CAN PENN. DEFEAT MICHIGAN TEAM?

Annual Struggle Between Big Elevens Scheduled for Nov. 16.

ONE VICTORY FOR THE EAST.

Quakers Are Worried Over Outcome Of Contest With Michiganders—Reasons for Recent "Slump."

Can Pennsylvania repeat the drubbing that the Quakers administered to Coach Yost's "hurry-ups" last year?

This is the question that is paramount in the minds of those who are interested in the college game in the middle west. The game is to be played Nov. 16, the date upon which Yale and Princeton clash at New Haven. It is one of the most important dates in the schedule this season.

To say that the Quakers are worried over the outcome of the game with the Michiganders is putting it mildly. Here is what a Philadelphia gridiron expert has to say about prospects at the University of Pennsylvania:

"The Pennsylvania football eleven of 1907 is facing a crisis in its development. If drastic measures are taken at the present time the red and blue will be represented by one of the greatest elevens that ever played the game; if affairs are allowed to continue in their present deplorable condition, the Quakers will only be a mediocre aggregation and meet inevitable defeat. The players themselves are responsible for this crisis. It remains for them alone to bridge it. In two games played by Pennsylvania the work of the team as a composite indicated a "slump," which invariably handicaps at times an aggregation of men working as a unit athletically. The poor playing in the Swarthmore and Carlisle contests has been ascribed to this cause. But this is not the true basis of the trouble. In assigning a reason for Pennsylvania's poor form of late it is necessary to go deeper than surface indication, selfishness, laziness, perhaps even malice and revenge, are the principal reasons for Pennsylvania's poor exhibition.

PENN HAS MATERIAL.

"Pennsylvania has the material for as great an eleven as those teams which elevated her to intercollegiate importance back in the early and middle 90s. The veterans are there and a wealth of young blood is waiting and willing to be given the opportunity to demonstrate their ability. It is in the selection of the men that will constitute the eleven that faces Michigan at Ann Arbor on Nov. 16, and meets at Cornell on Thanksgiving day, that will decide Pennsylvania's football strength for 1907. At present there are four veterans on the team who are playing up to their ability. It has been openly charged that some of them are 'laying down,' this expressive slang being the only term that properly expresses the situation. If this accusation be true, there is only one course left open for Pennsylvania's football salvation, viz., displace them by young men. One youngster, full of fire, dash, fearlessness and with his spurs to win, is worth two veterans who are indifferent, lazy and even unwilling. The Pennsylvania football management can better afford to discipline any of its star players this fall than any year for nearly a decade, because there are men of ability to take their places, and if the management once shows a disposition to ignore past performances and reputations and make merit the only qualification for varsity places, it will have a salutary effect upon the candidates."

OUTLOOK AT MICHIGAN.

Coach Yost of Michigan and his band of warriors have a wholesome respect for the Pennsylvania team, occasioned by the disastrous meeting last fall. The Wolverines have not shown any remarkable class this year; the game with Wabash subjected the maize and blue squad to considerable criticism. Fumbling was frequent, and was one of the most conspicuous weaknesses of the men from Ann Arbor. There was also an absence of open play that surprised the critics. According to reliable reports, Michigan depended almost solely upon sheer weight and old-fashioned line smashing to score.

U. OF U. AND AGGIES BATTLE TOMORROW.

"Beat U. of Bust" is the slogan at Logan. Yesterday afternoon there was a lively gathering of football players, students and rooters at Logan and speeches were made by members of the Alumni association and by Coach Walker. The latter has been "drilling" his team every day this week and has taught his warriors several new plays which will be tried on Coach Maddock's men tomorrow. It is expected that a large delegation of Loganites will witness the game and spur the Aggies on to victory, if victory is possible.

There was a slight mixup at the university yesterday afternoon over an article which appeared in a paper published at the university, criticising to some extent Maddock's methods and intimating that he had not been a success in some particulars. Maddock and members of the team took the article as a "knock" on the team. Resignations were in order and for a time it looked like an end to football at the U. for this season at least. Finally, President Kingsbury and Prof. Cummings met with Maddock and the players and the crisis was passed.

LAFAYETTE TEAM WINS.

Picked Football Eleven Goes Down to Defeat Before Youngsters.

A picked football team from last year's Oquirrh and Webster teams met defeat yesterday afternoon in the game with the Lafayette school team by a score of 22 to 2. The Lafayette team has won three straight games already this season. The victorious team will line up against the Ogden High school on Thanksgiving day. The winners lined up as follows:

NEW PLAY IN FOOTBALL.

Idaho Team Tries Scheme and Gains Many Yards.

Formations that the football world never saw before were sprung by the University of Idaho upon Oregon, and for the first ten minutes they were in operation, Idaho waltzed down the field 15 yards to a down in the prettiest football ever seen in Portland. Open work in football has been talked of for two years, but the old-timers never dreamed of seeing the plays that Coach Middleton has turned out, says a coast paper.

When Idaho first spread out over the field and the ball was put into play without any pretext of guarding the sacred precinct where the quarterback ordinarily stands, the old-timers looked dismayed, and when the bewildering onslaughts counted for yards every down an ominous hush fell upon the thousands of Oregon rooters on the side lines.

The "Idaho sweep," as Coach Middleton calls his new formation, is not only new to the northwest, but is brand new in football, and is the invention of Coach John Middleton. It is based upon the rule that permits the quarterback to advance the ball provided he goes five yards to the right or left of the point where the center snaps it.

In the Idaho sweep the whole team becomes quarterbacks, except the center. The guards play out five yards from the center and the tackles and ends are beside them at the ordinary intervals. The halves play about three yards to the rear of the guards, tackle and end on each side, and the fullbacks and quarterback are placed one behind each half. The center stands cat-a-cornered, insted of astride the ball, as ordinarily, with a fiveyard gap on each side.

Then he is in position to pass the ball to anybody on his team and that man is ready to advance the ball immediately without any side run or pasisng the ball to anyone else. If one of the backs, he can go to the right or left of the guard, tackle and end in front or can dart through them if a hole is made. Sometimes the ball was passed directly to the guard, who lunged three or four yards ahead. Again the ball was tossed to the backs, who passed it across to the other back for a double-pass fake.

The possibilities of the game are marvelous, and in the possession of a stronger team with a good general calling signals, the beauties of football might be enhanced a hundredfold. When Idaho stuck to that play and depended upon runs she walked away with Oregon, but in the second half very few straight runs were made. Instead, fakes and forward passes were almost invariably tried, and Oregon stopped them, not because a defense had been found for the formation, but because individual men were better, and the fakes were not so strange as the other runs.

FIRST NIGHT'S RACE.

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—The first night's play in the contest for the three-cushioned billiard championship was won by Lloyd Jevne, with 50 points, against 40 points made by Joseph Cupron. Jevne's high run was 43 average 50. Capron's high run was 3, average, 48.

"PENNY" GOSSIP.

There will be a meeting of socker football enthusiasts at 63 east First South street tomorrow evening for the purpose of organizing a team.

Marius Durand, manager of Freddie Weeks, who was beaten by Attell recently, accompanied by Shorty Evans and George Stump, passed through the city last evening on route to their Colorado homes.

The All Hallows college-High school football game scheduled for this afternoon, has been postponed until tomorrow owing to the death of James Owens, one of the college players. The funeral of young Owens this morning was attended by members of the team.

James J. Jeffries has opened his new cafe in Los Angeles and the Pacific Coast league ball players are making their headquarters at present. It is rumored that Jeffries has overcome his stingy habits and is fast becoming a "good mixer." He is said to have six bartenders working hard all the time.

Although Hyland and Unholz are apparently determined to "pass up" Pete Sullivan when it comes to making a match, Los Angeles promoters think enough of Sullivan's ability as a fighter to offer him a good match. Sullivan received word last evening that he could have a match with George Memsic, known as Jimmy Burns, the boy who recently fought Gans 20 rounds and was presented with the lightweight title by the negro. Sullivan will accept.

The Sporting News of this week contains an article from its New York correspondent in which it is stated that Jack Baerwald, alias Bell, who was drafted from the Butte team, has made a good showing, but as Griffith has such a superfluity of fine outfield material Bell is due to spend a season or two with the Montreal team of the Eastern league. Farrell owns both the New York and Montreal teams.

Hal Chase is still taking a chance with the National Baseball commission. He is playing with the California State league under the name of Schultz and believes that he can hide his identity in this manner. Secy. Rob McRoy of the American league thinks that Chase will not be punished as the ruling has not yet been passed on by the officials and no definite date on which it will go into effect has been set.

"Gunner" Moir, the English heavyweight, expects to defeat Tommy Burns by sheer strength. Moir weighs 200 pounds and is training with Hackenschmidt, the "Russian Lion," and is said to be fully as strong as the great wrestler. It is conceded that Moir has great strength, but if he tries to use wrestling tactics in the ring he will find that Burns is too fast for him and the American should win easily.

NEW ARMY SERVICE GUN.

The new service gun recently adopted by the war department, is claimed to be one of the most powerful in use by any country. It is of 308 caliber, has a muzzle velocity of 2,800 feet per second and will do effective work against an enemy as far as 3,000 yards, though the farthest practical distance is 2,000 yards. In a recent test the gun shot through 65 pine boards three-quarters of an inch in thickness and placed one inch apart. One of the features of the new weapon is the so-called pencil bullet which it shoots. This bullet is shaped as its name implies with a sharp tapering point and aside from its greater powers of penetration offers much less resistance to the wind.

ALWAYS WAS SICK.

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say—he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists. Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112 and 114 South Main St. B

FRANCE ISSUES YELLOW BOOK ON MOROCCAN AFFAIRS

Paris, Nov. 7.—A yellow book on Morocco covering the period between January, 1906, and the end of October of the present year, was published today. It was devoid of sensational revelations, and shows that France exercised great moderation in the face of the complications on the Algerian frontier.

The most important disclosure in the yellow book is the fact that France and Spain abandoned the idea of introducing provisionally Spanish and French military police at the Moroccan ports, considering it preferable to make efforts to aid Sultan Abdul Aziz to restore his authority.

The book concludes as follows:

"France always had the support of Great Britain and Russia, the sympathy of the United States, Italy and Austria and the collaboration of Spain. Germany appeared at first to pursue a peculiar policy, but the exchanges of views which took place terminated satisfactorily, resulting in a turn to the principles of the Algeciras convention. Germany recognized the legitimacy and disinterestedness of the action of France in acquiescing in the final French measures for the suppression of contraband."

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Buffalo, Nov. 7.—The twenty-seventh annual convention of the National Civil Service Reform league began here today. Tonight's session of the council was addressed by Governor Charles E. Hughes and Charles J. Bonaparte, attorney-general of the United States.

The annual report of the council was read by Chairman Richard Henry Dana of Boston. The report mentioned politicians by name and condemned their alleged shortcomings.

BLOOD POISON

May be either hereditary or contracted. The former causes scrofula, rheumatic pains, boils, etc. The latter begins with a small pimple, followed by sores in the mouth and throat which have the appearance of white patches, spots or sores on the body, then to scab, falling hair and eyebrows, and later on other terrible symptoms, such as paralysis, locomotor ataxia, cancerous growths, decayed bones and death.

Symptoms disappear in 1 to 4 Weeks.

VARICOCELE
