to the Federal Courts.

The county court at yesterday afternoon's session adopted the subjoined resolutions:

Whereas, The commission of the city and county building against this county to house in the United States government a suite of fifteen rooms, adequately adapted to the use of the Federal courts of the Territory—that the same consist of seven rooms, judges' chambers, grand and petit jury rooms, jurors' rooms, and a suite of three rooms in the clerk's, the latter being fireproof—and all being furnished and furnished superbly for such purposes; and

Whereas, Utah would be constituted a commodious resort for the use of such apartments would be a welcome addition to our county revenues; be it

Resolved, That this court hereby appoint Hon. James R. Rice and Commissioner Dunbaugh a committee to act conjointly with the proper officials for the meeting of the Federal requisition.

Chief Pratt "In the City."

Chief of Police Pratt was brought down from the penitentiary this afternoon for the purpose of testifying on the trial of Attorney Frederick G. Wolfe, indicted for obtaining money by false pretenses. As, however, the hearing has gone over until tomorrow the chief returned to his present "quarters" later in the day. He is looking fine-fake and to the best of spirits.

SUDDEN AND STRANGE.

Unexpected Death of An Old Man at the Coal Yards of Bird & Sharp.

An old man about sixty years of age died very suddenly at the coal yards of Bird & Sharp at the corner of Fourth West and South Temple streets about 11 o'clock this forenoon.

He had finished loading five hundred pounds of coal in his single-horse wagon and had taken his seat, prior to so doing, and was about to drive off when a strange convulsion of his body was observed. He fell on his face and died immediately without uttering a word. His residence is said to be on Vine street. The coroner will hold an inquest over the remains this evening.

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, - Dec. 13, 1894.

Stopped Her Game.

Last Saturday a French woman, accompanied by a man and girl, arrived in town. The woman registered at the Revere hotel as Mrs. Brown and the girl as her niece. The man registered at the Reed hotel. By Monday the woman had made the acquaintance of two girls whom she took for a single one and pictured to them the wonders of California. The police got wind of the presence of the woman and soon tracked her. She then left the Revere and registered at the Pacific hotel as Mrs. Smith. Again the police found her and ordered her to leave town. Not to be beaten out of her game, the woman got up town again and endeavored to get the girls to accompany her to San Francisco. Capt. Hivey and detective Pender stopped her work by seeing her safely out of town. The girl represented as her niece she had picked up in Salt Lake.

The vigilance of the two Ogden police officers thus prevented the abduction of three girls of respectable parentage for immoral purposes.

Indicted for Libel.

The grand jury has found an indictment against William Glassman, editor and manager of the Standard, for criminal libel. In an article published in the Standard, allegations were made that Wm. L. B. Rogers when so prosecuting attorney in was guilty of malfeasance and that so administrator of a certain estate he was guilty of dishonesty. L. R. Rhodes and J. H. Murphy will defend Mr. Glassman.

Stolen Goods Recovered.

Lewis, the man arrested for larceny on Saturday night, and upon whom was found the bicycle of Sig's, had among his effects one on which was the number 2227 Indiana avenue. The police visited the house and found stolen body enough to fill a wagon. It consisted of a needle, sewing coats, cooking utensils, table linen, blankets, pillows, a set of false teeth, over 100 pots of tea. Yesterday many housekeepers visited the jail in search of lost property, a quantity of which was identified.

Virtually speaking, a number of burglaries have been committed which the police failed to find a clue to until the arrest of Lewis. In his possession they found a knife marked with the initials "O." this corresponded with one of the stolen articles and led to the unearthing of Lewis's room with the stolen goods.

LOGAN.

LOGAN, UTAH, - DEC. 13, 1894.

The Death List.

A seventeen-year-old son of John Johnson, of the Seventh ward, died suddenly of a complaint of the bowels, on Sunday morning. On Friday evening he attended a public meeting and did not complain until Saturday morning. Even then it was not thought that his illness would result seriously. On Sunday morning he called for a newspaper and retired to his room to read it. About half an hour afterward his mother went to the bedchamber and found him dying. A doctor was immediately summoned, but arrived too late to be of any use, the patient was dead. The funeral services were held in the Seventh ward meeting house on Tuesday morning.

Sister Rusty Larson, the mother of Mrs. William E. Callington of the Third ward, died on Monday afternoon of old age and general debility, and was buried on Wednesday. She was nearly eighty years of age, and was widely known and universally esteemed.

Mrs. Edward Evans was confined some two weeks ago, and both mother and child appeared to be progressing favorably when symptoms of erysipelas developed in both, resulting in the death of the infant, which was buried on Sunday last. The mother was very seriously affected, and has not yet recovered.
