Petty Thieves Captured.

At a late hour yesterday afternoon a couple of smooth talking fellows entered the tailor shop of William Spry, on South Temple Street, and while one of them engaged the proprietor in conversation with Mr. Spry the other decamped with three bolts of cloth. The theft was discovered almost as soon as perpetrated and Mr. Spry sprang to the door just in time to see the thief disappearing around the corner with the stolen goods. Police Officer Donovan was in sight at the time and quickly took the thieves in tow. They were being arraigned before Justice Lazey this afternoon.

Hyde Goes Free.

The young man William Hyde, whose name figured so conspicuously in the Forest Dale car hold-up case, tried in the Third District Court yesterday, was looked to appear before Commissioner Greenman during the afternoon, but the trial of Thompson and Kane, his accomplices, having just previously resulted in the acquittal of the two in the jury, County Attorney Murphy applied to the Commissioner to dismiss the charge against Hyde, who was consequently allowed to go his way rejoicing.

Would Not Accept.

At a session of the City Council held on Tuesday night it will be remembered that Councilman Pickard expressed himself as follows on the removal of the site of the joint building to Washington Square:

"Since more it becomes my duty to enter a protest against the action of the majority of this Council in prostituting its powers by perverting the use of our public squares. If an attempt is made to ratify the action of the joint committee with reference to the removal of the site of the proposed public building, remember, gentlemen, that you will be squarely on record. The papers are already being prepared. I mean just what I say—nothing more nor nothing less. The parks must be preserved."

As the Council adjourned last night Mr. James said inasmuch as the form of agreement and deed have now been adopted it looks like something ought to be done.

Mr. Pickard answered in a manner that indicated that he knew whereof he spoke: "I will wager $100 that no joint building is ever set on Washington Square or——— within the next five years."

Councilman James would not accept the bet and Mr. Pickard looks curiously about the Chamber for others to do so, but there was no response and the members filed out of the door in single.

ANOTHER CITY SEANCE.

Washington Square Decided Upon as the Site for the JOINT PUBLIC BUILDING.

"It Will not be Erected During the Present Administration."

A special session of the City Council was held last night for the purpose of again considering the paving and joint building questions. Acting-Mayor Parsons presided. The members present were: Anderson, Armstrong, Cohn, Hall, Pendleton, Pembroke, Pickard, Spafford, Woodbridge, Heath, James, Lynn, and Kerrick.

Judge Bartch came in after roll call and seated himself at Mr. Parsons' side. Subsequently Mayor Wheeler, of Aspen, Colorado, entered the Council Chamber and by courtesy of the members also occupied a seat near Acting-Mayor Parsons.

PAVING ORDINANCE PASSED.

The committee on municipal laws submitted the following bill for an ordinance creating and defining sidewalk districts:

Be it enacted by the City Council of Salt Lake City:

Section 1.—That the following sidewalk districts are hereby created, defined and established in Salt Lake City, as follows:

District No. 1. Both sides of First South street between East Temple and Fifth West street.

District No. 2. Both sides of First South street and from East Temple street, to the military reservation.

District No. 3. Both sides of Second South street, between East Temple and Fifth West streets.

District No. 4. Both sides of Second South street, north from East Temple street to the military reservation.

District No. 5. Both sides of Third South street, between East Temple and Fifth West streets.

District No. 6. Both sides of Third South street east, from East Temple street to the military reservation.

District No. 7. Both sides of West Temple street, between South Temple and Eighth South streets.

District No. 8. Both sides of East Temple street, between South Temple and Eighth South streets.

District No. 9. Both sides of First East street, between South Temple and Eighth South streets.

District No. 10. Both sides of First West street, between South Temple and Eighth South streets.

District No. 11. Both sides of East Temple street, between South Temple and First North streets.

District No. 12. Both sides of First West street, between South Temple and First North streets.

District No. 13. Both sides of Fourth South street from East Temple street to Third West street.

District No. 14. Both sides of Fourth South street to the military reservation.

District No. 15. Both sides of Fourth South street from East Temple street to Fifth West street.

District No. 16. Both sides of Second East Street, between South Temple and Eighth South streets.

Sec. 2. This ordinance to be in force from and after its passage.

The ayes and noes were called on the passage of the ordinance, all the members voting in the affirmative.

ANOTHER PAVING ORDINANCE.

A proposition from Foster & Morrison to lay sidewalks was laid on the table. The proposition is as follows:

"To furnish first-class cement sidewalks, the concrete base to be 3½ inches thick, and to be composed of gravel and standard hydraulic cement, the top dressing or finish to be ½ of an inch thick and composed of the best Portland cement, and lay the same in the best manner and uniform to the grade given by the city engineer, at the rate of 16½ cents per square foot, not including any grading. This would make thereof of the six foot wall a little less than $1 per lineal foot.

Mr. Pembroke then offered a resolution providing that when the council shall publish its notice of intention to pave First East Street, between South Temple and Fourth South streets, the material known as Syracuse asphalt be specified, for which Mr. Hemington is agent, be designated as the material to be used.

The resolution was strongly opposed by Mr. James on the ground that such a procedure would virtually exclude all other bidders.

The resolution was lost.

PROPOSITIONS DEFERRED.

The proposition of Foster and Morrison was referred to the committee on streets with instructions to report on the matter at the next regular session of the Council.

BONDS APPROVED.

The report of the Board of Public Works on the contract with Dubois & Williams of Denver, Col., for the Parley's Canyon conduit, at a price of $5,362, with bonds attached, was read and approved.

Mr. Pembroke again offered the following resolution, which was defeated on Tuesday night:

"Whereas, it has been asserted in a communication to the Council, signed by many prominent business men of this city, that legal opposition will be made to changing the site of the joint city and county building and against further delay in the construction of said building, which delay would occur in any such change as contemplated and be detrimental to the interests of said city; and

"Whereas, while we may think the site of the Eighth Ward Square superior to the original, we wish to avoid any effort to further delay the building, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that we do request the committee of the City Council to endeavor to procure the sanction of the joint committee of such steps be taken to immediately commence the construction of the said joint county and city building on the original site."

Councilman Anderson—I see, Mr. Pembroke, that you don't want any public building.

Mr. Pembroke (springing to his feet and assuming an air of injured innocence)—I do, most decidedly, and I don't want any one to insinuate that I do not.

Councilman Anderson (in the language of cheap circus parlance)—Oh, Re-be-ca-ka! (Laughter.)

Acting Mayor Parsons (wielding the gavel)—Let us be calm, e-mine-ly-ent, gentlemen!

The motion to adopt the resolution was lost and Mr. Kerrick moved that the matter be referred until the opinion of the city attorney could be obtained.

City Attorney Merritt (curiously)—What is my opinion wanted for now?

Mr. Kerrick—On the proposed change of site.

City Attorney Merritt—That has already been positively and definitely expressed.

The agreement as to the proposed change of site between the city and county was then taken up.

Mr. Pembroke called attention to the fact that the agreement provided for a committee of three from the city and three from the county to carry out the contract, and moved that it be amended so as to provide for an arbitrator in case the joint committee might fail to agree.

Judge Bartch—It is a question in my mind if the county court can legally appoint an arbitrator, as the Supreme Court of the Territory has ruled adversely upon such a case.

City Attorney Merritt (addressing Judge Bartch)—Is it not a question in your mind as to the right of the county court to enter into any such agreement as proposed?

Judge Bartch (hesitatingly)—Well, I should not like to express an opinion on that matter.

City Attorney Merritt—I doubt very much if the county can sell its half of the original site to the city, inasmuch as the county came in possession of the property on the express condition that it be used exclusively for a public building. To use it for other than that purpose is a violation of the condition. I say positively that the city cannot obtain a clear title by purchase. These are facts worth considering.

Mr. Hall (changing the subject)—In case of a failure on the part of the committee to agree, they could be removed and another appointed in their place.

The motion to appoint an arbitrator failed to carry.

Mr. Kerrick (apparently disappointed)—It now looks like we will not have any public building during the present administration. I move that the whole matter be referred to the city attorney for his written opinion.

City Attorney Merritt (warmly)—Mr. Kerrick, I have expressed myself plainly in this matter and should be easily understood but it seems for some reason that I am not.

Mr. Kerrick—Well, this time I will endeavor to be understood and will give my opinion orally in a few words so plainly as I understand it myself, though I were engaged at the task for forty years. It is this: I doubt the legality of the city building jointly with the county on either of the sites. In the matter of procedure it has and is now adopting. More than this I cannot and will not state.

The reading of the agreement and deed was proceeded with and a number of minor amendments were made, all of which Judge Bartch was of the opinion the County Court would concur in.

At the conclusion of the reading of the two instruments, Mr. James moved that the amendments all be stricken out and the agreement and deed be adopted as originally presented. As a preamble to this motion, Mr. James stated that if the contract and conveyance were accepted as amended, it would be impossible to commence work within thirty days as desired.

Acting Mayor Parsons—It seems to me that it will take thirty days to prepare and insert the amendment of deed.

Mr. Pembroke—Another objection I have of going to the Eighth Ward Square is that I have been informed on reliable authority that a few feet below the surface of the ground is a subdivision of quicksand and it will cost at least $150,000 to erect a foundation there.

More fruitless discussion followed, after which a vote was taken on the adoption of the agreement and deed, which resulted as follows:

Yeas—James, Spafford, Anderson, Heath, Woodbridge, Armstrong, Cohn, Hall, Lynn, Wood—Pickard, Pembroke, Kerrick, Lynn.

On motion of Mr. Hall the Mayor was given authority to execute the agreement and sign the deed.

The Council then adjourned until Tuesday evening next.

Amusements.

"A Texas Steer" was presented last night at the Salt Lake Theatre to a very large house. The performance realized all that was anticipated by the people. From beginning to close the audience was held in a state of the most jubilant enthusiasm. The comedy is a purely American one, and is of a character that is likely to have a purifying effect on politics. People may laugh at the stage politician of the Yell and Bussy Gall types, but in their souls these same people will entertain contempt for the living prototypes of Gall and Yell.

Tom Murphy as Maverick Brander was immense, and so was Flora Walsh as Rosey. It was presented at the matinee yesterday, and will be given again tonight for the last time this season.

On Thursday and Friday next, March 26 and 27, Gillette's famous comedy "The Garden of a Home" will be given at the Salt Lake Theatre.

The features at "Wonderland" during the coming week are very numerous and will be as follows: Ella Ewing, a giantess, endowed with a great many graces. This lady is eight feet tall and is proportioned accordingly.

In the theatorium can be seen the English shadow show, the Moore sisters, the Halls, and a half dozen other features. The opening of the Wonderland is open daily from 1 to 10:30 p. m.

Saturday is a day for the children and Friday is a day when souvenirs are given to all ladies attending.

During the Conference week, the House Dramatic Club will present "Arrah na Pogue" at the Salt Lake Theatre. This is one of Boucicault's best known Irish dramas. It has not been played in this city for twenty years. Mr. Wells will play Shaun the Post, Mr. Spencer Michael Feeny, Mr. Tommy the O'Grady, Mr. Peter Reynolds, Birdie Curningham, Arrah na Pogue, and Lottie Clarendge Fanny Tower. It will be given April 6th, for three nights. Young Mrs. Winthrop will also be given for one night.

Strange and Sudden Death.

William Gabbonne, an old-time resident and pioneer of this city, died suddenly at his residence in the Nineteenth Ward yesterday, under very peculiar circumstances.

About two weeks ago the deceased had a prescription filled by an East Temple street druggist and it is alleged by friends of the deceased that the druggist made a mistake in the compounding of the medicine inasmuch as it caused his death when taken.

The druggist avers, however, that the medicine was of a mild and harmless nature and to exonerate himself an autopsy will be held at the residence of the deceased at 551 West Third North Street, at 7:30 this evening, when further developments may be expected.

AN EXEMPLARY SENTENCE.

Judge Zane is Determined to Stop Highway Robbery With Violence.

When the Third District Court opened this morning James Young, the South Temple Street footpad, convicted on Thursday last, was brought in to receive sentence. He had no statement to make in his defense and looked decidedly crestfallen when face to face with Judge Zane.

In answer to his Honor he said he was twenty-three years of age and arrived in this city from Omaha only a few days before his arrest on the present charge. He had worked on the railway and came to Salt Lake with a view of obtaining employment on the Union Pacific, but there was a strike going on at the time. Asked by the Judge who the man was with him on the night of the robbery, Young pertinaciously refused to say that he was alone. He had a pistol in his possession on that night, but it was not loaded.

Judge Zane said the evidence against the defendant was quite clear. It had been stated in evidence that the pistol which he had was loaded, and the inference was that he was ready to use it upon anyone in an emergency. Highway robbery and burglary were two of the most serious in the criminal calendar. The public must be protected against such attacks as that of which defendant had been guilty, and he was disposed to make an example of him.

Sentence of eight years in the penitentiary was passed.

The defendant seemed rather surprised upon hearing his fate.

In the case of August Enesteing et al., vs. Morris Levy et al., default was entered; judgment for plaintiffs.

Charles H. Handley was arraigned on a charge of forgery and pled guilty. He was fined $50 and costs of the prosecution.

Court then adjourned until Monday next at 10 a. m.

In the Third District Court yesterday afternoon, the case of David Guisford, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was called on. Mr. Critchlow prosecuted, and Rossee & Burrows defended.

The indictment alleged that on the night of February 5 the defendant assaulted Ephraim Madson with a knife. The evidence showed that on the night in question the parties were at a dance in a hall near Liberty Park, and that a fracas had been quite difficulty. The latter testified that the defendant cut him in the arm with a knife. The evidence on this point however, was very conflicting. The jury found the defendant guilty of an assault. Sentence was set for Tuesday next.

On motion of the prosecution, the case of W. N. Burton, charged with forgery, was dismissed.

Railroad Rates for Conference.

For the sixty-third annual Church Conference, which will be held in this city on April 6th to 9th the Rio Grande Railroad Company will sell round trip tickets on April 2nd to 5th inclusive, good to return until the 12th inclusive, at single fare for the round trip, Salt Lake and intermediate stations. From all stations on the Sevier Valley Branch between Fairview and Manti, the rate will be $4.

The company has also decided to place in effect, on and after today, single trip tickets from Manti, Fairview and intermediate stations to Salt Lake City at the rate of $4.20, and round trip tickets, good for ten days, at the rate of $8.35. This is a reduction of $1.30 on single trip and $1.70 on round trip tickets.

The same company have arranged with the D. & R. G. R. R. for the introduction of round trip tickets from La Jara to Salt Lake and return (limited to thirty days) at a rate of $21.05, and with the Atlantic and Pacific to offer round trip tickets from Holbrook and Navajo Springs on April 1st and 2nd, good for return thirty days, at single fare for the round trip. The A. T. & S. F. will also offer round trip tickets on above date and the same limits from El Paso and Deming at a rate of $50.

It should be stated that the R. G. W. have made a material reduction in local and round trip rates from their Sevier Valley branch to Provo, Salt Lake and Ogden as follows:

Between Provo and Ogden one way, $5.75; round trip fare (good ten days), $9.55.

Ephraim, Spring City and Salt Lake one way, $4.25; round trip fare (good ten days), $8.05.

Mount Pleasant, Fairview and Provo, one way $2.80; round trip fare (good ten days), $5.45.

The conference rates from Fairview, Manti and intermediate stations will be $4.

Highwaymen May Look Out.

The sentence of eight years in the penitentiary passed by Judge Zane, in the Third District Court this morning, upon the youthful thug James Young, should serve as a warning to others of his ilk. It is evident from the remarks of his Honor that he has fully resolved to deal severely in future with any of the highwaymen with which the city has for so long been infested, who may come before him after conviction, and the righteous punishment meted out to the desperado today is certainly endorsed by the public. Young, with the assistance of another man still at large, one night about 10:30 held up and robbed two persons on South Temple Street within the space of five minutes. After a short chase and a desperate resistance Young was run to earth, but, unfortunate for society, his companion escaped in the darkness during the scramble. It will be remembered that Young further distinguished himself by terrorizing his custodians while being conveyed to the penitentiary wagon from the Third District Court about a month ago, and but for the prompt action of a "Gracity" on that occasion, the result might have been serious. After sentence had been passed upon him this morning, he was conveyed without loss of time to the "cage" adjoining Marshal Parsons' office, under a strong guard. He remained closely watched and guarded, and special precautions will be taken to ensure his safe lodgment in the mansion on the hill where he will spend the next few years of his life.

In the Third District Court yesterday afternoon, the case of Jesse Bullock vs. Judge Zane to enjoin Henry H. Carter in contest at the bar of that Court. It was granted.

THE WATER MAINS.

A Suit Brought Against Assessor Cluff By Certain Ratepayers.

In the Third District Court yesterday afternoon Adam Duncan and thirty-six others planted a suit against Assessor Cluff under the following circumstances: It is alleged that between 1872 and 1883 the city caused to be laid on the principal streets large water mains, at a cost of $200,000; that in 1885 the city council adopted an ordinance purporting to authorize local taxation for the extension of the mains to be use upon portions of the city, and since its adoption various extensions of the mains have been ordered; that for the extension of the mains in the districts defined in the notices referred to, the tax was estimated at 4 mills per superficial foot frontage on all a lotting property, without regard to depth or dimensions; that the estimates of the cost of extending the mains were excessive; that the character of the ground where the extension is provided is not of a uniform character, so that the cost would be the same in all cases; that all the districts defined in the notices were not equally benefited, nor are the individuals in any one district uniformly benefited, as some of them had springs and flowing wells, and to them the mains conferred no benefit; that the plaintiffs' own land in the taxing districts, and there has been charged on the land at the rate named a tax of $3,496.95; that the defendant has notified the plaintiffs that the tax is delinquent and that we will proceed to sell the same on March 21, 1891.

It is further alleged that the defendant has no authority to collect the taxes not to sell the property, therefore plaintiffs pray judgment that the ordinance under which the assessor is acting be declared void; that the defendant has no authority to collect said taxes or make the threatened sale of the land; that the defendant be restrained from selling the property until the hearing of the action, and that at the final hearing such injunction be made perpetual.

Judge Zane granted a temporary injunction, and set the hearing for April 2.

GEORGE DUNFORD'S WILL

Being Contested by the Heirs on the Grounds of "Undue Influence and Fraud."

The will of the late George Dunford is being contested by George H. Dunford, Lydia Dunford Alder and Frank J. Dunford, children of deceased by his first wife. They aver that the supposed will and testament offered for probate is not the last will and testament of the deceased, for the following reasons:

First—That at the time of the signing of the will he was not of sound and disposing mind.

Second—That at the time of the signing of the supposed will, if the same was signed by said George Dunford, "that he signed it under duress, menace, and undue influence and fraud."

Third—That the said supposed will was not executed by the said George Dunford, or in the manner or formality required by law.

The contestants further aver that the will was not attested by two or more competent witnesses, and that the execution of the will is defective, in that there is no proper attestation clause upon the face of it. This exception is taken because counsel for contestants claim that one of the witnesses is a member of a law firm of which deceased was a client, they claiming that as he had acted in a confidential capacity he was not a competent witness. On the solution of this knotty problem the success or failure of the contestants is said to hang, and arguments of counsel in relation thereto will be heard on the 28th instant.

After the usual preliminaries the will states that all former wills are revoked, and appoints Lydia Dunford executrix without bonds. The property of the deceased is devised as follows: The stock, book accounts, etc., of the shoe store, No. 66 East First South Street, is given to the widow, and all personal property wherever situated. Real estate is left with legacies as follows: To his grandson, Geo. Dunford and George Dunford, $100 each; to his children by his first wife, George H. Dunford, Lydia Dunford Alder, Frank J. Dunford, and Mary Marrah Richards, the sum of $10 each. His reasons for not giving them any more is that they have all had heretofore by will of their mother of property belonging to me which I placed in their mother's name, their full share of my estate."

Garden City real estate, and certain other property designated as "my desert entry," is devised to the five children by his second wife, Ann Dupert, Ora, Stella and Lorenzo. All the residue of his real estate he bequeaths unto Lorenzo Snow, Jr., brother of his second wife, to be used and managed for the benefit of the children named, and instructions are given that the property shall not be divided until the youngest shall come of age. Brigham Stephens and Shrosbee were attorneys for the deceased and are now acting as legal advisers for Mrs. Dunford.

Messrs. Rawlins & Critchlow represent the contestants.

There is no estimated value placed on his real estate, but the stock and stock of the boot and shoe store, together with the merchandise, is fixed at $12,000.

Under bonds made by the Private Corporation Act, Elias Smith Sonford special administratrix pending the probate of will.

THE police, at an early hour this morning, were summoned to find a dead man, gash, wandering aimlessly down Second south Street. He was carried to the City Hall, but soon afterwards his friends went there and claimed him. It appeared that the poor fellow, whose name did not do justice, had been very sick for some time past and had roamed away from home unknown to his relatives.

TO PARCHERS.—E. C. St. L. has a lot of the celebrated John Deere Moline Plows, which are offered at a sacrifice.

Ladies are invited to bring their opera glasses and inspect the two complexions closely and see if they could detect that the complexion so made up was artificial, the Rose test of merit in artificial aids to beauty is that naturalness of effect, their power to make beautiful without their being detected, and Mrs. Graham invites the keenest criticism of her exhibit in this respect.

Besides this living exhibit, a display of Mrs. Graham's regular cosmetic preparations will be made, the great majority of which are not artificial aids to beauty, but real and substantial promoters of natural beauty, tonics of the skin, which purify and permanently freshen the skin and complexion and restore to it what wind and sun, age and sickness have robbed it of.
